Ship-Wrecked Crew Rescued.

MONCTON, N.B., May 8.—The Norwegian bark Liberta arrived at Port Duchene yesterday, having on board Captain Davies and twenty of the crew of the British steamer Valetta. This steamer, laden with coal for St. Lawrence ports, was four days in ice, and on April 28 collided with a monster iceberg. Her side was stove in and she sank rapidly, barely giving the crew time to launch boats. For thirty-eight hours they were in boats, when the bark Liberta sighted them and brought them to land. The crew were badly frost-bitten, as they saved only the clothes they wore at the time of the collision.

A Little Daughter

Of a Church of England minister cured of a distressing rash, by Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Mr. RICHARD BIRKS, the well-known Druggist, 207 McGill st., Montreal, P. Q., says:

I have sold Ayer's Family Medicines for 40 years, and have heard nothing but good said of them. I know of many performed by Ayer's Sarsaparilla, one in particular being that of a little daughter of a Church of England minister. The child was literally covered from head to foot with a red and exceedingly troublesome rash, from which she had suffered for two or three years, in spite of the best medical treatment available. Her father was in great distress about the case, and, at my recommendation, at last began to administer Ayer's Sarsaparilla, two bottles of which effected a complete cure, much to her relief and her father's delight. I am sure, were he here to-day, he would testify in the strongest terms as to the merits of

PREPARING FOR THE FUTURE.

"When I'm a man," said little Tom,
"And big and tall and strong,
I'm goin' to keep a drug store, and Drink soda all day long."

"And I," said little Polly Ann,
"I'll tell you what I'll do.
I'll come and make you awful rich
By buying things of you.

"I'll buy tooth-brushes and quinine,
And squills and things like that,
And postage stamps, and catnip tea,
For my old pussy cat.

"And maybe I will buy so much
You'll get so rich, you see,
That you will have enough some day
To come and marry me."

—Harper's Bazar.

THE "ROCK OF AGES."

An old pupil of Rev. Johannes A. Oertel, who has acquired world-wide fame as the author of the original painting of the "Rock of Ages," was found to talk about him the other day. He furnished the following information, which as a story rivals fiction in intense interest:

Johannes A. Oertel was born November 8, 1823, at Furth, in the Kingdom of Bavaria. When only 13 years of age he was placed under the care of an eminent divine at Nuremburg to be educated as a missionary, but, discovering his passion for art, the clergyman persuaded him to abandon the scheme and follow in the direction indicated by his natural gifts. Some of his childish productions were accordingly submitted to the inspection of a master, who, recognizing their phenomenal merit, received him as a pupil and gave him instructions in steel engraving, together with some guidance in painting.

It was to this master, whom he afterward followed to Munich, then the Athens of Germany, that he owed his direction toward Christian art. As a means of support, Mr. Oertel was for 10 years engaged as a steel engraver, in Germany, and afterward pursued the same calling in this country.

In 1848 he came to America, settling in Newark, N.J., where he taught in two institutions. During this period his art connection was principally with New York, most of his productions being bought by the Art Union.

The picture of the "Rock of Ages" was first produced as a small sketch in the album of a young girl living in Westerly, R.I. This aroused the attention of all who saw it and induced Mr. Oertel to make a painting of the subject in oil.

This second representation, measuring perhaps 14 inches in height, Mr. Oertel exhibited in the National Academy of Design in New York, and, realizing its commercial value, Mr. William Shans, a Broadway art dealer, suggested that a still larger painting should be made of the design. His suggestion was acted upon, the artist first fashioning a small clay model and suspending a lamp over it, that it might receive the rays of light from above. In this manner a color study, which is now in Mr. Oertel's possession, was made, and from it in turn the finished painting, measuring four feet in height.

Before this picture was exhibited, however, a number of photographs of it were struck off and put upon the market, and one of these, falling into the hands of a Mr. James, a picture dealer in Providence, R.I., he made an offer to Mr. Oertel to become the sole publisher of all subsequent copies, which offer was accepted under a written contract.

No picture of modern times has taken a stronger hold upon popular favor or fulfilled a higher mission than that whose history is here recorded. It has been here reproduced in every form, has made its way into the homes of the inhabitants of all parts of the civilized globe, and has adorned alike the walls of palaces and hovels.

The painting is a symbolic representation of the Christian faith. In the midst of an ocean of sin the cross, founded deep upon the eternal Godhead and offering the only safety, erects itself. To it a female figure clings. She is the representative of weakness, of helpless dependence, of affectionate trust. Her garment is wet with the spray of daily temptation and infirmity, but her gaze is upward, from whence streams the light of forgiveness, of love, of hope, of assured divine favor.

In painful contrast to this figure is the masculine hand in the foreground of the picture, the symbol of self-dependence, which, reaching out of the waters, endeavors to lay hold of a piece of floating wreck. It eludes the grasp, but even if possessed would offer no support. Thus the things of earth, mere fragments tossed on a sea of change, can never uphold a struggling, sinking soul, which must cling for succor to the "Rock of Ages."

The painting was placed at the gallery of William Shans, but was only on exhibition a few days, when it was bought by a Brooklyn merchant, Augustus Storrs, for the sum of $1,000. The photographs gotten out by Mr. James, measuring ten inches in height, brought (without frames) the quite phenomenal price of $5 apiece, and so great was the demand for them that the operator found himself unable to meet it. Indeed, the run upon these pictures was unprecedented in the history of photography, and complaints were constantly made by the dealers that they were losing sales in consequence of an insufficient supply of copies.

It then occurred to Mr. James that a chromo-lithgraph might be gotten out with advantage, the work to be done in Paris, and an application for this purpose was made to the owner for the loan of the original. Mr. Storrs, however, was unwilling that his picture should be carried to such a distance, and Mr. Oertel, who had never parted with the copyright, set about making a new painting. This work was done at Irvington-on-the-Hudson, the home of the celebrated landscape painter, Albert Bierstadt, who, during a temporary absence in England, had given Mr. Oertel the use of his studio. It was completed in three weeks and the painting carried by Mr. James to Paris, where chromos were made. Passing through London on his way home, that gentleman, simply as a venture, called upon the Queen's bookseller, Mr. Graves, in Pall Mall, and with difficulty prevailed upon him to invest in three of these chromos at 3 guineas apiece.

Scarcely had he reached Liverpool, however, the point at which he was to take ship for America, ere a telegram was received from Mr. Graves, ordering thirty additional copies, and upon his arrival in New York a second telegram was handed him containing an application for the whole edition. Indeed, unprecedented as was the sale of this remarkable creation in America, it was even greater abroad, an English nobleman hazarding the statement that not a palace or hovel could be found throughout all England which did not contain a copy of it in one or other of its varied forms, and a traveler who had made a tour of the world exclaimed:

"The picture haunts me. It follows me wherever I go. I have seen it in Chili. I have seen it also in the Pyrenees."

A few years after the appearance of the first photographs Mr. James had realized as his share of the proceeds $75,000.

In 1851 the artist married Miss Adelaide Torrey of New Jersey, and later produced "Father Time and His Family," which he sold to Marshall O. Roberts of New York. The "Final Harvest," a religious work on a larger scale, appeared soon after.

In 1862, for the purpose of making studies of life, he followed the Union Army, the result being a number of compositions, several of which were sold in England.

In 1867 he was ordained a deacon in the Protestant Episcopal Church, his theological studies having been pursued without assistance, and in 1869 took charge of a parish impoverished by the war at Lenoir, N. C., where he entered the priesthood. For the church at this place Mr. Oertel built an organ, doing the work with his own hands and unaided. He also carved for it an elaborate altar and coredos.

In 1869 an unauthorized copy of the "Rock of Ages" was gotten out by a New York photographer, and Mr. Oertel's publisher sought redress and protection from the law. The case was carried into the lower and supreme courts of the State of New York, its prosecution costing Mr. Oertel $2,000, and scarcely had it been decided in his favor ere a Chicago publisher made a similar picture, evading the law by minor alterations, such as the introduction of a ship and the reversion of the female figure in the original design.

This threw the copyright open, the monopoly was wrested from its rightful owner, and the markets flooded with pictures in all forms and sizes.

Thus, as a financial venture, terminated the brilliant promise of the "Rock of Ages;" but, judged by a higher, truer standard of success, who shall estimate its achievements or sum up its ever-accumulating triumphs?

Relics of Raleigh in Ireland.

It is now 300 years since Sir Walter Raleigh lived in Ireland, but, according to Sir John Pope Hennessy, many traces of his residence there can still be seen. The richly perfumed yellow wall flowers that he brought to Ireland from the Azores and the Affane cherry are still found where he first planted them by the Blackwater. Some cedars he brought to Cork are to this day growing at a place called Tivoli. The four venerable yew trees, whose branches have grown and intermingled into a sort of summer-house thatch, are pointed out as having sheltered Raleigh when he first smoked tobacco in his Youghal garden. In that garden he also planted tobacco. A few steps further on, where the town wall of the thirteenth century bounds the garden of the warden's house, is the famous spot where the first Irish potato was planted by him. In that garden he gave the tubers to the ancestor of the present Lord Southwell, by whom they were spread throughout the province of Munster.

Home Missionary Work.

A popular woman writer insists that one of the most effective ways in which a woman may do missionary work is that of thoroughly training every servant that falls to her lot. The universal plea that just as one has assimilated our approved methods she shakes off the dust (alas! too often literal dust) of our culinary department she answers by the assertion that this is a selfish view to take of the case. She points out the obvious fact that if each housekeeper would conscientiously put her own interests outside the matter, and go seriously to work to revise and improve domestic servants for the good of the cause, the number of efficient helpers could but be steadily increasing. As it is there is only now and then a woman who does her duty by the kitchen, and consequently that branch of home life is slowly deteriorating.

A Rare Fact.

A man is judged by the clothes that he wears at business, and a woman by the clothes she does not wear in the ballroom.

BEWARE OF FRAUDS.

The Unfailing Success of Dodd's Kidney Pills Induces Fradulent Imitators to Attempt to Pass Worthless Remedies on the Public.

TORONTO, May 7.—This appears to be an age of fakes and frauds. It seems impossible for any new idea or valuable invention to be made known without a host of imitators trying to foist their worthless goods on an unsuspecting public in the hope of making an unmerited profit out of their worthless ideas. The unequalled success of Dodd's Kidney Pills in curing all forms of kidney disease, has led to the introduction of many cheap and base imitations that are worse than valueless. Dodd's was the first kidney remedy ever offered in pill form. For their own safety, purchasers should buy none but Dodd's Kidney Pills. Sold in large boxes: price, fifty cents per box or six boxes for $2.50. To be had of all dealers.

Insist upon having the Varsity Cigar, they are unequalled.

Millinery Critics

Recognize the remarkable freshness and beauty of our stock. Seems almost useless to advertise our Millinery. Ever since the spring reception it has been advertising itself, and a stranger looking in would think each day "first view day." Yet it is right to be courteous to our attractive novelties.

Our Millinery business is always being stimulated, and the wonderful varieties of taste displayed brings us happy visitors and pleased customers all the time. Because many are coming and buying; more will come and will buy.

This growing success proves the public faith—you trust and then you buy. Why? Every advertising word is true—you know it, and are sure to find it always so here.

Mantles and Capes.

The very newest and neatest—all much below regular value. In our collection, remember, there are no old things—no mistakes limping up to roll-call and never getting any further. No. All are favourites. They have 1894 style and goodness about them, and the prices combine to make matchless bargains.

Dress Goods.

Tastes differ, uses are various; therefore the proper Dress Goods stock must cover all sorts or there will be disappointment. Our stock is as nearly complete as we can make it, and, out of prevailing times, have grown prices that were never matched before, and are not likely to be equalled again.

Underwear Hosiery and Gloves.

Fresh lots coming in to keep sizes and qualities suitable to the season. Better than that—prices are going down and qualities going up.

At a meeting of the town council held last evening with Mayor Kendry in the chair, the following communications were disposed of.

COMMUNICATIONS AND PETITIONS.

A petition was received from the residents on Murray street between George and Aylmer streets, asking that that portion of the road be sprinkled by the watering cart.—Referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

A communication was read from the Street Railway Company, stating that stones were often placed on the company's tracks and the cars wilfully obstructed while running. The company asked for municipal regulations to remedy the evils.—Referred to the Street and Bridge Committee.

Mr. J. Fraser, president of the Peterborough Fire Brigade Band, addressed a communication to the council stating that the band had raised the sum of $880, and furnished themselves with 17 new instruments. The members had also provided themselves with new uniforms throughout at a cost of $450. Not a dollar of these several accounts remained unpaid. The fact was mentioned that the band had duly turned over all this property to the town, and urged upon the council to place an insurance upon the same. The old and new instruments, together with the uniforms were worth at least $200.—Referred to the Property Committee with power to act.

THE FOLEY WILL CASE.

{ Re Foley Estate

DEAR SIRS,—With reference to the contention raised by some of the representatives of the county council that the town of Peterborough should not share in the charitable desire in Mrs. Foley's will, the registrar of the Queen's Bench Division, Mr. Cartwright, has decided to submit the question to the court for adjudication and as promised by him at the meeting held in Peterborough, he has directed us to notify you of his intention and to ask you to name your solicitor with whom we can communicate and notify him of the date of hearing and argument.

We have written a similar letter to this to the county clerk to be forwarded to the warden. Let us have a reply by return, as we are going to set the case down immediately.

Yours truly,
EDGAR & MALONE.

—Referred to the town solicitor.

A petition from 47 owners of property fronting on Sherbrooke street, west of Park, asking for the drainage of this property was referred to the town clerk to ascertain if the correct number of signatures had been obtained.

SCHOOL DEMANDS.

DEAR SIR,—The amount required by the Separate School Board to be levied on the ratepayers for the current year (1894) is $3,760.

Very truly yours,
JOHN CORKERY,
Secretary.

Referred to the Finance Committee.

The estimates of the Board of Education amounting to $10,675 were also referred to the Finance Committee.

GENTLEMEN:—We ask your honourable body to finish the sidewalk on Parnell street which was not finished last year. About 130 feet farther are 3 houses without any sidewalk yet.

DANIEL VASCURE, MOSES MANGAR,
LOUIS BEAUREGARD, R. KELLMAN.

Referred to the streets and bridge committee.

Inspector Pope's report of $441.00 spent on the streets in the past month was also sent to the committee on streets and bridges.

Edward Harran, 423 Aylmer street, asked for an extension of time in which pay his taxes.

Referred to Court of Revision.

The town clerk reported that a majority of the property owners on that part of Park street requiring to be drained had not signed the petition. This referred to a former incomplete petition which had been presented and did not concern the one which had been presented earlier in the evening.

GENTLEMEN,—I paid $30 for a peddler's license for the year, and as I am a taxpayer to a large amount I ask you to give me a rebate and return three-quarters of the fee.

Yours,
FRANK ANTHONY.

Referred to Finance Committee with the exception of James Montgomery's account, which was ordered paid on motion of Messrs. Dawson and Rogers.

On motion of Mr. Roger Police Magistrate Dumble and Mr. T. A. S. Hay were heard in support of a request preferred by the Board of Trade to the effect that the council make a grant of $25 to aid the board in getting out a second edition of "50 facts about Peterborough."

Mr. Dawson wanted to know what good had been accomplished by these pamphlets. If it was to advertise the town he thought they ought to be suppressed, as by advertising the town it had become the refuge of entirely too many paupers on account of this very thing.

Mr. Mason differed with Mr. Dawson on this point and thought that paupers were not the class of people who read pamphlets of this kind and were attracted by the inducements held forth. He moved, therefore, that the request be granted. Mr. Kelly seconded the motion which was carried.

The following reports were then taken up:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Finance Committe beg leave to report and recommend

2. That Mr. Aldridge be employed to assist the town treasurer to get in order the arrears of taxes that they may be collected at a cost not to exceed $15.00.

3. That no action be taken this year in regard to publishing the assessment roll.

4. That no action be taken in regard to the resolution to set aside a secret service fund to secure prosecutions for the infractions of the Liquor License Act, and by-laws passed in pursuance thereof.

5. That bylaws be submitted to the ratepayers for raising $5,000 by debentures for improvements at the Central School, and for raising $5,000 by debentures to pay for the Smith Street Bridge and other permanent improvements, the debentures to be for 20 years at 4 per cent.

6. That debentures be issued to renew debentures numbers 254, 255, 257 and 258, for $1,000 each, and numbers 256 and 259 two of $500 each.

THE DISCUSSION.

Mr. Hughes, although he was not present at the meeting of the committee, still was not going to consent to see the report go through the council in the present shape. He wanted to see the fourth clause set aside.

Mr. Rogers also wanted to see the fourth clause struck out, but in order to discuss the report fully moved that it be simply received.

Mr. Dawson was totally out of sympathy with the two former speakers and deplored the necessity which would lead the Council to discuss the scheme of putting a sum of money in the bank for the Chief of Police to draw upon to secure prosecutions for infractions of the liquor law. A man who was guilty of setting aside such a fund was as guilty as the party convicted who was less a sneak than the "informer."

Mr. Roger stated that the police could not be asked to go down into their pockets to pay detectives for doing the work of bringing home convictions to the hotelkeepers.

Mr. Hughes and Mr. Roger moved that the objectionable clause be struck out.

Mr. Cahill stated that the police were not expected to go down into their pockets and pay spies. He thought that there was a big difference between a detective and a spy. The former ferreted out crime after it had been committed, while the latter was an instigator of crime and should not be encouraged. If the whole paraphrenalia of the license system was found to be useless, then the spies might be called in to help, but not until the present system was found to be of no use.

Mr. Rogers pointed out that laws of the country require that one third of the fines be set aside to prosecute infringements of the license laws. It was a direct violation of the law not to set set aside this sum. It was strange that some members of the council were always to be found on the side of the liquor men.

Mr. Cahill in making the reply to Mr. Rogers stated that there was no law compelling a municipality to set aside a sum to be placed in the hands of any official to be drawn upon at his will. This whole scheme was revolting to his nature as a man. The spy system was most degrading to a community and fostered crime.

Mr. Mason agreed with Mr. Rogers in saying that there were men in the council who were anxious to shield the liquor men on every occasion.

The clause was then struck out as premature, the balance of the report being carried with the exception of the 5th clause which in accordance with a motion of Mr. Best's was altered so as to include the amount of last years deficit, as well as the stated amounts in the new debenture debt. This amendment raised the sum of $5,000 for the Smith street bridge and other improvements to $10,000.

THE FIRE, WATER AND LIGHT

Committee reported as follows:

1. That we had a conference with Mr. Nelles and Mr. Knapman, of the Bell Telephone Company, in reference to the additional alarm boxes. The company will put in the additional boxes for $61 and the yearly additional cost will be about $20. The company asks for a new contract with some modifications and we recommend that your committee be authorized to enter into a new contract with the company which will include the new boxes.

2. The electric light pole at the corner of Park and Elm streets is a low one and we recommend that the attention of the Electric Light Company be called to it and the company asked to raise the light about 10 feet.

3. We also recommend that the Fire Brigade be instructed to make a monthly report to the committee of the fires during the month and the names of the firemen who attended the fires.

—Carried without any discussion whatever.

MANUFACTURER'S COMMITTEE.

GENTLEMEN,—Your Manufacturer's Committee beg leave to report:—

1. That we considered the application of the Peterborough Lock Company for further exemption, and in doing so the question of exempting the machinery of all manufacturing establishments was brought up and is still under consideration, the assessors having been asked for a report on the matter. We recommend that if a general scheme for the exemption of manufacturing machinery should not be adopted the factory and plant of the Peterborough Lock M'f'g. Co. be given further exemption from taxation, other than school rates, for 10 years from January 1st next, this exemption, however, to close on January 1st 1900 if the company does not at that date own its manufacturing establishment.

2. The manufacturers who wrote regarding locating here have been communicated with.

E. H. D. HALL,
Chairman.

Mr. Roger moved in amendment to the report, that the Lock Company proviso be laid over for consideration until action had been taken regarding the other machinery in the different manufacturing works in the town. The Locks Works should not be favoured more than others.

Mr. Best was also in favour of letting the matter remain in abeyance.

Mr. Cahill explained that the Lock Works were different from the other establishments. The company was composed of gentlemen who did not really belong here and were already half inclined to go to Montreal. What was the use of advertising the town to attract manufacturers and then turning around and trying to drive them out.

Mr. Best pointed out that if exemption was not granted the Lock Works Company it might move out, with the consequence that more taxpayers would leave the town than would pay the difference if there was exemption granted.

Mr. Kelly was also in favour of the original report, as introduced by the Manufacturers' Committee. He would like to see all the machinery in town exempted, as the manufacturers were deserving of encouragement.

Mr. Dawson explained that the passage of the report did not militate in any way against other manufacturers being exempted, but merely provided for the exemption of the Lock Works in any case.

Mr. Rogers amendment carried and the report was referred back.

Mr. Cahill then called for the Yeas and Nays so that the public could learn who had driven the Lock Works out of town in case it was removed to Montreal.

Yeas—Messrs. White, Hughes, Roger, Sutton, McElwain, Mason and the Mayor.

Nays—Messrs. Cahill, Best, Kelly, Hall, Dawson.

THE PROPERTY COMMITTEE reported and recommended "that your committee be authorized to have a shed in the corporation yard in which to keep the vehicles and instruments."—Adopted.

AN OUTFALL SEWER.

The special committee on sewerage begged leave to report "that according to the data before your committee it appears that an 18 inch pipe outfall sewer would answer all the requirements of this town for many years to come and that such a sewer could be constructed extending from the present sewer on King street, via George, Lake, Crescent and Lock streets to the river at

A COST OF $20,000.

In view of the town's liability regarding the Edison sewer and of the certainty of the town being prevented by law from putting sewerage in the lake, and of the exceptional advantages which the present time affords for the economical construction of such work, your committee recommend the submission to the ratepayers of a bylaw providing for the raising of the said amount by the issue of thirty-year debentures to be partly general taxation and by special proportion frontage tax to the extent of one half of the cost so soon as connections are made with the same or on the adoption of a general system of sewerage for the town."

Mr. Best in introducing the report mentioned the fact that 18 months of the two years given in which to change the sewerage system had elapsed and at the present time, owing to the general depression in trade circles, the proposed work could be undertaken at a less cost than later on. The sewer which he proposed to have constructed would carry off the refuse, etc. from the packing house, Peter Hamiltons the Bridge Works and other similar places.

Mr. Dawson thought that if the scheme was to build a main sewer up the business street of the town at the expense of the residents at large it would be most unfair and something against which he would make a most decided stand.

After some further discussion it was resolved to let the recommendation stand to be further discussed by the council in committee of the whole at some future date.

TRENT VALLEY CANAL DELEGATION.

Mr. A. L. Davis, as representing a delegation in the interests of the Trent Valley Canal scheme, addressed the council, urging on the members the desirability of appointing a large delegation to represent the town at Ottawa and appropriating a sum of money to meet the expenses.

Mr. Cahill introduced a resolution authorizing the treasurer to place the sum of $120 at the disposal of the Mayor for this purpose, which was carried. All the members of the Council will be invited to join the delegation.

The by-law consolidating certain debentures as mentioned in the Finance Committee's report, was read first, second and third time and passed.

A "DICKER" WITH THE STREET RAILWAY CO.

Mr. Best mentioned the fact that the street railway offered to sell the town a half interest in their road scraper for $150, providing the street railway was allowed the use of the town's new roller. A new road machine could be bought, Mr. Best stated, for $225, and could be shipped at the same time as the town's new roller from Hamilton.

On motion of Mr. White the matter was referred to the Street and Bridge Committee with power to act.

On motion of Mr. Roger the council adjourned to meet again next week to consider the estimates.

A GAS EXPLOSION WITH SERIOUS RESULTS.

The Ignition of a Match in a Vault Full of Gas Causes a Violent Explosion.

An accident occurred this morning at about 10.30 in the G.T.R. uptown ticket agency, which although not attended with consequences of a fatal nature, still resulted in an experience which was the reverse of pleasant for the victims.

It appears that the gas jet in the vault through some inadvertence was left turned on all night, and when Messrs. Isaac Richardson and Clayton Tindale entered it this morning and ignited a match, the instantaneous result was a blinding flash and a sudden explosion, which shook the entire building. Mr. Tindale had advanced further into the vault than his companion, and was affected the most seriously. His hair, eye-brows and eye-lashes were badly scorched, and the skin on his face, particularly around the ears and on the neck, was seared and burnt. His hands, too, are quite raw from the action of the flash. Fortunately when the explosion occurred he instinctively closed his eyes or the consequences might have been a good deal more serious.

Mr. Richardson did not escape by any means either. His hair and beard were scorched and the right side of his face burnt in a most frightful manner. His right eye was also affected by the flash and is very painful also. Mr. Richardson was in his shirt sleeves, which were burnt through in many places.

The two sufferers were taken into Tully's drug store, where Mr. Tully did all in his power to alleviate their sufferings. Dr. Goldsmith was summoned and, after bandaging up the faces of the victims in oil and cotton batting, had them removed to their homes in a hack.

The doctor states that, although the injuries received will continue painful for some time to come, no facial disfigurement will occur, the skin only being scorched.

A HORSE! A HORSE!

The Slave Traffic Apparently Revived in an Adjacent Village.

An incident occurred within the past few days in the vicinity of the town which, while it has its ludicrous side, is of a character which is revolting and disgusting in a superlative degree, as occurring in the 19th century in a civilized country.

A well-known resident of a village not a thousand miles from Peterborough is said to have traded his wife off for a horse. The animal died a few days after having passed into its new owner's hands, who then demanded his wife back. The woman, however, refused to again live with her inhuman husband, preferring a life of shame to comparative respectability in the eyes of the world, when association with such a wretch had to be one of the conditions.

The names of the parties interested in this modern slave-trade transaction are only suppressed out of respect to the other residents in the same village.

THE BUCHANAN CASE.

Equal to a Resurrection—Almost Helpless from Kidney Disease—A Burden to Himself and His Friends—Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Him.

Chatham, April 30.—The story of Sherman Buchanan, living near Leamington, is worthy of notice. He says he was almost helpless, bloated and a wreck with kidney disease. His digestive organs were powerless and he was rapidly becoming a burden to himself and his friends. Naturally he lost all hopes of recovery, but a happy thought suggested Dodd's Kidney Pills, and these cured him. Dodd's was the first Kidney remedy in pill form ever offered the public. Its wonderful success in curing all forms of kidney disease has led to the introduction of numerous cheap and worthless imitations. Purchasers, for their own safety, should insist on getting Dodd's Kidney Pills. Sold in large boxes; price, fifty cents, or six boxes for $2.56. To be had of all dealers.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT

Several Changes in the Tariff Announced by the Finance Minister.

MONTREAL CHEESE INSPECTOR

The Proposed Appointment by the Government Ignores the Wishes of Farmers and Cheesemakers of the Dominion—Mr. Daly's North-west Bill.

OTTAWA, May 9.—Hon. Mr. Daly yesterday moved the House into committee on his bill to amend the Northwest Territories Act altering the election law. The bill provides that the elections shall not take place until three weeks after the nominations, because of the lack of railway facilities.

Mr. Martin discussed the features of the bill. The committee reported progress.

Mr. McMillan said that he understood last week that the Government intended appointing a cheese inspector at Montreal to weigh all cheese manufactured in Canada passing through that port. He said that such action would be greatly against the wishes of the farmers and cheesemakers of the Dominion. Farmers and cheesemakers would not object to having their cheese inspected at the factory or station, but they would not agree to have it inspected after it had passed out of their hands. He read a letter from the Cheese Manufacturers Association in support of his contention.

Mr. Taylor and Dr. Sproule said the farmers were anxious to see an inspector at Montreal.

Mr. Sutherland could not see how the farmers and manufacturers would suffer by inspection at home, and he could not see how they would benefit by inspection at Montreal.

Sir John Thompson said that it was not the intention of the Government to have all the cheese sold passing through Montreal subject to inspection. It was simply the intention of the Government to appoint an inspector, who might be called in to settle disputes which might arise between seller and purchaser. It was not the intention of the Government to interfere in any way with the bargains which might be made between the parties, neither was it the intention that all cheese sold should be subject to inspection. It was simply intended that where disputes arose a competent man, who would be fair to both sides, might be appealed to, who would deliver an impartial decision.

Mr. Scriver agreed with the Premier.

The House went into committee to consider the provisions of the new tariff.

Hon. Mr. Foster announced the following changes, which were agreed to:

"Provided all iron or steel bars, rods, strips, or steel sheets, of whatever shape, and on all iron or steel bars of irregular shape or section, cold rolled, cold hammered, or polished in any way, in addition to the ordinary process of hot rolling or hammering, there shall be paid 1-6 of a cent per pound in addition to the rates imposed on the said materials."

The item of forgings was changed to read: "Forgings of iron and steel, n.e.s., 35 per cent., but not less than $15 per ton."

To the proposed duty of 35 per cent. on rolled iron or steel, angles, channels, structural shapes, etc., weighing less than 35 pounds per yard, was added the stipulation: "But not less than $10 per ton."

To the item of iron bridges and structural iron work, 30 per cent. was added: "But not less than 1 per cent. per pound."

The item of railway fish plates and tie plates, 30 per cent., was amended by stipulating that the duty should not be less than $10 per ton.

Axles, springs, and parts thereof, axles, bars and axle blanks of iron or steel, n.e.s., were placed at 1 cent per pound and 20 per cent.

The duty on wire nails was put back to 1 cent a pound; shoe tacks (¾ oz. to 4 oz.), 1 cent per 1,000, and 1½ cents per pound. Tacks and brads, not exceeding 16 oz. to the 1,000, 1½ cents a 1,000, over 16 oz., 1½ cents per pound. Brass and copper nails went back to the old duty of 30 per cent.

Lead pipe and lead shot, 4-10 of a cent per pound, and 25 per cent.

Chrome steel, copper wire, wire cloth, jewellery cases and emery wheels were dealt with as indicated on the notice of motion.

Hon. Mr. Foster intimated that instead of wood pulp going on the free list it would be included in the standing offer of reciprocity.

Hon. Mr. Laurier drew Sir John Thompson's attention to a statement attributed to Sir Henry Tyler, that the Dominion Government had promised reciprocity in coal.

Sir John Thompson—I noticed the statement, and I have since ascertained that Sir Henry Tyler was misreported.

Hon. David Mills—There was no such offer?

Sir John Thompson—There was no promise.

On the items, wrought iron or steel tubing, threaded and coupled, or not, over two inches in diameter, 15 per cent. ad valorem. Other wrought iron tubes or pipes, 5-10 of 1 cent per pound, and 30 per cent. ad valorem.

Mr. Davis wanted a reduction in the duty.

After recess the discussion on wrought iron tubing was continued, Mr. McInerney, Mr. Doires, Mr. Mills and Hon. Mr. Wallace speaking. The item passed.

Another item, as amended, reads as follows: Wrought iron and steel nuts and washers, iron or steel rivets, bolts, with or without threads, nut bolts, and hinge blanks, and "T" and strap hinges, 1 cent per pound and 30 per cent. Copper wire was put back from 10 per cent. to 15 per cent., the old tariff.

Textiles were next taken up, the first item being cotton batts, batting, and sheet wadding, dyed or not, 22½ per cent. This was carried, Mr. Foster explaining that this was a reduction.

On the item of grey unbleached cotton fabrics, Sir Richard Cartwright wanted to know why there was a duty of 22½ per cent., when the Canadian mills were able to export cottons to China.

Hon. Mr. Foster admitted that certain qualities had been sent to China. It was a special line of goods.

The item passed.

The items "white or bleached cotton fabrics n.e.s., 25 per cent.," and "cotton fabrics printed, dyed or colored, 30 per cent.," were passed.

The item of collars of cotton, linen, xylonite or celluloid, 24 cents per dozen and 25 per cent. was introduced.

Sir Richard Cartwright and Mr. Davies opposed the item; Hon. Mr. Foster, Hon. Mr. Wallace and Mr. Haslam spoke in favor of it, and it finally passed.

UNITED STATES TARIFF.

Republican Opinion is That the Wilson Bill is Doomed.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—A condition most unprecedented in the history of the Senate is found in the Finance Committee of that body. Owing to the death of Mr. Vance the political complexion of that committee is equally divided and it would be impossible to make a report upon any political question such as the tariff bill is undoubtedly considered to be. Of course this condition of affairs could be remedied by the Democrats themselves by the passage of a resolution filling the vacancy, but for some reason this is not thought desirable on the part of the majority. Under the circumstances therefore the amendment to the tariff bill reported by Mr. Jones will not be referred to the Committee on Finance.

A prominent Republican states that he considers the bill doomed. He refuses to admit that the concessions made have solidified the Democratic party, and said that the rock upon which they would split would be the sugar schedule. It is an open secret that the Republicans will vote as a unit to put sugar on the free list, and in so voting they hope to have the assistance of some of the Democrats who have declared their opposition to the taxing of "The poor man's breakfast table" should this be done. It is understood the Louisiana senators will absolutely vote against the bill. Some Democrats claim they have sufficient votes to carry the bill through without the aid of the voters from Louisiana, and as a rule Democrats are sanguine of speedy results.

BRITISH CABINET'S POSITION.

The Government Likely to Find Strong Opposition to the Budget.

LONDON, May 9.—A cabinet meeting was held yesterday to discuss the situation of the Government. The budget proposals are meeting with serious opposition and the Government's position is very unstable. It is not yet known what action was taken at the meeting, but the general opinion was that the Government would go on despite the announcement that they have no hope of carrying the second reading by a greater majority than nine. This attenuated majority is the result of the announcement that the Parnellites intend to vote solidly against the second reading. Three or four Liberals have notified the Whips that they cannot support the Government, and will abstain from voting. Three Irish Nationalists are ill, and James Keir (Labor) and William Saunders (Radical) are put down as votes for the opposition. The Conservatives assert that while the budget may pass the second reading, that it will not be carried through the committee stage.

Attempt to Blow Up a Prison.

JACKSON, Mich., May 9.—An attempt was made to blow up the prison with dynamite as the convicts who are locked in the new west cell block were being marched to their cells from an evening meeting. Three of the convicts, Edward Huntley, serving a term of 20 years for burglary; John Deeman, serving 15 years for murder in the second degree; and Arthur Lawrence, serving 10 years for burglary, made a break from the ranks. One of them seized the guard and another sprang up into a window and attempted to light a fuse connecting with a dynamite bomb. An alarm was given and deputies arrived in time to prevent any damage and to quell the disturbance.

The Bi-Metallic Movement.

LONDON, May 9.—The failure of the bimetallic movement in the House of Commons last Friday night when Samuel Smith's motion that the Government endeavor to secure a staple par of exchange for gold and silver by international agreement was counted out while Mr. Knox was in the middle of a speech supporting it, is explained by the secretary of the bimetallic league. He says its failure was not due to the apathy of the House toward the movement, but to the fact that the motion having only second place at the sitting no division could be taken on it according to the rules.

Silver Saved His Life.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9.—Jake Randolph, a well-known politician, and his body guard, Chris Buckley, the ex-Democratic boss of this city, went to the Chronicle office for the purpose of shooting M. B. de Young, its proprietor. J. H. Eliot, business manager, attempted to eject Rudolph, when he fired at him. The bullet struck some silver in Eliot's pocket, saving his life. The would-be assassin was arrested. He says he owed De Young some money and would have shot him at once if he had seen him.

Trouble in the Argentine.

LONDON, May 9.—A rumor has reached the Argentine consulate here that a revolutionary outbreak has taken place in Buenos Ayres. The Consul-General says that, although he has received no official information the report comes to him from a trustworthy source. Nothing is known of a revolution in Buenos Ayres at the Argentine legation, the banking house of Baring Bros., or any of the other places having commercial connection with the Argentine republic.

TWO OF THEM GUILTY

Mrs. Evans and George Oaman Convicted of Administering Poison.

CHARLES PEGG DISCHARGED

Not Sufficient Evidence to Convict Him of Conspiracy in the Plot—Judge Robertson Charges the Jury Against Mrs. Evans and Oaman.

TORONTO, May 9.—The jury in the Sharon case last evening returned a verdict of guilty against Mrs. Evans and George Oaman of administering poison to Walter Evans, husband of the female prisoner.

At the morning sitting Pegg was acquitted, the judge charging the jury that there was no evidence of complicity in any intention of administering poison. The jury returned a verdict of "not guilty."

The last sitting of this remarkable trial was held in the afternoon, when the Crown called on Walter Evens to testify as to whether he had ever been afflicted with hydrophobia or hysteria. The prisoner replied in the negative. This closed the evidence.

Mr. Clute addressed the jury amid the profound silence of perhaps the greatest crowd that has yet been in attendance. He said he wanted to get at the real issue of the case and the evidence bearing upon it. He wished to dispel any idea of a conspiracy such as is ascribed to the Evans family by Mr. Murdoch. The charge of a woman poisoning her husband is monstrous, repellant and horrible; but when it becomes probable the evidence must be cogent and clear.

In a case like this motive is all important. "Is this woman likely to say she 'would rather draw a knife across her husband's throat than that she should draw a line over her horse—one who would say, 'I hate the very name, I wish to God I knew how to get rid of him?'" The speaker said that on the second of January there existed a combination of circumstances that makes it probable that the woman would try to get rid of her husband.

At one stage of his address referring to what he styled "wantoning with her lover," the speaker remarked, "A more damnatory piece of evidence was never before presented to a court and jury. She was maddened with lust and her love for a bit of a boy was scarcely veiled with decency. She had neither shame nor pity; she did not regard the decencies of society, but utterly disregarded everything."

Throughout the arraignment the prisoner, Mrs. Evans, sat with composure, and listened attentively to the address of the Crown prosecutor. She gave no evidence of perturbation when the damaging evidence was reviewed.

The Judge's Charge.

Judge Robertson commenced his charge to the jury by cautioning them against being carried away by the eloquence of the lawyers on either side. He said that Mr. Murdoch's idea of "a vile conspiracy on the part of the Evans' family" against the female prisoner is "in defiance of the evidence. It would be an outrageous condition of society if that family knew of a great wrong being perpetrated upon their son and brother and then remained quiet." Then the charge traversed the evidence, giving it a close analysis; the fact that Evans said that the oysters were "bitter" is a most important fact; if those oysters were so bad as to make a man sick he could have smelt that they were decomposed. "No man, unless he were an Indian, who will eat almost anything, would eat oysters when they are bad."

"Was the sickness of Walter Evans the result of strychnine poison?" was the next question discussed by the judge. This brought into judicial review the medical testimony given in this case; it emphasized Dr. Howe's evidence. The judge thought it an extraordinary thing that medical men invariably take sides and are prepared to make out a case for the side on which they are called. "What a mess they made of it," said the court; "no two of them agreed."

Coming to the question of motive, the Judge said "that letter the unfortunate woman wrote in the strongest corroboration of Maggie Reid's story." After the court read from the letter, he quoted from the servant girl's evidence to show that more than was in the letter was necessary "to kick up such a trouble." Speaking of the purchase of the strychnine by Oaman, his Lordship thought that the fact that no foxes were there, by evidence, is an important feature. "It is a thousand pities that Oaman is not able to account for his having the poison. If you can't say the prisoners are guilty you must give them the benefit of the doubt."

The Judge concluded by saying that nothing should be considered by the jury against Mrs. Evans except as to the charge now against her. The Crown, he said, should have established how many grains there were in that bottle and would then have established a stronger case.

When the jury announced their verdict Mrs. Evans turned deathly pale and almost fainted, but recovered herself and submitted to being led from the box with apparent calmness.

Judge Robertson reserved sentence.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 9, 1894.

OUR local contemporary, which pretends to be so jealous of temperance interests, has no word of reproof of the action of Mr. Marter in setting up as a candidate in opposition to Mr. Tait in North Toronto, another temperance candidate, and older in the cause by nearly a score of years than his new opponent. One or the other is sure to be defeated (the indications are that Mr. Marter will be the martyr), and the house will lose the services of a temperance advocate on its floor. Mr. Marter has left his own constituency or been cuckooed out of it, to oppose Mr. Tait, showing that he is more anxious to defeat a political opponent than to promote the interests of the temperance cause.

YOUNG'S POINT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The trees are now donning Nature's garb and present a beautiful appearance. Vegetation has also improved very rapidly after the warm rain of the last few days.

Mr. Geo. J. Chalmers has erected a large and commodious boat house below the locks, where he intends keeping all kinds of boats for hire during the summer. This will prove very convenient for tourists coming to our village, as formerly boats had to be procured in Lakefield.

The first sawlog drive of the season arrived here on Saturday. It belongs to Messrs. Fowlds, of Hastings, and consists of about 1,500 pieces. Mr. John Newhall is foreman, and has a quiet and orderly gang of men under his supervision.

Frank McVay, of Campbellford, was here on Thursday in the interests of the Rathbun Co.

Miss Nellie O'Brien, of Peterborough, is visiting friends here.

Miss Mattie Phelan, of Lakefield, is making a two weeks' visit with her aunt here.

Rev. Father Kelly, who is now stationed at North Bay, accompanied by the Rev. Father Scollard, favoured our village with a call on Thursday.

Mrs. W. McFarlane, who for the past two weeks has been dangerously ill, we are pleased to see, is rapidly recovering.

Miss Emma Scollard gave an "At Home" to a number of her friends on Tuesday evening last. Dancing, games and other amusements were indulged in for a few hours when the company departed, all delighted with the evening's entertainment.

Mr. W. Pope has given the store occupied by Mr. P. A. Kearney two coats of paint on the outside, which adds greatly to its appearance.

The bass fishing has been excellent here during the past week. Large numbers having been caught daily. Quite a number of persons and piscatorially inclined drove out from Peterborough and it is needless to say returned well satisfied with their catch.

The steamer Undine made her first trip of the season a few days ago. She looks trim and neat in a new coat of paint. Capt. Millage will be in charge of her with Thos. Evans as engineer.

Waiter! Beefsteak, Ham and Eggs, for One.

"God gave us meat, but the devil sent us cooks," is a trite saying. From bad cooking, fast eating and overeating, comes a whole train of diseases—indigestion, dyspepsia, biliousness, catarrh of the stomach, headache, dizziness, and the like. God also gave us a brainy man, who compounded the "Golden Medical Discovery," a corrective of all the ills resulting from overeating and bad blood. Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, has furnished in the "Discovery," a great desideratum in America, where everybody are in such a hurry to make money, they have no time to eat, and scarcely any time to live. It invigorates the liver, cleanses the blood and tones up the system.

Many of the friends followed the body to Norwood, where it was interred.

A Renfrew man was in town last week with a view to starting a newspaper, but after spending a few hours conversing with the citizens, concluded to return home carrying with him the idea that the success of a paper in Havelock was in the far distant future.

Mr. H. B. R. Dryden will still retain the position of manager.

ENNISMORE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The many friends of Mr. Michael O'Rielly, who is seriously ill with hemorrhage of the lungs, will be pleased to learn that he is somewhat improved.

A buggy belonging to Mr. Cornelius O'Reilly, which was damaged by a runaway accident six years ago and left on Mud Lake bridge and which mysteriously disappeared, was fished up out of the lake by the workmen the other day who were engaged in repairing the bridge. As may be supposed, the buggy was in a most dilapidated condition.

The farmers are almost through seeding in this part and crops are looking good. The prospects for an abundant harvest are brilliant.

Bilious From Childhood.

Rev. Benjamin Hills, Pugwash, N. S., writes: "In a word I may say that K. D. C. has helped me more than anything else I have ever used. I had been bilious from childhood; for several years rarely passed a week without a severe attack of bilious colic, with intense pain at the back of the head. These attacks usually followed my Sunday work. Since I began to use the K.D.C., I have scarcely had any return of biliousness and the attacks have been very light. I have had greater freedom from suffering since I began the use of K. D.C. than for years past. I believe that the occasional use of a bottle of K. D. C., will keep me comparatively free from the old trouble. I thank you for calling my attention to K.D.C. Had I tried it long ago it might have saved me years of suffering. I am glad to recommend it to ow sufferers."

Worthless Pianos and Organs
Are made in large quantities, because foolish people buy where prices are lowest, without giving a thought to quality. Any one who thinks, will not buy a "Piano at $170, or an Organ at $30, guaranteed for nineteen years," because it is cheap. Any one who thus thinks will avoid learning by experience that it would have been cheaper to pay, say $300, for his piano.
We can furnish an Organ for $30, but we will not. We live here and have to "face the music" this year and other years to come.

Any Endeavorers wishing for information re. International Convention, should write to Mr. C. J. Atkinson, Mimico, who is to look after the billeting of Ontario delegates or to Mr. G. T. Ferguson, 70 Madison Ave. Toronto.

The Canadian badge is quite handsome. The fastening is a bar of white metal surmounted by a beaver; across the bar is the word "Canada." From this hangs a pendant of the same material, representing a wreath of maple leaves, in the centre of which is the C. E. Monogram. Underneath it all, and fastened to the bar, is a red white and blue silk ribbon, and across this is stamped in gilt letters the name of the province.

At the last meeting of Local Union Executive it was decided to have a Union C. E. excursion on or about June 14th. It is likely that Sturgeon Point will be the objective point. A sub-committee was appointed to make arrangements. We have no doubt the excursion will be a success and trust that all our Endeavorers will reserve the above date for one of the earliest and one of the best excursions of the season.

"Hitherto hath the Lord helped us."—I Sam. vii, 12.

"When our soul is much discouraged
By the roughness of the way,
And the cross we have to carry
Seemeth heavier every day;
When some cloud that overshadows,
Hides our Father's face from view,
Oh, its well then to remember
He has blessed us hitherto.

Looking back the long years over,
What a varied path, and yet
All the way His hand has led us,
Placed each hindrance we have met;
Given to us the "pleasant places,"
Cheered us all the journey through,
Passing through the deepest waters,
He hath blessed us hitherto."

CHARLOTTE ST. LEAGUE.

Monday evening, May 7th, we held our Missionary Service. Bro. I. Richardson gave an address on the lives of great missionaries, which was followed by an address by Bro. German, dwelling on the same subject; both were instructive. We then had several selections of music. We had a profitable and very pleasant evening throughout. Our attendance was not as large as usual, only about 40 members being present. Our Cottage prayer meeting this coming Friday evening will be held at the residence of Mrs. Dale, 56 George street. We are much encouraged in these meetings by the large attendance and interest manifested by those attending them.

The Board of Education will hold a regular meeting next Monday evening.

The Eden-Fontana Company will give a concert in the town hall here under the auspices of the band next Tuesday evening.

At the evening service in the church of England last Sunday Rev. Mr. Gibson announced his intention of visiting England this summer with Mrs. Gibson. The services, however, will be continued by laymen of the church until June, after which a student from Trinity College will lead the devotions of the congregation. Mr. and Mrs. Gibson will return in September. We wish them bon voyage.

Posters have been issued for the celebration here on the 24th. Football matches will be played for the championship of the counties of Peterborough, Northumberland, Ontario and Durham and a fine silver cup. The following teams will compete:—Brooklin, champions of Ontario and Durham; Havelock, Lakefield, Allandale, Norwood village and Norwood High School. Before the matches which begin at one o'clock, a real old calathumpian procession will parade the principal streets and will then go to the park, where a great wild west show will be exhibited in acts between the matches. In this Sitting Bull and his noted band of Sioux Indians will display feats of horsemanship. The afternoon will be closed by the usual athletic sports, for which valuable cash prizes will be offered. Admission will be 25 cents, ladies and children 10 cents. In the evening a grand concert under High School auspices will be given in the town hall. The very best local talent as well as several leading artists from a distance have been secured for the occasion. Programmes will be out shortly.

Bills are also out for the Roman Catholic picnic to be held in Mr. Roxburgh's grove, opposite the church, on the Queen's Birthday. Refreshments will be served on the grounds. A large platform will be provided for dancing and a fine orchestra has been secured for the occasion. A prize of $2.00 is offered for the best jig dancers, lady and gentleman. Prizes will be offered for Caledonian games and a number of other amusements will be offered. A very enjoyable time may be expected by all who attend.

The Board of Health held a meeting last Tuesday evening to arrange for the business of the year. Mr. Robt. Wilson was re-elected chairman. The Sanitary Inspector will make his usual round of inspection at once. Dr. Ford, Medical Health officer reported that the health of the people is in a very good condition, being free from all contagious diseases.

Mr. S. S. Weaver, pastor of the Baptist church here has taken up his residence in the house once occupied by Mr. J. Harper, sr., Belmont street. He is an able preacher and has become very popular among the people of his pastorate. Tuesday, May 22nd, ministers from all parts of the country, besides several professors from the McMaster Hall, Toronto, will assemble here, when Mr. Weaver, will be ordained as a minister.

Monday morning, while Mr. Chas. McDonald, mail carrier between Norwood and Hastings, was driving to the C. P. R. station here, his horses became frightened and ran away overturning the bus and completely demolishing the top.

Col. Hamilton, a former resident of Norwood, was in town this week attending the funeral of his son George, who died at Havelock, Saturday evening at the age of 23 years.

The sale of the effects of the Mechanics' Institute did not come of as announced, as Reeve Pearce liberally advanced $100.00 to the Institute to pay the existing liabilities. A meeting of the directors was held on Monday evening when it was decided to move the library from the present building to Mr. D. Booth's photograph gallery. Mr. Booth has offered free rooms to the Institute until Dec. 31st, '94.

A vote of thanks was passed to Mr. Pearce for the kind way in which he came forward to relieve the Institute of embarassment. If fifty members are secured at $1 each, the Government gives a grant of $25, making in all $75, which is sufficient for the expenses. We think that when there are men so liberal towards the institute as Mr. Pearce and Mr. Booth, as well as the directors, who give their time for nothing, surely there are fifty families in this vicinity who will give $1 per year to keep this great educational institution in our midst.

The new Methodist church bell was placed in position in the belfry last week. It has a deep musical tone, and can be heard for miles around. A successful social was held on Tuesday evening to commemorate the hanging of the bell. Refreshments were served, after which Rev. Mr. Buchanan delivered an address. The proceeds will clear off all debt on the bell.

THE LATE WILLIAM FINLAY.

It is our sad duty to record this week the death of Mr. Wm. J. Finlay, of the firm of J. Finlay & Son, Saturday evening, at the early age of 31 years, 11 months. He was a native of Norwood, and in his early life was apprenticed to his brother-in-law, Mr. T. N. Ackerman, harness maker. Afterwards he entered the factory and about fourteen years ago became a partner in the business. For some time he has been a very successful traveller for the firm, and is well known all through the eastern provinces. About ten years ago he married Miss Boynton, of Brantford, whom he leaves with three children to mourn his loss. The funeral was held on Tuesday and was one of the most largely attended that there has even been in Norwood. Rev. Messrs. McDonald, Buchanan, Gibson and Weaver each took part in the solemn service, which was held at the residence of the deceased, after which the procession moved away in the following order:—Band, Oddfellows, clergymen, hearse, mourners, employees, reeve and council, friends. Oddfellows were present from Peterborough, Havelock, Hastings and Westwood. At the grave after prayer by Rev. Mr. Macdonald, Mr. W. E. Roxborough, chaplain of Norwood Lodge, I.O. O.F. read the Oddfellow's burial service after which the members laid sprigs of evergreen on the coffin. The new bell in the Methodist church was tolled as the funeral procession started. Our deepest sympathy is with the relatives of the deceased in their great loss. Norwood has lost one of its best citizens.

COUNCIL MEETING.

Council met Monday evening May 7, J. B. Pearce, reeve, in the chair, all councillors present. Minutes of former meeting read and confirmed. An account of Ira Cummings for $7.50 was ordered to be paid. The reeve read a communication from T. M. Grover re. estate of J. W. Clark, late village treasurer. It was, on motion, laid over until the final dividend is paid which is now due. A communication from Edg. Pearse was received and left in the hands of the reeve and clerk to act. The resignation of Ed. Emery as pound keeper was received but no action was taken. The matter of selecting material for repairing sidewalks was left in the hands of the reeve and Councillor Reynolds with power of purchase. Councillors Drain and Stuart were appointed commissioners to look after all necessary repairs of streets and sidewalks at once. By-law No. 173, for the restraining of the running at large of dogs and issuing of dog tags, received its several readings and passed and the corporate seal was attached. An order was passed for $5, quarter's salary for Jas. Kellett. A petition was handed in to the council asking for the repeal of the early closing by-law, signed by Tucker Bros. and five others, and, on motion, was laid over until next meeting. It was decided to have the two trees opposite the town hall removed. A motion was passed that the clerk receive tenders for the repairing of fence around park lot and have same done before 24th May. Monday, June 4th, was appointed as the day for the meeting of the court of revision and the clerk instructed to give the necessary notices. The clerk was instructed to notify the holders of pool tables re the payment of their licenses and that same be paid forthwith. Adjourned.

Insomnia is fearfully on the increase. The rush and excitement of modern life so tax the nervous system that multitudes of people are deprived of good and sufficient sleep, with ruinous consequences to the nerves. Remember, Ayer's Sarsaparilla makes the weak strong.

I have been greatly troubled with headache and bad blood for ten or twelve years I started to take Burdock Blood Bitters in July, 1892, and now, (January, 1893), I am perfectly cured.

I can highly praise Burdock Blood Bitters because it had a fair trial in my case with wonderful success. My symptoms were dropsy, backache and sleeplessness, and all these disappeared after using two bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters. I cannot praise its healing powers too highly.

AN OLD CUSTOMER'S THANKS
—TO—
H. LeBRUN & CO.
Upon receiving one of their nice Memorandum Books.
—:o:—

I on the market square did walk
To see the sights and hear the talk,
A young man tapped me on the back
Saying this will suit you, Sir.

The free gift from his hand I took
Within it I did carefully look,
A pretty Memorandum Book
From H. LeBrun & Co., Sir.

The present I did not refuse
It's pages I will often use,
When I find topics for the muse
LeBrun's book will contain them.

Its cover red conspicious shows
Where we can purchase good cheap clothes,
In every house where that book goes
Is full of praise and wonder.

The back; a nice time table bore
Months, weeks and days for ninety-four,
The street and number of the store
By honest, stylish clothiers.

Its leaves are ruled two ways in blue
To mark each day's transactions true,
And keep our memories fresh for two
Cheap and reliable clothiers.

'Tis prized by farmer's wives like gold
She marks her eggs and butter sold,
By her the husband plain is told
From you to buy his clothing.

It sets the young boys on tip toe
They dream about LeBrun & Co.,
And cry with their papa to go
For cheap suits you are offering.

It suits the times, it takes the eye
On prices marked we may rely,
Points to the place where all can buy
Cheap suits—or made to order.

It is near twenty years and two
Since I bought the first suit from you,
Through all those years I found you true
In word, in deed and clothing.

Your goods, your name stand high to-day
No empty puff nor false display,
Your customers trust what you do say
When buying from you their clothing.

Though small in size its power is great
Low prices strong desires create,
Each seems afraid of being too late
For cheap suits you were offering.

I hope its fruits you will behold
Increasing sales one hundred fold
Till not one suit remains unsold
Of your large stock of clothing.

Fashions for Men.

IN COATS.

There is more length to the new Coats for 1894 than has been used in Men's Dress since the 60's.

THE DOUBLE BREASTED FROCK is the most fastidious garment man has put on in a generation. It adds to the stature of the man and conceals defects of figure. It is short waisted, snug fitting, long tailed and beautifully moulded to the figure. The Skirts are hollow at the top and form a beautiful curve, which is the most distinctive thing about the new styles.

Then there is the THREE BUTTON CUTAWAY Coat which is a high favourite. It is popularly described as the "Pigeon Wing" on account of its sloping tails. The sleeves are of moderate size and are closed with a vent for three buttons. If properly made it will cling rather closely to the hips.

The new CUTAWAY SACK COAT for business wear is one of the most popular of the season. It has caught the fancy of the young men. All the pockets should have flaps. The collar rolls low and is not faced with Silk.

Any of these garments made up to order to please the most fastidious dresser and with faultless devotion to the fashion plates

A Government BOMBSHELL
THROWN INTO THE
LIFE INSURANCE CAMP!

The following statement comes from the government Blue Book. It covers a period of sixteen years, and is sworn to as correct by representatives of each Company:

Statement of Premiums received and Cash Profits paid back to Policy Holders from 1877 to 1892, both years inclusive:—

COMPANY.	Premiums Received.	Dividends Paid to Policy Holders.	Ratio of Dividends to Premiums, %
CANADA LIFE	$16,368,307	$2,946,483	18.13
Confederation Life	6,165,432	637,925	10 35
North American	2,327,062	32,857	1.41
Ontario Mutual	3,878,086	433,294	11.17
Sun Life	5,527,720	355,280	6.43

Never in the history of Life Insurance has the struggle for business been keener. Never has the conflict been hotter. Never have the Companies felt as they feel now, the necessity for throwing all the energy at their command into the field. The most intelligent and best men have to be employed. All kinds of plans of insurance are submitted. Each Company determined in securing the supremacy in the good will of the public, in establishing their name, the utterance of which, shall convey to the minds of the people the essential characteristics of

UNDOUBTED SECURITY,
RIGID ECONOMY,
GOOD INVESTMENTS,
LARGEST PROFITS

WHY?

Because millons of dollars are being paid annually for Life Insurance, and the Companies that can show these features have attained a position which will guarantee their future success, for money will flow freely into the best investments.

The Canada Life Policy Holders can look at the above statement with a smile of satisfaction, yet sympathies with their friends who are not so favourably situated.

They can throw their Life Policies down in the face of opponents and successfully challenge the production of more profitable policies, they can stand the onslaught of Agents who will almost cover them with literature and estimates of Tontine, Semi-Tontine, Return Premiums, Reserved Dividends, Annuity and Endownment plans of insurance, and with a quiet assurance feel that

As The Canada Life is Making the Most Profits, She Can Pay the Largest Profits.

READER. If you want Life Insurance choose the Canada Life and join the throng of contented policy holders who are insured with the Company carrying about 45 per cent. of the total insurance in force of the above named Companies

The Benefit Concert.

The attention of the public is again called to the benefit concert of Mrs. Seward, widow of the late L. Seward. The array of talent that will contribute the programme ensures the musical enjoyment of the occasion. Besides the object is a most worthy one. For the past eight years Mr. and Mrs. Seward have done very much in the promotion of musical interests. Their services were always willingly given and their work in this connection should be practically recognized. Mr. Seward, owing to his infirmity, was unable to leave to his family the benefits of life assurance, while his income beyond the means of living, was devoted to the means to relieve the ceaseless pain from which he suffered. It is to be hoped that all those who enjoy good music and feel the pleasure of doing a kindly and deserving act will attend this concert. Admission to all parts of the house 25 cents.

The Eden-Fontana Company.

Remember this great entertainment, under the auspices of the Fire Brigade band, in the opera house on next Friday night. In addition to the other unrivalled attractions, Mr. Charles Kelly, "Canada's Pride," basso-cantante, guitarist and mandolinist, will furnish several of his grand selections. Those who have heard him in Peterborough know what a great treat to expect from his singing and playing, which have been accorded the highest praise wherever he has appeared. Grace Eden, the Georgia wonder, is indeed a wonder, and her mysterious feats of strength, outrivalling St. Cyr and Sandow, are well worth seeing. Prof. Fontana and Madam Fontana, in their hypnotic and mind reading specialties, give balance and variety to the entertainment. It should not be missed. Here is an opportunity for the public to spend a most enjoyable evening and, at the same time, to honour and help the band boys, who are deserving of every assistance and encouragement. Opera house, Friday night. Tickets 25 and 35 cents.

Special Vestry Meeting.

A special meeting of the vestry of St. Johns, fairly well attended, was held on Monday night. The chief matter of interest was the report of the envelope committee, which was very gratifying as it shewed that as a result of the special effort, the number of contributors to the envelope offerings had been more than doubled, not counting those who had increased the weekly sum of their contribution by envelope and that the committee had not yet completed their canvass. Another pleasing matter was the presentation by Rev. V. Cleventi, whose benefactions to both St. Johns and the Mission are many and substantial, of his freehold pew in the church. A vote of thanks for his generous gift was duly passed.

A Refined and Pleasing Entertainment.

The programme for the Amateur Minstrels, Tuesday evening next, in the Opera House, will contain some good songs, sung as they are seldom heard by, good soloists and a capital chorus. Over forty colored gentlemen will be in the ring with orchestra in front. Among the songs, which are with one exception, all new, are "Knights of the Mystic Star," an African story in verse; "Climb up, Children Climb," a lyric of high aspirations; "There is no one like Mother to you," a ballad and chorus of the good old type; "The Lime Juice Club," respectfully dedicated to the local society and containing general affirmation of principles good and true; "Susan Brown" a ballad of life and devotion; "The Donkey Musketeers," descriptive of military life among the colored army; "Kitty Wells," an old favorite, now given by special request. Two or three additional songs fill the overture which is a good one. Admission 25c and 50c. Reserved plan at Sudbury's.

Park Street Mission Band Entertainment.

—A very neat little steam yacht was launched from the railway slide on Saturday. She is owned by the syndicate who purchased Idyl Wild, and will be used solely by the syndicate and their guests.—Hastings Star.

—The second presentation of "Slavery Days" at Bradburn's opera house last night was deserving of far better patronage than it received. The dancing, as stated before, was the best that was ever given the Peterborough public and the singing by the male quartette and octette was also especially worthy of commendation. The "Buck Dance," as given by one of the company, lasted fully fifteen minutes and drew forth not a little applause at different stages of its presentation.

RAILWAY RUMBLINGS.

Newsy Notes from the Whirling Wheels

On account of the depression in railroad matters the G.T.R. fence gang have been laid off on the Missing Link and a number of other employees discharged.

Mr. Joseph Quinlan, assistant Passenger agent of the G.T.R. was in town yesterday on business connected with the local officials.

An excursion will be run on the C.P.R. to Ottawa on the 16th by a town organization which has already put up a sufficient guarantee to lower the regular fare to the rate of $2.80 for the return trip. This is the train which will take the T. V. C. delegation to the capture.

An enormous amount of stock is being carried in this section by the railroads.

GEORGE STREET W.M.A.

A Successful Regular Monthly Meeting.

The members of the Women's Missionary Auxiliary of the George Street Methodist Church held their monthly meeting yesterday. This is evidently a growing society, as a number of new members were received. The subject of prayer and study for the month was "China." The position and needs of Chinese women, the relation of the British government to the opium traffic, the history of Christianity in China and various kindred subjects were discussed. A most enjoyable hour was spent. In addition to the good accomplished for their less fortunate sisters, such gatherings cannot fail to be a benefit to those who attend. The next meeting is announced for the second Tuesday in June.

The wall papers kept in stock at the Peterborough Bookstore are so pretty and cheap that a customer who buys paper intending to cover only one room, is so delighted that he returns and procures papers for three or four other rooms. This is only natural, for our papers are so beautiful and so low in price that persons find it very hard to resist the temptation of buying. A. H. STRATTON & Co.

THE CHILDREN'S CELEBRATION.

The Prizes Being Collected—Footballs, Silver Cups and Other Beautiful and Handsome Trophies.

The Queen's Birthday celebration of the Peterborough Public Schools, under the management of Inspector Garvin, promises to be a great success. A football match has been arranged between the Separate and Public Schools of the town, which Mr. Drope, B.A., of the Collegiate Institute staff, has kindly consented to referee, and for which our local M.P.P. has offered as a prize a $3.00 football. The boys are diligently practising and a lively, exciting game may be looked for.

Silver cups are offered as prizes for which the several companies of the Public School cadet corps will compete.

Besides the above prizes, over $100 worth of prizes will be offered for all kinds of boys' and girls' races, for club-swinging, etc. As all Public and Separate school pupils of the town and county and adjoining counties, who are in actual attendance this term, will be allowed to compete for the prizes, the interest will be greatly intensified, and several thousand boys and girls and their relatives and friends will, no doubt, be present.

The celebration will be held in the afternoon of the 24th, beginning at 2 p.m., in the fair grounds. A brass band will be in attendance to discourse sweet music. The cadet corps, 240 strong, and the girls' corps, 150 in number, are diligently practising after 4 p. m. and 6.30 p. m. under the able tuition of Sergeant-Major Rundle, and a delightful exhibition from these sources may be expected.

The admission fee will be the nominal sum of ten cents for children and fifteen cents for adults.

It will be a great day for the boys and girls. They will loyally and right royally celebrate Her Majestry's birthday, and we bespeak for them the hearty support generally of the citizens of the town and county.

THE RECENT, SO CALLED, YACHT RACE.

To the Editor of the Examiner :

DEAR SIR,—A paragraph appeared in last night's EXAMINER under the heading, "Johnston was victorious," which must have been supplied by someone interested in the success of Mr. Johnston's yacht, as the statements are not in accord with the facts. Mr. Binch was merely out for a run with a few friends and a little test of speed was entered upon with Mr. Johnston, but hardly had a start been made when the injector of my boiler went wrong and, of course, I was out of the running and it was, therefore, an easy thing for Mr. Johnston to win a victory. But for the temporary mishap to my machinery there would have been a different result to chronicle, I believe; and I believe it so firmly that another opportunity is open to my antagonist for a fair trial of speed.

Yours, etc.,
R. BINCH.

ACQUATIC.

Mr. R. M. Roy, G. T. R. tie inspector, launched his steam yacht, the "Rob Roy," last evening. It is a trim little craft, but will only be used as a pleasure boat, the machinery being on too diminutive a scale for speed. The model of the hull has been particularly admired. It was Mr. Roy's workmanship.

The bass season is over to-morrow, after which time it will keep Inspector Breeze on the move to keep an eye on the fishers, as it is a hard thing to catch a bass and let it slip back into the water again.

Quite a number of citizens have driven out to Young's Point during the last few days to indulge in a few hours' bass fishing. A great number of that exceedingly game fish have been caught.

Messrs. C. N. Brown, Robert Kingan, J. D. Collins, Tobias Fitzgerald and J. S. Knapman, went to Hastings on a fishing expedition yesterday. The three former gentlemen have returned to town with a magnificent catch of bass. Four of the fish weighed 25 pounds, while fully half a bag full of smaller bass were caught and also brought to town. Mr. Knapman is credited with the heaviest catch.

BASEBALL.

The following team will represent the wine clerks in their game with the printers this afternoon: J. Graham, catcher; D. Simons, pitcher; G. Patterson, first base; M. Connors, second base; H. Snowden, third base; J. Blaine, left field; P. Doris, right field; G. White, centre field; Paddy Carroll, short stop.

FOOTBALL.

The Havelock football club club has organized with the following officers:
President—Dr. W. H. Jeffs.
Vice-President—W. B. Burnett.
Hon. President—A. McAuley.
Captain—H. B. R. Dryden.
Sec.-Treas.—A. McGuire.

THE WHEEL.

The bicycle club run to-morrow evening will again have Lakefield for its objective point. The boys will start from Court House Park at 7 o'clock sharp.

Captain G. J. Horkins is in receipt of a letter from J. W. Ferrie, of the Mail, formally appointing him to take charge of the relay message between Grafton and Colborne. Mr. C. M. Chislette, of Port Hope, will cyclometer the distance and ascertain exactly how many miles have to be covered. A conference will be held between Capt. Horkins, W. O. Powell, of Belleville, and Mr. Chislett regarding the the best places at which to exchange the message. The Mail proposes to publish a special edition in which the photos of the various riders in the relay will appear.

According to a decision rendered yesterday by Chairman Raymond of the Racing Board of the L.A.W., coloured riders are eligible to compete at race meets held under league rules. Mr. Raymond holds that the action of the league in barring coloured men from membership in the organization did not make them ineligible to race at L.A.W. club meets. The insertion of the word "white" in the league constitution he explained only deprived the coloured men of L.A.W. membership privileges, but in no way affected their status as amateur racing men.

THE MARKSMEN.

The Peterborough Rifle Association will hold its first monthly match to-morrow, the 10th. The ranges have been thoroughly repaired and everything is in good condition. The members are pleased to have Duncan Cameron, the invincible, back with them and life restored to the range again. New members will be supplied with rifles at the range. The Rifle Committee will meet Monday evening and draft rules and regulations for the season.

CRICKET.

The wielders of the willow didn't turn out on the crease yesterday afternoon as expected, in consequence of not having received any notification that a practice was to be held. The secretary has received word from Rosedale that their cricketers will be down for the 24th, which will just give the local men two weeks in which to get into form. In order to have the members of the club turn out to the practices, the appointment of an official whose sole duty will be to drum up the cricketers, is necessary. The time of Mr. R. B. Roger, the Secretary, is very fully taken up, just at present, in connection with the cricket minstrels, and an assistant secretary is absolutely needed if it is the intention of the "knights of the crease" to show up in any kind of form for the 24th. Every member ought to be seen within the next day or two and posted thoroughly as to the days and hours of practice. Regarding the appointment of an assistant secretary it has been suggested by a number of the officers that if Mr. Charlie Halliday would consent to undertake the duties he would be the man for the place, as he is an enthusiastic cricketer.

A "scratch" match will be played among the cricketers on Saturday afternoon commencing at 2.30. A full turn out of the members is desirable.

LACROSSE.

The district committees of the Canadian Lacrosse Association, composed of ex-President Garvin, First Vice-President Dr. J.G. Roberts and Secretary McConaghy met yesterday in Toronto and laid out the districts for the season of 1894 as follows: Eastern—Quintes of Belleville, Athletics of Madoc. Limestones of Kingston, Peterboroughs, Shamrocks of Peterborough, Port Hope; James McCabe, secretary; the clubs to meet at Peterborough. The district secretaries will notify the clubs in their respective districts to send a representative to a meeting to be held at the central point indicated on Saturday, May 19, to arrange a schedule for the season.

The Shamrocks are practising hard for their Saturday match with the Millbrook team and are getting into fine form. The Shamrocks are an unknown quantity this year. So far though many think they will prove almost the equals of the Peterborough's in skill. This Saturday match will therefore give them a rating as it were. The outcome will be watched with interest.

Over a score of the Peterboroughs were out for practice on the P.A.A.A. grounds last evening and the scheme of choosing sides was found to work like a charm. Renewed interest in the practice is awakened and every player it is hoped will be on the ground at 6.45 to-night in order that the sides may be taken without delay.

OUR CITIZEN SOLDIERY.

The Boys in Red in Parade Two Nights a Week After This—Orillia Will be Visited on the 1st.

The 57th paraded about a hundred strong last night in the armoury and were drilled for a couple of hours by Sergt.-Major Peters.

A recruit class of about 20 was formed and was put through the paces in a corner of the armoury by itself. As mentioned before, the battalion is composed this year of young fellows whose general physique is away above the average and if the standard of height is strictly adhered to the corps will make as fine an appearance as any in the province. A large number of uniforms was taken out by the new men last night and doubtless by Thursday evening the ranks will be considerably filled out. Quite a large number of the old vets have not turned up this year for drill being under the impression that, as heretofore, they could drop into the ranks and take their old positions without any trouble. This is a mistaken idea, as the formula of the new drill is so totally different from the old, that a veteran would be completely at sea in his company, unless he showed up for drill before the outdoor parade. The boys find it especially hard to swing their arms when marching, and it kept the Sergt.-Major busy reminding them of this new regulation last night.

At the conclusion of parade

for the week were read:

HEADQUARTERS,
Peterborough, May 8th, 1894.

Orders of Lieut.-Col. J. Z. Rogers, commanding the 57th Battalion of Infantry, P. R.

1. To be officer of the week, Capt. Millar, "E" Company; next for duty, Capt. Hill, "C" Company.
2. The inspection of the 57th Battalion has been fixed for Thursday, 28th June, when it is necessary that every member of the regiment must be present.
3. Leave of absence has been granted to the following officers: Major and Brevet Lieut.-Col. Bell, Capt. Dennistoun and Lieut. Stevenson.
4. The changes in the night of drill will be as follows: The batallion will parade on Tuesday and Thursday evenings. The recruits will parade on Monday and Friday evenings. The non-coms. will parade on Wednesday evenings.

By ord'r,
E. F. MASON, Capt.
Adjutant 57th Battalion.

Colonel Rogers then read a petition from the committee appointed by the Fire Brigade requesting the officers and men to remain in town on the First of July and assist in making the home celebration a success on that day. As the Volunteers have come to regard this day as their own, in the sense that they have always gone off on their trips on Dominion Day, the Colonel thought it best to give them a voice in the matter and requested all those in favour of remaining at home on that day to step forth from the ranks, but no one stirred. The officers have yet to give their opinion on the matter, as a matter of form, but are understood to be in favour of putting in the day, as usual, away from home.

The announcement was made that after carrying on a great deal of correspondence it had finally been decided by the officers that Orillia would be for the next outing, the longer trip to Western Ontario being deemed too tedious to be undertaken. The G. T. R. it is understood, will furnish a special train for the occasion which will leave the station at about 9 p.m. Saturday arriving in Orillia at about midnight. A squad of men will be sent on ahead to pitch the tents, etc., and the men will be served with a luncheon on their arrival.

The spot chosen for a camp ground is described in glowing terms by the officers who selected the site. It is situated in the centre of the town on a plot which is stated to rival Court House Park in beauty and is situated on the shores of the Couchiching. Hydrants are placed within convenient distances and the citizens propose giving the Peterborough Rangers an A 1 time, some hints being thrown out of a trip up the lake.

The non-commissioned officers mess will elect officers Monday evening.

The ambulance corps met last evening and elected the following officers:—Corporal of No. 1 stretcher, S. Sharp; Corporal of No. 2 stretcher, Geo. Duncan; Corporal of No. 3 stretcher, R. Armstrong. A book of rules and regulations regarding the drill corps has been received and regular meetings will be held in order that this department of the 57th may be fully up to the mark on inspection day.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 75c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

OUR WAY OF SELLING
Teas, Groceries and Provisions.

WHAT WE ARE NOT DOING.

We are not selling Tea worth 50 cents for 25 cents. We are not selling Tea worth 25 cents for 35 or 40 cents—adding ten per cent. at the same time asking you to believe that you are getting ten per cent off. We are not selling Teas or Groceries at less than cost price.

WHAT WE ARE DOING.

We are selling Tea worth 25 cents for 25 cents. We are selling Tea worth 40 cents for 40 cents. We are selling Teas and Groceries six days in the week at a small advance upon cost price and feel safe in saying that people who, instead of running after shadows, buy their goods in the way we are selling, save money thereby. We have excellent value in Black, Green, Japan and Oolong Teas from 25 to 50 cents, and think you can save from 10 to 15 cents on this by giving us a trial. We have also a well selected and fresh stock of Groceries and Provisions, and can give you value with every purchase.

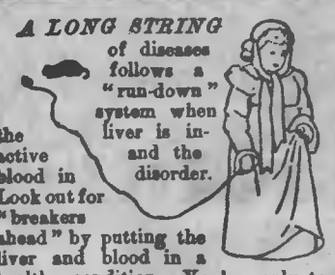
A LONG STRING



of diseases follows a "run-down" system when liver is inactive and the blood in disorder. Look out for "breakers ahead" by putting the liver and blood in a healthy condition. You've only to turn to the right remedy to make yourself secure from disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery prevents as well as cures. Take it, as you ought, when you feel the first symptoms (languor, loss of appetite, dullness, depression) and you'll save yourself from something serious.

In recovering from "La Grippe," or in convalescence from pneumonia, fevers, or to build up needed flesh and strength it is indicated.

It's a blood-purifier that has stood the test of time. For a quarter of a century the "Discovery" has numbered its cures by the thousands. The manufacturers prove their faith in it by guaranteeing it for all disorders arising from bad blood; in Scrofula, Eczema, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Carbuncles, and every kindred ailment.

If you receive no benefit you'll get your money back. What offer could be fairer?

It cures Catarrh in the Head — perfectly and permanently — Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

INQUEST IN INGERSOLL

Verdict of the Coroner's Jury on the Death of John McDermott.

YOUNG ALDWARD EXCULPATED

The Evidence Given at the Inquest Does Not Prove Who Threw the Stone That Caused the Death — Witness Mitchell's Erratic Evidence.

INGERSOLL, May 9.—The coroner's inquest in the stone throwing case came up according to adjournment last evening before Coroner Dr. McLay. The inquest took place in the town hall, which was packed to its utmost capacity.

The witness Mitchell was as difficult to get a straight story from as he was on Saturday. He denied having said the stones fell so fast about him that he ran further west. He changed his evidence as to what the deceased had said after Everett got up to him.

DRS. Williams and Lucas, who made the post mortem examination, gave very clear evidence as to the cause of death. They only found one wound on the left side of the head, a little behind; also a swelling below the jaw. There was a large cut of three by two and a half inches pressing the brain. This wound was undoubtedly the cause of death.

The other witnesses examined were Everett, who with Mitchell and McDermott, the deceased, were the leaders of the rocking gang. Like Mitchell, Everett gave very unsatisfactory evidence. He was within five feet of the deceased when he was struck and fell, but he couldn't say how or who struck him. The other members of the gang were Alex. McCaskill, Geo. Bell, Joseph McGrath, Joseph McSherry, who were from 12 to 19 years of age, went up with the other three, more as hangers-on, to see the fun than as participants.

It was shown in evidence that Aldward, the prisoner, had been hit three times, one of the stones knocking off his hat. When he stooped to pick it up he found the stone and threw it, which, he said, did not strike the ground and he had seen someone fall.

The jury retired about one o'clock this morning, and after about two hours and a half returned with the verdict as follows: "We, the coroner's jury, investigating the cause of John McDermott's death, find that the deceased received injuries which caused his death through being hit by a stone, but by whom the stone was thrown the evidence does not show. We also find that the parties who went with the express purpose of breaking the law are accomplices before the fact."

Randall's Army's Hard Luck.

LAPORTE, Ind., May 9.—The two factions of the Randall army of Industrials met with treatment here that they did not relish. The city authorities met them at the city limits and forbade them to enter the city and Gen. Randall, his son, and two of his lieutenants were arrested and placed in jail. The citizens took pity on the starving army and sent out provisions to where it is camped, a mile south of the city, pending the release of the leaders. The two sections of the army are on unfriendly terms and marched from Westville about a third of a mile apart.

Hon. A. J. Mundella's Position.

LONDON, May 9.—The rebuke administered to the Right Hon. A. J. Mundella, president of the Board of Trade, by Justice Williams in the latter's review of the public examination of the affairs of the New Zealand Company, is the subject of genuine comment, and the opinion prevails that Mr. Mundella must resign from the Cabinet in consequence of the disclosures.

The Joan of Arc Celebration.

PARIS, May 9.—The Count of Paris has written to the royalist youth of France a letter concerning the Joan of Arc celebration in Orleans. He says: "This celebration binds all France in a common bond of patriotism, but it does not allow Joan of Arc's mission to be stuffed by the party spirit of the Catholic and royalist character which she herself claimed for it."

Americans for Mashonaland.

CAPETOWN, May 9.—A pioneer party, under the auspices of the American Board of Women's Foreign Mission, is about to start for Mashonaland. If their report be favorable, a number of American farmers will follow. Many Americans are already in the Transvaal, and a great influx is expected there and in the country northward shortly.

Absolute Prohibition in South Carolina.

COLUMBIA, S.C., May 9.—South Carolina jumped from the dispensary system to absolute free whiskey. Now, after a reign of whiskey for a few weeks, the Supreme Court has decided that absolute prohibition is in force. The Supreme Court unanimously decided on this yesterday.

Striking Miners Evicted.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 9.—At Blue Creek mines, Ala., yesterday, over 100 negroes were put to work and evictions of striking miners began. The strikers are very much irritated in consequence and many threats are made.

THE RULING MARKETS.

TORONTO, May 9, 1894.

At the Ingersoll cheese market 1,276 boxes of May cheese were offered at 10½c and refused. No sales.

Opinion on Wall street is almost universal that enough Sugar has been marketed to make insiders willing to see the price down and a few short interest established.

At the London (Eng.) wool sales 8,800 bales were offered. Competition was brisk. Greasy Merinos were in good request and scoureds sold well, chiefly to continental operators.

In New York market American Sugar again led the railway and miscellaneous share list in point of activity, the stock figuring for 112,900 shares. It opened at 106½ to 106 and closed at 105¾.

THE FARMERS' MARKET.—Receipts of grain were a little more liberal. One load of white wheat sold at 62c, one of red at 61c, and goose nominal at 58c. Oats steady, 300 bushels selling at 39c to 40c. One load of peas sold at 64c, and barley nominal at 45c.

The Chicago wheat market was irregular but active on rumors that the Government crop report would be bearish. Cables were weak. The market closed ½c lower. Corn was firm, the close showing a net gain of ¼c for the day. Oats were quiet.

Lohmann Goes to Sing Sing.

NEW YORK, May 9.—W. D. Lohmann, ex-cashier of the Brooklyn Excise Department, was sent to Sing Sing prison to serve a term of seven years and four months for embezzlement. Lohmann was recently caught in Toronto, Ont. His lawyer pleaded for mercy on the ground that all the money Lohmann had appropriated ($19,400) went in bolstering up an automatic racing machine enterprise and in theatrical ventures at the Grand Opera house.

Coxey Found Guilty.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The jury has returned a verdict finding Coxey, Browne and Jones guilty on the first count of the information of carrying a banner in the Capitol grounds contrary to law, and Coxey and Browne guilty and Christopher Columbus Jones not guilty on the second count of trespassing on the grass. Pending a motion for a new trial, the defendants were released on $300 bail.

Bessie H. Bedloe, Burlington, Vt., had a disease of the scalp, causing her hair to become very harsh and dry, and to fall so freely that she scarcely dared to comb it. Ayer's Hair Vigor gave her a healthy scalp, removed the dandruff, and made the hair thick and glossy.

A Little Daughter

Of a Church of England minister cured of a distressing rash, by Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Mr. RICHARD BIRKS, the well-known Druggist, 207 McGill st., Montreal, P. Q., says:

I have sold Ayer's Family Medicines for 40 years, and have heard nothing but good said of them. I know of many

Wonderful Cures

performed by Ayer's Sarsaparilla, one in particular being that of a little daughter of a Church of England minister. The child was literally covered from head to foot with a red and exceedingly troublesome rash, from which she had suffered for two or three years, in spite of the best medical treatment available. Her father was in great distress about the case, and, at my recommendation, at last began to administer Ayer's Sarsaparilla, two bottles of which effected a complete cure, much to her relief and her father's delight. I am sure, were he here to-day, he would testify in the strongest terms as to the merits of

"I DARE YE MARRY 'EM."

Bob and May were sweethearts.

Of course they were; that's what they had been learning ever since Bob, a stripling of 20, had come out from Tennessee to the Texas Panhandle with the family.

In those days May was a bright-haired, high-strung little girl of 14 whom Bob never called nor thought of as "red-headed."

Bob was a strong, good-humored boy, not a bit afraid of work; and he had a way with him that gave him command of men and creatures. He rose rapidly in old man Love's employ from simple cow puncher to wagon-boss, then foreman, and when he was only 25 went, with the approval and goodwill of his employer, to take the position of ranch manager for a Boston company.

All the world loves a lover. Bob was such a whole-hearted one, his state of mind was so patent, he took such delight in it, wore his chains with such open pride and enthusiasm, that all the Panhandle felt with and for him.

Besides being a fellow that a girl could love without any difficulty, anybody—with a daughter to spare—might have been pleased with Bob for a son-in-law.

And old man Love was pleased enough with the match and greatly given to bragging of Bob as a coming adjunct to the Love greatness, until the tragedy of the one-horned brindle cow, which tore things all up generally, threatened to sever two loving hearts and darken forever Bob's and May's happy horizon.

This old cow—worth perhaps $7—bobbed up at one of the round-ups sporting, in addition to the B N of the Boston National, which was facetiously known as the "Bean" brand, old man Love's (XXX).

Though very uncommon, such accidents may occur in the haste and confusion of branding, without necessarily implying dishonestly on someone's part. While they do sometimes result in fights and killings they are easily enough adjusted between reasonable people since any clever cattleman can readily tell which brand is of the longer standing.

But any cowboy on the range would have told you that while old man Love was square enough himself he was a crazy crank about the sacredness of his brand. His long suite was to jump up and down and swear that it never yet was on anything that wasn't his own. He invariably claimed an animal that bore it in addition to another brand (as did this old cow), however plainly it showed as the newer of the two, though as a matter of fact his branding irons were handled by just as many careless cowboys as any others.

If Bob had known what that aged and damaged brindle cow was going to cost him, he might perhaps have blinked his obvious duty, and let old man Love have her—in the face of right and reason.

But he was not the man to be backed down by anyone, and he dared the worst and got it!

He held the cow for his company, after a fierce contest, and old man Love went home raging, to give his distorted version of the affair, issue orders that no member of his family was to speak to, or of, Bob from that time forth, and to remark significantly that he had far rather see a child of his married to a horse-thief than to a person capable of such behavior.

Communication between the lovers had since been managed, once or twice, by the utmost stealth and secrecy. Having, by this means, been assured of his sweetheart's steadfastness and readiness Bob sent her word by one of her father's cowboys to ride a good horse past the half-way branding pen, armed himself with a license and hung around the Triple X ranch for a week.

When May finally found the opportunity to slip away in the most careless manner, with one of the men's sombreros on and in the face of threatening weather, she received a rapturous welcome from the long-banished Bob, and they promptly headed their ponies for 'Squire Wiley's, just the other side of Roaring creek, who was supposed to be holding himself in readiness for their visit.

What Mexican, or other paid spy, or what unfriendly or envious hand carried the news to old man Love will not be known; but he burst into one of his near cow camps at dinner, shortly after Bob and May's departure, like a roaring South African lion with mustard in his eye.

"The boys"—who knew well enough what was afoot, and what would be asked of them—dropped their tin cups and plates, jumped on their waiting ponies and were out of hailing distance before he fairly lit in their midst.

But old Hank Pearsall, the cook, was a new man, not long from southwest Texas, neither knowing of nor caring particularly for Bob Holly and his love affairs. So he stood at his official post, at the tail end of the chuck wagon, and gave amiable attention to the impassioned harangue and singular antics of this new and entertaining employer.

Being commanded to come along and assist in dispersing Bob and rescuing May, he mounted a serious appearing but fitful tempered buckskin-colored pony, with one white eye and much symmetry of bone—as much of a character in its way as Hank was in his—and started, with considerable interest and curiosity.

They rode hard and were near overhauling the lovers within a mile of Roaring creek. But while pursuer and pursued pushed on at their utmost pace, another factor was coming with a hundred times greater speed to take a hand in the game.

The dry bed of Roaring creek was just before them, beyond that a tiny rise, then an arroyo, and beyond that, again, the roof of the justice's house, just in sight.

As Bob and May scattered over the creek bed and scrabbled up onto the rise beyond, both looked back and their ponies stopped, tossing their heads, pricking their ears and snorting at a curious humming sound that suddenly seemed to fill all the air about.

"Hurry up, darling," cried Bob, throwing out a hand to catch May's; "it's a big storm coming from above." But before they could descend the slope to cross the dry arroyo in front it was running from bank to bank and brimming over with a sudden flood of red, muddy water.

And even above the noise of the flood before them they heard a sound like the angry shouting of furious multitudes. Looking backward and up the creek whence the sounds came they saw a great, tumbling, shuddering wall—pushing before it and bearing upon its crest all imaginable sorts of debris—advancing down the dry creek bed with such a thunderous onslaught that the little mound on which they stood shook and seemed fairly to lower under their feet.

They looked about them. The arroyo ran into the creek below. Above, both it and the creek had flooded out until they joined. Their little mound was an island, momentarily growing smaller, surrounded on every side by raging torrents, in which were driven and whirled whole trees, full grown cattle, with sometimes a fence post whose trailing wires had caught in their barbs all manner of ghastly wreckage.

Up came the water about them; down fell the big hail.

"It's a cloud burst above, darling," said Bob. "It won't last long—the water won't cover this rise."

"I'm not afraid, Bob," said May, with very white lips; "I'm glad I came anyhow. If we've got to die we'll die together; and the way I've felt for the last three weeks I'm sure that's a heap better than living apart."

Bob jumped off his pony and lifted May from hers. The hail was coming bigger and beat cruelly upon them. He wrapped his slicker about her, pushed the ponies close together and sheltered her with them and his own body as best he could.

"We won't die," he said, "but, poor little girl, what an awful storm I've dragged you out into!"

Just then, from the farther bank of the creek, above the awful howling of the storm, came this intelligent command in old man Love's ear-splitting tones:

"May Love! You come here to me this minute!" And May laughed hysterically.

"Well, he can't get at us, anyway—but the hail can. O, look at your poor hands! O, Bob, I can't bear it—put the slicker back on!"

"Why, honey," said Bob, as the tears came in earnest now, "I'd get pounded just the same, anyhow; and you must let me have the comfort of keeping some of it off you—it ain't a patchin' on the way your pa would do me if he could get me right now."

While the storm raged and the water rose nearly to their feet, Hank Pearsall had the almost exclusive benefit of old man Love's remarks, since only his wildest shrieks reached the young couple, who were too much absorbed in each other to heed either him or the storm very much.

These remarks disagreed with Mr. Pearsall, who was notoriously a man of judgment and observation.

"What's the matter with that young feller?" he queried angrily; "watch him a standin' to the north'ard uv his gal, a keepin' the hail offen her! He ain't no chump! If he keeps that lick up right through he'll make a better husband 'n what you ever did!"

About this time, the hail ceasing, the expectant justice came down to the further bank of the arroyo. The water was going down visibly, but its roar was still considerable.

"Ho, Bob!" yelled the justice, above its sound, "got your license?"

Bob took it out and waved it above his head.

Old man Love could not from where he stood hear a word, but he surmised what had been said, and the sight of the document was like a red rag to the bull.

"I dare ye to marry 'em," he screamed. "I dare ye to do it!" And in an ecstacy of rage and anxiety he forced his pony down into the foaming creek among the whirling drift, where he was promptly pitched off by the terrified creature, which instantly returned. Pearsall, at the risk of his own life, had to fish him out, receiving plenty of abuse for his pains and returning it with bitter irony.

In two minutes' time the shallower arroyo was fordable, though the creek, down which big drift continued to come, was not. Bob set May on her pony, mounted his own, and prepared to ride out. The sight of the justice—a plains cupid, with boots, slicker and cowboy hat—preparing to take charge of the pair was to much for old man Love, and, dismounted as he was, he plunged, in a delirium of rage, into a creek, spluttering and yelling.

"Stop! Hold on! You just dare!"

May hesitated, frightened; but old Hank Pearsall yanked her father out again and set him on dry land, snorting.

"Doggone ye! I pulled y' out onct before! What fur caint ye stay out! Huh?

"When ye try buckin' agin a boy like that, backed by a Texas norther, you're agoin to git left—don't ye know it? That kid's got a double chinche on Proverdunce! But ye had this hyer storm staked out!

"Go it feller! Go it gal! I'm with ye ever time—I'm fer ye! Yer the right sort! I wouldn't hender ye fer all the durned old snake-bit fools in Texas! I'll jist gether up the scraps o' this ole eejit, an' tote 'em back to the ranch."

And as May and Bob rode off, tattered, beaten, draggled, but obliviously blissful and jaunty, a faint hail followed them.

"Goodbye kids—wish yer joy! Come on ole calamity!"

BEWARE OF FRAUDS.

The Unfailing Success of Dodd's Kidney Pills Induces Fradulent Imitators to Attempt to Pass Worthless Remedies on the Public.

TORONTO, May 7.—This appears to be an age of fakes and frauds. It seems impossible for any new idea or valuable invention to be made known without a host of imitators trying to foist their worthless goods on an unsuspecting public in the hope of making an unmerited profit out of their worthless ideas. The unequalled success of Dodd's Kidney Pills in curing all forms of kidney disease, has led to the introduction of many cheap and base imitations that are worse than valueless. Dodd's was the first kidney remedy ever offered in pill form. For their own safety, purchasers should buy none but Dodd's Kidney Pills. Sold in large boxes: price, fifty cents per box or six boxes for $2.50. To be had of all dealers.

Millinery Critics

Recognize the remarkable freshness and beauty of our stock. Seems almost useless to advertise our Millinery. Ever since the spring reception it has been advertising itself, and a stranger looking in would think each day "first view day." Yet it is right to be courteous to our attractive novelties.

Our Millinery business is always being stimulated, and the wonderful varieties of taste displayed brings us happy visitors and pleased customers all the time. Because many are coming and buying; more will come and will buy.

This growing success proves the public faith—you trust and then you buy. Why? Every advertising word is true—you know it, and are sure to find it always so here.

Mantles and Capes.

The very newest and neatest—all much below regular value. In our collection, remember, there are no old things—no mistakes limping up to roll-call and never getting any further. No. All are favourites. They have 1894 style and goodness about them, and the prices combine to make matchless bargains.

Dress Goods.

Tastes differ, uses are various; therefore the proper Dress Goods stock must cover all sorts or there will be disappointment. Our stock is as nearly complete as we can make it, and, out of prevailing times, have grown prices that were never matched before, and are not likely to be equalled again.

Underwear Hosiery and Gloves.

Fresh lots coming in to keep sizes and qualities suitable to the season. Better than that—prices are going down and qualities going up.

THE BUCHANAN CASE.

Equal to a Resurrection—Almost Helpless from Kidney Disease—A Burden to Himself and His Friends—Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Him.

Chatham, April 30.—The story of Sherman Buchanan, living near Leamington, is worthy of notice. He says he was almost helpless, bloated and a wreck with kidney disease. His digestive organs were powerless and he was rapidly becoming a burden to himself and his friends. Naturally he lost all hopes of recovery, but a happy thought suggested Dodd's Kidney Pills, and these cured him. Dodd's was the first Kidney remedy in pill form ever offered the public. Its wonderful success in curing all forms of kidney disease has led to the introduction of numerous cheap and worthless imitations. Purchasers, for their own safety, should insist on getting Dodd's Kidney Pills. Sold in large boxes; price, fifty cents, or six boxes for $2.56. To be had of all dealers.

"Varsity," great value to the consumer. Try it.

CAPTURED AMERICAN POACHERS.

Canadian Patrol Vessel Petrel Makes a Haul Off Point au Pelee.

SANDUSKY, Ohio, May 9.—News is received here from Kelly's Island that an outrage had been committed on the American steamers Visitor and Leroy Brooks by the Canadian patrol vessel Petrel. While cruising north of Kelly's Island and south of Point au Pelee, the latter being Canadian land, the Petrel suddenly came down on the Visitor and Leroy Brooks, capturing the vessels, their crews and many passengers, who were being towed in a small boat. The party was fishing for black bass. This is the first time hook and line fishermen have been molested.

Tragic Death of a Surveyor.

MONCTON, N. B., May 9.—A tragic story reaches here from Miramichi. On April 16 a surveyor named Robert Ellis of Bathurst, accompanied by a Frenchman Pete, left on a surveying expedition for Kennedy F. Burns. They became short of food and were lost in the woods. They took the river in Cantamaran, hoping to reach a settlement. They were wrecked, and Ellis was carried by rushing waters to one bank and Pete to the other. They were unable to rejoin each other and Ellis told Pete to go ahead and he would get out all right. Pete found his way through the bush to the settlement and help returned for Ellis. Ellis' body was found on the bank of the river where he had been washed ashore. How he got there is a mystery. He leaves a wife and six children.

The St. Albans Sufferers.

QUEBEC, May 9.—Mayor Naud, of St. Alban, the scene of the recent great landslide, is here, and in an interview with the Provincial Premier and Secretary asked for assistance for the St. Alban sufferers. He was cordially received, and there is every reason to believe that his demand will be favorably entertained.

News was received from St. Anne last night to the effect that the disaster is increasing. Houses are falling one by one and carried away by the stream which is increasing by the falling rain water. The railroad bridge is threatened with destruction.

Two Frenchmen Drowned.

PARRY SOUND, May 9.—On Sunday George Proulx and Harry Duval, two Frenchmen employed by Poulin & Fitzpatrick on the construction work of the Parry Sound Colonization Railway, were drowned in a small lake ten miles from this place. They were out in a log canoe and upset. Duval, who could not swim, caught hold of his companion and both went down together. The bodies were recovered an hour afterwards and were interred here. The men came from the province of Quebec, Duval from Three Rivers.

Burglary in Grand Falls, N. B.

GRAND FALLS, N. B., May 9.—The store of James McCuiskey, dry goods, groceries, etc., was broken into and his safe blown open. Several watches and a lot of gold rings, a $100 bond and some money were taken. Entrance to the store was made by prying the front door open with iron bars. Burglars drilled a couple of holes in the top of the safe and blew the door off. There is no clue as to who committed the robbery, but it is thought to be the work of professionals as the safe-cracking was done in a very neat manner.

Sir Charles Tupper on Canada.

LONDON, May 9.—Sir Charles Tupper made an address at the Colonial Institute last night on Canada in relation to the unity of the Empire. The Marquis of Lorne presided. Sir Charles Tupper made a strong protest against the assertion of Sir John Colomb and others to the effect that Canada has not done anything for Imperial defence. He also restated the case of the Colonies in their plea for Imperial aid towards the Pacific Cable and the Atlantic-Australian steamer schemes.

To Slaughter Canadian Cattle.

LONDON, May 9.—The Official Gazette publishes an order directing that Canadian cattle imported to England be marked at the ports of arrival and that they be isolated and killed at special abbatoirs. The carcasses of such cattle are not to be removed without the permission of the inspector of the Board of Husbandry. In addition, the lungs of these cattle are not to be touched until examined by the inspectors. The order goes into force on May 15.

The Baroness Pleased With the Statue.

Trouble Looked for in Oklahoma.

Hunters Starved to Death.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., May 9.—Advices from Mazatlan, Mex., announce that three American hunters, H. L. Denton, C. P. Hall and Frank Turnstall, were lost in the Sierrel Madre mountains and starved to death. The bodies of Denton and Hall were found by a searching party.

The Czar as a Mushroomer.

Whenever the Czar of Russia leaves his State behind him, and leads once a year a family life in Denmark, there is scarcely a morning that he does not go mushrooming, for what true lover of mushrooms cares for the insipid "buttons" from tin or bottle? So the burly figure, crowned with a straw hat, and with osier basket slung on a stick across his shoulder, may be seen, by those who get up early enough, traversing the green meadows in quest of the delicious comestible. When a sufficient number is gathered, the "mushroomer" returns to the castle, and the spoils are confided to the chef, who has them prepared immediately, as mushrooms should be, by one of the twenty cooks who always accompany Alexander III.

Englishman Attempts Suicide.

HALIFAX, N.S., May 9.—John Schofield, an Englishman, aged 38, working in the tannery at Shubenacadie, cut his throat while suffering from delirium tremens. ON FIRE WITH EGZEMA Terrible Sufferings of Little Baby. Seven Doctors and two Hospitals Fail. Cured by Cuticura.

My baby boy, 5 months old, broke out with eczema. The itching and burning was intense; the eczema spread to his limbs, trunk, face and head, until he was nearly covered; his piercing agonies were pitiable to behold. We had no peace and but little rest night or day. He was under treatment of seven doctors in this city without the least benefit; every prescription of the doctors was faithfully tried, but he grew worse all the time. For months I expended about $5 per week for medicines, and was entirely discouraged. I purchased CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT and followed the directions to the letter. Relief was immediate, his sufferings were ended, and rest and sleep permitted. He steadily improved and in nine weeks was entirely cured, and has now as clear a skin and is as fair a boy as any mother could wish to see. I recommend every mother to use it for every Baby Minnie.

MRS. M. FERGUSON,

CUTICURA WORKS WONDERS

Rashes on fire, babies burning up, babies in agony from torturing and disfiguring, itching and burning, skin and scalp diseases. None but mothers realize how they suffer. To know that a single application of the CUTICURA REMEDIES will afford instant relief, permit rest and sleep, and point to a speedy cure, and not to use them is to fail in your duty. Think of the years of suffering entailed by such neglect. Cures made in childhood are speedy and economical.

MANTLE SURPRISES.

The figures with which we mark high-class Mantles are not those of round-town stores, but our own exceptionally low markings. We go on the even tenor of our way, distancing all comers, not because of peaceful tendencies, but for want of a rival. No matter what you have seen or been offered, we can show you a BARGAIN in Mantles that you can't afford to ignore.

The only prices tolerated here are the LOWEST. These prices will prove our assertions:—

All our $7.00 Mantles, All our $8.00 Mantles, All our $9.00 Mantles, All our $10.00 Mantles, FOR $5.00.

All our $13.00 Mantles for $7.50.

And so on. "It's Fair's Way" is our best answer to all criticism.

CARPET SUPREMACY

Our position as leaders in Carpet retailing lets us from time to time offer most exceptional values. Retail buyers run no risk of being fooled here. It often happens that dearly bought Carpets might have been avoided by a timely visit to our Carpet Room.

The good old square dealing fashion suits us best in selling Carpets, as well as in everything else. We try to drive like John, but we also watch that no unworthy tactics are resorted to. At the same time our prices must be made low enough to hold the customers every time. "It's Fair's Way."

BRUSSELS. Several lengths of 4-frame in stock to be sold at 75c. per yard.

ALL WOOLS. Our prices will disappoint no one; and are actually lower than offered in the City of Toronto. No mixture of jute in the filling either. Our famous MAPLE LEAF All Wool Carpets continue to give unbounded satisfaction, and prices same as charged for inferior weaves.

DOC. ANDREWS ON TRIAL

Three Prisoners, Charged With Murder, Appear in Court.

SIXTY WITNESSES TO TESTIFY

The Greater Number of Whom Are Summoned for the Crown—Lucy Denning's Mother and Sister in the Stand—A Sensational Case.

TORONTO, May 10.—The Andrews murder case was opened at the criminal assize court yesterday before Justice Meredith. Mr. Clute, Q. C., represented the Crown, and W. R. Riddell, Q. C., appeared for Doc. Andrews. Andrews looked very frail and haggard. His wife and niece looked well after their long confinement. The jury was selected without much trouble. There are about fifty witnesses for the Crown and ten for the prisoners. The prisoners are charged with the murder of Lucy Denning, Nov. 2, 1893. The girl, it will be remembered, having died from the effects of an abortion procured on her by the prisoners.

The principal witness was Mrs. Lewis, sister of deceased, who went over the ground brought out at the inquest, telling in detail the story of the alleged abortion. She described the shocking incidents which led to the death of the unfortunate girl with minuteness.

Mrs. Mary Denning, mother of Lucy Denning, took the stand, her evidence corroborating the story told by Mrs. Lewis. In telling of her grief at the manner in which her daughter came to her death, she said that Mrs. Andrews consoled her by stating that it was not an unusual proceeding. Even some of the most respectable people of the city came to the doctor for treatment. She said that Andrews said, speaking of disposing of the body, that the undertakers would do anything. They could put Lucy's body under another in a grave and then her relatives could advertise her as lost.

Detective Burroughs testified to searching the Andrews house and finding therein the instruments used for performing abortion.

Several other witnesses were examined before the court adjourned, their evidence chiefly bringing out the facts already elicited at the inquest. A great deal of interest is being taken in the case, and the court room was crowded during the trial.

THE SEIZURE AT SANDUSKY.

Americans Attribute Their Arrest to Private Spite of the Consul.

DAYTON, Ohio, May 10.—From telegrams received here by the Pelee Club, many of whose members were arrested off Sandusky by the Canadian fishery inspectors, the following is gleaned:

The Daytonians were aboard the Visitor, owned at Put-in Bay, and the Leroy Brooks, owned by Count William Rehberg, of Middle Bass Island. Besides the Daytonians on board were Jas. B. Peebles and party from Cincinnati and a party from Louisville, Decatur, New York and Chicago. The steamer Ina, with ex-Mayor Mosby and party of Cincinnati, anchored off Middle Bass.

On Monday these boats went to Pelee Island to visit the Lincoln Club. There Dr. McCormick, the Canadian Consul, had an assistant, Frank Walters, who gave permission to them to fish. The party construed it to mean for four days. The consul intended it for one day only. The consul refused to grant clearance papers to the boats, and while parleying with him the Government ram, Petrel, seized the Brooks and Visitor and their officers, dismantled the machinery and proceeded to Amherstburg, where the fleet now is. The fishing parties were released and proceeded to Sandusky. The Ina was warned by a passing boat that the Petrel was after her also, and escaped into American waters.

It is believed by the Daytonians that the secret of the whole affair lies in the fact that heretofore the greater part of the crowd there has been stopping at Dr. McCormick's hotel. This year they are with a rival house. Never before, they say, was the slightest objection to fish made by Dr. McCormick.

Negro Life in the States.

WACO, Tex., May 10.—A negro who had addressed a note to a young lady of West was placed in jail there. At night masked men broke the jail down and took the negro out. While a rope was being made ready the negro ran, but was shot and mortally wounded.

Negro Miners Compelled to Quit.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 10.—The negro miners at Milldale quit work to-day because they received three formal anonymous notices to do so. The last of these was posted at the mines last night and read: "You have been given three notices to quit work. If you do not obey them to-morrow morning you will not live to disobey long." The notice was decked with skull and bones and purported to have been signed in blood with a dagger. Deputies have gone to the scene.

Fatal Wreck on the Illinois Central.

CHICAGO, May 10.—The through northbound New Orleans express train on the Illinois Central railroad was wrecked at Buckley, the engine, mail car, baggage car and two coaches being derailed. The engine was overturned, and Engineer Samuel Edgertle was killed. The fireman was seriously injured. The wreck was caused by a switch being clogged with a break shoe that had dropped from a southbound freight train that passed over the track at midnight.

LORD ROSEBERY SPEAKS

Recognizes the Critical Position in Which the Cabinet is Placed.

GOVERNMENT WILL PERSEVERE

The Premier Makes an Appeal for the Earnest Support of His Followers—Sir William Harcourt Refers to the Recent Rumors of His Retirement.

LONDON, May 10.—The National Liberal Club gave a reception to the Ministry last evening. About every Liberal and Radical of any reputation or influence was among the 4,500 persons present. The speech of the evening was made by the Premier. The Government had but a narrow margin of supporters in the House of Commons, Lord Rosebery said, and certainly was in a critical position. It was said that a considerable section of the Irish party would vote against the Ministry. What, however, had any section of Irishmen, with the cause of home rule at heart, to gain by putting the Government in the minority. Such an ill-judged policy might arise from a fit of anger, but there was no reason for anger between the Government and the Parnellite party (hear, hear). If on the other hand the blow should be dealt in cold blood the Government was determined to fight the battle to the end. Whether the majority should be twenty or ten, or only two, the Government would persevere.

Continuing, Lord Roseberry said: "The responsibility of office is not agreeable to all of us. It is an arduous, even thankless task, but we are bound to remember not ourselves but those who placed us there; bound to remember the six years' arduous work done by the Liberals of the country, bound to remember the sacrifices they made to place us on the front bench, and we are determined to deserve the confidence that you placed in us. We may forfeit it; we may cease to possess it; but while we do possess it, as we believe we do now, we will fight the battle to the end, the combat to the conclusion."

Later, Lord Rosebery said: "We have no reason to lose faith in our cause or position. We entered office with the certain prospect of beginning to realize our cause. First, we had to face the fact of the advanced age of our great leader. His age has told. He stands aside, but the expectation of our opponents regarding that contingency was signally disappointed. They hoped that within a week after Mr. Gladstone's resignation the Government would fall to pieces, but we find no intention to fall to pieces. They also expected that a party formed of so many groups would soon become a minority. We admit the possibility, but the group now threatening to desert us will play an ill-judged and possibly disastrous part towards their cause of they take the part they indicate. That is their affair. Ours is that the Liberal Government shall not forsake the helm because the storm happens to lower."

Sir William Harcourt referred to the reports of his illness. He asked if he looked like a dying man, and added that he never consulted doctors. He was not aware that he was blind or half blind. He did not intend to desert his post.

CANADA'S SHARE IN DEFENCE.

The Subject Discussed at the Colonial Institute—The Two Projects.

LONDON, May 10.—At the regular fortnightly meeting of the Colonial Institute, the paper which Sir Charles Tupper read on Canada in relation to the unity of the Empire provoked a long and animated discussion. Sir John Colomb was present and repeated his charges to the effect that the colonies had not given aid to the defences of the Empire. He said that the Canadian people fail to realize their Imperial duties. They contribute nothing to the Imperial army and navy.

The Marquis of Lorne, who presided at the meeting, G. R. Parkin of Imperial Federation fame, Mr. Dobell of Quebec, Sir Charles Tupper and several Australian speakers among whom were Mr. James Huddart, the promoter of the fast Atlantic and Pacific steamship lines, and Mr. Giles of Victoria, stoutly defended Canada.

Sir Charles Tupper showed that Canada annually spent £3,850,000 sterling for services of vital importance to the defence and unity of the Empire.

The matter of Imperial aid to the new Pacific cable and Atlantic and Pacific steamship services, was the next subject referred to by Sir Charles Tupper. He said that the Ottawa conference, which will open on June 22, will decide the proportions which the different colonies interested will have to bear of the expenses in connection with these schemes. But seeing the paramount importance to the Empire and especially British trade, England must join hands with her colonies in aiding the projects.

The discussion on this subject brought out in the boldest relief, the generous spirit of the colonies in the Imperial cause and must certainly go a long way in stimulating the movement for Imperial aid.

One Farthing Damages.

LONDON, May 10.—The suit for slander brought by Mr. Robert Household, auditor of the Grand Trunk Railroad of Canada, against Lord Claud Hamilton, one of the directors, has been concluded. The plaintiff contended that Lord Claud Hamilton accused him of dishonorable conduct at the Grand Trunk meeting in April, 1893, when the plaintiff was a candidate for a directorship. Mr. Household admitted that he accused the directors of the Grand Trunk railroad of issuing delusive and deceptive reports. The defendant contended that his statements were made honestly, and that he believed them to be true. The verdict was one farthing (one half cent) damages for plaintiff.

Americans Want the Embargo Raised.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Representative Alexander, of North Carolina, has reported to the House from the Committee on Agriculture the joint resolution seeking to secure the abrogation or modification of the regulation by which American cattle are now slaughtered at the port of entry in Great Britain. The slaughter, the report says, causes great loss to the American raiser, and adds that a Canadian bullock will bring $15 to $25 more than the American animal in Liverpool or London. Pluro-pneumonia, the report concludes, has been stamped out from the United States.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT

Bill to Disfranchise Those Voters Who Have Taken Bribes.

GOSSIP AT THE CAPITAL

Mr. Sutherland to Give a Little Dinner to the Press Gallery—The Relations of the American Vessels—Two Divorces Granted in the Senate.

OTTAWA, May 10.—Dr. Weldon's bill to disfranchise voters taking bribes was discussed in the House in committee yesterday, taking up the greater part of the sitting.

Mr. Jeannotte, in French, opposed the bill. He said it was not practical, and in the event of anyone being tried and proven innocent, it would entail on an innocent man an expense hardly justifiable.

Mr. Dupont, speaking in French, and in opposition to the bill, said the result would be that the judges would be discredited by being drawn into political controversy.

Dr. Weldon, in defence of his bill, said that judges would not be discredited, since both parties would be glad to stamp out bribery and place on the black list all persons who would take the bribe. It was well known that in the past, though members had done all they could to prevent bribery, yet it would go on on both sides. He thought that public opinion would support the bill.

Mr. Davin supported the bill and thought that the measure might be given a trial. If the people did not want it, it would simply prove a dead letter, whereas if they availed themselves of its provisions great good would result.

Col. Amyot asked who was going to pay the expenses in cases where voters were brought before the courts and proved themselves innocent, after having expended perhaps $3,000 or $4,000.

Mr. Jeannotte moved an amendment to the second section, providing that in all cases particulars should be given.

Mr. Jeannotte spoke for some time in French in favor of his amendment.

Dr. Sproule opposed the bill.

Mr. Belley followed in French in favor of Mr. Jeannotte's amendment.

The amendment was lost.

Mr. Belley proposed an amendment giving power to judges to examine the petitioners. This was lost.

Mr. Aymot proposed an amendment, adding the words "provided that the court be satisfied by the affidavits produced that such extensive bribery has been practiced."

The amendment carried.

Dr. Bergeron moved an amendment which was ruled out of order.

[illegible] Capital Gossip.

Mr. James Sutherland, the genial Liberal whip, has invited the members of the Press Gallery to a smoking concert this evening at the Reform Club, Elgin street.

An Act respecting the Guelph Junction railway, providing for the extension of the time for commencing the work for three years and the completion for five years, has been reported in the Railway Committee.

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper was asked if he had received any official report regarding the seizure of two American boats near Pelee Island, Lake Erie, for illegal fishing, by the Dominion revenue cutter Petrel. The Minister of Marine and Fisheries said that he was now waiting the official report, and until such time as it was to hand he would not say anything regarding it. From reports of the seizure received by telegraph there are some doubts in the minds of some of the officers of the Department as to the legality of the seizure. However, that cannot be determined until full particulars and the official report are received at the Department. A Washington despatch says that the news of the seizure created no surprise in official circles, as the vessels were clearly in the wrong.

At a meeting of the Divorce Committee of the Senate the application of William Samuel Piper, of Port Arthur, and of Joseph Thompson, of Belleville, came up for consideration. Both cases were conclusively proven. The result was that the committee decided to report in favor of granting both parties divorces.

CANADA'S TRADE WITH BRITAIN.

Enormous Increase in Exports to the Mother Country.

LONDON, May 10.—The Canadian Gazette this week shows the continued enormous expansion of trade between Great Britain and Canada. The imports for the month of April increased 32 per cent., and the increase for the four months of 1894 is 26 per cent. Fish increased in the four months £170,000; wood, £1,600; cheese, £28,000; hams and bacon, £10,000; wheat, £23,000. The exports to Canada have declined, however. For April the figures show a decrease of 19 per cent., and for the four months 21 per cent. The chief decline is in railroad iron, steel, cotton and woollen goods.

The Board of Trade returns show that emigration to Canada declined from 8,557 in April, 1893, to 3,524 in April, 1894. For the first four months of 1894 emigration to Canada declined to 6,923 from 18,259, the figures of 1893. Emigration to the United States decreased one half, but to Australia it increased slightly. The total emigration is decreased by one half.

Drowned in Lake Muskoka.

PARRY SOUND, May 10.—Last Saturday evening Thomas Rowe and a man named Pooler, of Point Kae, Muskoka, left Port Carling to return home. Their boat has been found upturned on Lake Muskoka. They were undoubtedly drowned. Their oars and a bag of flour they were taking home, and Pooler's hat were found on the beach opposite Butler's bay. On account of the stormy weather it has been impossible to search for the bodies.

AN IMPUDENT ATTEMPT.

The Mail is attempting to import into the present provincial election contest the bitterness of sectarian issues, and more than that, it is unfairly trying to force the responsibility for the existence of such an undesirable element upon a member of the Mowat Government, Hon. J. M. Gibson, a candidate for representative of West Hamilton. The Mail says that "Mr. Gibson, in accepting the nomination for West Hamilton, intimated that the provincial fight is to be waged on religious or, to speak more correctly, on sectarian lines. This information, coming from a Minister of the Crown, is highly suggestive. It indicates that the concordat is to be revived, etc." Hon. Mr. Gibson intimated nothing that would lead anybody to infer that the government was inaugurating a campaign on sectarian lines. Mr. Gibson in his nomination address, after referring to the issues that should form legitimate subjects of discussion, such as the finacial record of the government, its administration, its management of educational institutions, its educational policy, etc., said that he "feared" that instead of these the campaign (in Hamilton) would be on the religious question. Mr. Gibson, be it remarked, did not desire nor "intimate," but "feared" that the issue, born of sectarian bigotry, would be introduced into the contest in Hamilton. The assurance, not to say impudence, of the Mail in seeking to make the Cabinet responsible for a condition of things, which a member of the Cabinet, with reference to a purely local contest, "feared" might be inaugurated by his opponents, is only equalled by the following remark, which the uncharitable, remembering the Mail's attitude and course for years past, might describe as superlatively hypocritical. The Mail says in reference to what it falsely imputes to Mr. Gibson:—

No good citizen can view otherwise than with regret the direction which events are taking, for we ought to be able to conduct our political contests without once raising the question of religious belief. Why is it that this sectarian issue is always forced into the political arena?

The answer to the question answers the whole quotation—because the Mail and the provincial party with which it is allied, has done the "forcing." Who but Mr. Meredith introduced into as many provincial election campaigns the sectarian issues of the "Ross Bible," crusade, the "Marmion" controversy, the "common enemy" crusade of last election (varied on one occasion by facts for Irish electors) and the present attempt to force the ballot upon Separate School electors? What but the Mail has aided and abetted Mr. Meredith in his attempts to introduce disturbing and disentegrating elements into the common citizenship of the province? Mr. Meredith and his helpers among the Opposition have never dared to conduct an election on a square issue—never dared to attack the Mowat Government squarely on its administrative record but have always for the past dozen years endeavored to obscure the real issues under windy clouds of irrelevant issues, tending to arouse sectarian prejudices and to inflame sectarian passions. The Mail's impudent attempt to fasten on a cabinet minister and the cabinet the responsibility for the sectarian element that threatens to enter the present contest is of a piece with the real culprit raising the cry of "stop thief" to divert attention for his own guilt.

WHEN the Hamilton Spectator can't find an excuse and defence for the wrongdoing of the Dominion Government the case must be a very black one. The Montreal bridges scandal is a speck more than the "Spec" can swallow. It says:—"The report of the commission appointed to inquire respecting the construction of the bridges over the Lachine Canal at Montreal, leaves a very painful impression upon the mind of the impartial reader. It discloses neglect of duty on the part of officials, tolerance of irregular methods and peculation of others which absolutely shock the reader by their shamelessness and astound him by their magnitude. One who firmly holds to Conservative principles, and who has faith in the honesty and ability of Dominion Ministers, must lay down the document with a feeling almost of despair." Then follows a review of the evidence, and the Conservative journal concludes thus:—"These are but a few of the facts related in the report. The whole document is a frightful record of extravagance, and of something so much worse than extravagance that we hesitate to call it by its proper name."

AN exchange that has been watching the progress of the campaign in Toronto and the vicinity has been taking a census of the Methodist nominees. It says: "Dr. Gilmour and J. W. St. John, the rival candidates for the Legislature in West York, are Methodists; E. B. Ryckman and Reeve Richardson, who are stripped for the race in East York, are Methodists; E. H. Davis, who has the field to himself in North York, is a Methodist; G. F. Marter and Joseph Tait, the old party nominees in North Toronto, are Methodists; Ald. Crawford, the only candidate yet in the field in West Toronto, is a Methodist; Dr. Ogden, the probable Liberal standard-bearer in the South, is a Methodist; and Dr. Ryerson, who is still waiting for a rival in the East, comes of distinguished Methodist stock. Not to be a Methodist means not to count down Toronto way."

"IT is quite possible," says the Huron Signal, "that a 'capable insider' may be found in London to wipe the political arena of that town with the remains of a 'capable outsider,' yclept William Ralph Meredith." Being an "outsider" should not disqualify Mr. Meredith. Sir Oliver Mowat, an "ousider," is a fairly good representative and he has sat for South Oxford since 1872. But doubtless Mr. Meredith's desire to be consistent influenced his removal from London—he has been an "outsider"—outside the treasury benches—so long that he felt it becoming that he should become an outsider as a representative.

Attempt to Wreck a Train.

WINDSOR, May 10.—A dastardly attempt was made to wreck a Michigan Central train near Pelton. A tie was placed across the tracks and was tied down in such a manner that had the engine struck the obstruction while going at a high rate of speed it would surely have left the rails. The train was slowed up in time to strike the obstruction so lightly that the shock merely knocked the tie from the rails. Detectives are investigating the matter and it is believed that the miscreants will be discovered among the residents in the neighborhood.

ITALIAN MURDERER HANGED.

Antonio Luciano Suffers the Penalty for Killing a Compatriot.

GRENFELL, Man., May 10.—Antonio Luciano, one of the Italians sentenced to death for the murder of the Italian scissors-grinder, was hanged this morning.

Luciano and Antonia Degidio were both sentenced to death for the crime, the evidence against them being purely circumstantial. Subsequently, Luciano confessed to killing his compatriot, but claimed it was due to an accident. The Italian Government intervened on behalf of the condemned men. The Governor-General yesterday signed an order-in-council commuting the sentence of Degidio to imprisonment for life, but allowed the law to take its course with respect to Luciano.

The condemned man was completely broken up, and went to his death with trembling knees and a face worked into horrible contortions by the intense mental agony he has undergone ever since the trial. Radcliffe, the hangman, performed the execution.

Two American Steamers Fined.

PORT COLBORNE, May 10.—The American steamer Caldwell was detained here yesterday and fined $400, which the captain paid under protest. The fine was imposed for infringement of the custom laws in taking his barge through part of the Welland canal. The barge towed up from Port Dalhousie to the head lock at Thorold with teams and the Caldwell considered she had a right to tow her from there to Port Colborne, but this was a violation of law. After the Caldwell had let go the line from the barge at Port Dalhousie her right to tow ceased until the boats were outside the harbor here. The Caldwell was also fined $14 for damage to a lock gate. The American steamer Hopkins was also detained and fined $11 for damage to a lock in the canal, which the captain had to pay. Owing to the prevalence of smallpox at Chicago and communication with vessels passing to and from that port to the canal, as the United States health authorities in Buffalo are taking steps to have vessels inspected coming from Chicago. It is said the Canadian authorities should move to have vessels arriving here from Chicago inspected before they are permitted to enter the canal.

The Campbell Heresy Case.

CARLETON PLACE, Ont., May 10.—A meeting of the Synod was held yesterday, the moderator being Rev. J. R. McLeod, of Three Rivers, Que. Prof. Campbell's appeal was taken up. The lecture, as delivered before the students of Queen's University, Kingston, is said to contain an exposal of the professor to the grave charges contained in the libel to which he gives a general denial. Next in order came the reading of the libel, both in its perfected and incipient stage. This occupied much time, and deeply interested the audience. Prof. Campbell protested for reason "the presbytery failed to weigh the scriptural arguments presented for the defence." His protest and appeal were received by the Synod when D. McLennan, Q.C., Cornwall, moved, and Rev. Mr. Calder, Lancaster, seconded, that the case be remitted to the presbytery of Montreal, a new reason being the book of forms was not followed with sufficient minuteness. The case will be continued to-day.

Canadian Cattle Question.

LONDON, May 10.—In connection with the slaughter of cattle imported from Canada at the port of debarkation and the authorized examination by veterinary experts of the lungs of the slain animals, to determine whether they are free from tuberculosis, it has been ordered that all cattle before their removal from the byres where they are received shall be marked and until slaughtered kept apart from all other than Canadian cattle. Special slaughter houses are to be provided, and the slaughter shall continue during such time as the Board of Agriculture shall direct, and in no case the lungs to be removed from the slaughter house until examined by the inspector. The order provides that every precaution shall be exercised and the most ample opportunity given to test this most important question.

The St. Anne de la Parade Disaster.

QUEBEC, May 10.—A report received from St. Anne de la Parade states that two more houses were swept away during the night. The total damages from the disaster will amount to about $100,000, as most of the victims lost all their properties. Rev. Mr. Boehet, cure of the parish, and his vicar, were early on the scene yesterday morning and did all they could to help their parishioners to save their effects. The inhabitants of the parish expect that any moment the Canadian Pacific railway bridge, which is one of the finest on the eastern division, will be carried away, but the railway officials think otherwise.

Salmon Canning in British Columbia.

VICTORIA, B.C., May 10.—The salmon canners of British Columbia have held a conference here and have devised a scheme whereby the salmon packs this year will be limited to a certain quantity from each cannery. A fixed price at which sales will be made was also determined on lines similar to those upon which San Francisco canners work, or the rates in Eastern Canada on canned fruits and vegetables. It is expected that the canners' action will prevent the disposal of salmon at such ruinously low prices as those current at present.

THE RULING MARKETS.

TORONTO, May 10, 1894.

The earnings of the Grand Trunk Railway for the week ended May 5 were $330,110, a decrease of $17,939 as compared with the same week of last year.

THE FARMERS' MARKET.—Receipts of grain were moderate. One load of white wheat sold at 62c, red is quoted at 61c, and goose at 58c. Oats steady, 500 bushels selling at 39c to 40c. One load of peas sold at 66c, and barley nominal at 42c.

Chicago wheat market was strong on light receipts and heavy local buying; at the close July showed a net gain of ½c for the day. Corn also showed strength and closed ½ to ½c higher. Oats were firm and in ½ to ¼c higher.

At the London (Eng.) wool sales 6,500 bales were offered. The bidding was animated. Merinos and cross breds sold freely. New South Wales wools were favored by continental operators.

Private cable advices quote the London beef market slow at 7½c per pound for refrigerated beef, and American live cattle hard to sell at 9 to 10c estimated dressed weight; the top price at Liverpool was 8½c for refrigerated beef and best American steers made 10c. Shipments, 700 cattle and 5,400 quarters of beef.

The cattle export trade, according to advices received by cattlemen here, is in a very bad way. A message received by a prominent cattleman here from the other side says, advise great caution for next few weeks, owing to heavy supplies of States cattle, unsafe to figure over 5d to 5½d per pound for May cattle. The large shipments from American ports are seriously affecting the Canadian trade.

In New York there were further indications of liquidations in the industrials at the start, American sugar being particularly weak, the stock in the first transactions falling off about a point. In the last hour of business the grangers and other railway stocks developed weakness on reports of severe rate-cutting at the west and fears of further large gold exports late in the week. At the close the market was rather weak.

"Waiter! Beefsteak, Ham and Eggs, for One.

"God gave us meat, but the devil sent us cooks," is a trite saying. From bad cooking, fast eating and overeating, comes a whole train of diseases—indigestion, dyspepsia, biliousness, catarrh of the stomach, headache, dizziness, and the like. God also gave us a brainy man, who compounded the "Golden Medical Discovery," a corrective of all the ills resulting from overeating and bad blood. Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, has furnished in the "Discovery," a great desideratum in America, where everybody are in such a hurry to make money, they have no time to eat, and scarcely any time to live. It invigorates the liver, cleanses the blood and tones up the system.

AN OLD CUSTOMER'S THANKS
—TO—
H. LEBRUN & CO.

Upon receiving one of their nice Memorandum Books.

I on the market square did walk
To see the sights and hear the talk,
A young man tapped me on the back
Saying this will suit you, Sir.

The free gift from his hand I took
Within it I did carefully look,
A pretty Memorandum Book
From H. LeBrun & Co., Sir.

The present I did not refuse
It's pages I will often use,
When I find topics for the muse
LeBrun's book will contain them.

Its cover red conspicious shows
Where we can purchase good cheap clothes,
In every house where that book goes
Is full of praise and wonder.

The back; a nice time table bore
Months, weeks and days for ninety-four,
The street and number of the store
By honest, stylish clothiers.

Its leaves are ruled two ways in blue
To mark each day's transactions true,
And keep our memories fresh for two
Cheap and reliable clothiers.

'Tis prized by farmer's wives like gold
She marks her eggs and butter sold,
By her the husband plain is told
From you to buy his clothing.

It sets the young boys on tip toe
They dream about LeBrun & Co.,
And cry with their papa to go
For cheap suits you are offering.

It suits the times, it takes the eye
On prices marked we may rely,
Points to the place where all can buy
Cheap suits—or made to order.

It is near twenty years and two
Since I bought the first suit from you,
Through all those years I found you true
In word, in deed and clothing.

Your goods, your name stand high to-day
No empty puff nor false display,
Your customers trust what you do say
When buying from you their clothing.

Though small in size its power is great
Low prices strong desires create,
Each seems afraid of being too late
For cheap suits you were offering.

I hope its fruits you will behold
Increasing sales one hundred fold
Till not one suit remains unsold
Of your large stock of clothing.

Fashions for Men.

IN COATS.

There is more length to the new Coats for 1894 than has been used in Men's Dress since the 60's.

THE DOUBLE BREASTED FROCK is the most fastidious garment man has put on in a generation. It adds to the stature of the man and conceals defects of figure. It is short waisted, snug fitting, long tailed and beautifully moulded to the figure. The Skirts are hollow at the top and form a beautiful curve, which is the most distinctive thing about the new styles.

Then there is the THREE BUTTON CUTAWAY Coat which is a high favourite. It is popularly described as the "Pigeon Wing" on account of its sloping tails. The sleeves are of moderate size and are closed with a vent for three buttons. If properly made it will cling rather closely to the hips.

The new CUTAWAY SACK COAT for business wear is one of the most popular of the season. It has caught the fancy of the young men. All the pockets should have flaps. The collar rolls low and is not faced with Silk.

Any of these garments made up to order to please the most fastidious dresser and with faultless devotion to the fashion plates

A Government BOMBSHELL
THROWN INTO THE
LIFE INSURANCE CAMP!

The following statement comes from the government Blue Book. It covers a period of sixteen years, and is sworn to as correct by representatives of each Company:

Statement of Premiums received and Cash Profits paid back to Policy Holders from 1877 to 1892, both years inclusive:—

COMPANY.	Premiums Received.	Dividends Paid to Policy Holders.	Ratio of Dividends to Premiums, %
CANADA LIFE	$18,366,207	$2,946,433	16.16
Confederation Life	6,165,433	637,025	10 35
North American	2,327,062	32,957	1.41
Ontario Mutual	3,878,086	433,294	11.17
Sun Life	5,527,720	355,290	6.43

Never in the history of Life Insurance has the struggle for business been keener. Never has the conflict been hotter. Never have the Companies felt as they feel now, the necessity for throwing all the energy at their command into the field. The most intelligent and best men have to be employed. All kinds of plans of insurance are submitted. Each Company determined in securing the supremacy in the good will of the public, in establishing their name, the utterance of which, shall convey to the minds of the people the essential characteristics of

UNDOUBTED SECURITY,
RIGID ECONOMY,
GOOD INVESTMENTS,
LARGEST PROFITS

WHY?

Because millons of dollars are being paid annually for Life Insurance, and the Companies that can show these features have attained a position which will guarantee their future success, for money will flow freely into the best investments.

The Canada Life Policy Holders can look at the above statement with a smile of satisfaction, yet sympathize with their friends who are not so favourably situated.

They can throw their Life Policies down in the face of opponents and successfully challenge the production of more profitable policies, they can stand the onslaught of Agents who will almost cover them with literature and estimates of Tontine, Semi-Tontine, Return Premiums, Reserved Dividends, Annuity and Endownment plans of insurance, and with a quiet assurance feel that

As The Canada Life is Making the Most Profits, She Can Pay the Largest Profits.

READER. If you want Life Insurance choose the Canada Life and join the throng of contented policy holders who are insured with the Company carrying about 45 per cent. of the total insurance in force of the above named Companies

Our successful tea trade we attribute to the high grade of goods we handle and we never expect to gain a reputation by selling inferior teas, simply because they are cheap. We have one of the largest stocks of tea to choose from, at prices varying from 25c. to $1.00 per pound, and all really fine teas with rich invigorating cup qualities.

Dominion Day Celebration.

Although the Battalion has decided to leave town on the First of July the firemen do not intend to let their demonstration fall through on that account, but intend to push the scheme for all it is worth. A meeting therefore is called for Friday evening in the Council Chamber, when it is hoped that all those interested will attend and give the benefit of their advice and assistance in making the demonstration a success.

More Speckled Beauties.

Mr. Edge. Hartley returned this afternoon from another trout fishing expedition. He had good luck, landing 44 beautiful specimens. The smallest was not less than six sinches in length, while some of the larger ones averaged over a foot. This is the finest catch of the year, and to see them all laid out on a board in Alex. Elliott's back shop was enough to make the mouth of an epicure water. "Edg." carries off the palm for bringing in heavy creels of brook trout.

A Cheese Arbitrator Appointed.

It will be interesting to the cheese makers, farmers and dairymen of the country to know that the Government intends to appoint the inspector of weights and measures at Montreal to act as referee in case of dispute arising between buyers and sellers, as to the weight of cheese, having been sold either at the factory or elsewhere, subject to weight at Montreal. This announcemrnt was made by Mr. Daly in response to a question addressed to him by Mr. Taylor, the government whip.

A Young Peterborough Athlete.

"On Monday last," says the Catholic Register, "the annual field sports of St. Michael's College, Toronto, were held on the college campus. The most interesting events were the 100 yards dash, 440 yards race, the sack race and the hop, step and jump. The honours of the day were carried off by Mr. George Reilley, who having won the highest number of points, 30, was declared the champion athlete and cup winner of the college." Master George is the son of Mr. Wm. Reilley, of the Lock Works, and won no less than five out of a list of eleven events.

Remember! Remember!

The Eden-Fontana entertainment in the opera house under the auspices of the Fire Brigade Band on Friday night—in the opera house, a night of mirth, music, mystery and song. Go and hear Charles Kelly, Canada's greatest basso, in songs and guitar and mandolin solos. The press says of Kelly: "Mr. Kelly, the favourite Canadian basso and guitarist, fairly brought down the house on every occasion he appeared—his "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep," being rendered in a masterly manner. Wednesday night's performance was attended by the largest number of people ever brought together by any performance in Dufferin Hall, and at least one hundred was turned away from the doors." Opera House Friday night.

—The horse and dog show at Bradburn's Opera House was fairly well patronized last night and was a great success. The ponies and dogs certainly do a number of clever tricks and do them well too. Those of them who were present, last evening, could hardly contain themselves when any particularly clever trick was accomplished and their little screams of delight were amusing indeed to hear.

THE BUCHANAN CASE.

Equal to a Resurrection—Almost Helpless from Kidney Disease—A Burden to Himself and His Friends—Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Him.

Chatham, April 30.—The story of Sherman Buchanan, living near Leamington, is worthy of notice. He says he was almost helpless, bloated and a wreck with kidney disease. His digestive organs were powerless and he was rapidly becoming a burden to himself and his friends. Naturally he lost all hopes of recovery, but a happy thought suggested Dodd's Kidney Pills, and these cured him. Dodd's was the first Kidney remedy in pill form ever offered the public. Its wonderful success in curing all forms of kidney disease has led to the introduction of numerous cheap and worthless imitations. Purchasers, for their own safety, should insist on getting Dodd's Kidney Pills. Sold in large boxes; price, fifty cents, or six boxes for $2.50. To be had of all dealers.

BASEBALL.

The first baseball match of the season took place on the Riverside Park yesterday afternoon between the wine clerks and printers. The game was a very exciting one, and was watched with keen interest by a large number of spectators. Some very fine playing was exhibited on both sides. For the wine clerks Graham, Patterson and Connors did good work, while the manœuvres of Simons and Doris caused much amusement. Blaine was always sure to hit, but his running has caused many of his backers to be laid up with chilblaines. The honour of the printers was upheld by Paxman, McCabe, Dolan and White. The wine clerks scored the first two runs, but after that they seemed to get rattled, for they only scored one more run during the rest of the game, while the printers were victors with a score of 14 to their credit. The following are the teams, with the score :—

TIPS AND FOULS.

The wine clerks state that those on the printers' side, though it was a composite nine, were not all "comps."

The teams are thankful to Mr. Alex. Elliott for appreciated favours.

The barbers have challenged the printers to a game, and hope to make it a close "shave."

Tenders are called for filling in the hole a prominent member of the wine clerks party made when he fell at first yesterday.

The referee was very attentive watching the game.

Another match is looked for in the near future.

The wine clerks are rather indignant over the imposition which they declare was foisted upon them in the shape of a printers' nine at the baseball game yesterday. There were, they claim, only four regular printers on the team, the nine being composed as follows: Paxman, printer; Varnes, of the Edison Works; Green, of Fairweather's; B. Dolan, of T. Dolan & Co.; S. White, of the Edison Works; E. McCabe, printer; Duncan, printer: Cochrane, printer; D. McCabe, sporting reporter. The wine clerks still hold that they can defeat any regular printer's nine.

CRICKET.

A splendid practice was indulged in on the crease yesterday, the nets being erected and the wickets pitched. Quite a few players turned out and doubtless hereafter no trouble will be experienced in drumming out the members, as once the start is made there is always sure to be enough players on the ground to keep the ball rolling from four to six o'clock anyway.

To-morrow afternoon a big effort will be made to rake up enough men to hold a scratch match in order to have a general practice and at the same time to talk over the scheme of taking a team to the Capital with the Trent Valley Canal delegates on the 16th and playing a match with the Ottawas while the deputation is waiting on the Government. The fare has been reduced to $2.80 for the occasion and a number of the cricketers are anxious to take advantage of the reduction and give Ottawa a match. In case the scheme falls through however Ottawa can probably have a game with the local cricketers about the first of July as the idea has been broached that as a cheap rate to Montreal of $5 will be in force on Dominion Day that both Montreal and Ottawa might be given matches—the former on Saturday and the latter on Monday. This, however, will be decided later on.

Although Rosedale would like to come to Peterborough on the 24th, it is hardly likely that the visitors could be given a match, as a good many of the local team will be out of town on that day.

Mr. Goldsmith has taken the guarantee list in hand and proposes to hustle with his characteristic zeal and endeavour to have it represent seventy-five or one hundred dollars by the end of the week. Success will doubtless attend his efforts, as Peterborough citizens still have enough English blood in their veins to wish to see the good old game continue to flourish in the town. It is absolutely necessary that a sufficient guarantee be raised to secure the services of a "professional" before the engagement with him is made.

THE WHEEL.

Members of the Bicycle Club expect to have another pleasant run out to Lakefield to-night, starting from the Court House Park at 7 o'clock sharp.

"What are you looking so glum about?" asked the monkey.

"That fool trainer I've got says he is going to teach me to ride a bicycle," answered the elephant, "I don't see why he shouldn't have given the job to the camel. That brute is naturally built for that sort of thing."

Captain George J. Horkins, of the Peterborough Bicycle club will wheel over the relay route from Grafton to Colborne some afternoon this week in order to ascertain just what kind of a road runs between the two towns.

Mr. Orville Shortly has been appointed agent for this district for the "Cycler's Road Guide," a neat little book which should be in every wheelsman's possession. It gives the distances between the various towns in Canada, the best route to take in a trip to a given point and the best hotels at which to put up on the way.

The Racing Board of the Canadian Wheelsmen's Association yesterday sanctioned the holding of three bicycle races in Campbellford on the 24th.

A manager of one of the eastern divisions of the relay ride writes as follows:—"Would it not be a good idea to put up notices along the route, asking parties living there to close their dogs up on the day the riders would pass, and also if they would kindly turn out and give riders the full road. I will willingly post up such notices, say, one week before the race, and I have no doubt others in charge of districts would have it done. It would be very annoying to have a dog at each farmhouse canter out and chase you probably a mile, and to meet a team or buggy and have some old fossil farmer sit in his buggy square in the road and make you get off your wheel and walk round him just about the time you don't want to stop and argue the point."

MISCELLANEOUS.

The handsome gold and silver medals which have been on exhibition in Mr. Sam Ray's cigar store for the last few days and which are to be awarded to the successful contestants in the Campbellford sports on the 24th, were sent to Port Hope to-day to be placed on exhibition.

The members of the Gun club will turn out for a practice shoot at Riverside Park this afternoon at 4.30 o'clock.

Lord Roseberry's Ladas won the Two Thousand Guineas Stakes at Newmarket yesterday.

The Collegiate Institute Football club is getting in some good practices.

RIVER AND LAKE RIPLETS.

(From a Correspondent.)

The annual picnic under the auspices of the Peterborough and Northumberland county, Farmers Institute will be held at Jubilee Point, Rice Lake, per steamer's City of Peterborough and Daisy. The members have arranged a fine programme of sports. Valuable prizes are to be competed for in the line of silver cups, badges, medals, etc. This picnic is an annual one and the Peterborough and Northumberland brethren invite their sister associations and farmers generally to participate in a pleasant sail down the picturesque Otonabee to spend a good time in general.

The new American steamer "Outlet Queen" arrived here the other morning, being her first trip up the Otonabee. She is a trifle longer than the Daisy and is handsomely gotten up, and rides the water like a duck. She is owned by the American syndicate which operates Idyl Wild, comprised of Messrs. Upton, Lanigan and Vouchsel, of Rochester, N.Y. She will comfortably seat 75 passengers.

The Canadian Canoe Company shipped yesterday two crates of their racing canoes (ten in all) to British Columbia.

Mr. E. J. Hartley is off on a trout fishing expedition to-day. Edj. knows the resort of the finny beauties of this sort, and generally makes a good catch. He is considered an expert angler and at the same time a dead game sport.

Capt. Chas Calcutt, first mate Tobin, of the steamer Daisy, accompanied by Capt. Clair Calcutt and Mr. Dick Lund, of the steamer City of Peterborough, spent Sunday in Lakefield renewing old acquaintances in general, returning home in the evening. They report having enjoyed themselves immensely. Kitty says shiners are caught in abundance. Short-stop says they did not stop long enough or they might have made a better catch.

—Bills are out and being posted for the grand celebration at Jubilee Point Summer Resort Hotel, Rice Lake, May 24th. Prizes will be given for boat races and other athletic sports. The Steamer Daisy will run from Keene and points along the line connecting with the city of Peterborough.

—Commodore Calcutt, president of the P. S. & N. Coy., was in Cobourg on official business Tuesday.

The Canadian Canoe Coy. are at present employing 20 hands, night and day, and are doing their uttermost to fill incoming orders. They say that this season caps the climax being an exceptionally busy one, particularly in the way of orders for racing canoes. At present they are constructing racers, varying from twenty to forty feet in length, which will be shipped to different parts of Ontario, Quebec, and the N. W. Territory.

EIGHT OR TEN

—The C. C. Coy. shipped yesterday fourteen canoes to British Columbia, three to Ottawa, one to Hamilton and one to Stratford.

It is expected that in order to settle the dispute between the fast steam launches in and about the Otonabee, a challenge race will take place over a course 3 miles with turn, six miles in all, which will be laid out on Rice Lake on the 24th May for a silver cup presented by Commodore Calcutt. Mr. Calcutt is an enthusiast in this line and is always ready to do anything to advance the interest of sport of this sort. The race will be something unique and will create a deal of amusement.

W. P. A. S. DIRECTORS MEET.

The Board of Directors of the West Peterborough Agricultural Society met yesterday in the Morgan House with Mr. George E. Elliott, of Smith, president, in the chair. Messrs. R. Vance, Wm. Rutherford, Thos. Hall, Jas. Davidson, Thos. M. Hunter, A. P. Morgan, and Dawson Kennedy were also present.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

The prize list was again gone through and it was thought best to leave out "Suffolk Swine" also to change the prizes in poultry, viz. 1st prize, $1.00; 2nd prize, 50 cents, instead of 1st prize 75 cents and 2nd 50 cents. Best collection of fowls, consisting of one male and five females to be awarded the prize of $2.00 for 1st and $1.00 for second.

Moved by Mr. Vance and seconded by Mr. Rutherford, that the President and Messrs. Davidson, Hall, Kennedy, Hunter, Morgan, Stratton and Winch be the Executive Committee, and also be a committee to wait on the county council on the first Wednesday of their session for the purpose of securing a grant. The secretary meanwhile to write the secretary of the East Riding to appoint a deputation to wait on the council at the same time.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Hall and seconded by Mr. Rutherford, that the president and Messrs. Winch, Stratton, Davidson, Hunter and Secretary Green be a committee to wait on the hotel-keepers for the purpose of procuring subscriptions, etc., to the prize fund.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Morgan and seconded by Mr. Davidson, that Messrs. Hall and Kennedy be a committee to secure advertisements, etc., for the prize list.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Rutherford, seconded by Mr. Vance, that the president and Messrs. Davidson, Hunter, Hall, Kennedy and Morgan be a committee to consider the advisability of laying out a new track and moving the buildings on the ground.—Carried.

It is contemplated that this work will be undertaken at once, in order that the buildings may be set to one side and a first-class baseball diamond and lacrosse and football ground laid out in front of a fine new grand stand.

We carry a big load of Fashionable Hats in all the correct styles of English and American SILK, STIFF and SOFT HATS, to satisfy all tastes.

JUST RECEIVED.—A big raft of American Novelties in smart and popular selling styles of STRAW HATS for Men, Youth's, Boys and Children.

DON'T SAVE THE DIME AND THROW AWAY THE DOLLAR. We are below all others in the prices of Hats and we are anxious you should know it. We don't try to make much money in Hats, but we lead in this line, all the same, as a matter of course—just as a horse comes before a cart.

IN CHILDREN'S HATS we offer a great choice in many shapely novelties, starting as low as 10c. and ending at 75c. We're doing the work we like best of all—saving you money.

Sock It To 'em.

Clean, neat Socks look well under a new Hat. We have a big choice for you at our Hosiery counter, and can sell you full fashioned CASHMERE HOSE 5 pairs for a dollar—famous socks. These goods are our own direct importations, or we never could sell them at this figure. They are double heeled and toed, and will fit any man faultlessly who happens to be well "heeled" enough to have a twenty-cent piece in his trouserloons pockets. Only five pairs at a time to a customer, and no repeaters (unless Jimmy Tully happens to be round.)

In our famous Furnishings Department, of course we know you will appreciate our nobby Neckwear, Shirts and Underwear. We're disposed to feel half ashamed of the prices, but you'll be proud of the garments.

A Young Men's Saturday.

ALL DAY SATURDAY and SATURDAY NIGHT up to 11 o'clock, we will give young men a TWENTY PER CENT. REDUCTION off all our $5, $6, $7, $8, $9, and $10 Suits. The reason we can make this offer is that the depression in the money market has tied up several manufacturers of Clothing, and we could not help taking advantage of acceptionally low offers for YOUNG MEN'S SUITS. Gentlemen, this is your chance. It will pay you to pick your own pocket to get your pick of these Suits.

WAIT.

I stand before a gate;
The Guide I trusted long has led me here,
Though now I see him not, I have no fear,
I stand and wait.

The gate is barred and strong;
Some other way my feet might find to go:
My Guide makes no mistake, and so I know
That would be wrong.

Not soon, nor late,
But when the Master's work is done in me,
And patience well hath wrought, then shall I see
The open gate.

MARIA UPHAM DRAKE.

THE TRAVELER'S WIFE.

They were all commercial travelers, enjoying their cigars on the veranda of a Kansas hotel, shrewd, intelligent knights of the grip and sample case, fragments of that vast army of untiring business heralds, whose ceaseless labors keep the healthy blood forever coursing through the great arteries of trade. It was Sunday, and the genial travelers were whiling away the hours in that favorite diversion of the drummer—story telling.

"Yes, I got my wife in this State," said Frank Carpenter, a valued representative of a great jewelry house in America's greatest metropolis. "It was out in the western portion of the State where the larger cattle ranches are situated, that I first met the little woman who now honors me by bearing my name, and if you care to hear a bit of romance I'll tell you how it all came about.

"Business called me to a bustling town on the Union Pacific road at a time when the county fair was in progress there. These cattle range fairs draw great crowds, you know, for the leading attractions are arenic contests of the most exciting and dangerous character, such as riding wild broncbos, roping wild steers, etc. On this occasion, however, public opinon seemed to be centred on a bicycle race in which a burly cowboy and a wealthy cattle owner's 18-year-old daughter were the contestants. A handsome prize was offered by the managers of the fair, but it sunk almost out of sight when compared to the large sums of money staked upon the race by outside parties.

"During the forenoon the cowboy was pointed out to me on the street—a great, swaggering fellow, wearing the inevitable white sombrero and displaying a huge pistol in a belt strapped about his waist. He was talking of the race to a group of his rough companions on the sidewalk in front of the hotel, and before I heard him utter a dozen words I had sized him up as a bully and a braggart, and cherished a hope that the girl, rough though she might prove to be, would do him up in the coming contest.

"The grand stand was literally packed with excited humanity and the ground around the half-mile circular track was crowded to witness the afternoon sports. I was unable to secure a seat in the grand stand, and, after much pushing and squeezing, succeeded in gaining a position against the railing which inclosed the track, but a few yards from the judges' stand. I felt considerably nettled, I don't know why, when I discovered from the conversation of those about me that the cowboy was the favorite in betting circles.

"The gong sounded, and the contestants came upon the track. I tell you, fellows, I experienced a delightful surprise when, instead of the coarse, sun-burned girl whom my fancy had pictured, I beheld the prettiest little Western flower my eyes had ever rested upon. Her face was of a gentle, half-timid cast; her eyes a glorious, lustrous brown, and the luxurious growth of almost golden hair, which fell in loose waves over her shoulders, was a fitting crown for such a lovely little prairie queen. As she rode her glittering, nickeled wheel slowly about during the arrangement of the preliminaries to the race I thought I had never seen a young woman whose every movement was nearer the very essence of the poetry of motion and peerless grace. I noticed that she seemed nervous, somewhat rattled, you know, and as she rode slowly by the spot where I stood I could not suppress the words of encouragement that sprung to my lips:

"'Do not be frightened,' I said. 'You will defeat him—I know you will.'

"'Thank you,' she replied, with a smile that caused my susceptible young heart to throb with pleasure. 'I hope I may. I will do my best.'

"They were called to the scratch to receive their instructions from the judges. The distance to be ridden was one mile, running start, and in a moment they were off.

"That great crowd leaned forward with breathless interest as they sped away, their wheels closely abreast, and the interest deepened as they completed the first round and passed the stand to enter upon the second half mile without either having gained any perceptible advantage. As the quarter pole was passed it was noticed that the cowboy drew a trifle ahead, and the shouts of his backers and rough companions were of the most encouraging nature. I was too far distant to be able to see the young girl's face, but I instinctively felt that it must wear a look of pain and mortification and that her heart must have throbbed painfully over what seemed certain defeat. Under the wire they flew, and the cheers were deafening as the cowboy passed the line fully fifteen feet in advance of his fair competitor. Had I possessed sufficient muscular power I felt that I would have experienced sincere pleasure in springing over the railing and administering a good thrashing to the burly braggart when I heard him mockingly say to her as they came to a stop and dismounted:

"'Go home and wash your mammy's dishes. You can't ride a little bit.'

"My blood was fired at the taunting remark, and I hotly exclaimed:

"'She is a far better rider than you, and nothing but your brute strength defeated her. I believe she could beat you if given another trial.'

"The flood of thanks the girl's eyes poured upon me warmed my heart to the core. The bully looked at me disdainfully a moment and sneeringly said:

"'Boys, git onto the white-chokered tenderfoot. Git onto the silk-harnessed ladies' man. Ef yon think the gal kin put it onto me in another race, mebbe you've got some spar' dust that'll prop up yer opinion!'

"'Yes I have,' I angrily answered. 'Plenty of it, if the young woman will run again.'

"'About how much do you hold yer opinion at?' he asked.

"'All yourself and your friends want to throw in sight,' I replied.

"At this a large, red-faced man apparently under the influence of liquor, whom I afterwards learned was the owner of the great herd of cattle, over which the braggart presided as foreman, stepped up and said:

"'If you want to cinch the tenderfoot fur a bet, Dick, I'll let you have a thousand.'

"I was mad, boys, and wouldn't have weakened then if my life was to be the forfeit of my obstinacy. Addressing the young woman I asked:

"'Will you ride another mile against him at 5 o'clock this afternoon?'

"After a moment's hesitation she replied:

"'Indeed, I will, and I know I will defeat him. I felt before that every one in the crowd was against me, and I was nervous and very much frightened, but your words have encouraged me and I feel that I can now ride much better.'

"'Meet me at the Pacific Hotel in an hour and I will cover your $1,000,' I said to the cattle-owner and his foreman.

"I hastened to the town and, boys, I did something that I would have scorned to do had not my anger and stubbornness been aroused to a desperate point. I had jewelry samples with me valued at several thousand dollars, and calling a wagon I went to the hotel, loaded my sample cases, and hauled them to the leading jeweler of the town, who was a good customer of mine. I explained to him that I needed a loan of $1,000 for a few hours only, and offered to pledge my samples for that sum. He well knew the value of the stuff I carried, and after but a moment's hesitation wrote me a check for the desired amount. Securing the money at the bank, it was soon in a chosen stakeholder's hands with the $1,000 from the other side.

"The news of the additional race and the heavy stakes ventured on it spread like wildfire, and the jam on the fair grounds at the appointed hour was terrible. I secured a brief interview with the young woman and found her eyes alight with hope, and after warmly thanking me for the interest I manifested in her success, she strongly reiterated the belief that she would win the race. There is a little cuss called Cupid who goes about dressed in a pair of wings and a bow and arrow, and I tell you, boys, he was getting in his delicate work on me in great shape as I stood looking into the animated face of that handsome girl and listened to her musical voice as she thanked me modestly but earnestly for my services in assisting her to lower the pride of that taunting brute and wiping from her own escutcheon the stigma of defeat.

"'If papa were here he would back me with all he possesses under the circumstances,' she said, 'but he was detained at the ranch five miles out. Should I be the cause of you losing your money he will certainly make it up to you, and (with an arch smile) the knowledge of that fact alone permitted me to consent to you risking it.'

"'There is no risk,' I replied. 'You will win, and no one will shout louder than I when you lead your insulting antagonist under the wire.'

"By a queer freak of human nature the sympathy which had been bestowed upon the cowboy at the former race was now lavished on the girl, and when she wheeled her safety onto the track the vast crowd cheered her to the echo and shouted forth a torrent of words of encouragement. To all this she responded with modest bows and smiles of gratitude, and when the gong sounded she rode to the scratch with a look of confidence on her face that boded no good to her rival.

"'Go.'

"Boys, did you ever see a lark dart away from a swooping hawk? That girl began to whirl those pedals with her nimble feet in a manner that set the crowd wild, and she took the lead right at the start and darted away from him. Yell? Great Scott! how that crowd did yell as she finished the half mile fifty feet ahead of her rival and whirled away on the second stretch with a defiant smile on her handsome face. The cowboy flew after her, straining every muscle in his great effort to overtake and pass her, but he might as well have chased a streak of excited lightning as that flying fairy ahead. She passed under the wire fully fifty yards in the lead and, as she sprung from her wheel, her face beaming with the light of triumph, that great crowd arose to its feet and almost shook the heavens with ringing cheers. When the defeated cowboy came up to the crowd which surrounded the happy victor his face was aflame with chagrin and passion, and with a wicked leer he said to the girl:

"'I reckon yer stranger tenderfoot lover 'll git a kiss fur every dollar he won on this.'

"Before I could reach him a powerful blow from a fist laid him on the ground, and a large, fine-looking old man stood over him ready to repeat the blow if he made an attempt to rise.

"'Take that, you ruffian,' he cried. 'This is my daughter, and she's a lady, a Southern lady, sah, and is entitled to respect. You are a ruffian, an unmitigated ruffian, sah, and I will kill you as I would kill a wolf if you evah again offer her an insult. Get up now, and go away, and nevah cross my path again, or I will not answer for the consequences.'

"The brute slunk away, and the old gentleman quickly drew his daughter from the large crowd which had gathered.

"That evening he drove to the hotel in his carriage and approaching me said:

"'You are the gentleman who befriended my daughter at the fair this afternoon, and I am glad to know you, sah. I believe you are a gentleman, and I owe you my most sincere thanks for your action. She has told me all about it, and I fully appreciate the motive which led you to espouse the cause of a woman who was not being accorded fair play, for that ignorant fellow and his friends caused her to lose the first race by intimidating and embarrassing her. I cannot say that I approve of such contests, but she is my only child, sah, the pride of my old heart and home, and she loves her wheel—loves that wheel next to me I do believe, sah—and when that big brute challenged her to a contest in the recreation she most dearly delights in, it roused her Southern pride—we came here from Georgia, sah—and she pleaded so hard to be permitted to run the race that I reluctantly consented. Now, I want you to get in my carriage and go home with me and be my guest while you remain here, and I will accord you genuine Southern hospitality, for I am under obligations to you, sah. Come.'

"Well, boys, I went out to the old chap's ranch, and I went there on numerous future trips, and—well, the $1,000 I won on that race I carefully laid away for a special purpose, and for that purpose I subsequently used it. My little Southern wife now wears it in sparkling gems on one of her fingers."

"And the wheel she rode in the race, Frank. You, no doubt, yet preserve it as a cherished souvenir of the exciting contest?" said one of his fellow-travelers.

"O, yes, she has it yet, but she seldom uses it. She now has a machine with four wheels, which she pushes ahead of her, and both she and I think the load it carries is the prettiest, cutest girl baby in America."

A Little Daughter

Of a Church of England minister cured of a distressing rash, by Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Mr. RICHARD BIRKS, the well-known Druggist, 207 McGill st., Montreal, P. Q., says:

I have sold Ayer's Family Medicines for 40 years, and have heard nothing but good said of them. I know of many performed by Ayer's Sarsaparilla, one in particular being that of a little daughter of a Church of England minister. The child was literally covered from head to foot with a red and exceedingly troublesome rash, from which she had suffered for two or three years, in spite of the best medical treatment available. Her father was in great distress about the case, and, at my recommendation, at last began to administer Ayer's Sarsaparilla, two bottles of which effected a complete cure, much to her relief and her father's delight. I am sure, were he here to-day, he would testify in the strongest terms as to the merits of

Wonderful Cures

IN CHURCH.

I feel a solemn sanctity;
Sweet rest of soul is mine.
My heart abides in pious peace,
My bonnet sets divine!
Grace, like a river, fills my soul,
In chastened joy I sit;
I feel religion's deepest power;
My sack's a perfect fit.

O holy rest! O Sabbath calm!
O chastened peace serene!
I feel thy deep abiding spell—
How dowdy is Miss Green!
I feel a deep religious glow,
O rapture undefined!
I know my bonnet looks so nice
To those who sit behind.

COLONEL AND MAJOR.

Col. James was short and Major John was tall. Col. James was broader than he was long and Major John was "so spare that he had nothing to spare," as he often said in a quiet way. In fact, they were alike in nothing but these two things—their mutual and absorbing affection for each other and the mutual baldness of their heads.

Although not related even to the extent of cousins-german, yet they were brothers in that full sense of the word which calls for esteem, and wherever you saw one you were as certain of seeing the other, which was "the long and short of it," as the humorously inclined would often remark when Major John stalked down the street and Col. James trotted and puffed at his side. They ate at one board and slept under one blanket and likewise (mirabile dictu) were of the same political and religious persuasion. They were veritable Siamese twins, and for the sake of a pat figure, I will explain the case thus: United by love, it so transpired that this bond (which made the twain as one) by some fell decree, whereof mortals wist not, became a bone of contention that parted them.

Col. James was first to mention the tender subject.

"Major?"

"Colonel?"

"John, I—you know—perhaps you've seen—in fact, I may say positively you have seen—or you haven't seen—seen—seen—oh, hang it!" puffed Col. James, tossing his fat hands dejectedly, while a crimson flush rambled up his classic brow beneath the very eyes of his friend. It was a peculiar flush, a tell-tale flush, and a flush, in short, that Major John knew by the ear-marks.

"Col. James," he said, roguishly, with a smile sneaking over his face, and a chuckle chopping his words in half, "Col. James, you're in love."

"My dear fellow," wheezed the fat colonel, rapturously, "how did you know?"

"Ah, yes, that's so. How did I know? I'll tell you. Being in touch with you myself, so to speak, my sentiment has discovered yours."

"And do you mean to say that you're in love, too?"

At this point the peculiar flush heretofore spoken of made a victim of the Major. And then James reached delightedly up and John reached delightedly down, and they shook hands with a fervor that was intense.

"Do me the honor, my dear friend," said the Major "to confide to me the name of the demozel who has ensnared you, and who is, no doubt, herself ensnared by your graces of mind and person?"

"And will you," murmured the Colonel, "do me equal honor?"

"I will," declared the Mayor, with a beaming face.

Thereupon the Colonel remarked:

"You've seen our neighbor across the way?"

"What! Not the Widow Sniffkins?"

"The Widow Sniffkins!" panted the Colonel, reproachfully. "Major, how could you!"

"Not that maiden of forty summers, Miss Lollipop?"

"Oh, Lollipop, Lollipop—Major, have you no mercy?"

"But they all live across the way."

"I know; and so does Sneider, and Sneider's wife, and Sneider's bull pup—they all live across the way. But you needn't guess again. I'll tell you her name. It's"—— and here the Colonel tripped two bars of a hornpipe, made a speaking trumpet of his fat hands and hoarsely whispered—"Mistress Jane."

Had a bomb exploded at the Major's feet, or a cannon at his head, he could not have shown greater consternation. The entire seven feet of his corporeal frame was affected, and shiver after shiver rolled over and convulsed him from end to end.

"Oh, Major! are you ill?" cried the Colonel, wildly.

When the last shiver had clattered the Major's teeth and departed into that mysterious storehouse of feeling that is everywhere and yet nowhere, the Major stooped down and looked his friend squarely in the eyes.

"You say you love this Mistress Jane across the way?"

"Fondly, madly, passionately"——

"Silence! Know, sir, that I love her myself; and I, here and now, realizing that this woman cannot marry both of us, make a sacrifice of your esteem. Our paths now separate. We are rivals. Go your way, James, and I will go mine. Farewell!"

The Major bowed his head and passed through the door.

"Major!" called the Colonel, but the Major was deaf, and the love of Mistress Jane had come between them.

From this time on the Colonel and the Major sneered when they passed each other on the street; James glared when Mistress Jane favored John, and John looked daggers at James when tables were turned, and Mistress Jane was continually turning the tables. This condition of things could not endure, and the Major finally called on the Colonel to determine when and how these sneerings and glarings should terminate.

"Of course, you must understand thoroughly you haven't a ghost of a show," said the Colonel, inflating his stomach. "The lady isn't looking for a bean-pole around which to twine to tendrils of her love."

"Nor is she looking for a hogshead," retorted the Major. "She has told me time and time again that the only man she can love must be tall and graceful."

The Major brushed his coat and posed complacently.

"Graceful," jeered the Colonel; "and she has told me that her ideal was a man of my proportions."

The Major sniffed at the Colonel and the Colonel sniffed at the Major.

"Bah!" said the Colonel.

"Bah!" said the Major.

An ominous silence intervened, to be broken by Col. James.

"To convince you how absurd you are in her eyes, I will write and ask her whether she prefers a man of girth or of extension."

"Poor fool," murmured the Major pityingly, "she'll name a man that's slender. I'll write her myself."

"Suppose we write a joint letter?"

"Very well."

And they did, as follows:

Adored Jane: We, the undersigned, having seen and worshipped at the shrine of your beauty, declare ourselves to be, jointly and severally, your devoted admirers. From our several knees, with hands on our several hearts, we vow two solemn vows of consuming love, and would ask, by return post, a letter stating concisely whether length or breadth constitutes your idea of a lover.

With deepest love and fervent hopes, permit us to subscribe ourselves, thine always,

JAMES.
JOHN.

And here is Mistress Jane's reply:

James and John: I thank you, jointly and severally for the consuming love you have vowed, but the long and short of the matter is this: Not to say that it would be impossible for me to love a great man very long, or a long man very greatly, I also, while not caring to have my future husband a man I must look up to, equally dislike to have him one I must look down upon.

With thanks for your inquiry, believe me, a sister to you both.

JANE.

So were dashed their hopes. The love of Mistress Jane is still between them—a foot below the Major and a foot above the Colonel—but they are friends, and from Dan to Beersheba it would be difficult to find at the present time a more harmonious twain than Col. James and Major John.

The Man From Kansas.

The man with the wisp broom goatee crossed his legs and remarked:

"I never seed such wind as we had in the State of Kansas last summer."

"Blow your barn away?" asked the landlord sympathetically.

"Not much. Barn blowed into the next county last April."

"House, mebbe?"

"Lost the house long in June. Kited over east about three miles, and lit in Cherry Creek. Didn't mind that so much," he continued; "got 'em back and anchored 'em again all right; but along about July 1 we got to havin' real breezy weather."

The landlord said nothing, and the group around the hotel stove prudently followed his example.

"The ninth day of last July," continued the stranger after a reflective pause, "there come up the doggondest wind I ever see in the State of Kansas. When it began to blow my bantam rooster was just flappin' his wings to crow."

"Did it blow the crow out of him?" inquired the stableman joocosely.

"Gentlemen," said the man with the wisp broom goatee impressively, no heeding the interruption, "before that bird had done crowing every livin' feather on his body was blowed clean off."

"Leave the pinfeathers?" asked the landlord skeptically.

"Yes, sir. Left the pinfeathers, and in three minutes along came a streak of Kansas lightning and singed that rooster clean."

There was an awkward pause in the group around the stove. The stableman looked around the stovepipe elbow to get a view of the stranger.

At length the landlord broke the painful silence.

"Hank Laflin's brown mare's gone lame," he said.

The Cry of the Laborer.

The Homiletic Review esteems it the solemn duty of Christian ministers to impress upon the well-to-do members of their flocks who are the employers of men and women that the Epistle of St. James is still in the canon of Scripture, and that the cry of the laborer reaches the "ears of the Lord of Sabaoth." The fact that some of these laborers are driving a quill instead of a plow, are measuring ribbon instead of garnering wheat, makes no difference. "The hire of the laborers," which if not kept back by fraud is stopped suddenly by excessive meanness, "crieth" just as it did when St. James wrote his epistle.

The Unfailing Success of Dodd's Kidney Pills Induces Fradulent Imitators to Attempt to Pass Worthless Remedies on the Public.

TORONTO, May 7.—This appears to be an age of fakes and frauds. It seems impossible for any new idea or valuable invention to be made known without a host of imitators trying to foist their worthless goods on an unsuspecting public in the hope of making an unmerited profit out of their worthless ideas. The unequalled success of Dodd's Kidney Pills in curing all forms of kidney disease, has led to the introduction of many cheap and base imitations that are worse than valueless. Millinery Critics

Recognize the remarkable freshness and beauty of our stock. Seems almost useless to advertise our Millinery. Ever since the spring reception it has been advertising itself, and a stranger looking in would think each day "first view day." Yet it is right to be courteous to our attractive novelties.

Our Millinery business is always being stimulated, and the wonderful varieties of taste displayed brings us happy visitors and pleased customers all the time. Because many are coming and buying; more will come and will buy.

This growing success proves the public faith—you trust and then you buy. Why? Every advertising word is true—you know it, and are sure to find it always so here.

Mantles and Capes.

The very newest and neatest—all much below regular value. In our collection, remember, there are no old things—no mistakes limping up to roll-call and never getting any further. No. All are favourites. They have 1894 style and goodness about them, and the prices combine to make matchless bargains.

Dress Goods.

Tastes differ, uses are various; therefore the proper Dress Goods stock must cover all sorts or there will be disappointment. Our stock is as nearly complete as we can make it, and, out of prevailing times, have grown prices that were never matched before, and are not likely to be equalled again.

Underwear Hosiery and Gloves.

Fresh lots coming in to keep sizes and qualities suitable to the season. Better than that—prices are going down and qualities going up.

No Puzzle About Billy.

The above cartoon appears in the Toronto World under the caption, "The Puzzled Woodman." Mr. W. F. MacLean, M.P., editor of the World, is supposed to be puzzling the Finance Minister by his eloquence in favor of high protection. He says:

> Woodman, spare the tree,
> Quite far enough you've gone;
> Instead of lopping branches off,
> Pray graft some fresh ones on.

But Mr. Foster instead of being puzzled seems to the Journal to be fixing W. F. with his eye, and saying:

"Who owns that 'boiler plate' factory in Toronto, Billy, protected by a specific duty as high as 162 per cent?"—Ottawa Journal.

The Origin of the Locomotive Whistle.

When the locomotive was first built, and began to trundle their small loads up and down the newly and rudely constructed railways of England, the country roads were for most part crossed at grade, and the engine driver had no way of giving warning of his approach except by blowing a tin horn. This horn, as may be imagined, was far from being sufficient warning. One day, in the year 1833, a farmer of Thornton was crossing the railroad track on one of the country roads with a great load of eggs and butter. Just as he came out upon the track a train approached. The engine man blew his tin horn lustily, but the farmer did not hear it. Eighty dozen of eggs and fifty pounds of butter were smashed into an indistinguishable, unpleasant mass, and mingled with the kindling wood to which the wagon was reduced. The railway company had to pay the farmer the value of his fifty pounds of butter, his 960 eggs, his horse and his wagon.

It was regarded as a very serious matter, and straightway a director of the company, Ashlen Baxter by name, went to Atton Grange, where George Stephenson lived, to see if he could not invent something that would give a warning more likely to be heard. Stephenson went to work and the next day had a contrivance which, when attached to the engine boiler, and the steam turned on, gave out a shrill, discordant sound. The railway directors, greatly delighted, ordered similar contrivances attached to all the locomotives, and from that day to this the voice of the locomotive whistle has never been silent.—Cardiff Mail.

How to See Flower Ghosts.

Any child who wishes to see the ghost of a flower has only to make a very simple experiment.

Let him go up to a cluster of blossoms and look very intently for several minutes at one side of it.

Then very suddenly he must turn his gaze upon the other side of the same cluster.

He will at once distinctly see a faint and delicate circle of colored light around this second half of the cluster. The light is always in the hue which is "complimentary" to that of the flower.

The specter of the scarlet poppy is of a greenish white.

The ghost of the primrose is purple.

The ghost of the blue-fringed gentian is of a pale gold tint.

In these circles of color the shapes of the flower's petals are always faintly but clearly seen.

Banking in Ancient Times.

That the banking profession is a very old one is demonstrated by the discovery in Mesopotamia of some plates covered with inscriptions. These plates were engraved with the stylus and afterward annealed to make their characters ineffacable. Among the most valuable evidences of the life and customs of the people of Babylon and Nineveh 700 years B. C., were found veritable letters of credit, bills of exchange with and without warranty, money obligations of all kinds, sight drafts made payable to indorser or bearer. These denote the existence at Babylon, 600 B.C., of a bank which must have done a considerable business, and shows that it is not only in our day that capital is used to give impetus and keep alive industrial pursuits.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

To Defy the Moth.

If you wish to defy that unpleasant little animal, the moth, in packing away your furs and woollen garments, here are a few suggestions to follow:

First, beat out all the dust from the garment and let it hang in the open air and sunshine for a day. After this, shake very hard, fold neatly and sew up closely in muslin or linen cloths, putting a small lump of gum-camphor in the centre of each bundle. Wrap newspapers about all. In addition to these precautions, secure as a packing case a whisky or alcohol barrel but lately emptied and still strongly scented of the liquor. Have a close head and fit it neatly. Then set away in the garret.

In the pages of the WEEKLY EXAMINER will be found a coupon referring to "Canada," a portfolio of original photographic views of our beloved country. This portfolio is published in weekly parts. Each part contains not less than 16 pages 10x14 inches in size of illustrations and descriptive matter. Twenty-six parts will comprise the series, making altogether upwards of four hundred superb photographic views, covering the whole vast domain of British America. The object of this splendid series of Canadian fine art pictures is to provide the people of Canada with a scenic and descriptive reproduction of the artistic beauties of Canada and the evidences of its resources and material progress—to show Canada's glorious lake, river and mountain scenery—to depict in panorama of photographic pictures the urban and rural life of the Canadian people—to place within the reach of our own people the means of acquainting themselves with all that is notable in the national features of our own country. Every home should have one of these portfolios; they will be a never-ending and perpetual delight to the family, to callers and friends, an ornament to the home, a mine of wealth of scenic beauty and illustration of the resources of Canada. How to get this portfolio. Cut out the coupon printed in each issue of this paper and send or bring it with ten cents to the EXAMINER office. Part I is now ready, and the remaining parts up to 26 will be issued weekly. Only 10 cents a week will give you at the end of the series a magnificent volume of nearly 400 pages. The pictures, 400 in number, are superb, half-tone photographs of mountains, rivers, lakes, forests, cities, towns and other picturesque features of the land we live in. Be sure to cut out the coupon and enclose ten cents with it and get series No. 1. Begin at the beginning and don't by delay regret that you are missing this great chance.

AFFAIRS IN HAWAII.

Royalists Refuse to Take Any Part in the Pending Elections.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The President has transmitted to Congress a despatch from Minister Willis, dated Honolulu, April 14, in which he says that in compliance with the telegram from the department requiring him to keep them fully informed of the course of events, he encloses a set of resolutions adopted by a mass meeting of royalists on the 9th of April.

The meeting at which the resolutions were adopted is reported to have been quiet and orderly and the number of persons present is estimated at from 2,000 to 3,000. The resolutions declared that the convention called by the provisional government for the purpose of promulgating a constitution requires all voters to first take an oath of allegiance to the provisional government and to oppose the re-establishment of monarchy.

They characterise this as an unreasonable restriction upon the people, and say that as there is now pending before the government of the United States, a protest of the constitutional government of Hawaii against the action of those by whom that government was deposed.

They, therefore, decline to register or take any part in the election of delegates to this convention until a final reply has been received to this protest, addressed to the United States. They forwarded a copy of these resolutions to the minister plenipotentiary of the United States to Hawaii, with a request that he shall forward the same to his government.

REPRESENTATIVE LOCKWOOD'S BILL.

American Labor Excluded on the Lakes by Canadian Employes.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—E. C. Randall and Joseph Connell, of Buffalo, appeared before the House Committee on immigration and naturalization in support of the bill of Representative Lockwood of New York, for the necessary and better protection of American labor and the enforcement of the law of domicile.

Mr. Randall spoke of the extent of the lake carrying trade, and estimated at 75 per cent. of the employes were foreigners, principally from Canada. They worked cheap and by so doing excluded American labor. He declared the present immigration laws could not stop this evil and that the penalty for violating the law proposed by the bill should be put on the responsible parties—the Lake Carriers Association.

Mr. Connell said he had engaged in the lake carrying trade for the past fourteen years, and as soon as the Canadians began to enter the trade wages were reduced and now the vessels were employing this class of men altogether. Wages were reduced and the Americans driven off the lake.

Mr. Lockwood explained the condition of affairs on the lakes and said that American seamen wanted a law that would not permit ship brokers to furnish Canadian crews for American vessels.

STORMS IN THE STATES.

Wind and Rain Create Considerable Havoc in the South.

WICHITA FALLS, Tex., May 10.—A wind and rain storm demolished the Catholic church and several small buildings at this place. A number of business places were unroofed.

UNION CITY, Tenn., May 10.—This city was visited by a terrific wind and rain storm, and reports from every section of the country indicate great destruction of property, and the loss will be heavy.

CORINTH, Miss., May 10.—Heavy rains washed away a portion of the tracks of the Illinois Central railroad near Loona, Tenn.

EDITORS GO TO JAIL.

Nine of Them Sentenced for Criticising the Actions of the Police.

BERLIN, May 10.—Nine editors were sentenced at the end of a two days' trial for having libelled the police in commenting on their conduct at the Friedrichshain brewery on January 18. Most of the offending editors were Social-Democrats.

They received these sentences: Robert Schmidt, of the Vorwaerts, five months imprisonment; Nessler, of the Volksblatt, and Wieseberger, of the Berliner Zeitung, three months each; Zachau, of the Social-Democrat, and Harnisch, of the Lichstrahlen, two months each. The rest were fined 150 to 300 marks each.

A Vicious Elephant's Record.

NEW YORK, May 10.—Tip, the big elephant in Central park, has been sentenced to death by the board of park commissioners. He was presented to the city by Adam Forepaugh in 1888. During the six years he was with Forepaugh he killed eight men and he is now so vicious that it is considered necessary to kill him. He is only fastened by a chain around one foot and no animal trainer dare approach him to fasten him more securely. If he should become enraged he might easily break away and charge with deadly effect on the big crowd that gathers every day to see him.

Fell Forty Feet.

TORONTO, May 10.—George Adams, who keeps a clothing store at 397 Queen street west, went on the roof of his store yesterday to look after some eave troughs, and apparently became dizzy and fell over the side of the house on to the street forty feet below. He was picked up unconscious and seriously injured. It is not likely he will recover.

Destructive Fire in Norway, Me.

NORWAY, Me., May 10.—Last night fire was discovered in the box shop of C. B. Cummings. It was but a few minutes before the gale had carried the fire to the extreme eastern end of Main street, nearly three-quarters of a mile away. Almost the entire south side of Main street is in ashes, but two or three houses remaining standing and they in a very damaged condition. The total loss will reach $300,000.

Peculiar Cause of Death.

ST. LOUIS, May 10.—While Fred. Burke, aged sixteen, was playing with a small wire attached to a spool, the wire was thrown over the trolley wire of the South St. Louis Electric Street Car Company and, twisting around Burke's neck, shocked him to death.

ANDREWS CASE CLOSED

Evidence All in and the Counsels Address the Jury.

CASSIE ANDREWS LIBERATED

Justice Meredith Considers the Evidence Insufficient and Instructs a Verdict of "Not Guilty" to Be Recorded—Old Andrews in the Box.

TORONTO, May 11.—Nellie Lafontaine was placed in the box yesterday to testify in the Andrews case. Mr. Riddell, for the defence, objected to her evidence. The court sustained the objection, and she was allowed to step out.

Dr. R. A. Payne testified that Andrews was not a regular practitioner, and was not entitled to practice. After the hearing of other medical testimony, eliciting nothing of importance, the crown rested its case.

On the defence being called, Mr. Riddell argued that the crown had not produced sufficient evidence to send the case to the jury. Justice Meredith, however, decided otherwise.

Then Mr. McGregor asked for the discharge of Mrs. Alice Andrews, wife of the doctor, arguing that she was innocent of criminal intention and acted merely in accordance with her husband's wishes.

The court held that there was sufficient evidence in her case to send it to the jury, stating that a reasonable jury might convict her on the charge.

Mr. Mills then argued for the release of Cassie Andrews, daughter-in-law of the the doctor.

Justice Meredith decided in favor of the plea and directed a verdict of not guilty to be recorded. Cassie Andrews was then allowed to go free.

Mr. Riddell, in outlining his defence of Dr. Andrews to the jury, said that Mrs. Denning insisted upon expediting matters about her daughter; the doctor examined her and said she would have a miscarriage and she was confined. No abortion was performed upon her; she had insanity of pregnancy.

John Brighton, a furniture dealer, was the first witness for the defence. He told of taking furniture to Doc. Andrews' house on October 21, and there overheard a conversation between Andrews and Mrs. Lewis, in which the doctor said, "I'll have nothing to do with your sister; she has been tampered with, she told me so; I'll have nothing to do with her; you must take her away."

Ransome Andrews then took the stand to testify in his own behalf. He told his story at first in a low, tremulous voice, but as he continued his voice became more clear. He broke down when he told of his wife's advice to have nothing to do with Lucy Denning, and exclaimed, "I wish to God I had listened to her." He allowed the girl to remain in his house only at the urgent pressing of her mother. He said she was in ordinary confinement and he treated her in the usual way, using no instruments of any form or shape whatever. He said the girl was crazy. He denied having said undertakers were devils, and it was the request of the girl's relatives that he should have her buried.

In cross-examination, Andrews went over his story again, but did not vary in any way in any of his statements. He told the crown that he had lived in Toronto for 30 years with the exception of four spent in Kingston prison for abortion. The old man pathetically asked the crown prosecutor not to be hard on him on account of his feebleness, and he was willing to answer any question with regard to Lucy Denning's death. He said the case for which he had been sent to Kingston was a similar one to the present, but he had not then the chance of defending himself in the witness box.

Mrs. Alice Andrews was put into the box by her counsel, Mr. McGregor. She is 26 years of age and married the doctor three years ago. They were preparing to go to the States when Mrs. Lewis first called. The doctor's business was "selling pills for suspension" and "private diseases." She gave an account of Lucy Denning's illness.

A long array of medical testimony followed, and notwithstanding the usually uninteresting character of this evidence to the masses, the interest in the case was kept up throughout.

In the evening the evidence for the defence was closed, and the counsels for prosecution and defence addressed the jury, after which the court adjourned.

Dwelling Burned in Simcoe.

SIMCOE, Ont., May 11.—Yesterday fire broke out in the residence of Mr. John Crooks of this town. The building, valued at $600, was completely destroyed. Insured for $300. Fire was caused by defective chimney.

Will Apply for Barnett's Reprieve.

TORONTO, May 11.—Mr. T. C. Robinette intends to apply to the Department of Justice for the reprieve of Roland G. I. Barnett, who figured so prominently in Central bank affairs. On January 26, 1889, he was sentenced to seven years in penitentiary for fraud, forgery and other crimes. Barnett is suffering from a painful disease and desires his liberty at once. He will have served his term on December 26, he being entitled to 18 months' remission for good conduct.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT

House Further Discusses the Items of the New Tariff.

DUTY ON DIFFERENT WOOLS

No Protection for the Farmer in the Tariff on This Product — Mr. Charlton Shows Where a Tax Would be Beneficial—Auditor General's Report.

OTTAWA, May 11.—In the House yesterday Hon. Mr. Ouimet, to reply to Mr. Gibson, said the pier at Oakville was reconstructed in October, 1887, at a cost of $14,280. The Government was aware that the outer end of the pier had settled, but as the lighthouse had been moved back there was no danger of it being washed away. The Government was now considering a petition from the municipality of Oakville asking that the outer end of the pier be rebuilt.

Sir John Thompson's bill to provide for the examination of witnesses on oath by the Senate and House of Commons was considered in committee and read a third time.

Some time was taken up in discussing the action of the Auditor-General in placing certain correspondence in his annual report. The Opposition considered that the whole matter referred to in the Auditor-General's report should be referred to the Public Accounts Committee, while the Government refused to accept the committee as a trial tribunal in disputes between the Auditor-General and the Treasury Board. Finally Mr. Davies assured the First Minister that he did not wish to have the Government's action passed on by the committee; whereupon Sir John Thompson suggested that the Opposition should move for any papers he desired in connection with the subject. The matter dropped there.

The rest of the sitting was taken up in the discussion of tariff items.

Mr. Coatsworth, speaking of the item of cotton velvets, stated that he had been asked by the Toronto Board of Trade to request that velveteens should be classed among dress goods with a duty of 25 per cent. After considerable discussion it was decided to class velvets, velveteens and plush fabrics under one head, with a uniform duty of 30 per cent. ad volorem. Webbing, elastic and non-elastic, was made 20 per cent. Cotton sewing thread, in hanks, was reduced to 12½ per cent. Cotton thread and crochet cotton on spools or tubes was left at 25 per cent.

Sir Richard Cartwright objected to the duty of 12½ per cent. duty on cotton in hanks. The item passed.

Cordage, n.e.s., which appeared in the new tariff at 30 per cent., was reduced to 27½ per cent.

Hon. Mr. Wallace explained that fishermen would continue to get their cordage and twines in connection with their fishing absolutely free.

Mr. McMullen objected to fishermen getting free twine.

Mr. Taylor advised the Opposition to look at the new American tariff, which they were so anxious to see obtained in Canada. Fishermen in the United States were compelled to pay 30 per cent. upon all their twines, etc., while these came into Canada free.

Mr. Foster stated that if the House desired it he would put the duty on cordage at the old figure in the old tariff, namely, 1¼ cents per lb, and 10 per cent. ad valorem. This was agreed to.

The items of rope, binder twine, bootlaces, hammocks, lawn tennis nets, damask, towels, sails, sacks, manufactures of hemp, flax and jute, jute cloth, silk, manufactures of silk and ribbons were passed.

The next item was: Leicester, Cotswold, Lincolnshire and Southdown combing wools, or wools known as lustre wools and other like combing wools, as are grown in Canada, 3 cents per pound.

Mr. Charlton said this really afforded no protection to the Canadian farmer. If the Government really wanted to help the farmer let them put a duty on wool imported from Australia and the Argentine Republic.

Hon. Mr. Ives said the duty kept a lot of wool out.

Hon. Mr. Foster said that a duty on the kinds of wool not produced in Canada would simply be a duty on raw material and would simply increase the duty to the consumer without benefiting the farmer.

Hon. David Mills supported Mr. Charlton. He said that the Government should put a tax on the fine wools which were not produced in Canada.

Hon. Mr. Wallace said that would take $500,000 out of the pockets of the people, or it would compel them to wear coarse woollens when they do not want to.

The item carried.

A number of other items passed. To "fish and products of fish" the following item was added: Fresh and dried fish, n.e.s., imported in barrels, one cent per lb.

Capital Gossip.

There is trouble in the Ottawa field battery over the reappointment of Mr. Bliss to the captaincy. Surgeon Bell was seen at his office and spoke very clearly on the reinstating of Mr. Bliss. He had handed in his resignation, he said, to the commander of this district yesterday afternoon for different reasons.

The official report of the recent seizure of the Visitor and Leroy Brooks at Amherstburg was received to-day at the Department of Marine and Fisheries, and action will immediately be taken. The crews of the seized vessels are still at Amherstburg awaiting definite action of the Government.

The Senate Insolvency Committee yesterday passed an important amendment to clause 62 of the bill. Its effect will be that creditors holding claims based on negotiable instruments on which the insolvent is only indirectly liable shall deduct the value at which he calculates the liability of the person primarily liable, and for the remainder come in under the same condition as other creditors. It is now generally well understood that the insolvency bill will not be put through this session.

Addington County Liberals.

NARROWSMITH, May 11.—A convention of Liberals of the county of Addington was held here yesterday to choose a candidate to represent the riding at the approaching election. Mr. F. H. Halliday, of Palmerston, was the choice of the convention.

FATHER AND SON LYNCHED.

The Son Committed the Crime at the Instigation of His Father.

SHARON SPRINGS, Kan., May 11.—One of the most determined mobs that ever congregated in this portion of the State lynched William McKinley and his son, Lewis, for the murder of Charles Carley, committed one week ago.

About a week ago Charles Carley, a son-in-law of William McKinley, was murdered. An investigation revealed the fact that Fred, a 17-year-old son of McKinley, sr., committed the crime. The boy, when arrested, made a confession, stating that he had been induced to kill his brother-in-law by his father and his older brother, Lewis.

Motives for the murder seemed principally revenge and hatred. The murdered man only a few weeks before had married McKinley's daughter. It had been stipulated before the marriage that the groom was to pay the bride's father $300 for the privilege of marrying her. The groom refused to pay this money after he was safely married, and thus incurred the enmity of his wife's father and brothers.

The boy surprised Carley while asleep, cutting his arm and horribly mutilating him with a garden hoe.

On Monday the three were arraigned in court, when Fred pleaded guilty as charged, but his father and Lewis pleaded not guilty, waived trial and were placed in the county jail. Late Monday night a mob of several hundred took the father and son to a bridge about half a mile west of town and lynched them. They both begged piteously for mercy. Fred would probably have been hanged with the others, but instead of taking him to the jail, he was kept under guard in the hotel.

TERRIBLE EARTHQUAKE.

Ten Thousand Persons Said to Have Perished in Venezuela.

NEW YORK, May 11.—A Herald special from Caracas says in confirmation of yesterday's dispatches: A terrible earthquake took place in Venezuela on April 28. Reports which have been received here from the districts affected tell of terrible loss of life and destruction of villages and towns.

The cities of Merida, Lagunillas, Chiguara and San Juan, situated in the northwest of the republic, in the region of the Andes, are reported as having been totally destroyed by a fierce shock at 11 o'clock on the night of the 28th.

Many villages are said to be wrecked but details are not yet to be had. The convulsion extended to parts of the adjacent republic of Colombia.

The full details of the catastrophe will be learned slowly, but it is probable that 10,000 people have perished, and it is certain the greatest suffering prevails in the places visited by the earthquake.

DASHED OUT HER BRAINS.

Shocking Accident Which Happened to a New York Woman.

NEW YORK, May 11.—Mrs. Emily Rechsteiner and Mrs. Rosalie Huerlinan were tenants of fourth-floor flats at Nos. 496 and 498 Brooke avenue, which faced each other across a narrow air shaft. To pass from one flat to the other, however, it was necessary to walk down three flights of stairs and up three flights, so Mrs. Rechsteiner laid an ironing-board from her window to that of Mrs. Huerlinan. For several days the woman passed to and fro over the extemporized and fragile bridge. Yesterday, however, as Mrs. Rechsteiner was returning to her own apartment the board broke and she fell to the bottom of the shaft, striking upon her head on the flagstones and dashing out her brains. She was 26 years of age and uncommonly good looking.

FIRE IN SYRACUSE.

Two Lives Lost and $60,000 Worth of Property Destroyed.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 11.—Fire broke out shortly after midnight in the lumber yards of C. H. Baker & Co., on the bank of the Oswego canal. The result of the fire is the destruction of about $60,000 worth of property and the loss of two two lives.

The Gospel boat Good News, of the Rescue Mission, was moored beside the burning lumber piles. There were three people on the boat, Robert Wilson, its captain, his young wife and A. Dalaney a brother of Mrs. Wilson. All jumped into the water in their night-clothes. Wilson succeeded in swimming ashore, aided by Pugilist Dunfee, but his wife and brother-in law were drowned.

Noted Crook in Custody.

DETROIT, May 11.—For three days the police have had a mysterious prisoner in the central station, a man who says his name is Williams, and it leaked out yesterday that the prisoner is believed to be a noted safe cracker and bank robber. It is understood that his real name is James Morton, and it is known that his picture is in the rogues' gallery, but what his record is the police do not tell. He is believed to be the man who robbed the Detroit Internal Revenue office a few nights ago of $600.

Tammany Leader Resigns.

NEW YORK, May 11.—Mr. Richard Croker tendered his resignation as chairman of the finance committee of Tammany Hall, which position takes with it that of leader, to the meeting of the executive committee. The resignation was accepted by a vote of 59 to 1, the negative vote being that of John J. Scannel.

Balfour Will Demand His Liberty.

BUENOS AYRES, May 11.—James Spencer Balfour, the absconding manager of the Liberator Building & Loan Association, of London, who has been under arrest in Argentina pending extradition proceedings, has made a demand for his complete liberty, and will claim damages for illegal arrest.

Murdered in His Cell.

BARCELONA, May 11.—Marin Borras, the anarchist, who was soon to be tried for complicity in the attempt to kill Captain-General Martinez de Campos, has been found dead in his prison cell. The body was badly bruised and the medical examiner believes he died from violence.

Killed by a Sentry.

BERLIN, May 11.—A young maid servant named Kaczmarek was stopped and roughly handled by a sentry in the city of Posen. The sentry tried to arrest her, but she ran away. He shouted to her three times to stop, but she continued running. He then shot her dead.

PERFUNCTORY CATTLE INSPECTION.

The Empire's "calf with a cough" must be pretty well out of breath with the run the Conservative organ is giving it. Would it not be well to give the calf a rest for a day or two in order to permit the Empire to tell the public something about how the interests of the farmers are trifled with by the perfunctory inspection of cattle coming into Canada from the United States. The Dominion Government inspectors are paid big salaries for the purpose of preventing stock suffering, or infected, with contagious diseases from being admitted into Canada. The manner in which they earn their salaries should lead Dr. Ryerson and the Empire to revise their estimate of the situation they claim exists at the Agricultural College. The following from the Canada Farmers' Sun, the organ of the Patrons of Industry, is commended to them. The Sun of last week says:—

Vice-President Currie, Grand Trustee Kennedy and the editor of the Sun visited the western frontier last week for the purpose of witnessing an actual inspection of cattle. All that had previously been charged regarding inspection was was verified and more. At Sarnia the cattle trains, usually numbering from two to five, are brought into Canada before the inspection is made. This is another violation of the regulations agreed to by the Imperial Government, for which the Dominion authorities are reprehensible. The inspection of an entire train load of cattle is completed in a few minutes, the inspector's remark being that it is "only a matter of form." Usually the trains arrive at the tunnel during the afternoon and are crossed, inspected and forwarded before nightfall, so that night inspection is not so frequent there as at Windsor. The rule in both places to unload the cattle from the car is seldom observed. What are the authorities going to do about this open contempt for the rights of the farmers of Canada?

It might easily be conceded that such inspection as this is a thousand times worse than the case cited by Dr. Ryerson in which prompt and effective remedies were adopted the moment even suspicion of tuberculosis was aroused. By the carlessness of inspection by Dominion Government inspectors, infected animals might easily be allowed to enter the country and the infection be so widely spread that effective prevention and remedial measures would be impossible or, at least, impracticable. Before the Empire gives that calf more rope, it might turn its attention to cattle inspection. But this can hardly be expected; the Empire has joined Mr. Meredith in a crusade against the Agricultural College and the Department of Agriculture, the plea being that the interests of the farmers—seven-tenths of the wealth of the country—are not great enough to warrant the services of a special department, and specially qualified practical farmer, as its minister, but that the Department of Agriculture can be tacked on to some other department as a sort of administrative side show, to receive attention at odd times. What do the farmers think of this policy?

THE London, Eng., Board of Trade returns show that emigration to Canada declined from 8537 in April, 1893, to 3524 in April, 1894. For the first four months of 1894 emigration to Canada declined to 6923 from 18269, the figures of 1893. Emigration to the United States decreased one-half, but to Australia it it increased lightly. The total emigration is decreased by one-half.

"Two strong prohibitionists" says the Montreal Witness, "are being pitted against one another as candidates for election to the Ontario Assembly for North Toronto. As an indication of the strength of prohibition sentiment in the constituency this is satisfactory, and a high compliment to North Toronto. It is a pity, however, that Mr. Marter and Mr. Tait, both sound temperance men, should enter a contest which must result in one or other of them being left out of the House, and a consequent weakening of the temperance party in the Assembly. Mr. Tait, the Reform candidate, is the sitting member for the constituency, or rather the new constituency, is one which formed a part of the old one which elected him, he being one of the three members for Toronto. Mr. Marter was the member for Muskoka, and he deserts his old constituency to fight Mr. Tait. It appears, therefore, that the Royal Templars of Temperance are justified in asking Mr. Marter, rather than Mr. Tait, to retire. The contest will be magnificent, doubtless, but 'it will not be war' against the hosts of intemperance, but 'civil war.' Could not all the temperance bodies of the constituency get together and pledge themselves to stick to a decision reached on a ballot by the majority."

THE Toronto News, bitterly anti-Mowat Government, makes this contrast: "The sum charged by Hon. C. F. Fraser for travelling expenses last year was $3.50. According to the Fredericton Gleaner, the New Brunswick Commissioner of Public Works charged $900 under the same head. Ontario will never know what an economical servant and faithful steward she had in the person of Mr. Fraser until some other man succeeds to his office." And when we come to compare a Dominion minister's expenses at the Paris arbitration—$13,000 and his secretary's $5,000, the contrast is striking.

THE mineral output of Canada last year, according to official figures, amounted in value to $19,250,000. Of this metallic minerals supplied $4,582,166, the largest item being nickel $2,076,357. Gold comes next with $927,244, while copper was third with $875,864. The greater portion of the production was of non-metallic minerals such as coal, mica, petroleum, gypsum, salt and structural materials, such as bricks, granite and lime; these aggregated in value $14,391,291, of which $5,422,000 was supplied by coal. The total for the year shows a falling off, for the production averaged $19,500,000 in 1892 and $20,500,000 in 1893.

FAMILIARITY BREEDS CONTEMPT

A Lad is Apt to Lose his Terror of the Lockup if Placed there too Often.

Mrs. Watkins, of Toronto, probably better known as "Kit," the Mail's clever editress of the womans' page, writes as follows from San Francisco concerning Fredericks, the man who murdered a bank cashier there on Good Friday. He lay awaiting sentence of death, for he had been tried and found guilty.

"Stepping into this cell, says she, with a guard, we spoke to this man. He is a young fellow, not yet twenty-three, and refined in appearance, the last man one would couple with criminal actions. He spoke of the murder and expressed grief for the deed, but then laughingly, and in a sort of boyish glee, told of a robbery in which he was concerned some time back. His voice broke, though, when he spoke of his mother at home in Germany, and he told us how, long ago, when he was little, he loved dumb beasts and hated to see any living thing hurt. 'The trouble of my life,' said this young man, 'came from gaoling me with old and hardened criminals. When I was a boy of sixteen I was put for a misdemeanour into a cell crowded with desperadoes, who recounted their adventures, and seemed to me brave and grand fellows. I wanted to be like them. They spoke lightly of killing men and robbing and burglarizing houses. It was nothing to 'drop' a man if he stood in your way, and that is how I learned to look lightly on such matters, and that is what brought me here to-day. It is all too late now. I have to die, and I'll try to finish like a man; but 'tis hard, for I am young and life is sweet. I see now the folly of my ways and it all came from the gaol. The papers say I was born without moral perceptions. That is wrong. No man is born that way. I had them, but I lost them, and became used to crime. My moral perceptions were blunted, that is all. It is too late now, to late. I have to go." Nothing could exceed the despair of his tones as he spoke, nor the anguish that was in his eyes and about his mouth. He laughed slightly as he finished and stood leaning against the bars. We noticed his white and slender hands, his sensitive, sweet mouth, the bold poise of his figure, the whole bearing of the man, which was devoid of any of that brutality and coarseness we associate with criminals. We had no sympathy for this lost creature, as we stood there; no sympathy for his crime—but there was a dull heartache over his wasted life, the small chances he ever had of being straight and honest, over the thought of how lightly and easily we gaol our boys with hardened and bitter crimina's, whose hands are raised against all men. The young and slight figure, standing there in the dim light, the sentence of death upon him, preached an awful lesson, telling us that we—you and I—are guilty of the crimes of such men when we put them in the way of becoming criminals; are guilty of their deaths when we send them—because of the crimes we almost forced upon them—to the gallows."

The words of the writer brings home the truth effectually that the mothers and fathers of Peterborough may yet live to rue the day, that they allow their little ones to be placed in the cells, because forsooth they were guilty of the heinous crime of playing "hookey" from school, or some venial offence that would be better punished by the birch.

Are made in large quantities, because foolish people buy where prices are lowest, without giving a thought to quality. Any one who thinks, will not buy a "Piano at $170, or an Organ at $30, guaranteed for nineteen years," because it is cheap. THE QUEBEC LANDSLIDE.

Recent Floods Only Hastened the Calamity That Overhung the Village.

QUEBEC, May 11.—The disaster at St. Anne da la Parade is the all absorbing topic of conversation on the streets and in the clubs. Numerous startling reports were circulated during the day, but few of them were substantiated. The only well authenticated striking disaster of which anything was learned was the falling into the river at St. Anne of two more houses. The C. P. R. has trains at work hauling stones from Terrebonne to the scene of the trouble, where they are dumping in the river at its swiftest point so as to form a dam or buttress, against and parallel to the shore, and so protect it sufficiently to prevent it being eaten away by water.

A large number of newspaper men and others are on the scene. City Engineer Baillairgie left for St. Anne yesterday, accompanied by his son, to inspect the slide, and Mr. Lafiamme has just returned from that place, whither he was on a special mission on behalf of the Government to whom he has to report. The geologist attributes the accident solely to the wearing effect of the water on the soft sand small gravel, of which the banks are formed. The only effects of the recent floods, he thinks, was to hasten a calamity which has for some time been overhanging the village. The bank, which is being eaten into, is from thirty to forty feet above the level of the water, and the river, which formerly ran from northeast to southwest at the place of the accident, now runs in a directly western direction. The inhabitants of the place are said to be so rattled that they can hardly give a lucid and correct account of the affair themselves.

THREE RIVERS, Que., May 11.—A gentleman returned from St. Anne de la Perade says the undermining is still going on. The river being high and current strong eighteen houses are in peril. The C. P. R. bridge is out of danger. Messrs. Mons and Cooper of the C. P. R. with their men are protecting it by placing stones on the banks which will prevent the undermining reaching the church and convent and lower portion of the village.

THE MURDERER OF LINDSAY.

He Was a Man of Bad Temper and Had Special Spite Against His Victim.

WINDSOR, Ont., May 11.—"Truskey is not insane," said Detective Campan to-day, "He is a powerful fellow with a terrible temper and his only insanity is a mean disposition, which was almost certain to result in crime at some time. Truskey has been troublesome to the constables for years, and Constable Lindsay had, of course, been obliged to correct him several times and the murderer had a special spite to vent on him. The crime was entirely unprovoked and yet Truskey did not seem to think he should be blamed. He is a brute and his crime was among the worst yet recorded in Essex county. When Murderer Veney was waiting trial a year ago he was placed under special guard while in the jail. An extra guard has also been placed over Truskey, who is kept in a ward known as 'murderers row,' and when he steps from his bed across the narrow cell he glares angrily through the steel bars at a sharp-visaged guard who sits with a rifle across his knees."

South Bruce Nominations.

WALKERTON, Ont., May 11.—At the adjourned convention of the South Bruce Liberal party, held at Formosa yesterday, Mr. Thomas Ingles of Carrick received the nomination for the local house by a majority of six votes over Mr. Truax, ex-M. P. Mr. Ingles lives in Carrick and is a prominent farmer. His opponent, Mr. Vallens, the Patron candidate, lives in the township of Kinloss and is also a farmer in good circumstances. There is no Conservative candidate in the field so far.

Farm Hand Suicides.

GEORGETOWN, May 11.—Peter Mulloch, a farm hand living with Mr. McDonald on lot 13, concession 5, Esquessing, was heard to arise yesterday morning and leave the house for the barn to do the usual feeding. Mr. McDonald's son went to the barn to inform Mulloch that breakfast was ready. Opening the barn door young McDonald was horrified to find Mulloch's dead body hanging by a rope from one of the barn timbers. Mulloch was a man about fifty years of age and unmarried.

Insomnia is fearfully on the increase. The rush and excitement of modern life so tax the nervous system that multitudes of people are deprived of good and sufficient sleep, with ruinous consequences to the nerves. Remember, Ayer's Sarsaparilla makes the weak strong.

Prof. Campbell's Case.

CARLETON PLACE, May 11.—The Campbell case was taken up again yesterday. Mr. McLennan's motion, which was to send the case to the Montreal presbytery to begin trial again, was seconded and reported by Rev. Mr. Calder, of Lancaster, who strongly objected to the hasty proceedings, during the professor's absence; also to the few conferences held with the latter. The motion was supported by Dr. McNish, of Cornwall, who referred particularly to the professor's loving disposition, scholarship and attainments, he also said that everything should be done to save him to the church. Rev. R. Campbell, the next speaker, defended the presbytery's actions, and explained that it was to Prof. Campbell's interest that procedure should be by libel. Dr. Myles Crombie objected strongly to some positions taken by previous speakers, and thought the libel action very unfeeling. Principal McVicar dealt on the harmony and good-feeling of twenty years duration. Dr. Campbell, of Renfrew, was in favor of more conferences being held. Prof. Scrimger thought the Synod should do this rather than the presbytery. Dr. Moore, of Ottawa, moved the previous question which was carried. A decision was made to meet next year at Sherbrooke, Que., the meeting to be held the second Tuesday in May in St. Andrew's church.

Suing for $25,000.

MONTREAL, May 11.—Lieutenant Colonel Hughes, the chief of police of this city, has taken action for $25,000 damages against the Montreal Herald on account of attacks made upon him in connection with the efficiency of the police force.

THE RULING MARKETS.

TORONTO, May 11, 1894.

The clearings of the banks at Toronto this week were $5,983,622, as compared with $5,570,570 last week and $6,155,705 the corresponding week of last year.

At the London wool sales 6,400 bales, including some fine Port Philip, were offered. New South Wales greasy and merinos attracted a fair share of attention.

There was a few moments of activity at the opening of the Chicago wheat market a few moments at the close, but the remainder of the session was dull and featureless. Oats were in good demand with prices ½c to ⅛c lower.

THE FARMERS' MARKET.—Receipts of grain were moderate. One load of straight white wheat sold at 64c, red is quoted at 61c, and goose at 58c. Oats steady, 300 bushels selling at 38½ to 39½c. Peas nominal at 65 to 66c, and barley at 40 to 42c.

New York reports lower cables from London, the poor exhibits of earnings by St. Paul for the first week of May and the Illinois Central for April, the demoralization of freight rates at the west and a belief that at least $2,560,000 gold will be shipped to Europe to-morrow, all contributed to a weak opening for stocks.

The May report of the American statisticians of the department of agriculture after consolidating the returns place the condition of winter wheat at 81.4 as against 86.7 the previous month, being a falling off of 5.3 points. In 1893 at the same date the condition was 75.8, a little over two points lower than the previous month. The average condition of barley is 62.3 against 86.6 last year.

"God gave us meat, but the devil sent us cooks," is a trite saying. From bad cooking, fast eating and overeating, comes a whole train of diseases—indigestion, dyspepsia, biliousness, catarrh of the stomach, headache, dizziness, and the like. God also gave us a brainy man, who compounded the "Golden Medical Discovery," a corrective of all the ills resulting from overeating and bad blood. Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, has furnished in the "Discovery," a great desideratum in America, where everybody are in such a hurry to make money, they have no time to eat, and scarcely any time to live. It invigorates the liver, cleanses the blood and tones up the system.

IN COATS.

There is more length to the new Coats for 1894 than has been used in Men's Dress since the 60's.

THE DOUBLE BREASTED FROCK is the most fastidious garment man has put on in a generation. It adds to the stature of the man and conceals defects of figure. It is short waisted, snug fitting, long tailed and beautifully moulded to the figure. The Skirts are hollow at the top and form a beautiful curve, which is the most distinctive thing about the new styles.

Then there is the THREE BUTTON CUTAWAY Coat which is a high favourite. It is popularly described as the "Pigeon Wing" on account of its sloping tails. The sleeves are of moderate size and are closed with a vent for three buttons. If properly made it will cling rather closely to the hips.

The new CUTAWAY SACK COAT for business wear is one of the most popular of the season. It has caught the fancy of the young men. All the pockets should have flaps. The collar rolls low and is not faced with Silk.

Any of these garments made up to order to please the most fastidious dresser and with faultless devotion to the fashion plates

A Government BOMBSHELL
THROWN INTO THE
LIFE INSURANCE CAMP!

The following statement comes from the government Blue Book. It covers a period of sixteen years, and is sworn to as correct by representatives of each Company:

Statement of Premiums received and Cash Profits paid back to Policy Holders from 1877 to 1892, both years inclusive:—

COMPANY.	Premiums Received.	Dividends Paid to Policy Holders.	Ratio of Dividends to Premiums, %
CANADA LIFE	$16,368,307	$2,946,468	18.18
Confederation Life	6,166,432	687,925	10.26
North American	2,327,082	32,897	1.41
Ontario Mutual	3,878,086	433,294	11.17
Sun Life	5,527,720	366,220	6.48

Never in the history of Life Insurance has the struggle for business been keener. Never has the conflict been hotter. Never have the Companies felt as they feel now, the necessity for throwing all the energy at their command into the field. The most intelligent and best men have to be employed. All kinds of plans of insurance are submitted. Each Company determined in securing the supremacy in the good will of the public, in establishing their name, the utterance of which, shall convey to the minds of the people the essential characteristics of

UNDOUBTED SECURITY,
RIGID ECONOMY,
GOOD INVESTMENTS,
LARGEST PROFITS

WHY?

Because millons of dollars are being paid annually for Life Insurance, and the Companies that can show these features have attained a position which will guarantee their future success, for money will flow freely into the best investments.

The Canada Life Policy Holders can look at the above statement with a smile of satisfaction, yet sympathise with their friends who are not so favourably situated.

They can throw their Life Policies down in the face of opponents and successfully challenge the production of more profitable policies, they can stand the onslaught of Agents who will almost cover them with literature and estimates of Tontine, Semi-Tontine, Return Premiums, Reserved Dividends, Annuity and Endowment plans of insurance, and with a quiet assurance feel that

As The Canada Life is Making the Most Profits, She Can Pay the Largest Profits.

READER. If you want Life Insurance choose the Canada Life and join the throng of contented policy holders who are insured with the Company carrying about 45 per cent. of the total insurance in force of the above named Companies

The Dog Nuisance.

The following remarks by the Belleville Ontario are applicable to Peterborough's condition:—"The police of Peterborough are after the untagged dogs of that city, or rather after the owners thereof, and several of them have been fined. The dog question is one that demands some attention in Belleville also. According to assessors' returns there are 600 dogs in the city, and most of the owners of said dogs need a dog about as much as the dog needs two tails. However, let this pass. No one can reasonably object to any other person owning a good, decent, well behaved dog. But there are in this city a large number of miserable mongrels that are of no use to anybody and are a positive nuisance to many. A number of these dogs are nearly always on the street and many of them on Front street, to the annoyance and often disgust of grocers and others. Now this is a real grievance, and even a source of danger to health, and something should be done about it. Then sometimes these dogs are really dangerous. Only this week were called upon to chronicle a combat between a dog and pedestrian, resulting in the destruction of $6 umbrella and had it been a child or a defenceless lady instead of a man with an umbrella, the consequences might have been more serious. There at least two hundred dogs in Belleville that need suppressing."

Grafton & Co. are noted all over for the best clothing and the very lowest price.

The 15 Mill Rate a Myth.!

The only members of the Finance Committee present at a meeting called last night were Mayor Kendry and Messrs. Cahill, Roger and Brady. As there was not a quorum no business could be transacted, but by the figures presented it was evident that the rate this year could not possibly be out to 15 mills. The members of the committee compared this year's figures with those of last in the way of expenditure, but could not detect an item which could be shaved to an extent that would bring the rate down to that promised the public.

Saturday Night at Routley's.

There will be another auction sale at Routley's fancy goods store Saturday night. Don't be skeptical when we say the goods will be sold at half price and less. So many sales are started from day to day and so many statements are made respecting prices, which disappoint and deceive the public that it is hard to believe that we will perform what we promise. It is hard to believe that the bargain prices of which we tell, pertain to all our new goods, but nevertheless it is true. We merely ask you to come to our sale Saturday night. When that's done, we'll do the rest. C. B. ROUTLEY. 2d

Vicious Animals.

The animal kingdom is evidently not reaching very rapidly the millennial standard of docility. We have a Peterborough boy mangled by a monkey, and now comes news of a Kingston boy anticipating the experience of his manhood years and being hen-pecked—a Kingston boy was so badly pecked in the face by a brooding hen that the services of a physician had to be called in. And the Brockville Times reports that a little girl was so viciously attacked and wounded by a collie dog that she would have been killed but for the opportune arrival of the mother. The collie is generally considered the embodimens of kindness and docility. To this might be added the vagaries of a Peterborough wife who belabours her husband on the head with a teapot and an Ashburnham husband who traded off his better-half for a horse.

A Chapter of Bereavements.

A short time ago W. G. Patterson, of Dummer, received the sad intelligence that his brother-in-law, John Wheeler, was drowned on the 12th of March, in the Ohio River, opposite Cincinnati while out rowing in a skiff. The boat was afterward found bottom side up, but the body has not yet been recovered. The news of the accident came as a great shock to his wife and she was taken very ill, and her brother, E. Hamilton Patterson, of Detroit, was telegraphed for and he went down and brought Mrs. Wheeler back with him to Detroit. On arriving there Mr. Patterson was taken ill and died of pneumonia on the 17th of April. The news of this second bereavement was at once telegraphed to his brothers, but owing to recent accident Mr. Patterson, of Dummer, was unable to leave home, and Alexander Patterson, of Otonabee, went to Detroit to attend his brother's funeral and bring his sister home with him. They arrived at his home in Otonabee on the 21st inst. and in scarcely a week Mrs. Wheeler passed away. This triple bereavement is a heavy blow to the two surviving brothers, who have the sympathy of the whole community.—Norwood Register.

Brown Bros'. New Grocery Store.

A store, perfect in all its appointments, commodious, highly lighted by large plate glass front and side windows, two handsome front doors, interior shelving and fittings "up to date," and containing, tastefully arranged on the most modern plan, all kinds of high class groceries, cannot fail to attract hundreds of people to Brown Bros'. fine new establishment on George street. This spirited and pushing firm which has hitherto devoted its attention to both the grocery and liquor business on Hunter street, has decided to engage more actively in both and intend to run two stores in future—the one on Hunter street for the sale of liquors exclusively and the new store on George street for groceries only. Their facilities for carrying on both businesses will be made as practically perfect as is necessary for them to be. They have a good connection with the best houses in Canada and elsewhere. All the finest lines will be bought in large quantities, and the rates which they thus obtain will naturally be of great benefit to their retail customers. In this new grocery store is to be seen a very fine assortment of fresh family groceries, teas, coffees, sugars, fruits, spices, and fancy canned goods, jams, jellies, canned meats, high class pickles, best grade of biscuits, etc., and all so arranged that even a man could not help seeing the articles which he was ordered to purchase. Butter, bacon, ham, cheese, eggs, are all kept in prime condition in improved refrigerators and reservoirs, free from dust and impurities. Upstairs abundant room is provided for storage of reserve stock, and a convenient cellar, kept in A-1 order, furnishes adequate room for similar puposes. In the rear of the store a new office and elevator are located. The interior fittings and general arrangement reflect credit on the good taste and judgment of Brown Bros. and all concerned—carpenters, painters, paperhangers, etc. Mr. Thos. Rutherford skilfully carried out the contract for the carpenter work, and Mr. Ralph Carton excelled in the painting and decorating. Mr. Fred. Cook has executed a very striking and effective sign bearing the firm's name, done in gilt letters sunk below a black ground, and which adorns a prominent spot below the large front plate glass show window. Altogether, this firm's new primeses possess every possible requisite for successfully carrying on the highest class of grocery business.

LACROSSE.

The personnel of the two lacrosse teams which will line up to-morrow at Riverside Park is as follows:—

SHAMROCKS		MILLBROOK
W Rogers	Goal	Carveth
F Boland	Point	L F Clarry
Jos McDonough	Cover point	J Natrass
Jno McDonough	1st defence	J Estleson

H Patterson	1st "	N F Coombs
T McNamara	Out-side home	G Leach
T McMahon	Inside "	C Richards
T McDonough	Field captain	R J Dark

G Temple—Referee.

Tom McDonough, the field captain of the Shamrocks, unfortunately broke his thumb while practicing last night. It is most painful just at present, but it is hardly likely that it will incapacitate him from playing in the match with Millbrook to-morrow.

The Millbrook Reporter says: "The lacrosse boys have been putting in some hard practice this week for their match with Peterborough on Saturday next. They will be handicapped by the absence of three of their best players who will not be able to play, however they expect to make the Shamrocks hustle."

"Mr. Packenham," says the Port Hope Times, "formerly the swiftest man on the Peterborough lacrosse team, is in town to-day. He has severed his connection with the Peterborough lacrosse team, which will be much weakened by his retirement." Ahem!

The Shamrocks will not hold a practice this evening, but will take a rest to be in be in better trim for the game with the Millbrooks to-morrow.

FOOTBALL.

The junior football club of Lakefield has been organized for the coming season with the following officers: President, H. Morrison; vice-president, G. Galvin; captain, S. Ridpath; vice-captain, N. Nicholls; sec.-treas., W. Wagner.

CRICKET.

Mr. G. G. S. Lindsay, the Liberal candidate in West Toronto, should make a good "run," that is, if his election record shall equal his record as a cricketer. He should be good on the "stump," too.

The cricketers were out again yesterday and indulged in a good practice. It is expected that a big crowd will figure on the crease this afternoon as an endeavor will be made to rake up two scratch elevens for a match.

THE MARKSMEN.

The Gun Club held its regular weekly meeting on the Riverside Park yesterday afternoon. Following is the score:—

His many friends congratulate him on his success and hope it is an earnest of his success in the practice of his profession.

The wall papers kept in stock at the Peterborough Bookstore are so pretty and cheap that a customer who buys paper intending to cover only one room, is so delighted that he returns and procures papers for three or four other rooms. MR. R. H. KELLS PROPOSES TO ENLARGE HIS PREMISES.

Although Only a Resident in the Town For Two Years, This Enterprising Young Dry Goods Merchant Finds he Must Have Increased Accommodation.

On account of the gradual growth of his business, Mr. R. H. Kells has found it necessary to enlarge his already commodious store to an extent which will give him about 440 feet more floor room.

Mr. Kells has been in business here only about two years, and coming as he did into a field already well occupied, it speaks highly for his ability as a tradesman when he already finds it necessary to enlarge his store.

The circumstance of the enlargement also is ample proof of the fact that the public soon ascertain where the best values are to be had for the least money and the

at which Mr. Kells turns over his stock has its reward in the flattering patronage which has been accorded him, not alone by the townspeople, but by the whole countryside as well.

The ladies' are proverbially close buyers, they know at a glance the value of any article which is shown them, and when they find a merchant whose goods and the prices at which they are sold, are, according to their idea of what is about right they give their support. This support Mr. Kells now enjoys, having won it through his capability of understanding thoroughly the system of laying in a stock of the best goods to be retailed at a figure which has won for him a steadily growing trade.

In order, then, to accommodate his customers and at the same time allow him to lay in even a larger stock of dry goods, he intends extending the store thirty feet in in the rear. Fifteen feet of the space thus acquired will be filled with additional shelving and counters, and form a part of the store proper while the remaining 15 feet will form an extension to the millinery parlours, which are already

NOTED FOR THEIR COMPLETENESS.

The hallway at the side of the store is to be done away with and the partition dividing it from the store removed. This in itself will make a vast improvement, adding as it will do fully six feet to the width of the salesroom. The already notably large windows will be proportionately increased in size, thus giving Mr. Kells even more of an opportunity to display his goods which are always so tastefully and attractively arranged as to add not a little to the general appearance of this popular centre for those seeking bargains.

The ceiling will be raised a distance of four feet and a huge skylight inserted, thus securing as much additional light on the premises as will cause this to be one of the brightest and pleasantest stores on George street. The cellar will be suitably fitted up as a piling ground for reserve stock, and so excavations will be commenced immediately and it, too, will be run back a distance of 30 feet, as well as the store.

In view of these important alterations which Mr. Kells feels himself compelled to make and as there is no other store available on George street into which he can remove his goods, while the work is going on, the only thing he can do is to reduce the amount of stock which he is carrying. In order to do this, and do it immediately, he proposes to inaugurate a sale of spring and summer goods, which will open the eyes of the people of the town and country as to what a cheap sale really is. It will pay to watch and wait for his announcement.

A PLEASANT EVENING AT THE PARK.

The Band Entertains Thousands of Citizens—Many Classical Selections.

Spring has arrived so swiftly this year that the trees are already in full leaf and vegetation generally is far advanced. As a rule, it is not until the Queen's Birthday that the trees show their wealth of foliage, but this year no one had time to become acquainted with May and love her, before she began flouting her green skirts about and shooting arrows of sunshine through the whispering leaves. In consequence of the warmness of the atmosphere therefore the band was able to make its appearance this year at a much earlier date than in former seasons. Crowds were in the park last evening availing themselves of the opportunity of enjoying a pleasant stroll and at the same time listening to Bandmaster Miller's boys for this season.

As announced before, the following programme was rendered:—

Quick March	"Rebecca Commandery"
Musical sketch	"A Plantation Holiday"
Grand Selection	Rossini
Medley Overture	"Carnivali" Williams
Fantasia	"Linda di Chamouni" Donisetti
Waltz	"Roses from the Ball" Docker

Needless to say that each selection was rendered in the very best possible manner many of them drawing rounds of applause from the pleased audience. Truly our band boys are playing in great form this year.

The light furnished was miserable and it was all the musicians could do to follow the score.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 75c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

DON'T SAVE THE DIME AND THROW AWAY THE DOLLAR. We are below all others in the prices of Hats and we are anxious you should know it. We don't try to make much money in Hats, but we lead in this line, all the same, as a matter of course—just as a horse comes before a cart.

IN CHILDREN'S HATS we offer a great choice in many shapely novelties, starting as low as 10c. and ending at 75c. We're doing the work we like best of all—saving you money.

Sock It To 'em.

Clean, neat Socks look well under a new Hat. We have a big choice for you at our Hosiery counter, and can sell you full fashioned CASHMERE HOSE 6 pairs for a dollar—famous socks. These goods are our own direct importations, or we never could sell them at this figure. They are double heeled and toed, and will fit any man faultlessly who happens to be well "heeled" enough to have a twenty-cent piece in his trouserloons pockets. Only five pairs at a time to a customer, and no repeaters (unless Jimmy Tully happens to be round.)

In our famous Furnishings Department, of course we know you will appreciate our nobby Neckwear, Shirts and Underwear. We're disposed to feel half ashamed of the prices, but you'll be proud of the garments.

A Young Men's Saturday.

ALL DAY SATURDAY and SATURDAY NIGHT up to 11 o'clock, we will give young men a TWENTY PER CENT. REDUCTION off all our $5, $6, $7, $8, $9, and $10 Suits. The reason we can make this offer is that the depression in the money market has tied up several manufacturers of Clothing, and we could not help taking advantage of acceptionally low offers for YOUNG MEN'S SUITS. Gentlemen, this is your chance. It will pay you to pick your own pocket to get your pick of these Suits.

BRAVE LOVE.

He'd nothing but his violin,
I'd nothing but my song,
But we were wed when skies were blue
And summer days were long.
And when we rested by the hedge,
The robins came and told
How they had dared to woo and win,
When early spring was cold.
We sometimes supped on dewberries,
Or slept among the hay,
But oft the farmers' wives at eve
Came out to hear us play
The rare old tunes—the dear old tunes—
We could not starve for long,
While my man had his violin,
And I my sweet old love song.

The world has aye gone well with us,
Old man, since we were one—
Our homeless wanderings down the lanes—
It long ago was done.
But those who wait for gold or gear,
For houses and for kine,
Till youth's sweet spring grow brown and sere
And love and beauty tine,
Will never know the joy of hearts
That met without a fear
When you had but your violin,
And I a song, my dear.

THE FLAYED HAND.

One evening about eight months ago I met with some college comrades at the lodgings of our friend Louis R. We drank punch and smoked, talked of literature and art, and made jokes like any other company of young men. Suddenly the door flew open, and one who had been my friend since boyhood burst in like a hurricane.

"Guess where I come from?" he cried.

"I bet on the Mabille," responded one.

"No," said another, "yon are too gay; you come from borrowing money, from burying a rich uncle, or from pawning your watch." "You are getting sober," cried a third, "and, as you scented the punch in Louis's room, you came up here to get drunk again,"

"You are all wrong," he replied. "I come from P., in Normandy, where I have spent eight days, and whence I have brought one of my friends, a great criminal, whom I ask permission to present to you."

With these words he drew from his pocket a long, black hand, from which the skin had been stripped. It had been severed at the wrist. Its dry and shrivelled shape, and the narrow, yellowed nails still clinging to the fingers, made it frightful to look upon. The muscles which showed that its first owner had been possessed of great strength, were bound in place by a strip of parchment like skin.

"Just fancy," said my friend, "the other day they sold the effects of an old sorcerer, recently deceased, well-known in all the country. Every Saturday night he used to go to witch gatherings on a broomstick; he practised the white magic and the black, gave blue milk to the cows, and made them wear tails like that of the companion of Saint Anthony. The old scoundrel always had a deep affection for this hand, which, he said, was that of a celebrated criminal, executed in 1736 for having thrown his lawful wife head first into a well—for which I do not blame him—and then hanging in the belfry the priest who had married him. After this double exploit he went away, and, during his subsequent career, which was brief but exciting, he robbed twelve travelers, smoked a score of monks in their monastery, and made a seraglio of a convent."

"But what are you going to do with this horror?" we cried.

"Eh! parbleu! I will make it the handle to my door-bell and frighten my creditors."

"My friend," said Henry Smith, a big, phlegmatic Englishman, "I believe that this hand is only a kind of Indian meat, preserved by a new process: I advise you to make bouillon of it."

"Rail not, messieurs," said, with the utmost sang froid, a medical student who was three quarters drunk, "but if you follow my advice, Pierre, you will give this piece of human debris Christian burial, for fear lest its owner should come to redemand it. Then, too, this hand has acquired some bad habits, for you know the proverb, 'Who has killed will kill.'"

"And who has drunk will drink," replied the host as he poured out a big glass of punch for the sudent, who emptied it at a draught and slid dead drunk under the table. His sudden dropping out of the company was greeted with a burst of laughter, and Pierre raising his glass and saluting the hand, cried:

"I drink to the next visit of thy master."

Then the conversation turned upon other subjects, and shortly afterwards each returned to his lodgings.

* * * * *

About 2 o'clock the next day, as I was passing Pierre's door, I entered and found him reading and smoking.

"Well, how goes it?" said I. "Very well," he responded. "And your hand?" "My hand! Did you not see it on the bell-pull? I put it there when I returned home last night. But, apropos of this, what do you think? Some idiot, doubtless to play a stupid joke on my, came ringing at my door towards midnight. I demanded who was there, but as no one replied, I went back to bed again, and to sleep."

At this moment the door opened and the landlord, a fat and extremely impertinent person, entered without saluting us.

"Sir," said he, "I pray you to take away immediately that carrion which you have hung to your bell-pull. Unless you do this I shall be compelled to ask you to leave."

"Sir," responded Pierre, with much gravity, "you insult a hand which does not merit it. Know you that it belonged to a man of high breeding!"

The landlord turned on his heel and made his exit, without speaking. Pierre followed him, detached the hand and affixed it to the bell cord hanging in his alcove.

"That is better," he said. "This hand, like the 'Brother, all must die,' of the Trappists, will give my thoughts a serious turn every night before I sleep."

At the end of an hour I left him and returned to my own apartment.

I slept badly the following night. I was nervous and agitated, and several times awoke with a start. Once I imagined, even, that a man had broken into my room, and I sprang up and searched the closets and under the bed. Towards six o'clock in the morning I was commencing to doze at last, when a loud knocking at my door made me jump from my couch. It was my friend Pierre's servant, half-dressed, pale and trembling.

"Ah, sir!" cried he, sobbing, "my poor master. Some one has murdered him."

I dressed myself hastily and ran to Pierre's lodgings. The house was full of people disputing together, and everything was in a commotion. Every one was talking at the same time, recounting and commenting on the occurrence in all sorts of ways. With great difficulty I reached the bedroom, made myself known to those guarding the door and was permitted to enter. Four agents of police were standing in the middle of the apartment, pencils in hand, examining every detail, conferring in low voices and writing from time to time in their note books. Two doctors were in consultation by the bed on which lay the unconscious form of Pierre. He was not dead, but his face was fixed in an expression of the most awful terror. His eyes were open their widest, and the dilated pupils seemed to regard fixedly, with unspeakable horror, something unknown and frightful. His hands were clenched. I raised the quilt, which covered his body from the chin downward, and saw on his neck, deeply sunk in the flesh, the marks of fingers. Some drops of blood spotted his shirt. At that moment one thing struck me. I chanced to notice that the shrivelled hand was no longer attached to the bell cord. The doctors had doubtless removed it to avoid the comments of those entering the chamber where the wounded man lay, because the appearance of this hand was indeed frightful. I did not inquire what had become of it.

I now clip from a newspaper of the next day the story of the crime with all the details that the police were able to procure.

"A frightful attempt was made yesterday on the life of yonng M. Pierre B, student, who belongs to one of the best families in Normandy. He returned home about 10 o'clock in the evening, and excused his valet, Bouvin, from further attendance upon him, saying that he felt fatigued and was going to bed. Towards midnight Bouvin was suddenly awakened by the furious ringing of his master's bell. He was afraid, and lighted a lamp and waited. The bell was silent about a minute, then rang again with such vehemence that the domestic, mad with fright, flew from his room to awaken the concierge, who ran to summon the police, and, at the end of about fifteen minutes, two policemen forced open the door. A horrible sight met their eyes. The furniture was overturned, giving evidence of a fearful struggle between the victim and his assailant. In the middle of the room, upon his back, his body rigid, with livid face and frightfully dilated eyes, lay, motionless, young Pierre B., bearing upon his neck the deep imprints of five fingers. Dr. Bourdean was called immediately, and his report says that the aggressor must have been possessed of prodigious strength and have had an extraordinarily thin and sinewy hand, because the fingers left in the flesh of the victim five holes like those from a pistol ball, and had penetrated until they almost met. There is no clue to the motive of the crime or to its perpetrator. The police are making a thorough investigation."

The following appeared in the same newspaper next day:

"M. Pierre B., the victim of the frightful assault of which we published an account yesterday, has regained consciousness after two hours of the most assiduous care by Dr. Bourdean. His life is not in danger, but it is strongly feared that he has lost his reason. No trace has been found of his assailant."

My poor friend was indeed insane. For seven months I visited him daily at the hospital where we had placed him, but he did not recover the light of reason. In his delirium strange words escaped him, and, like all madmen, he had one fixed idea: he believed himself continually pursued by a spectre. One day they came for me in haste, saying he was worse, and when I arrived I found him dying. For two hours he remained very calm, then, suddenly, rising from his bed in spite of our efforts, he cried, waving his arms as if a prey to the most awful terror: "Take it away! Take it away! It strangles me! Help! Help!" Twice he made the circuit of the room, uttering horrible screams, then fell face downward, dead.

* * * * *

As he was an orphan I was charged to take his body to the little village of P. in Normandy, where his parents were buried. It was the place from which he had arrived the evening he found us drinking punch in Louis R.'s room, when he had presented to us the flayed hand. His body was inclosed in a leaden coffin, and four days afterwards I walked sadly beside the old cure, who had given him his first lessons, to the little cemetery where they dug his grave. It was a beautiful day, and sunshine from a cloudless sky flooded the earth. Birds sang from the blackberry bushes where many a time when we were children we had stolen to eat the fruit. Again I saw Pierre and myself creeping along behind the hedge and slipping through the gap that we knew so well, down at the end of the little plot where they bury the poor. Again we would return to the house with cheeks and lips black with the juice of the berries we had eaten. I looked at the bushes; they were covered with fruit; mechanically I picked some and bore it to my mouth. The cure had opened his breviary, and was muttering his prayers in a low voice. I heard at the end of the walk the spades of the grave-diggers who were opening the tomb. Suddenly they called out, the cure closed his book, and we went to see what they wished of us. They had found a coffin; in digging a stroke of the pickaxe had started the cover, and we perceived within a skeleton of unusual stature, lying on its back, its hollow eyes seeming yet to menace and defy us. I was troubled, I know not why, and almost afraid.

"Hold!" cried one of the men. "look there! One of the rascal's hands has been severed at the wrist. Ah, here it is!" and he picked up from beside the body a huge withered hand, and held it out to us.

"See," cried the other laughing, "see how he glares at you, as if he would spring at your throat to make you give him back his hand,"

"Go," said the cure, "leave the dead in peace, and close the coffin. We will make poor Pierre's grave elsewhere."

The next day all was finished, and I returned to Paris, after having left fifty francs with the old cure for masses to be said for the repose of the soul of him whose sepulchre we had troubled.

They Die Hard.

It is now about sixty years since Thomas Babbington Macaulay wrote again and again that the house of lords seemed to be on its last legs. He used a longer and more dignified phrase, but that is its substance when translated into the vernacular. Apparently his conviction then was as strong as that of any of those who now hope for the abolition of the lords. To be sure, the circumstances have changed greatly, but the lords die so hard that this little historical reminiscence is not without its value now that the same cry is heard again and when some think the consummation near at hand.—Hartford Courant.

A Little Daughter

Of a Church of England minister cured of a distressing rash, by Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Mr. RICHARD BIRNIE, the well-known Druggist, 207 McGill st., Montreal, P. Q., says:

I have sold Ayer's Family Medicines for 40 years, and have heard nothing but good said of them. I know of many performed by Ayer's Sarsaparilla, one in particular being that of a little daughter of a Church of England minister. The child was literally covered from head to foot with a red and exceedingly troublesome rash, from which she had suffered for two or three years, in spite of the best medical treatment available. Her father was in great distress about the case, and, at my recommendation, at last began to administer Ayer's Sarsaparilla, two bottles of which effected a complete cure, much to her relief and her father's delight. I am sure, were he here to-day, he would testify in the strongest terms as to the merits of

Wonderful Cures

ART OF HORSESHOEING.

DAVID ROBERGE, WHO SHOES NANCY HANKS, TELLS THE PROPER WAY.

The Centre of Gravity of the Hoof of a Horse—Immense Fortunes Thrown Away Because Horse-Owners and Blacksmiths Are Ignorant.

The art of horseshoeing is, first of all, to so attach the shoe to the hoof as to prevent the latter from wearing away. This should be clearly understood before considering any influence the blacksmith may or may not have in preventing any ailment in a horse's hoof.

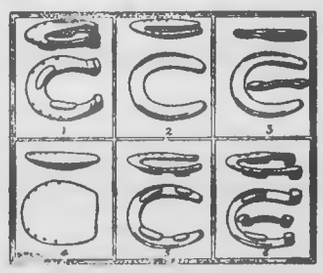
It should be borne in mind first of all that the secret of treating the horse's foot lies in the fact that, unlike that of man and many other familiar animals, it is constantly changing its form. There is a constant growth of the hoof. Now, the hoof being merely a protection for the real foot or inner foot bone, it follows that the base of the foot bone may rest properly on its centre of gravity at one time but may rest outside of its centre of gravity at another.

It is very much like a person putting a thimble on his or her finger. If he puts it on close and tight the thimble will be an aid or a supporter. But if the finger will not extend to the end of the thimble there will be a breaking or a loosening somewhere. Now, a horse's shoe is very much like a thimble, and although it may be in position on the hoof when first put on, it is likely to get out of position with the growth of the hoof. To this fact is due the extent and nature of many foot ailments in the horse.

It is ordinarily allowed that the horse should be shod about once a month. But naturally if the shoe is in its right place at the beginning of that month how are we to be sure that it will be in place at the end of the month?

The fact is that the tendons in a horse's limbs being designed to control the action of the hoof are so adjusted, like pulleys or ropes, if one may use the comparison, that when they are not properly balanced by the centre of gravity of the hoof there is sure to be some disarrangement or other. That is, the weight of the animal, instead of being evenly distributed throughout the anatomy of the leg, is thrown all on one tendon or part as a result of the unbalancing of weight due to uneven shoes. This fact explains many obscure ailments of the horse's hoof.

It would surprise most persons to be told of the immense sums of money lost every



1. Fore Calk Shoe to prevent interfering.
2. Rocking Shoe (allows use of leg tendons in running and freedom of muscular movement in leg).
3. Shoe to prevent interfering (for hind foot).
4. Self-Balancing Shoe (enables horse to control sensitive hoof).
5. Fore Calk Rocking Shoe.
6. Spavin Shoe.

year through horses going lame. The amount in dollars would equal a colossal fortune. Now, every one of the horses, or at any rate, three out of every four, goes lame before its time. To-day there are thousands of horses useless because they are lame, and the work of the blacksmith is responsible in a great measure for this. The shoes are all put on so as to throw the tendons out of place. If the reader will look at the accompanying illustration of hoof formations, he will get a better idea of the state of the case than any amount of words could give him.

Therefore, the countless ills and lamenesses from which a horse suffers in its limbs are due to the way in which it is shod. If you have a horse lame it is because its shoes do the damage, in all probality. In the average blacksmith shop a man brings in his horse. The smith turns the animal over to a youth who knows no more about the horse than the horse knows about him. The blacksmith says: "Take down that hoof," and the apprentice cuts away the hoof, the shoe is burned into place and nailed on. The result is, as a rule, some malformation.

That is, the tendons are thrown out of gear because, being like a set of pulleys, they no longer balance. The weight and the labor are all thrown on one set of tendons. The principle is, then, to shoe alike feet made alike, but to shoe differently feet formed differently.

It matters not what names are given to be various lamenesses which are so common among horses. They all spring from one cause, the heedlessness of shoeing to the form of the foot. The veterinary surgeons, I know, give all sorts of medicines and liniments, but they do not reach the evil. It is all in the shoeing.

As for the name of the evils, they are legion. Some are called spavin, others ringbone, splint, knuckle curb, bowed tendons, navicular disease, founder, laminenetis, contraction, thrust quarter or toe crack, grogrenes, stumbling and what not. But they all have the same origin.

Now, it stands to reason that the remedy is not in bandages or liniments, but in removing the cause. Shoe the horse properly. I will venture to say that if the high-priced horses now idle and useless were only shod properly and their limbs and tendons done justice to they would immediately be well. I advise all horse-owners to throw away their medicines and have a talk with their blacksmiths.

Yet the blacksmiths must be considered outsiders in this matter from one point of view. Their function is in the majority of cases to execute orders. And these orders are often most contradictory. One owner wants his horse with a hoof practically pared off while another will not allow it to be touched for anything that could be offered him. The blacksmiths are always ready to do as they are told. But there is never any common principle laid down for them to go by.

Now for the shoeing. How is it to be done? Herewith are some diagrams of shoe shapes. Any intelligent man can see that they are designed to restore the functions of nature by undoing bad work in shoeing or in growth. Some are for overweighted fetlocks. Others are to regulate the ankle movement. The idea in all is to help nature along.

The fact is that there is no reason why a man should not be able to tell from the mere way in which a horse stands exactly what his trouble is. It is just as it is with man. If we put uneven soles to our feet and stand all on the instep or on the heel there is trouble, and the trouble is told by the way we stand. Women are laughed at for having high heels to their slippers. Now, horses are suffering from a trouble that is very much like the high heels of the ladies.

So let every horse-owner who has an animal that suffers from a complaint baffling all the remedies conclude that it is all in the shoeing. The cure is very easy. Find out what part of the hoof is unevenly balanced, as shown by the diagrams herewith. Then remedy it by seeing that the weight is evenly distributed and that the tendons have equal work to perform.

DAVID ROBERGE.

Pythons Shedding Their Skin.

The two large pythons which were imported from India for the Philadelphia Zoological Garden have made themselves at home in their quarters. They are said to be the largest reptiles in this country, and naturally attract considerable attention. They had only been here two weeks when both snakes underwent a change. They became droopy and it was seen that they began to shed their skins. The manner in which the snakes accomplished the greater part of the job is described as wonderful. The largest python measures sixteen feet, and the other twelve. They are mates, and have mouths like cellar-doors, they are filled with terrible fangs. The big snake, which had eaten nothing for three weeks because he was shedding his coat, got a move on himself and climbed one of the tall trees and coiled all around the limbs. Then he rubbed his head and neck violently against the branches in every direction, and gradually loosened his old cuticle from around his head, mouth and neck. In the meantime the other snake was not idle. It, too, coiled around the tree, and, raising its head, took hold of its big brother's neck, and by careful manipulation loosened the skin from the head and neck for about a foot down. Then it took hold of the loosened skin, and the keeper and spectators who were watching the proceedings saw what was going to happen. With its head and neck free the big snake could help in the shedding during the operation, and it twisted around the tree near the top and began to pull away from the smaller snake at top speed. Inch by inch the old skin was released, and the bright color of the new cuticle came in view. It took nearly an hour to get about half of the body free from the old covering, and then both snakes rested. The old skin was pulled back just as one would pull a glove inside out, and gave the reptile a peculiar appearance. When the snakes resumed their job they employed different tactics. The larger snake climbed higher, and the other made itself fast lower down the tree. The smaller one took hold of the skin and pulled for all it was worth. All of the covering with the exception of about two feet from the big snake's tail was loose. Then a most wonderful thing happened. The big snake's head was at the top of the tree, and he had not been paying much attention to the goings on at the other end of his body. When the smaller snake stopped pulling the big one looked down and saw that something was wrong. His eyes glistened, and reaching down he grabbed a mouthful of his own covering and proceeded to finish the job. It was done with dispatch and ease. The big snake seemed proud of his new suit and wriggled all around the case and admired himself for some time. Then to the astonishment of the watchers the smaller snake climbed the tree and went through the same performance, assisted by the larger one. After both reptiles were free from the old skins they made a meal of them and each drank about a gallon of water to wash down the repast. The keepers say that it is no unusual thing for small snakes to get rid of their old skins in this way, but they never heard of large snakes like the python or boa doing it.

The Unfailing Success of Dodd's Kidney Pills Induces Fradulent Imitators to Attempt to Pass Worthless Remedies on the Public.

TORONTO, May 7.—This appears to be an age of fakes and frauds. It seems impossible for any new idea or valuable invention to be made known without a host of imitators trying to foist their worthless goods on an unsuspecting public in the hope of making an unmerited profit out of their worthless ideas. The unequalled success of Dodd's Kidney Pills in curing all forms of kidney disease, has led to the introduction of many cheap and base imitations that are worse than valueless. Dodd's was the first kidney remedy ever offered in pill form. For their own safety, purchasers should buy none but Dodd's Kidney Pills. Sold in large boxes: price, fifty cents per box or six boxes for $2.50. To be had of all dealers.

ROSEBERY SUSTAINED

Despite Predicted Defeat the Budget is Well Supported.

PARNELLITES VOTE AGAINST IT

Saunders, Radical, Joins the Unionists, While Three Liberals Abstain From Voting—Rosebery's Triumph Hailed by Enthusiastic Applause.

LONDON, May 11.—The debate on the budget bill in the Commons was begun before a well filled house. The heavy oratorical artillery was brought out by Arthur Balfour, leader of the Unionists. Whether good or bad he said the budget was wholly inconsistent with the traditions of Liberal finance. It was not a national but a class budget. In it the government assailed certain interests to propitiate others. They dealt unjustly with brewers and publicans on the fallacious assumption that excessive profits justified excessive taxation. The graduated income tax might be good in principle but the method of application proposed by the government directly menaced trade and individual interests. Mr. Balfour said he was sure the public had not seen the absurdity of the scheme the greatest blot on which was the absurd pretension of the author that he had done away with the existing anomalies of taxation.

Sir William Harcourt, Chancellor of the Exchequer, defended his budget. The motion to reject the bill, he said, represented the land and liquor interests. The Opposition had contended that beer and spirituous liquors could not bear the additional taxation. Would they then favor taxing tea, sugar and grain or only incomes? In referring to Mr. Balfour's strictures on the new state duties and the income tax, Sir William Harcourt quoted the recommendations of John Stuart Mill and Adan Smith in support of graduation in taxation. Common sense, he said, found in such graduation a just and expedient system. Therein lay the fundamental principle of liberal finance as now submitted to the House. If the budget should be rejected the principle must survive for it was the principle of justice. He challenged the vote of the House on this principle and he was prepared when the time should come to ask the country's verdict.

When Sir William closed his speech the House was packed. The division was made slowly as the members went into the lobbies with painful deliberation. The tellers announced that 308 members had voted for the second reading and 294 against it. When the Speaker read these figures to the House the supporters of the Government burst into roaring cheers. The Unionists replied with equal vigor.

In the division all the Parnellites and William Saunders, Radical, joined the Unionists. Mark Beaufroy, Sydney Evershed and William McEwan, all Liberals, abstained from voting. Robert T. Reid, who had to stand again after his elevation to the solicitor-generalship, was re-elected yesterday, without opposition, to represent Dumfries, but he was unable to take his seat in time to vote.

A NEW POLITICAL DODGE.

A New Fangled Combine for Campaign Purposes.

The local P.P.A., or more properly, "Amorites," held a meeting on Monday night for the purpose of considering their relations to the coming provincial election contest. After talking matters over it was decided to adjourn till this (Friday) evening when, after consultation, in the meantime, with a few local unattached politicians who have a little game of their own that needs help to work out, a decision as to the course to be pursued, will be arrived at, which decision will be submitted to another meeting on Monday night next. The members of the P.P.A. think the only way in which they can defeat the candidate of the Mowat Government in this riding, is to secure a third candidate in the person of some Liberal, who might consent to carry their banner, and by the support of a local coterie of politicans, who cannot secure the end they aim at through the regular candidate of the Conservative party. The discussion in the camp of the "Amorites" on Monday night brought out the feeling which is also shared by the political coterie, before mentioned, that the united support of the P. P. A. would not be as beneficial to Mr. Winch as a third candidate in the person of a Liberal; in which latter event the "Amorites" could carry out their programme of voting for Mr. Winch and permitting the third candidate to secure, as they hope, a portion of the Liberal vote and thus withdraw it from the Liberal candidate. The members of the "Amorites", being largely Conservatives, have been in consultation with the political wire-pullers to devise some such a scheme as that outlined, to strengthen Mr. Winch's candidature, but such efforts will be as futile and fruitless as the so-called "Equal Rights" movement in the last campaign. The intelligent electors of West Peterborough know a political fake when they see it and will not be deceived by an old dodge in a new dress.

THE BUCHANAN CASE.

Equal to a Resurrection—Almost Helpless from Kidney Disease—A Burden to Himself and His Friends—Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Him.

Chatham, April 30.—The story of Sherman Buchanan, living near Leamington, is worthy of notice. He says he was almost helpless, bloated and a wreck with kidney disease. His digestive organs were powerless and he was rapidly becoming a burden to himself and his friends. Naturally he lost all hopes of recovery, but a happy thought suggested Dodd's Kidney Pills, and these cured him. Dodd's was the first Kidney remedy in pill form ever offered the public. Its wonderful success in curing all forms of kidney disease has led to the introduction of numerous cheap and worthless imitations. Purchasers, for their own safety, should insist on getting Dodd's Kidney Pills. Sold in large boxes; price, fifty cents, or six boxes for $2.56. To be had of all dealers.

A FLOURISHING ORGANIZATION.

The Good Templars Hold Another of Their Popular Concerts Last Evening—It was Well Patronized.

During the winter months the members of City lodge, I.O.G.T., have presented the public with several interesting and profitable literary and musical entertainments and the one held last evening was fully equal to any of its predecessors. Notwithstanding the many counter attractions, the lodge rooms at Unity Hall, George street, were well filled with and interested and appreciative audience. The chair was very acceptably filled by Mr. Geo. W. Powell, who expressed pleasure at being able to attend and occupy the position he held and at seeing so many present. Although he was not a member of the lodge, he had been a life-long temperance man and was always pleased to do what he could to help the cause. He very pleasingly introduced the different numbers on the programme interspersing them with short terse remarks.

The Rev. W. R. Young, B. A., pastor of the George street Methodist church, was present and gave a short practical temperance address, encouraging the members of the lodge in their work of moral reform, and advising those who had not yet become members to unite themselves with the lodge and help drive the vile traffic from our land. The programme which was exceptionally well rendered and listened to throughout with marked attention, was as follows:—

Hymn—"All Hail the Power of Jesus Name"
Prayer	Jas Stubbs, C T
Chorus	City lodge choir
Solo	Miss Ethel Strain
Dialogue	Three boys
Instrumental	Mr Smith
Reading	Mrs Stubbs
Chorus	Choir
Address	Rev W R Young, B A
Reading	Miss Emmerson
Song	Mr T Begley
Chorus	Choir
Reading	Mr W Barrie
Dialogue	Two boys

God Save the Queen.

At the close of the programme refreshments were served by the ladies of the lodge. A vote of thanks was tendered the chairman and all who assisted in the evening's entertainment and the benediction by the Rev. Mr. Young brought a very enjoyable meeting to a close.

SPURIOUS CHEESE.

"Margarine" or "Filled Cheese" Condemned by the London Produce Exchange.

The following circular has been issued by the cheese sub committee of the Home and Foreign Produce Exchange of London, England, under date of April 20th:

DEAR SIR,—The attention of the Committee has been called to the increasing importation of spurious cheese—otherwise "margarine," or "filled cheese"—chiefly from Germany and the United States, in edam, gouda, and cheddar shapes.

We think it right to seriously warn the trade against this article for the following reasons:

It is certainly being sold to the public as genuine, and is, therefore, an offence against the law, and we are advised that prosecutions are likely to be immediately instituted. As the importers decline giving any guarantee, the penalties will fall on the wholesale and retail dealers.

Further, this compound is calculated to greatly injure the business in sound and wholesome cheese. It really is not cheese at all, as the added fat merely disguises the poverty of the curd, and rapidly becomes itself rancid and offensive.

The consumers will be prejudiced against cheese as an article of food, as the imitation, apart from analysis, is difficult of detection from its outward appearance.

We would, therefore, urge all interested not to countenance this traffic, and to be careful to insist upon having guarantees of purity in case of doubtful offers. I am, dear sir,

Yours faithfully,
C. J. HIGGINS,
Secretary.

(By Order of the Cheese Sub-Committee.)

It must have been very gratifying to the proprietors of Ayer's Sarsaparilla when the World's Fair opened, to learn that their popular blood purifier was the only preparation of the kind admitted to the Fair. Yet such was the fact. Out of all the many blood medicines advertised so largely in America, Ayer's was the only Sarsaparilla allowed to be placed on exhibition.

A THREATENED INVASION.

A Picnic Party 5,000 strong of C. P. R. Employees Wants to Come to Peterborough.

Mr. Alf. Kirkpatrick, of the C. P. R., was in town this morning making if some arrangements could not be made for the holding of the annual picnic of the railway employees in Peterborough, on or about the 27th of June. Last year the picnic was held at Smith's Falls and over 3,000 were present. That point, however, is a little too far East and if any inducements are offered, the officials would like to make Peterborough the objective point for the picnic this year. Excursions would be run from every point along the line between Toronto and Montreal, and doubtless considering the accessibility of Peterborough, fully 5,000 people would be brought into town during the day.

All the officials ask is that the employees and their children be provided with some sport in the way of amusement and the merchants in town will be canvassed this evening and to-morrow to see what encouragement they will give the scheme in the way of offering prizes in the different events which would be on the programme of sports.

Mr. W. B. Bamford, the local agent, is anxious to have the picnic held here this year and is using all his influence in that direction. Mr. T. E. Bradburn, too, is interesting himself in the idea and a big effort will be made to hold out sufficient inducements to persuade this monster picnic to come to the Plate Glass City this year.

RAILWAY RUMBLINGS.

Newsy Notes from the Whirling Wheels At Home and Abroad.

Assistant Superintendent Webster, of the G.T.R., was in town yesterday and left again during the evening. The object of his visit was to confer with Station Master Hayden as to the advisability of increasing the accommodation for the transmission of freights to and from the town. Yesterday the rush of freight was such as to necessitate the running of two special freights to Belleville. The proposition of appointing a permanent yardmaster for Peterborough was also discussed.

Twenty-two cars of tan bark from the north were shipped throught to Boston yesterday per G.T.R. The bark was so neatly stowed on the special cars built for the purpose, that it resembled wood more than anything else.

The G.T.R. station has just undergone a thorough cleansing inside and out.

G.T.R. Claim Agent McLeod was in Lakefield and Peterborough yesterday looking up lost freight. He left for Montreal last night.

RIVER AND LAKE RIPLETS.

From Our Own Correspondent.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT

Motion for Papers in Connection With the "Hard Pan" Case.

DISCUSSING THE FREE LIST

Free Iron and Steel for Manufacturers of Agricultural Implements—Flax on the Free List—Private and Government Bills—Capital Notes.

OTTAWA, May 12.—In the House yesterday Sir John Thompson said there had been a desire evinced on the part of the House to have the papers with reference to the hard pan cases. There was a motion on the paper which would cover the case. He was sorry Mr. Fraser was not present, but in his absence, with the permission of the House, he would move for all the reports, papers and orders relating to the hard pan cases, and also the findings of the judge of the Exchequer Court respecting these claims. The motion passed.

The House then went into Committee of Ways and Means to further consider the free list.

Sir Richard Cartwright asked if the Government intended allowing implement manufacturers to get their iron and steel free?

Hon. Mr. Foster said that the Government had not reached a decision upon this point as yet. The question had not even been discussed.

Mr. Sutherland asked that sheets and angles for windmills should be allowed in free. They were not manufactured in Canada.

Hon. Mr. Foster asked Mr. Sutherland to furnish him with further information on the subject.

Mr. Casey asked that iron and steel used in the manufacture of agricultural implements should be placed upon the free list.

Mr. Paterson asked what amount of protection manufacturers of implements had.

Hon. Mr. Foster said they had a fair protection.

Sir Richard Cartwright stated that in his opinion manufacturers of implements were not protected at all. He said they were compelled to pay more duty on their iron and steel than they were allowed protection on their implements, and that, therefore, as a matter of fact, they were not protected by the tariff.

Hon. Mr. Wallace produced figures to show that if Canadian manufacturers of implements paid duty on all their raw material used in manufacturing, which they did not, they would still have a protection of $13 upon every machine.

Hon. Mr. Mills made a strong plea for more protection for the implement manufacturers. He said that before the duty was reduced Canadian implements were exported in large quantities to Germany and other foreign countries. Since then this export trade had fallen off.

Hon. Mr. Foster said there never was a time in the history of Canada when so many Canadian implements were exported as last year.

Mr. Davin, Dr. Sproule and Mr. Paterson spoke.

Mr. Martin did not agree with the policy of the Government in taking machinery from the United States upon a uniform scale. A single machine coming from the United States was valued by our customs at $100 and charged 20 per cent. duty at that valuation. In many cases the machine might not be worth more than $55.

Mr. Haslam said that while the Government afforded $20 protection on each machine to the manufacturer, it also afforded the farmer an equivalent protection on butter. If a farmer invested $100 in butter he was protected by a 20 per cent. duty, and therefore he (Mr. Haslam) could not see why the farmers should complain.

The item was passed.

Resin oil was placed on the free list.

Flax was also on the free list.

Mr. Bennett asked if iron and steel brims, sheets, plates, angles and knees were to be free for wooden ships as well as for iron, steel or composite ships.

Hon. Mr. Foster said that the Government was considering that point, but had not arrived at a conclusion as yet.

The item of sugar not above number 16 Dutch standard was allowed to stand over for further consideration.

The following private bills were read a third time:

Mr. Davis—Respecting the Calgary Irrigation Company.

Mr. Henderson—Respecting the Guelph Junction Railway.

Mr. Ross (Lisgar)—Respecting the Medicine Hat Railway & Coal Company.

Mr. Baker—Respecting the Atlantic & Northwest Railway Company.

Mr. McKay's bill to incorporate the Welland Power & Supply Canal Company (limited) was passed through the committee stage and stands for a third reading.

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper's bill to amend the Seamen's Act was read a third time.

These were read a second time:

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper—To amend the Harbor Masters' Act.

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper—Respecting lighthouses, buoys and beacons and Sable Island.

Sir John Thompson—To amend the Acts respecting the harbor of Picton, N.S.

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper's bill respecting public harbors was passed in committee.

Capital Notes.

Mayor Cox has been requested to sign, on behalf of the city, an application to the Dominion Parliament for the sum of $250,000 as a grant to the building of the inter-provincial bridge. The mayor did so, feeling certain that the council would support him in the action.

The E. B. Eddy Manufacturing Company has decided to convert two of their present wood mills into another paper mill and a paper bag factory. They also propose to erect a one-story stone storehouse and one-story pail factory. The stone house and pail factory will be about 60 feet wide and 450 feet long.

The legal charges of D. O'Connor against the Government were investigated in the Public Accounts Committee yesterday. Mr. O'Connor was called and read the evidence in what is known as the "Hard Pan" cases to the Exchequer Court by the Department of Railways and Canals. It turned out from this reference and the explanation of Mr. O'Connor that when the cases were first referred to the Exchequer Court by the department, Justice Burbidge held that he had no jurisdiction to try the cases, as they did not come under the statute. In consequence of this the cases were referred by Justice Burbidge to a special commission.

Arbor Day was celebrated on a grand scale at the Normal and Model schools. The attendance of their Excellencies, Lord and Lady Aberdeen, added to the occasion. A very choice musical and literary programme was first gone through in the convocation hall. On entering the hall the students gave a warm reception to their Excellencies. Dr. McCabe gave a brief address of welcome on behalf of the students. His Excellency Lord Aberdeen gave a very appropriate and interesting address on tree planting. After the entertainment the vice-regal party and students adjourned to the school grounds where the usual number of trees were planted by the students.

ANDREWS NOT GUILTY.

The "Doctor" and His Wife Acquitted of Murder by the Jury.

TORONTO, May 12.—The jury in the assize court yesterday returned a verdict of "not guilty" in the case of Ransome Andrews and his wife, Alice.

Justice Meredith, in his charge to the jury, reviewed the evidence, and put in a forcible manner the special points which the jury would have to consider. The special points were: Did Andrews receive the deceased for an unlawful purpose? Was it reasonable that $15 was paid for lying in, or did it seem like the price of abortion? They must bear in mind Doc Andrews' story that deceased herself had done an act to bring on a miscarriage? Was it likelier that a dreadful crime of that character could be committed by an inexperienced young woman than by the head and hand of an old man? Was the manner in which the girl was removed from the Andrews' house consistent with the theory of the defence? If the defence was to be believed they must unhesitatingly acquit the prisoners.

In conclusion, the judge asked the jury to lay aside all they had ever heard about the case, apart from the evidence, and all preconceived ideas. The charge was said by a Queen's counsel to be one of the best ever delivered.

Mr. Riddell objected to some points in the charge, and after some discussion the jury was brought back and points in the charge elaborated.

The jury's verdict of "Not guilty" was received amid great excitement in the court. The prisoners burst into tears on hearing their innocence declared. They are not yet free, however, the county crown attorney having other charges to prefer against Andrews.

CANADA'S CATTLE DISEASED.

Governor Waite of Colorado Expresses His Opinion.

DENVER, Col., May 12.—Governor Waite has written Colorado's representatives in Congress on the proposed attempt to secure the abrogation or modification of the regulations now in force by which cattle imported into Great Britain from the United States are required to be slaughtered at the port of entry. He said it will probably not be possible to abrogate the rule as applied to the United States and Canada, because pleuro-pneumonia actually prevails in Canada and in the Eastern and Southern States. The disease is unknown, however, in the Rocky Mountain States, and this is a good reason why the rule should be modified as regards Rocky Mountain cattle.

IN BLACK AND GREY.

A Breach of Promise Suit at Ottawa That Promises Some Interest.

OTTAWA, May 12.—A writ has been filed at the court house for service in what promises to be an interesting breach of promise case. The plaintiff is a young lady from Pembroke named Mary Grey, and the defendant is William Black, carpenter of this city. Miss Grey last summer was a servant in the house of a lawyer in this city. Her allegation in the writ is that Wm. Black promised to marry her and that she gave up her situation, went home to her parents in Pembroke in order to make preparations for the wedding. In the meantime Black is alleged to have married another. Miss Grey now seeks redress by claiming damages to the extent of $2,000.

PROF. CAMPBELL'S CASE.

Differences Amicably Settled Between the Professor and the Presbytery.

CARLETON PLACE, May 12.—The Campbell case is settled, a conference having been held between the presbytery and Prof. Campbell. The latter agreed to the following: First, the statements of Old Testament writers as to the character of God were true as far as they went, but in a few cases were not the whole truth. Second, that in the great majority of cases, the Father, when smiting in judgment and in discipline or chastisement, acts in accordance with general laws or through secondary causes. The presbytery deemed this satisfactory, and reported to the Synod. The Synod ended this celebrated case by expression of thanks.

Alarming Reports From St. Anne's.

QUEBEC, May 12.—News received from St. Anne de la Perade is rather more alarming. Although the river has considerably fallen it is still very high and the undermining it still going on. Eighteen houses were in peril but the C. P. R. is out of danger and the worst of the trouble is generally believed to be over. A strong force of C. P. R. men are protecting the bridge with stone which will prevent the undermining reaching the church and convent and the lower portion of the village.

French Radicals Seek the Abolition of Capital Punishment.

LAYING IN A SUPPLY OF GUNS

Krupp's Works Severely Taxed to Supply Professedly Peaceable Powers—Embargo Still Remains—Britain Did Not Aid Brazilian Rebels.

PARIS, May 12.—In the Chamber of Deputies the bill providing that the execution of criminals shall hereafter be conducted privately instead of in public passed its second reading—159 to 184.

A motion of urgency upon the question of discussing the articles prescribing the methods of executing criminals, was rejected by the Chamber by a vote of 353 to 249. This result is a victory for the Socialists and Radicals, who are advocating the abolition of capital punishment. When the debate on the bill is resumed the proposal of Deputy de Jeante, Socialist, to abolish the death penalty will be considered.

Embargo Still Must Stay.

LONDON, May 12.—A few days ago Sir Charles Tupper, Canadian High Commissioner, wrote a letter concerning pleuro-pneumonia to Henry Chaplin, formerly President of the Board of Agriculture. He protested in this letter against the recent statement that the outbreak of pleuro-pneumonia in Scotland was traceable to Canadian cattle and insisted that Canada was then and always has been free from the disease. Mr. Chaplin replied that the disease had not appeared in Scotland for many years until it was imported with Canadian cattle in 1892. He added that he regarded the prohibition of live imports from Canada as still imperative.

Nations Buying Great Guns.

BERLIN, May 12.—Orders for guns from all parts of Europe continue to overwhelm the Krupp works at Essen, the immense resources of which are severely taxed to fill them within the required time. A monster gun, similar to the one exhibited at the Columbian Exposition at Chicago, was shipped to Cux Haven, where it will be mounted in Fort Grimmerhorn, at the mouth of the Elbe. Other guns of like construction have been ordered, and when completed will be mounted at the entrance of the Nordostee canal. The Italian government has ordered a number of heavy guns from Krupp, and Turkey has ordered 300,000 Mauser rifles.

THROUGH DAI NIPPON.

The Rev. Charles T. Cocking, of Japan, Delivers an Interesting Lecture.

"An evening with the Japanese" was the title of an illustrated lecture which delivered last night in George street church by Rev. Chas. T. Cocking. In opening Mr. Cocking sang a verse of "Greenland's Icy Mountains" in the Japanese language, and then took his audience through the "Land of the Rising Sun," starting from British Columbia. With the aid of a powerful lime light Mr. Cocking portrayed interesting scenes of native life on a large canvas, illustrating the different branches of agriculture, threshing of the rice crop, tea plantation private life, customs of visiting and styles of dress. Then there were scenes of farm homes, villages and temples and a few noted points of interest followed by views of the seats of education and their principals, groups of Christianized natives and their teachers and scenes of localities before and after the earthquake of 1891.

A vivid and interesting description of the garments of the native priests during worship and on the street and also a narrative concerning the different forms of worship and the articles used in the ceremonial followed.

A valuable collection of Japanese curios was then exhibited by Mr. Cocking and offered for sale for the good of the mission.

At the conclusion of the lecture a vote of thanks through Rev. Mr. Young was tendered the fluent speaker, who in turn hoped that he might again have an opportunity of meeting the people of Peterborough.

ASHBURNHAM BRIEFS.

An extremely sad case of measles has appeared in the village, whereby Mrs. Wm. Woods and four of her children are down with them, the youngest child, being about 4 years of age, is not expected to recover. It is sincerely hoped that the entire family will soon be convalescent.

Mrs. Swanson is having her premises at present undergoing a thorough overhauling, re-shingling the out buildings, and the house being thoroughly renovated in the way of painting, calcimining and paper-hanging. When completed it will look quite "nobby" inside as well as out.

Miss J. Dwire, of Douro is visiting friends and relatives in Ashburnham, and returns home this evening, seemingly well pleased with her sojourn.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

The Saturday night meeting for young men conducted by young men will be held at 8 p.m. as usual. It has been decided that during the summer the Sunday afternoon meeting be withdrawn to allow the work to become more concentrated.

Rev. Dr. Parsons has kindly consented to address the Gospel and Song service at 8.30 p.m. on Sabbath evening. This is a mixed meeting and all are welcome.

SATURDAY, MAY 12, 1894.

IT is the prudent policy of the Mowat Government to establish experimental fruit stations in the interest of fruit growing. This idea is on the line of the policy that has been practiced for twenty years of encouraging in every legitimate way the development of the natural resources of the province. But the Opposition meets the experimental fruit farm proposal with the charge that its location is to form a bribe to some constituency. Naturally the fruit farm will have to be placed somewhere, and it's a toss-up between not establishing it at all or "bribing" some constitutency. It certainly cannot be placed in the midst of some lake for the sake of depriving some contituency of the benefit that might result from its existence. Either the project will have to be abandoned or some constituency will have to be "bribed." The Opposition don't particularly object to the bribing on principle—they have by virtue of long association with Ottawa methods, become in sympathy with bribery; but they do object to the fruit farm on principle. It's against the principles of the Opposition to have any public institutions established for the land cultivating class of the province. Witness the hostility to the Agricultural College of the Opposition, and the proposal of Mr. Meredith to have the important functions of the Department of Agriculture turned over to the tender mercy of some callow junior clerk in some of the other Government departments.

WHETHER it is advisable to have government officials, like sheriff's, county clerks, registrations, etc., appointed by county councils is a debatable question, but the tendency of opinion as brought out by the evidence of the Fees Commission seems to be in favour of retaining the appointing power in the hands of the Provincial Government. Before the Fees Commission at Brantford Mr. Joseph Stratford, a prominent Patron of Industry, advanced the opinion that the appointment of officials was safer in the hands of the Government than when entrusted directly to the people. He had opportunities for knowing the opinion of Americans regarding their elective system, and knew they were very far from satisfied with it. Such appointments he thought should be left with the Government rather than turned over to the county councils. Mr. Stratford is a prominent member of the Patrons of Industry, and, although in thorough sympathy with the lines along which they are working, was strengthened in this view by his personal experience. As this is the only point on which the platform of the Patrons is at variance with the Liberal policy, Mr. Stratford's position may indicate that this will not prolong the dissipation of valuable strength in unwise and unnecessary hostilities.

COUNCILLOR LILLICRAP, at the Trent Valley Canal meeting in Peterborough on May 2nd, evidently spoke, with a knowledge of the sentiments of the body of which he is a member, when he expressed a doubt if the Lakefield council would incur the expense of sending a deputation from that municipality. Mr. R. C. Strickland, in a letter to the Lakefield Chronicle, says that, as a result of interviews with councillors, he finds that there exists a disinclination to incur further expense to purchase more promises. The Lakefield council does not minimize the importance of the work, nor does anyone in the district, but it naturally feels, with hundreds of others, that it is not quite the thing to spend the people's taxes to make the Government do its duty. The Dominion Government is definitely and distinctly pledged to a continuation of work on the Trent Valley Canal, and if they intend to implement past promises, though made on the eve of polling in an election contest, why the necessity of spending good money to persuade a fulfilment of such promises? If a man's note is put in the bank for collection the bank does not send a deputation to him to beseech him to meet the note on maturity. So long as the Trent Valley Canal route sends a solid parliamentary delegation in the government interest, the influence of municipal delegations will be rated below par.

BIRDS AND BIRDS' EGGS.

The Birds Being Rapidly Thinned Out by the Deadly Catapult and Nest Robbing.

If the vandalism that prevails among the boys in regard to birds and their eggs is allowed to continue there will soon be no birds in the country and our trees and grain crops will readily fall victims to the insect pest. The great majority of the birds are insect destroyers and a calamity will surely follow their promiscuous destruction. There is a law against robbing birds' nests and any boy found on his neighbour's premises with the object of robbing nests should be arrested for trespass and given the full benefit of the law. Parents finding their children in possession of birds' eggs should administer the law in the woodshed in a way that will save the state future expense. The public and high school teachers might drop a lesson in arithmetic or grammar once a week at least and the Sunday school teachers let the Israelites take a rest once a month while they follow the Canadian youths on their Saturday rambles through wood and field.

A word about the catapults would not be amiss. Just at present, contrary to the law, there is hardly a school boy in the town who does not boast a catapult. The consequence is that what birds are not destroyed while in the egg are in many instances killed by the catapult or else rendered so shy by constant harrying that they retreat to the back country.

THE ASSESSMENT ROLLS.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—At the last meeting of the town council it was decided by our august city fathers not to publish the assessment rolls. I ask, why not? If I remember rightly an estimate was requested from two of the local offices recently as to the cost of publishing the rolls, and for the sum of $150, I believe it was, the two newspapers said they would print the assessment rolls in their columns, and also a certain number in pamphlet form. Now, I am not alone in the opinion when I say that that would be money spent most advantageously. There is something funny about this matter that it is brought up in council nearly every year and as regularly shelved. Again I ask, why? I do not believe for one moment that it is because of the expense. Some people are so cruel as to say that a number of our "fathers" would prefer not to see the rolls published from a personal reason. Be that as it may, if the assessment rolls of this town were printed in the papers it would be more interesting reading than any novel—and much more instructive. It would be seen that the modest home of the mechanic and labourer was assessed up to three-fourths (or over) of its selling figure, while in some cases the residences of the well-to-do do not pay their just proportion of taxation. And then again there are acres and acres of valuable land assessed as farm land, thus paying but a mere bagatelle of taxes. Is it right that a man who is rich enough to buy land on a large scale should escape paying his share of taxes? Let us have the assessment rolls published and I feel sure that the taxes from the increased assessment that would ensue, in some cases, from the publicity given, would many times pay the cost of publication.

FRATERNAL ASSESSMENT LIABILITY.

"Can't I get out when I please, and have no liability?"

Most people expect "yes" for an answer to this question, when they say they are members of an assessment insurance society, and begin to think of their responsibilities as such. It is important for them to know that they cannot escape liability; because every member, no matter when he drops out, is liable for any deficiencies that may arise in future, if they were developed during his membership. Here is an instance:

The United Masonic Benefit Association of Missouri was some years ago an active and apparently prosperous assessment concern. It provided no reserve, but offered low rates, cheap insurance, and seemingly hoped that new blood would make up for increasing mortality resulting from increasing age. By and bye its forces began to fall off, not enough "new blood" came in, and the cost of membership ran up in a very uncomfortable way. Presently the healthier lives began to feel their burden pressing heavily and steadily left the ranks, until so few were left in the association that the assessments amounted to $140—one hundred and forty dollars—on each certificate. The remaining members refused to pay such a sum, and the concern failed. But there were unpaid death claims for a large amount due, and the State Superintendent of Insurance thought they ought to be paid. So he began suits at law against individual members to enforce payment of the assessments against them; the court has decided that they must pay. The feelings of those who are thus compelled to pay what they never expected have undergone a change with respect to assessment insurance.

Replying to some enquiries which had been made upon this point of liability, and citing this case illustration of what may be expected in any similiar case which might be pressed to suit, the Insurance Monitor says: "The decision referred to answers our question which has been debated, whether the member's liability is limited to sums which he may choose to pay; in other words, whether he can get out when he pleases without further harm. This he cannot do. Every member, no matter when he may drop out, is liable for any deficiencies which may crop up in future, resulting during his membership. The only safe course for parties that apprehend breakers ahead is to drop their membership before the breakers are reached; and the misfortune of this course is that the faster they drop, the faster the association drives towards the breakers."

There seems to be only one course open for the prudent man who may be determined to avoid possible liability; that is to keep out of such associations entirely and buy his insurance of the regular companies.—Monetary Times.

Paine's Celery Compound Honoured and Esteemed Above All Other Medicines.

A few years ago, that health-giving and life-saving medicine, Paine's Celery Compound, was given to the people of Canada in a quiet, honest and unostentatious way. This discovery, of a giant intellect in medicine and science, was given to the people of Canada with confidence, and the happy results are unparalleled in the annals of medical science.

The great mission of Paine's Celery Compound was to root out and banish disease and suffering, and to give new health, strength, vim, energy and activity to weak, nervous, sleepless and run-down men and women.

Up to the present, the career of Paine's Celery Compound has been astonishingly grand and successful. In its great battles and magnificent victories over disease, this grand scientific agent has driven to obscurity a host of quack nostrums and deceptive medicines that took away from the sick and afflicted what little physical strength they possessed, and their hard-earned money as well.

Whenever and wherever the common patent medicines of the day failed to cure—when doctors, after honest striving, gave up their patients as incurable—Paine's Celery Compound extended the mighty right hand of power, and saved from death and the grave those who had faith to lay hold of the rescuing hand.

No other medicine holds such a record of wonderful works and cures in our young Dominion and no other has ever received such notices from physicians and the press of the country. The honours won by Paine's Celery Compound span this broad Dominion from ocean to ocean. The seven provinces have awarded it the palm of victory for its marvellous and triumphant successes.

This is a position at once high and commanding—a monument of fame and honor that time and circumstances can never dim or dethrone.

Readers, ye who are weary, brain-tired, sickly, suffering and diseased, this grand discovery in medicine is offered specially for your troubles and physical burdens. It will restore to you the blessings you so eagerly crave for—a healthy body, a clear brain, bright eyes, the glow of health in the face and the quick and elastic step. You must decide at once; your course must be marked by progress or retrogression. You have the incontrovertible evidence and testimony of thousands of our Canadian people to guide you; all have testified that Paine's Celery Compound "makes people well."

A MINISTER CENSURED.

The Lindsay Councillors Get Excited and Attack Rev. Mr. Johnston.

The councillors of the Scugog town are a "spunky" lot as the appended report of their last meeting goes to show:

Moved by Councillor Killaby, seconded by Deputy-reeve Johnston, that this council request Mr. Johnston to apologize and retract through the public press the statement made by him while addressing the license commissioners a few days ago to the effect that this council was controlled by the whiskey interest, as we know the same to be false and untrue, and that the clerk be instructed to forward a copy of this resolution to Mr. Johnston.

Councillor Keith and another councillor held that the names of Revs. T. M. Campbell and Marsh should also be included, as those gentlemen had also spoken, but Councillor Killaby said he was not aware that they had endorsed the charge laid by Rev. Mr. Johnston, and hence he did not name them.

Coun. Blain said that Rev. Mr. Johnston was right in declaring that the councillors were dominated by the liquor interest, because they had voted for the restoration of billiards and in divers other ways showed their sympathy with liquor-sellers.

Dep.-Reeve Johnston said he had not intended to open his lips about the matter, but when a member of the council stood up and made such a statement he felt impelled to say that if the Rev. Mr. Johnston or anyone else, made the statement attributed to him, he, or they, said what was not true. He highly respected Mr. Johnston—he was a namesake of his, and that alone was sufficient to create a warm feeling—but that was no reason why he should rest quietly under such a serious, if mistaken, charge. He did not think there was a member of the council who would not have been elected independent of any influence wielded by the hotel-keepers either for or against.

Coun. Touchburn took the view that if the council possessed the power to limit the hours of hotels, and had refused to do so, thereby compelling the ministers to seek the commissioners as a last resort, there might then have been some justification for Rev. Mr. Johnston's remarks, but the council had not that power and he thought the motion a proper one.

Coun. Killaby said the way he felt about it was that when the ratepayers elected him to the council it was not to be dictated to by Rev. Mr. Johnston or any minister. If they were discontented with the way the town's business was being conducted let them come out next year and run for council themselves; if they managed to get in the people would quickly tire of them.

Reeve Kylie held that if Rev. Mr. Johnston or any other person wished to make such statements before the commissioners they were welcome to the glory, if there was any, but he did not think Councillor Blain had any right to force his opinions down their throats—Mr. Blain was fast becoming a temperance crank, though perhaps earnest in his opinions, and could not see things that others could. He would not vote in favor of granting a billiard license to the Benson House or other hotels, though he knew, or should have known, that worse evils were following in consequence.

A vote was then taken, and the motion was carried. The yeas and nays being demanded by Councillor Blain, they were recorded as follows:—Yeas—Crandell O'Halloran, Gillogly, Killaby, Johnston and Kylie; nays—Blain and Keith, Councillors Staples and Touchburn abstaining from voting.

Bilious From Childhood.

Rev. Benjamin Hills, Pugwash, N. S., writes: "In a word I may say that K. D. C. has helped me more than anything else I have ever used. I had been bilious from childhood; for several years rarely passed a week without a severe attack of bilious colic, with intense pain at the back of the head. These attacks usually followed my Sunday work. Since I began to use the K.D.C., I have scarcely had any return of biliousness and the attacks have been very light. I have had greater freedom from suffering since I began the use of K. D.C. than for years past. I believe that the occasional use of a bottle of K. D. C., will keep me comparatively free from the old trouble. I thank you for calling my attention to K.D.C. Had I tried it long ago it might have saved me years of suffering. I am glad to recommend it to w sufferers."

Pullman Men on Strike.

PULLMAN, Ill., May 12.—Between two and three thousand workmen in the various departments of the Pullman works at Pullman have gone on strike. Their action took Pullman and his executive manager by surprise as it is understood the men were satisfied with the result of the recent conference. The men belong to the new American Railway Union, but were not called by the organization. They demand a restoration of wages to last year's scale and the redress of numerous grievances.

Mysterious Murder in Paris.

PARIS, May 12.—A perfumer's shop near the general postoffice, kept by a young girl about 20 years of age, is the scene of another gory mystery. The body of the girl was found lying on the floor in the rear of the shop in a pool of blood. Around her neck was a rope, the noose of which had been tightly drawn, and the blade of a razor was embedded in her throat, which was horribly gashed. It is believed the crime was committed by a man the girl was known to be fond of.

Fashions for Men.

IN COATS.

There is [illegible] in the new Coats for 1894 than [illegible] Men's Dress since the [illegible].

THE DOUBLE BREASTED FROCK is the most fashionable garment man has put on in a generation. It adds to the stature of the man and conceals defects of figure. It is short waisted, long skirted, long tailed and beautifully moulded to the figure. The skirts are hollow at the top and form a beautiful curve, which is the most distinctive thing about the new styles.

Then there is the THREE BUTTON CUTAWAY Coat which is a high favourite. It is popularly described as the "Pigeon Wing" on account of its sloping tails. The sleeves are of moderate size and are closed with a vent for three buttons. If properly made it will cling rather closely to the hips.

The new CUTAWAY SACK COAT for business wear is one of the most popular of the season. It has caught the fancy of the young men. All the pockets should have flaps. The collar rolls low and is not faced with Silk.

Any of these garments made up to order to please the most fastidious dresser and with faultless devotion to the fashion plates

Life Assurance Claim Promptly Paid.

The late Wm. Finlay, of Norwood, appreciated life insurance and showed his appreciation by carrying over $10,000 for the protection of his family. $2,000 of this was with the Temperance and General Life, and they with characteristic promptness issued their cheque in payment thereof the second day after his burial. This reflects much credit both on the company and their general agent here, Mr. Lindsay, who personally attended to settling the claim. It is to be hoped that the other companies will follow the example of this progressive and most equitable company.

Grand Orange Lodge.

The Grand Orange Lodge of British America will meet in Lindsay on Tuesday, May 29th, when it is expected that at least two hundred delegates will be present. Representatives will be present from the Maritime Provinces in the East, to the fertile plains of Manitoba and the North-West Territories in the West; the largest representation, however, will be from our own Ontario. The first session of the Grand Lodge will commence at two o'clock on Tuesday, when the chair will be taken by Hon. N. Clarke Wallace, Grand Master and Sovereign. The Grand Black Chapter will meet on Monday, 28th, in the lodge room of L. O. L., No. 557, Bro. Sir Knight R. Weir, Grand Master, presiding. Members who may not have a vote in either of the grand bodies will be welcomed as visitors. The grand Orange lodge will be opened in the royal scarlet, the grand chapter in the red cross degree, but both are afterwards reduced to admit visitors, the one to the Orange and the other to the black, so that any member in good standing can attend the meeting.

The Market To day.

Market fairly well attended. Butter was plentiful and sold from 17 to 20c., the extreme price hard to get; eggs, less quantity offering, sold from 9 to 10c.; chickens 50 to 60c., a few turkeys offered, dull sale, 90c. to $1.00 asked. In grain oats were the plentiful offering, sold from 36 to 37c'; wheat 60c., standard, potatoes 43 to 50c, quantity moderate; veal 5 to 6c.

A Splendid Rehearsal.

The rehearsal of the Cricket Club Minstrels last night was the very best of the series. Everybody was present and the entire programme was rehearsed. Everything went smoothly, and with the remaining rehearsal on Monday night the Minstrels will be in shape to give, as they are sure to do, a splendid entertainment. Look out for your seat. You know the plan is at Salisbury's and if you do not get your tickets marked at once, you will be disappointed.

Keep your mind on the Cricket Club Minstrels' Entertainment in the Opera House Tuesday night next. A Brilliant and Original Programme. The Event of the Season.

Saturday Night at Routley's.

There will be another auction sale at Routley's fancy goods store Saturday night. Don't be skeptical when we say the goods will be sold at half price and less. So many sales are started from day to day and so many statements are made respecting prices, which disappoint and deceive the public that it is hard to believe that we will perform what we promise. It is hard to believe that the bargain prices of which we tell, pertain to all our new goods, but nevertheless it is true. We merely ask you to come to our sale Saturday night. When that's done, we'll do the rest. C. B. ROUTLEY. 2d

St. Andrew's Choirmaster.

Regarding St. Andrew's new choirmaster the Omemee Mirror has the following to say:—Geo. W. Mulligan, who has received the position as Director of Music, in St. Andrew's Church Choir, Peterborough, moved to our sister town yesterday. Mr. Mulligan has been a useful worker in all church work during the past winter and will be missed in the village, but we presume he will be with us often as he has a large music class here. The Lindsay Watchman also speaks of the same gentlemen in flattering terms, as follows:—"Mr. Mulligan was heard by many for the first time and his well trained voice brought forth loud applause, and he was re-called to sing again. His next solo, farther on in the evening, was equally well rendered."

St. Luke's Church, Ashburnham.

The festival of Whitsunday which will be observed to-morrow is the anniversary of the birthday of the Christian church. It is scarcely less important than those of Christmas and Easter-Day, which are now kept by almost all bodies of Christians. In our day when the evils of division are universally deplored what could be more helpful in the revival of the scriptural doctrine of the church than the observance, by special services and special sermons, of Whitsunday. There will be two celebrations of the Holy Communion in St. Luke's at 8.00 a.m. and at the close of the 11.00 o'clock service, at one or other of which it is hoped all communicants will present themselves. In the morning the rector will preach on the work of the Spirit in the church, and in the evening from the text "God is a spirit."

The Eden Fontana Entertainment.

There was a lamentably small attendance at the opera house last night to witness the entertainment presented under the auspices of the Fire Brigade Band. As a consequence the venture so far as the band's financial interests are concerned, leaves a balance on the wrong side. The programme opened with a fine overture, Flotow's "Martha" by the excellent orchestra of the band, ten pieces strong. The performers did ample justice to this difficult and beautiful selection. The best feature of the evening, however, was the fine singing of Mr. Chas. Kelly, who appeared in three programme numbers. His singing is a grand treat; he has a very rich and pure basso cantante voice. His method is excellent and his expression all that can be desired. It is needless to say that his singing created the greatest enthusiasm and he was repeatedly recalled, and responded—on one occasion with the sterling old bass song "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep." His low notes are a charm to hear, being smooth and mellow. He is certainly a phenomenally fine singer and it is a wonder that he is not in the place he is so eminently well qualified to fill—with some high class musical organization. His guitar selection, the "Spanish Retreat," was a wonderful exhibition of skilful manipulation of this instrument, which, of itself, possesses little music, but under Mr. Kelly's skillful fingers charmed his hearers. His decrescendo effects were specially admirable. The remainder of the entertainment was provided by Grace Eden, the Georgia wonder, in her remarkable feats of strength, performed under the supervision of a committee of citizens and Prof. Fontana. Later in the evening she posed as a hypnotic subject under the influence of Prof. Fontana, and, blindfolded, accurately told the names of several articles shown by the audience. Prof. Fontana's mind-reading experiments were of the ordinary character and were not exceptionally successful, the incompatibility of his subjects perhaps accounting for lack of success. The entertainment as a whole was very pleasing. It is to be regretted, for the sake of the band, that there was not a larger audience. At the band concert in the park the previous evening there were thousands delighted with the music, and one cannot but contrast the difference of the public attitude, when the latter wants to be benefitted, and the estimate of the claims of the band when they are seeking benefit. The association of ideas is not suggestive of British fair play.

—Mr. Wm. McColl, formerly in the boot and shoe business on Water street, has returned to town, and is going in with Mr. J. Hetherington, corner of George and McDonel streets.

—The phylloxera, a genus of the leaf-beetle, has attacked the grape vines in some of the townships. They are of small size, often of metalic colours; the larvæ are white and usually linear.

—W. I. McGill was in Peterborough on Sunday last. We wonder what takes our next door friend down to our sister town so often, since he has come out with a fine team of blacks and a new top buggy.—Omemee Mirror.

—At the Police Court this morning two dog cases were enlarged until next week. Twelve summons were issued for delinquent dog owners who had not yet acquired licenses. They will be up before the P. M. on Monday morning.

—Mr. James Cain, the popular hog buyer for Mr. Geo. Matthews, shipped on Tuesday last to the Peterborough packing house a car-load of very fine hogs. They were bought in Mariposa and were loaded at Mariposa station.—Post.

—Farmers who have sheep are rejoicing over an extraordinary increase. Nearly every ewe has two lambs and some three. One farmer had 17 lambs from 8 ewes. It is generally remarked as a great year for lambs, but will lamb chop be cheaper?

—The Auditor-General points out that there was $13,000 personal expenses in connection with the Canadian representatives trip to the Paris arbitration which was not covered by vouchers. Of this sum $5,000 was expended by Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper.

—A runaway on the market this morning caused considerable excitement. A team became frightened at the big umbrella sported by a patent medicine man and ran across the square throwing the driver out and shaking him up to no inconsiderable extent. The wheel was torn off the democrat.

—Failures for the past week are for the first time in the year fewer than for the corresponding week of the previous year. They numbered in the United States 180 and 26 in Canada, total 206, against 274 last week and 238 the corresponding week last year, of which 216 were in the United States and 22 in Canada.

—The Messrs. Rathbun, of Deseronto, have purchased from Land & Son, of Aux Sable, all of the timber which came over Niagara Falls last winter and is now floating in Lake Ontario. A number of the logs are still in the whirlpool and in the Niagara river below the falls. The sticks will be picked up by the tug Excelsior.

—R. A. Masons of Peterborough and vicinity will be pleased to learn that a deputation of fifteen or twenty members of St. Paul's Chapter, Toronto, will pay a fraternal visit to Corinthian Chapter on the occasion of the installation of officers, which takes place on Tuesday, 15th inst, at 8 p.m. The visiting companions will assist in the ceremonies.

—The Orillia Times speaks of the Rangers as "the crack regiment of Peterborough county." The statement is all right as far as it goes, but it dosen't go far enough. The regiment won the cup last year as being the best drilled corps in Districts 3 and 4, which districts cover a good deal of territory, embracing such cities as Kingston, Ottawa and Belleville.

—The sale of wall papers, window shades and cornice poles at the Peterborough Book Store is increasing daily. The public appreciate values these lines. If you want the prettiest wall papers, the newest and handsomest line of window shades and corner trimmings go straight to the Peterborough Book Store. We make a specialty of these lines and offer the best values in town.

—The recruit class turned out strong last night and were drilled for an hour or so. The veterans detest squad drill and in consequence have not filed an appearance yet. There are so many innovations in the drill this year that it will be well nigh impossible for an old hand to catch on to the new ideas unless some time is put in at the drill shed before the battalion turns out for parade in the park.

—Mr. Richard Hurd, living seven miles from town, in Smith township, accompanied by his wife and son, drove into town to attend market to-day and were somewhat surprised on their arrival to find under the seat on which they sat nothing less than one of their hens busily engaged in the manufacturing of her fruit. Mr. Harry Neil, of Calcutt's brewery, Ashburnham, was presented with the egg. He says he will present it to the Lime Juice Club for their museum.

LIBERAL COMMITTEE ROOMS.

Mr. Stratton would be glad to meet at the Liberal committee rooms, 413 George street, over Messrs. Loch & Sons' fur store, this evening at 8 o'clock, as many of his supporters as can make it convenient to be present for a short time. The chairmen of the several ward committees will be present. It is important that the meeting this evening at 8 o'clock should be kept in mind. Promptitude promotes success.

WHAT ABOUT THE BAND?

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—Will you use your influence to find out who is to blame for taking our town band away from town on the 24th. It is supposed they are also going away to Orillia on July 1st, the day the merchants of our town are getting up a demonstration. The band authorities must remember that the subscribers, mostly merchants, require something in return for their annual subscription.

Yours, etc.,
SUBSCRIBER.

Peterborough, May 11th, 1894.

[In explanation of the band being out of town on May 24th, it may be remarked that last year and for many years previous, the band has remained in town on the 24th, and there was no local public demonstration requiring their services. This year promised the same, and the band accepted the Campbellford engagement as a matter of business. If they had waited they might have missed this. Of course they are going to Orillia on the 1st of July, as they are under contract to the Battalion. The band is not insensible of its obligation to the citizens for liberal support. They appreciate it and are very grateful for it, and certainly their gratitude is shown by the splendid return they make by furnishing splendid weekly concerts in the park, to the delight of thousands, and when, in default of any organized programme at home, they accept an engagement abroad, they are not so much to blame for turning an honest penny. Last summer the band stayed at home all summer, but on no occasion of any public holiday last year were they called upon to blow a note. Let the band down easy. The members sacrifice a good deal of time and devote much time and practice to making themselves one of the finest musical organizations in the province. They give their time liberally and gratuitously to delighting our citizens.

G. P. Ridge was in Peterborough yesterday.—Omemee Mirror.

Sam. Connell and George A. Balfour were in Peterborough yesterday.—Omemee Mirror.

Robt. Mills and Samuel English were in Peterborough on Wednesday.—Omemee Mirror.

Mr. W. E. Murphy of Lindsay, was over on business to-day, as was Mr. D. McCamus.

Among the guests at the Grand Central to-day were: Rev. R. M. Hamilton, of Toronto, on his way through to Lakefield, and Messrs. L. Lapp, M.D., and J. A. Phillips, M.D., of Pontypool; Mr. B. F. Ressor, electrician of Lindsay, and Mr. W. Armstrong, stockdealer of Millbrook.

PETERBOROUGH REGISTRY OFFICE.

Mr. J. W. Bennett Appointed Deputy.

Mr. J.W. Bennett, barrister of Peterborough, has been appointed deputy-registrar of the Peterborough registry office. Mr. Morrow has made an excellent selection and one that meets with the approval of the local legal profession and which cannot, therefore, but prove acceptable to the public at large. It is generally known that Mr. Bennett is a son of Rev. W. Bennett, Springville, at present and for many years the capable Clerk of the Presbytery of Peterborough. Mr. Bennett's friends will be glad to learn of this practical recognition of his exceptional abilities for the duties of the office to which he has been appointed.

A MARRIAGE AT THE GRAND CENTRAL.

A Young Couple From Clark Township Joined in Wedlock.

Quite a romantic little wedding took place this afternoon in the parlour of the Grand Central hotel, when Rev. J. W. Hunter, the noted Canadian evangelist, who had arrived from Belleville for the purpose, joined in the bonds of wedlock two of his old schoolmates in the persons of Mr. Archibald McConochie and Miss S. Fuller, both of Orono, Clark township.

Rev. Mr. Hunter returned during the afternoon to Belleville, where he is prosecuting his evangelical work together with Rev. Mr. Crossley, while the newly married couple returned to their home via the C. P. R.

How to Get a "Sunlight" Picture.

Send 25 "Sunlight" Soap wrappers (the wrapper bearing the words "Why Does a Woman Look Old Sooner Than a Man") to LEVER BROS., L't'd, 43 Scott street, Toronto, and you will receive by post, a pretty picture free from advertising and well worth framing. This is an easy way to decorate your home. The soap is the best in the market, and it will only cost 1c. postage to send in the wrappers, if you leave the ends open. Write your address carefully.

Schofield has the best croup mixtures on the market. Ask him for reference.

Mason & Coy.

Our successful tea trade we attribute to the high grade of goods we handle and we never expect to gain a reputation by selling inferior teas, simply because they are cheap. We have one of the largest stocks of tea to choose from, at prices varying from 25c. to $1.00 per pound, and all really fine teas with rich invigorating cup qualities.

The More They Get the More They Want.

The wall papers kept in stock at the Peterborough Bookstore are so pretty and cheap that a customer who buys paper intending to cover only one room, is so delighted that he returns and procures papers for three or four other rooms. This is only natural, for our papers are so beautiful and so low in price that persons find it very hard to resist the temptation of buying. A. H. STRATTON & Co.

BASEBALL.

The Park Nine junior baseball club wish to thank their friends for subscriptions given towards purchasing their outfit.

Regarding a reflection cast on the Peterborough baseballists by the Port Hope papers, the Lindsay Warder says:—"Lindsay was always glad to have the Peterborough boys come up to play, as they were a fine lot of fellows and played good ball."

The Cobourg World says:—"We were informed that Pat Mulhall has taken his release from the Buffalo club. He has been sick ever since he left Cobourg—being ill in bed three days in Wilkesbarre, Pa. His friends much regret his misfortune, but it is likely he will be able to sign again with the same club as soon as he recovers his health." This sounds very funny to those who know the real reason for Mulhall's release.

The Peterborough baseball club will play in Lindsay on the Queen's Birthday.

Friday next has been set for the return match between the wine clerks and printers' nine.

There's a new wrinkle out in the baseball line. The hollow bat is the latest. It is made of regulation wood, and in it are placed two or three heavy iron balls. The batter holds the club in a vertical position until the ball comes within striking distance; when he strikes at it the weights inside the bat fly towards the tip and the impact is so tremendous that it is goodbye ball, every time, and a home run The new bat is only half the weight of the old style.

CRICKET.

Another good practice was enjoyed by the cricketers yesterday afternoon, over a dozen men being out to chase the pigskin sphere. Mr. Sam Ray filed his first appearance on the crease for the year. His presence is always welcomed, as besides being an A 1 cricketer himself, he is good natured enough to take the trouble to impart his knowledge to others. Mr. Ray captained the International eleven no less than three times.

The local team will be strengthened this year by the acquisition of Mr. Tommy Allison, who captained 'Varsity's first cricket eleven last year and who is a crack bowler. An endeavour will be made to have a scratch match this afternoon.

A great deal of new blood is being infused into the club this year.

The Cobourg cricket club play at Millbrook on the 17th of May, and at Belleville on the 24th.

LACROSSE.

The lacrosse teams which will cross sticks to-day at Riverside Park have changed the arrangement of the men somewhat. Appended is the corrected list of positions in which they will play:

SHAMROCKS		MILLBROOK
W Rogers	Goal	S. Carveth
F Boland	Point	J Nattress
Jos McDonough	Cover point	L F Clarry
Jno McDonough	1st defence	J Bateson
D Simons	2nd "	C Leach

P Carroll	2nd "	W. Bateson
H Patterson	1st "	N F Coombs
T McNamara	Outside home	G Leach
T McMahon	Inside "	C Richards
T McDonough	Field captain	R McMahon

G Temple—Referee.

Mr. W. Jewison will umpire for the Millbrooks, who will be attired in jerseys of light and dark blue stripe with dark trousers.

Mr. Tom. McDonough, who broke his thumb while practising on Friday evening, will be prevented from playing again for some time to come.

RANGE AND RIFLE.

The first monthly match of the Rifle Association took place on Thursday. The wind was very high, being fully eight feet at 600 yards, right front, which accounts for some of the low scores. The Martini rifle was used, with the exception of D. Belleghem, who failed to find the target at 600 yards with his Snider. Capt. Dennistoun arrived late on the scene and fired a few shots only at 600 yards. The following is the score:—

Fitzgerald	82	Campbell	74
Bartlett	79	Blade	62
Curtis	79	Belleghem	38

The long-looked-for grant of 1891-92 has been received, which will put the association in a very much better financial position than it has lately enjoyed. The debts of the Association will be first paid and the balance paid on the prize list of last fall.

ACQUATIC.

Jake Gaudaur has written to a friend in Orillia, giving his opinion of the different scullers who will compete in the regatta at Austin next Thursday and Friday. He expects to win first himself, with Peterson second and Teemer third. "Durnan is rowing well," he says, "and they will win the double, that is if they have any opponents, which at the time of writing seems improbable. Of the scullers at Austin, Durnan is the only one who is not an old timer, most of them having been before the public for over fifteen years." A large proportion of the public are of the opinion that little Eddie Durnan will win the single scull event himself and that Jake will only make a good second.

TO-NIGHT'S YACHT RACE.

There is considerable excitement in aquatic circles to-day over the probable outcome of the race between the several private steam yachts on the river. The race between Johnston and Binch last Saturday evening being in dispute, no doubt these two steamers will make a pull for first place. The yachts that will likely be entered in the contest are those of Mr. Andy Johnston, J. B. Odette, R. M. Roy, and R. Binch.

The race between the yachts on the Queen's Birthday at Rice Lake promises to be very interesting.

Only five pairs at a time to a customer, and no repeaters (unless Jimmy Tully happens to be round.)

In our famous Furnishings Department, of course we know you will appreciate our nobby Neckwear, Shirts and Underwear. We're disposed to feel half ashamed of the prices, but you'll be proud of the garments.

A Young Men's Saturday.

ALL DAY SATURDAY and SATURDAY NIGHT up to 11 o'clock, we will give young men a TWENTY PER CENT. REDUCTION off all our $5, $6, $7, $8, $9, and $10 Suits. The reason we can make this offer is that the depression in the money market has tied up several manufacturers of Clothing, and we could not help taking advantage of acceptionally low offers for YOUNG MEN'S SUITS. Gentlemen, this is your chance. It will pay you to pick your own pocket to get your pick of these Suits.

Years of uninterrupted success long ago led the proprietors to sell this remedy as no other blood-purifier can be sold. They have so much confidence in the "Discovery" that they guarantee it in all diseases that come from a torpid liver or impure blood. As a blood-cleanser, flesh-builder, and strength-restorer, nothing like the "Discovery" is known to medical science. Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, and the most stubborn Skin, Scalp, or Scrofulous Affections, quickly yield to its purifying and cleansing properties.

If it doesn't benefit or cure, you have your money back.

For every case of Catarrh which they cannot cure, the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy agree to pay $500 in cash. You're cured by its mild, soothing, cleansing, and healing properties, or you're paid.

A FARMER'S TALE OF WOE.

THE INTERESTING NARRATIVE OF A GRENVILLE CO. MAN.

His Spine Injured While Working in the Woods—A Long and Painful Illness Followed—How he Regained Health and Strength.

There are few readers of the Recorder who are not familiar with the fact that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People enjoy a reputation for excellence, both at home and abroad, not equalled by any other proprietary medicine. That this reputation is deserved is amply borne out by the evidence of many of the best news papers in the country which have carefully investigated the most noteworthy of the cures following the use of Pink Pills and have given the facts to their readers with a clearness and conciseness that admits of no doubt as to the truthfulness of the reports. Recently a reporter of the Recorder was informed by Mr. John A. Barr, the well known druggist, that the particulars of a case quite as striking as many that have been published could be learned from Mr. Samuel Sargeant, of Augusta township, who had been benefitted most remarkably by the Pink Pill treatment. The reporter determined to interview Mr. Sargeant, and accordingly drove to his home in Augusta, about six miles from Brockville. Mr. Sargeant was found busily engaged in loading logs in the woods near his home, and although well up in the sixties was working with the vigour of a man in the prime of life, exhibiting no traces of the fact that he had been a great sufferer. When informed of the reporter's mission Mr. Sargeant said he could not say too much in favour of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and expressed his willingness to give the facts in connection with his restoration to health. "Two years ago," said Mr. Sargeant, "I went over to New York State to work in the lumber region for the winter. One day while drawing logs one slipped and rolled on me, injuring my spine. The pain was very severe and as I could no longer work I was brought back to my home, and was laid up for about six months. I suffered a great deal and seemed to be growing worse. I became badly constipated and as a result piles developed which added to my misery. The various treatments did not appear to do me any good, and one of my neighbours advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. My wife went to town and procured a supply, and I had not been taking them long when I found myself growing stronger and the pain leaving me. The pills made my bowels regular again and the piles disappeared, and by the time I had taken six boxes I found myself as well as ever I was, and able, as you see, to do a good day's work." Mr. Sargeant further said that he had been troubled with hernia for fourteen years during all which time he was forced to wear a truss. To his surprise that trouble left him and in April last he threw away his truss and has had no occasion for it since. Mr. Sargeant declares his full belief that this too was due to the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, but whether this is the case, or whether his release from the rupture is due to his prolonged rest as a result of his other trouble, the reporter does not pretend to say—he simply tells the story as Mr. Sargeant gave it to him. One thing is certain, Mr. Sargeant and his wife are very enthusiastic as to the merits of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Incidentally Mrs. Sargeant told the reporter of the great benefit Pink Pills had been to her sister, Mrs. Wm. Taylor, who lives in Essex Co., England, and who was a sufferer from paralysis and unable to move hand or foot. The trouble affected her stomach to such an extent that she was unable to retain food, and to stimulants alone she owed her existence for a considerable period. Mrs. Sargeant sent her sister a supply of Pink Pills, which soon showed that she had secured the right medicine. The treatment was continued and a further supply of the pills procured after the company opened its London house, and when Mrs. Sargeant last heard from her sister she had regained almost all her strength after having been prostrated for several years.

A depraved condition of the blood or a shattered nervous system is the secret of most ills that afflict mankind, and by restoring the blood and rebuilding the nerves Dr. Williams' Pink Pills strike at the root of the disease, driving it from the system and restoring the patient to health and strength. In cases of paralysis, spinal troubles, locomotor ataxia, sciatica, rheumatism, erysipelas, scrofulous, etc., these pills are superior to all other treatment. They are also a specific for the troubles which make the lives of so many women a burden and speedily restore the rich glow of health to sallow cheeks. Men broken down by overwork, worry or excesses will find in Pink Pills a certain cure. Beware of imitations and substitutes alleged to be "just as good." Sold by all dealers or sent by mail, postpaid, at 50 cents a box, or 6 boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N.Y.

COLD BLOODED MURDER

Brutal Killing of a Missouri Man, His Wife and Family.

CHILDREN BEATEN TO DEATH

A Seven-Year-Old Child Only Left to Tell the Shocking Story of the Crime—Two Men Suspected of the Horrible Deed Arrested—The Girl's Story.

MILAN, Mo., May 12.—Gus Meeks, his wife and two children were murdered in cold blood near Browning. Another of the children of the murdered couple was so badly injured that it is not expected she will recover. She is seven years old.

In Lynn and Sullivan counties of this state there are a number of cases pending in the criminal courts against William and George Taylor, brothers. They are charged with forgery, larceny and arson. William Taylor, Gus Meeks and others were jointly indicted. Meeks pleaded guilty and was sentenced at the last term of court to the penitentiary. Governor Stone pardoned him about a month ago for the purpose of having him used as a witness against the Taylor brothers.

It is reported that the Taylors had arranged with Meeks to give him a team of horses and wagon so that he could leave the county and not be present at the time of trial. The mother of Meeks says that her son received a letter from the Taylors at Browning telling him to be in readiness to go away, and that Meeks waited until midnight when two men whom Meeks said were George and Bill Taylor came to their home in a wagon. Meeks and his family got into the wagon and started for Browning.

The only statement regarding the crime obtainable was from the seven-year-old girl. In some that when the Meeks family and the men accompanying them reached a point on the road near the schoolhouse in Lynn county, a small distance from Browning, they were attacked by two men who were lying in wait on the roadside. The first victim of the murderers' gun was Meeks. His wife jumped from the wagon and she was murdered in the same way. The fiends then seized large stones and beat the life out of the two children leaving the third one for dead. In the morning the living child regained her senses and went to the residence of Mr. Carter near by. She told her terrible story and a boy who was sent to the Taylor farm to investigate verified the horror by finding the bodies of the rest of the family. The Carter boy happening to meet George Taylor unwittingly told him of the murder. Taylor lost no time in starting for Browning on horseback. There he met his brother and both left hurriedly on horseback. On the strength of descriptions furnished by the living girl, the sheriff has arrested Sharon McCullough of Gould and George Howlett of Lime county as accomplices in the crime.

AN ELEPHANT'S DEATH.

Tip, the Central Park Monster, Meets a Brutal Death.

NEW YORK, May 12.—Tip, the big elephant in the Central Park menagerie, died last evening after many hours of agony. Such a botched piece of work has never been accomplished by any set of men who have professed to have the slightest skill in killing wild animals or to save animals from unnecessary cruelty and suffering. From 6 a. m. until 4 p. m. the great king of the forest went shuddering from one convulsion into another under the influence of the cyanide of pottasium which had been given to him. The first dose of the poison was not sufficient to put a quick and painless end to his life. After many consultations between Supt. Smith of the menagerie, Supt. Hankinson of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and Secretary Burns it was resolved at 8 o'clock to administer another dose of poison. The second dose finally proved effective.

KEEP THE BABIES

Free From Summer Complaints.

LACTATED FOOD SAVES AND PROTECTS THEM.

Mothers, are you properly fortifying and building up the physical condition of your babies, so that may be fitted to withstand the effects of the coming hot weather?

Summer, with its terrible spells of heat is a dangerous time for the young infant. Diarrhœa, dysentery and cholera infantum do a terrible and deadly work in the infantile ranks.

The babies cut down, are usually the weak, puny, cross and sleepless ones. They are out of condition owing to imperfect dieting—being fed with foods that cannot be assimilated easily, and that destroy the organs of digestion.

Babies nourished on health-giving Lactated Food are always happy, strong and bright, and escape all the evils and dangers of the hot weather. Mothers who use common prepared foods for their infants, are subjecting the little ones to terrible risks, and are directly responsible for their lives. When Lactated Food is made baby's regular diet, mothers need have no anxiety or fears; life is made pleasant for the mother, and the growth, health, and future of baby is assured.

Captain Sweeney, U. S. A., San Diego, Cal., says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50 cents. Sold by Geo. A. Schofield.

I can highly praise Burdock Blood Bitters because it had a fair trial in my case with wonderful success. My symptoms were dropsy, backache and sleeplessness, and all these disappeared after using two bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters. I cannot praise its healing powers too highly.

THE RULING MARKETS.

TORONTO, May 12, 1894.

The total gold shipments from New York this week amount to $6,000,000.

There is a fair demand in New York for beeves at $4 to $4.60 for ordinary prime native steers.

Bank clearings at Montreal this week were $11,297,609, as against $11,874,410 the same week of last year.

THE FARMERS' MARKET.—Receipts of grain small. White wheat nominal at 62c, red at 61c, and goose at 58c. Oats steady, one load selling at 39c. Peas nominal at 65 to 66c, and barley at 40 to 42c.

Wheat in Chicago suffered from an unexpected break. There has been too much buying during the past few days, and everybody seemed to be fixed for a bulge in anticipation of the bullish Government report, instead of which the crowd were treated to a genuine surprise in the form of a weak and declining market. There was some buying at the close which was at a net loss of ¼c for the day.

It was almost insufferably dull at the New York Stock Exchange. At the opening the market was weak for the industrials and firm for the railroads, but the changes were unimportant. The market ruled steady until after one o'clock, when sugar receded 1¼ to 105¾; general electric, 1 to 35¼ to 36¼, and Chicago gas, ¼ to 65¾.

At the London wool sales 7,200 bales, including some better grades of Port Philip were offered. New South Wales greasies sold with animation chiefly to continental operators who took also a good proportion of the scoureds.

A Little Daughter

Of a Church of England minister cured of a distressing rash, by Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Mr. RICHARD BIRKS, the well-known Druggist, 207 McGill st., Montreal, P. Q., says:

I have sold Ayer's Family Medicines for 40 years, and have heard nothing but good said of them. I know of many performed by Ayer's Sarsaparilla, one in particular being that of a little daughter of a Church of England minister. The child was literally covered from head to foot with a red and exceedingly troublesome rash, from which she had suffered for two or three years, in spite of the best medical treatment available. Her father was in great distress about the case, and, at my recommendation, at last began to administer Ayer's Sarsaparilla, two bottles of which effected a complete cure, much to her relief and her father's delight. I am sure, were he here to-day, he would testify in the strongest terms as to the merits of Dr. Meyer's Case.

Wonderful Cures

CHICAGO, May 12.—Gus Johnson, an oiler, was found yesterday in the conduit through which the cable runs at Illinois and Wells streets with his head severed from his body. Lightning's Work Near Brownsville.

BROWNSVILLE, Ont., May 11.—Last evening while a very heavy storm was passing over, lightning struck and burned the entire farm buildings covering 100 feet square, including several tons of hay and one steer, owned by Mr. E. B. Brown. During the afternoon he had turned the whole of his cattle, numbering thirty-six, and several horses, out on pasture for the first time. This saved him from what would have been a much heavier loss, as absolutely nothing could be taken from the cattle sheds. One yoke of oxen was taken from the driving shed attached, which was the only things saved. Loss over $2,000, insured for about $800.

Home Secretary Asquith Married.

LONDON, May 11.—Right Hon. Herbert Henry Asquith, Secretary of State for Home Affairs, was married in St. George's Church, Hanover Square, yesterday to Miss Margot Tennant, daughter of Sir Charles Tennant of Glasgow. The ceremony was performed by the Bishop of Rochester in the presence of a company of the best known people of London. Among those present were Mr. Gladstone, Lord Rosebery, Earl Spencer, Joseph Chamberlain and Arthur J. Balfour. The crowd outside the church cheered as Mr. Gladstone arrived, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Drew. Mr. Asquith and his bride started for Mells Park, Frome, where they will spend their honeymoon.

The Destructiveness of the Mannlicher.

LONDON, May 11. — The Standard's Vienna correspondent says of the fight between the police and strikers at Ostrau. "There were only nine gendearmes opposed to the strikers at Ostrau. They fired twenty-three shots. The result showed the fearful destructiveness of the mannlichers at close quarters. In some cases the ball went clear through one body and splintered the bones of another behind. The wounds were terrible. One man was shot in the thigh and his flesh hung in ribbons. All this seems to indicate that in the next war the number of dead and disabled will be enormously larger than formerly."

Seal Fishery Regulations.

LONDON, May 11.—In reply to a question in the House of Commons addressed to him by Sir George Baden-Powell and having reference to the regulations for the protection of the seal fishery in Behring Sea, Sir Edward Grey, Parliamentary Foreign Secretary, said that the instructions issued to the commanders of the vessels under the flags of Great Britain and the United States were practically identical. Russia and America had renewed last year's treaty for the protection of seals in Russian waters.

The Samoan Question.

PARTIES IN THE IMPERIAL HOUSE.

Interesting Address by the Former Editor of the Manchester Examiner.

PHILADELPHIA, May 12.—At the twenty-fifth scientific session of the American Academy of Political and Social Science held here Edward Purits, formerly London editor of the Manchester Examiner, delivered an address on the "Breakup of the old system of two parties in the House of Commons." This movement he called the most fateful in development in English politics since the great reform act of 1832.

Instead of the old Liberals and Conservatives there are now to be found in the House of Commons no less than eight groups; the former Liberals are divided into the Nationalists, the regular Liberals, the Radicals, the Welsh Radicals and the Labor and Socialistic groups. The Nationalists themselves consist of two distinct organizations — the Parnellites and the anti-Parnellites. These six groups at times become eight by the splitting off on certain issues of the Scotch Radicals and the temperance party. In place of the former Conservatives there are now two distinct parties—the regular Conservatives and the Liberal-Unionists.

The first real appearance of a third party in the House was in 1874. They were the Home Rulers. By 1885 they had secured the balance of power and forced the Liberals to take up this cause, creating thereby the fourth party in the House namely those Liberals who were not in favor of home rule and who called themselves the Liberal Unionists. The other groups in the Liberal party had been forming slowly for several years past but only really came to the front with the return of Gladstone to power in 1892.

Among the results that can be traced to this new party system are the home rule bill of 1893, the bill to disestablish the English church in Wales and eight hour bill. What will be the outcome is a matter of doubt, but the most probable result will be that England will become more and more conservative and relegate radicalism to something like permanent opposition.

THE VIENNA STRIKERS.

Forty-three Persons Were Hit by the Firing of Twenty-three Shots.

VIENNA, May 12.—The bodies of the strikers who were shot by the troops at Ostran on Wednesday were carried to the cemetery by soldiers, the civilians having unanimously refused to have anything to do with their burial. The authorities were obliged for the same reason to dig the graves of their victims. A correspondent says that although only twenty-three shots were fired by the troops on the occasion of the killing of the men buried this morning. Forty-three persons were hit. This is mentioned to illustrate the deadly effect of the Mannlicher rifle, though it is not surprising that the bullets should have passed through the bodies of the men in front and wounded those behind them, as the firing was all done at extremely short ranges.

The Ostrau strike is still spreading. The miners in the Rothschilds and Count Larisch's pits went out to-day, and it is expected that the men in other mines will go out to-morrow. All of the mines are guarded by troops who are being strongly re-inforced. Throughout the district all public houses have been ordered closed at sunset, and the sale of intoxicants after that hour has been prohibited.

KILLED IN HIS CELL.

A Prisoner in a House of Correction Murdered by a Maniac.

CHICAGO, May 12.—James Maher, who was sent to the House of Correction on a $5 fine for being disorderly on the West Side last Wednesday, was murdered in a shocking manner in his cell, which also contained the murderer, George Dunlap, a whiskey prisoner from Evanston, who became suddenly insane from the effects of his excesses. The two prisoners were confined in the same cell because of the crowded condition of the Bridewell. Maher's head was beaten to a shapeless mass with a bucket. John Farley, a watchman, was felled by the maniac, and would have been killed had not two guards arrived.

INDUSTRIALS STEAL A TRAIN.

Colonel Paisley, Their Leader. Shot Dead by a Constable.

SACRAMENTO, May 12.—Four hundred or more industrials, under command of Gen. Denning Smith of Oakland, seized an eastbound freight train on the Rancho del Paso, where the army had been camped for the last two days, and rode as far as Rocklin, in Placer County. The men refused to get off and the conductor sidetracked the train. A report has just reached here that Constable Flickinger of Rocklin shot and killed Col. Paisley of the army. The army then attempted to lynch the constable but he escaped.

UNCLE SAM SATISFIED.

It is Not Desirable to Provoke Discussion of the Lake Fishery Regulations.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—The presence of the United States steamer Michigan at Amherstburg, Ont., where the two American steamers, seized by the Canadian patrol ship Petrel, are in custody, has no bearing on the seizures. The state department will not interfere in the matter because the present arrangement with respect to the fisheries on the lakes is much more advantageous to the United States than it is to Canada, and agitation of the question of the seizures might bring about a change.

BEWARE OF FRAUDS.

The Unfailing Success of Dodd's Kidney Pills Induces Fradulent Imitators to Attempt to Pass Worthless Remedies on the Public.

TORONTO, May 7.—This appears to be an age of fakes and frauds. It seems impossible for any new idea or valuable invention to be made known without a host of imitators trying to foist their worthless goods on an unsuspecting public in the hope of making an unmerited profit out of their worthless ideas. The unequalled success of Dodd's Kidney Pills in curing all forms of kidney disease, has led to the introduction of many cheap and base imitations that are worse than valueless. Dodd's was the first kidney remedy ever offered in pill form. For their own safety, purchasers should buy none but Dodd's Kidney Pills. Sold in large boxes: price, fifty cents per box or six boxes for $2.50. To be had of all dealers.

Millinery Critics

Recognise the remarkable freshness and beauty of our stock. Seems almost useless to advertise our Millinery. Ever since the spring reception it has been advertising itself, and a stranger looking in would think each day "first view day." Yet it is right to be courteous to our attractive novelties.

Our Millinery business is always being stimulated, and the wonderful varieties of taste displayed brings us happy visitors and pleased customers all the time. Because many are coming and buying; more will come and will buy.

This growing success proves the public faith—you trust and then you buy. Why? Every advertising word is true—you know it, and are sure to find it always so here.

Mantles and Capes.

The very newest and neatest—all much below regular value. In our collection, remember, there are no old things—no mistakes limping up to roll-call and never getting any further. No. All are favourites. They have 1894 style and goodness about them, and the prices combine to make matchless bargains.

Dress Goods.

Tastes differ, uses are various; therefore the proper Dress Goods stock must cover all sorts or there will be disappointment. Our stock is as nearly complete as we can make it, and, out of prevailing times, have grown prices that were never matched before, and are not likely to be equalled again.

Underwear Hosiery and Gloves.

Fresh lots coming in to keep sizes and qualities suitable to the season. Better than that—prices are going down and qualities going up.

THE 57TH PETERBOROUGH RANGERS.

A Deputation Visits Orillia to Report on Its Facilities as a Camping Ground.

The "Orillia Times" has the following to say concerning the proposed visit of the Rangers to that town:—"Col. Rogers, Lieut. Matthews, and Quartermaster Langford of the 57th Battalion, the crack regiment of Peterborough county, were in town on Monday, as a committee to locate and report a suitable place for the annual camp of the regiment on Dominion Day. The party were met by Mayor Thomson and Mr. Melville Millar and driven about the town and expressed themselves as highly pleased with what they saw and the accommodations we had to offer and it is likely they will report favorably of coming to Orillia this year. It was their intention to come here last year but for some reason the programme was changed and they went to Perth. As July 1st falls on Sunday it is proposed to come here on Saturday and remain in camp till Monday afternoon. There will be about one hundred tents in all. This will be a big day for Orillia, equalled only by the Queen's Own tournament of eight years ago, and will attract many strangers here. It would be a grand opportunity for a big civic demonstration."

The Orillia News-Lettes has the following to say of the trip:—

Col. J. Z. Rogers, Major Langford and Capt. Matthews, of the 57th battalion, Peterborough Rangers, were in town on Saturday. The 57th intend to go into camp here on Dominion Day and these gentlemen were looking up accommodation for them. They will pitch their tents in the Asylum Park and each of the hotels in town will "eat" a company. The 57th is a city battalion 350 strong, with a band of 35 pieces, bugle band of 20 and pioneer and ambulance corps. The personnel of the staff is as follows:—Col. J. Z. Rogers, commandant; Col. (Dr.) R. W. Bell, Major E. B. Edwards, Major W. J. Langford, Quartermaster; Capt. E. F. Mason, Adjutant; Drs. Halliday, surgeons; Dr. Fred H. Brennan, Senior Captain. An advance guard will arrive Tuesday evening, May 22nd, for the purpose of pitching tents, etc. The regiment will arrive by special train at 8 o'clock on Saturday evening and march to the camp grounds. On Sunday the battalion will parade for divine service and march to St. James' church, where a sermon will be preached by the rector to the visiting warriors. Monday morning the regiment will march through the principal streets of the town, after which they will repair to some suitable ground where a general review will be held. The afternoon will be devoted to sports in the park, sight seeing, etc., the rangers returning home the same evening. Messrs. W. Stephenson and J. F. Breckon, of this town, are members of the visiting corps and will parade with them during their stay here.

THE EQUESTRIENNE DEMONSTRATION.

The Fire Brigade is Resolved to Push the Enterprise Through and Have a Celebration.

A joint meeting was held last evening between the citizens and the Fire Brigade with the object of completing arrangements for the holding of a big demonstration in town on Dominion Day. The members of the brigade feel very sore regarding the decision of the volunteers to absent themselves from town on that day—so sore indeed that the name of no member of the battalion was allowed to appear on the list of committees appointed. The Chief claims that he received an intimation on Tuesday last that the members of the Fire Brigade would not be allowed to address the volunteers in person, so the only thing left to do was to address a written petition to the officers. Chief Rutherford states further, that the question was not put before the men in a fair spirit, but in a manner which indicated that those who wished to stay at home could do so, but that the balance of the battalion would take the trip anyway. Sooner than lose the trip altogether, the chief thinks the volunteers decided to go in a body. The above statements were made plainly by Mr. Rutherford during the course of the meeting, and doubtless the remarks will lead to the bringing up of the question before the volunteers again at a later date. The members of the fire brigade are of the opinion that the volunteers could leave town on the civic holiday as well as on the first of July.

The preparations for the demonstration are going to be pushed ahead rapidly and the big posters announcing the list of sports will be gotten out in a few days. The following committee of citizens was appointed to confer with a committee of the Fire Brigade for the purpose of drafting a programme: Messrs. T. A. Hay, secretary of the Board of Trade, F.H. Dobbin, Alex. Elliott, Robt. Fair, president of the Board of Trade, W. Bamford, H. LeBrun, A. L. Davis and Ed. Brown. The committee selected by the Fire Brigade is comprised as follows:—Chief Rutherford, Assistant Chief Craig, Secretary J. H. Yelland, 1st Lieutenant Hayes, S. Clegg, W. Evans and W. Brine. Both committees have power to add to their number. Mr. Rutherford was appointed chairman and Mr. Dobbin secretary of the combined Fire Brigade and citizens' committee.

On Monday evening next the committee will petition the the town council for a grant to help cover any expense which may be incurred.

The scheme is to invite all the Fire Brigades in the vicinity to be present and to have a monster procession in the morning composed of these brigades, interspersed with calathumpian floats. In the afternoon games, etc., will be held in the Driving Park.

RIVER AND LAKE RIPLETS.

(From a Correspondent.)

The codfish is the most prolific fish of the sea, yielding 45,000,000 eggs each season. As many as 9,500,000 eggs have been found in a roe of a single cod.

It is now well known that flounders and other flat fish, whose eyes are on the left side of the head are, when young, perfectly symmetrical like other fishes.

Arrangements are at present being made to hold the C. P. R. annual picnic on or about June 27th. Divisions B. and C., as far east as Smith Falls, westerly, Toronto. If things are satisfactorily arranged the town will be crowded with welcome visitors. Mr. Commodore Calcutt, president of the P.S. & N. Co., and Mr. T.E. Bradburn, vice-president, are interesting themselves and intend making things most interesting for the visitors. The steamers City of Peterborough and Daisy will run trips down the river to their parks. Connection will be made by the P. & A. street railway to and fro from the boats at the foot of George street, which will afford ample time for all to view the picturesque Otonabee, as well as the "Garden City" of Ontario.

The employees of the C.P.R. are in unison with Mr. Bamford in selecting Peterborough as a pic-nicing ground, as it is most excellently situated, being a prominent railroad centre, as well as a steamboat one. The boys could not have made a better choice.

Mr. R. M. Roy was out for a spin yesterday in his steam launch. She is a little dandy and is called the "Rob Roy," after her maker, as well as owner.

The hurricane deck of the new steamer City of Peterborough is being placed. It will be 20 feet over the promanade deck. The wheel house will be erected on the top of same, thereby giving more room below for promanaders. The buckets are being placed on the driving wheels, which are of elm, being 3 feet 6 inches long and about a foot wide and are 2½ inches thick.

Mr. Hickey is pushing things along in great shape, and by the 24th of May there will be very little undone.

The steamer City of Peterborough will have all she can do the coming season, as at present quite a number of excursions are booked—quite a few from the other end of the line.

The steamer Undine has been thoroughly repaired and painted this spring, preparatory for this season's excursions, etc. She was taken out on the water the other day for the first time. She navigates the northern lakes with headquarters at Lakefield.

THE BUCHANAN CASE.

Equal to a Resurrection—Almost Helpless from Kidney Disease—A Burden to Himself and His Friends—Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Him.

Chatham, April 30.—The story of Sherman Buchanan, living near Leamington, is worthy of notice. He says he was almost helpless, bloated and a wreck with kidney disease. His digestive organs were powerless and he was rapidly becoming a burden to himself and his friends. Naturally he lost all hopes of recovery, but a happy thought suggested Dodd's Kidney Pills, and these cured him. Dodd's was the first Kidney remedy in pill form ever offered the public. Its wonderful success in curing all forms of kidney disease has led to the introduction of numerous cheap and worthless imitations. Purchasers, for their own safety, should insist on getting Dodd's Kidney Pills. Sold in large boxes; price, fifty cents, or six boxes for $2.50. To be had of all dealers.

MANTLE SURPRISES.

The figures with which we mark high-class Mantles are not those of round-town stores, but our own exceptionally low markings. No matter what you have seen or been offered, we can show you a BARGAIN in Mantles that you can't afford to ignore.

The only prices tolerated here are the LOWEST. These prices will prove our assertions:—

MESSRS. ONDERDONKS' CLAIM

Chicago Men Have a Little Account Against the Government—Lieutenant-Governorship of Manitoba—Why a Tory M.P. Will Resign.

OTTAWA, May 14.—Mr. Andrew Onderdonk, of Chicago, has arrived here accompanied by his son, Mr. Shirley Onderdonk. The first named gentleman built the British Columbia section of the Canadian Pacific railway for the Dominion Government, and has interviewed the Minister of Railways in regard to a claim amounting to $70,000, which he has against the Government. Mr. Onderdonk was in Ottawa some days ago and secured consideration for his claim.

Hon. Wilfred Laurier went to Pembroke to-day, where a political demonstration is being held. Mr. Laurier was presented with an elaborate address of welcome.

An appeal for help for the villagers who were victims of the recent landslides at Ste. Anne has reached the Government informally, and probably some relief will be extended.

The matter of the two American steamers, Visitor and Leroy Brooks, seized in Lake Erie in Canadian waters for illegal fishing, has been referred to the Department of Justice for an opinion as to the validity of the seizures.

The Ottawa Field Battery meets this week. It is probable Acting Commander Bliss will have to receive the resignations of a score of members of the corps. In addition to Lieut. Gilmore and Surgeon Bell, Lieut.-Major Ingram and Sergeants Shouldice, Shatuck, Hood and Eldridge, and a number of gunners have resigned. The reinstatement of Captain Bliss is the cause.

A report has once more reached here that A. W. Ross, M. P., has been appointed Lieut.-Governor of Manitoba. This is denied in official circles. There will be no change in the office until after the session. This position and several others will remain as they now stand, as the Government does not desire to open any constituencies until Parliament rises. The matter has stood thus for a long time.

Barrister T. C. Robinette, of Toronto, will have an interview with the Minister of Justice to-day. He will ask for a new trial for MacWherrell on the plea of important evidence not heard at the trial, and is hopeful of success. He will also make application for the release of Roland Gideon Israel Barnett, who is now serving a term of seven years in Kingston. Barnett was one of Central Bank wreckers.

It is reported that Dr. J. D. Reid, M. P. for South Grenville, has placed his resignation in the hands of two fellow-Conservatives, Messrs. Uriah Wilson and Hugo Ross. The reason ascribed is his inability to agree with the Government on certain tariff items. Dr. Reid is connected with the Edwardsburg Starch factory. The items referred to can scarcely be starch, as a "clerical error" was discovered in the duty on starch at the time the democrat wagons were fixed. The occupants of room 16 deny all knowledge of Reid's action.

An investigation is to be made into the accounts and expenses of Hon. Jos. Royal during his last year as Lieut.-Governor of the Northwest Territories. His expenses, outside his salary, in connection with the Government House were in the neighborhood of $17,000 for the year. Some of the bills are said to be of a rather extraordinary character. There is one account for school expenses, and no one seems to know what it is really for. It is said to be for the education of his family during the year. An examination on oath will likely be asked into these accounts. Some of the principal officers of the Interior Department will be summoned to give evidence.

BOY BURNED IN A FIRE.

He Warned His Grandmother of Her Danger But Lost His Own Life.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., May 14.—The dwelling house and store of Mrs. Peter Muldoon on Garden avenue at Suspension Bridge, N. Y., was burned to the ground at an early hour Saturday morning. Mrs. Muldoon and her five-year-old grandson being the only occupants in the house at the time. The little fellow was awakened no doubt by the flames, and rushing to his grandmother's room where she was fast asleep, awoke and then ran back into one of the rear rooms. The woman barely escaped with her life and through a window. The little fellow no doubt was stifled by the smoke and perished in the flames, after saving the life of his grandmother. The woman was crazed with grief and it took three men to hold her from running back into the burning building to rescue the child. After the firemen had put out the fire the remains of the brave little fellow was found burned to a crisp. The fire is supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

Battered His Face With a Spade.

ST. JOHN, N. B., May 14.—James B. Renshaw of Riverside made an attack on Mrs. Charles Reynold of that place. He had a spade in his hand and badly battered her face and made threats that he would burn her house. A short time afterwards the barn was discovered to be on fire. The house caught but was saved. Renshaw was under the influence of liquor. Riverside is on the line of the Intercolonial Railway and just over the border line between St. Johns and Kings counties. The constables of the latter county yesterday caught Renshaw and placed him in Hampton jail.

BRITISH CABLE GOSSIP

Fidelity of the McCarthyite Faction to the Liberal Party.

HON. A. J. MUNDELLA RESIGNS

He Will Leave the Cabinet but Retain His Seat in the House—English Sympathy Solicited for American Negroes—Creed Union Agitation.

LONDON, May 14.—Among the most persistent supporters of the Government, the question is being seriously debated whether immediate dissolution is not the very best policy to be pursued under the circumstances. Even the most inexperienced lobby politician knows that the Government cannot rely upon passing the spirits or estates duty clauses of the budget while the Liberals who hold the best party traditions in high respect are fretting under the demoralising situation of seeing every division taken upon an important question place the Government in a position of doubtful tenure. The supporters of the Ministry on every hand now recognize the fact that it will be impossible to pass the evicted tenants bill, the Welsh church disestablishment bill and the registration bill within the time permitted by the present session and in these circumstances it is proposed that when the House resumes its sittings after the Whitsuntide recess the supporters of the Government in the House shall meet the Ministry in consultation with a view of determining the course to be followed in the future. The Radicals have already shown their hand to the extent of intimating that when the meeting takes place they will propose that those portions of the registration bill which have aroused the greatest opposition on the part of the Conservatives be dropped. The Conservatives have already burdened the bill with about two hundred amendments, and there is therefore no doubt that the Ministers will have no difficulty in obtaining the assent of the meeting to the wholesale application of the closure rule in expediting its passage. The English Liberals are greatly pleased and encouraged by the loyalty displayed by the McCarthyite section of the Irish party. The desertion of the Parnellite faction to the Conservatives might have inflicted a mortal wound upon home rule if the main body of the Irish Nationalists had failed to support the Government in full stretch on the occasion of the division on the second reading of the budget. Instead of turning their backs upon the only friends they had in Parliament, as the Parnellites did, the McCarthyites cast their votes for the Government to a man. This fidelity to their political companions have won for them the warm admiration of the Liberals and their action cannot fail to find due recognition in the future. In view of the probable early dissolution of Parliament the election agents throughout the kingdom have been warned by their respective chiefs to get everything in readiness for a new general election. Already large party purses have been subscribed.

Treatment of the Negro.

The correspondent had an interview with Ida Wells, the young colored woman from Memphis who is here on a mission to arouse British public opinion against the prevalent custom in the Southern States of summarily punishing heinous crimes of negroes by hanging, burning, etc. Miss Wells expressed herself as greatly encouraged by the success she has had in enlisting English sympathy with the brutally treated American negro and is confident that the popular outcry in England against the barbarism of the Southern whites in their treatment of their colored fellow citizens will have the effect of putting a stop to lynchings, whippings, etc., in the near future. A correspondent of the Westminster Gazette, who has just returned to London from a four years' sojourn in the Southern States, tells an entirely different story. In a letter to the Gazette he says that the attempt to agitate Great Britain over the downtrodden negro in America is ridiculous. The negroes north and south, he says, are better paid and better treated than the laborers in England, and when willing to work they have no reason to complain.

Agitation for Church Unity.

The Rev. Dr. Lunn, who recently headed a party of English clergymen on a pilgrimage to Jerusalem, on Saturday issued a circular letter to the prelates and leading clergymen in England asking them to cooperate in prayer at their respective services yesterday for the unity of all the Christian churches. To this circular Cardinal Vaughan replied that it was needless for Catholics to join in any prayer for church re-union. If our yearn for unity, he says, they can find within the pale of the church. Mr. Gladstone, to whom a circular was sent, replied that he recognized the importance of Christian unity, but declined to state his views in regard to an interchange of pulpits, which was one of the details of the plan outlined by Mr. Lunn. Several prominent Congregational ministers refused to co-operate in the movement, as they decline to recognize alleged evils resulting from the present division of the church. The Archbishop of Canterbury is in entire sympathy with the movement, and sent a message to the clergy under his charge to offer prayer for unity.

Prince George Wants Work.

The Duke of York has itimated to the admiralty his desire to resume his position in the navy, indicating his preference for duty at home stations to begin with. It is probable that after the accouchment of the Duchess, the Duke and Duchess will start on a long sea voyage in the course of which they will visit some of the British colonies.

Mr. Mundella Resigns.

A. J. Mundella, President of the Board of Trade, has resigned his seat in the Cabinet, but retains his seat in Parliament. His reason is, he says, that he wishes to avoid the appearance of a conflict between his public and private interests which has resulted from his relations to the New Zealand Loan Company.

TABERNACLE IN ASHES

Dr. Talmage's Church for the Third Time Destroyed by Fire.

ONLY THE WALLS STANDING

An Adjoining Hotel Also Gutted by the Flames and Several Other Buildings Badly Damaged—Total Loss About a Million Dollars.

BROOKLYN, May 14.—Rev. Dr. Talmage's new tabernacle, at the corner of Clinton and Greene avenues, Brooklyn, was burned yesterday. The Hotel Regent adjoining, and several dwelling houses in the vicinity were also destroyed. The loss is estimated at $1,000,000.

This is the third time Dr. Talmage has lost his church by fire. He was in the church when the fire started, surrounded by a number of his congregation, but all escaped. He was moved to tears as he witnessed the destruction of the beautiful edifice. Four firemen were injured during the fire, not fatally however, and there was great excitement and scenes of panic as the fire progressed.

The fire was discovered just after the congregation had been dismissed from the morning service. A small boy rushed into the church through one of the open doors and informed the sexton that he had seen smoke coming out of the windows on the Waverly avenue side of the church. The boy volunteered to go up in the back of the organ to see if it was there. He did so, and a second later he appeared before the three gentlemen with his face blackened and almost suffocated from smoke. All he could say was that he discovered the fire in the back of the organ. Dr. Talmage and Messrs. Day and Moody then started for the organ, but before they could get near it, flames burst from the top. The gentlemen then made a hurried exit.

The flames spread with lightning rapidity, and the sparks flew in all directions. The greatest excitement prevailed.

The people living in the Hotel Regent were just getting ready for dinner when the fire was discovered. They fled from their apartments leaving everything behind them. The firemen were kept busy putting out small fires which occurred in the houses near by, and in the vicinity of four blocks of the church and hotel. The Summerfield M. E. church at Greene and Washington avenues, also caught fire from flying sparks and damaged the building to the extent of $35,000.

Despite the efforts of the firemen the flames spread quickly and the adjoining houses caught fire, five on Greene avenue sustaining damage all the way from $5,000 to $15,000. While the firemen were at work on the houses on Greene avenue flames were seen coming from the roofs of the four houses on Washington. They were extinguished after having damaged each house to the extent of $1,500. Two houses and a stable on Waverly avenue were also damaged to the extent of from $2,000 to $5,000 each.

The Tabernacle and Hotel Regent were completely gutted. Nothing remains but the walls. The total loss is estimated at a little over a million dollars. The loss on the Hotel Regent, including the buildings-paintings, and the guests' household goods will amount to $600,000. The loss on the Tabernacle is about $400,000 and the adjoining buildings are reported to be damaged to the extent of $5,000.

Perhaps the loss which will grieve Dr. Talmage the most is that of the memorial stones which he brought from the east and which were set in the wall at the right of the organ. Russel Sage who holds a mortgage on the tabernacle of $125,000 and interest amounting to $15,000 said the tabernacle was insured and he would stand by the church and help them get on their feet again.

Dr. Talmage will start on his trip around the world to-day. The tabernacle was insured for $130,000 in four companies.

USING FRAUDULENT CERTIFICATES.

Glaring Abuse of the Geary Act With Respect to Chinese Immigration.

NEW YORK, May 14.—There has come to the notice of the authorities of the United States Treasury the most gross and glaring frauds in Chinese registration under the Geary law. It is believed, from evidence in the possession of the authorities, there have been issued in this city alone several hundred, perhaps a couple of thousand, of fraudulent certificates.

It is alleged that smugglers of Chinese are selling registration certificates to Chinese who are now waiting in Canada and Havana to get into the United States. Large numbers of registration certificates, it is claimed, are being sent to China to secure entrance into the United States of Chinese who have never been here before.

The frauds are perpetrated by Chinese who register, and it is alleged that some of them have registered from twice to a score of times. Professional witnesses have admitted under oath that they have been making a good thing out of their swearing for Chinese applying for certificates, and that they have received from 50 cents to $5 in each case.

Missouri Mines Closed.

RICH HILL, Mo., May 14.—Every mine in this district is closed, and over 1,000 miners are idle. On Saturday a procession of 500 miners, headed by a color-bearer holding aloft the stars and stripes, formed at the mines south of the town and marched through the principal streets of the city to West Park, where a meeting was held. A light delegation from the Northern Missouri districts arrived Friday night and another delegation, several hundred strong, arrived overland. Special policemen have been sworn in to prevent any disturbances.

New York's Record for Tragedies.

NEW YORK, May 14.—Last week was a record breaking week for suicides and homicides in the metropolis. Since Sunday last there have been eight suicides, a dozen bodies of men have been found in the river and half a dozen dead bodies of men have been picked up in dark hallways and alleys. Deaths from casualties, such as falling from windows and accidental shooting and from alcholism, have been unusually numerous.

CANADIAN WOOL CLIP OF 1894.

John Hallam's Annual Wool Circular.

With reference to the prospects of the coming clip of wool, and the prices to be realized, there is nothing definitely known. The delay at Ottawa in settling the tariff on woolen goods has created an industrial uncertainty and a want of confidence in the future of the trade. The proposed change in the tariff from compound to purely ad valorem duties will seriously embarrass the tweed, blanket and yarn manufactories. They will not be able to successfully compete with the shoddy goods of Huddersfield and Dewsbury under the proposed change, unless the Government takes the duty off coal, machinery and other articles now taxed and used as raw material. This is having a very depressing effect on the price of our domestic wools and on the woolen trade in general. Home competition has reduced the price of Canadian tweeds, blankets and yarns, to the lowest possible point and if the Canadian mills are subjected to the keen competition of these goods under an ad valorem duty with England, France and Germany, where machinery and all raw material are free of duty, it simply means shutting up some of the mills in this country. In my opinion this change in the tariff will only benefit the importing and ready-made clothing trade. The passing of the Wilson Bill will not affect the prices of Canadian wools as the domestic wools of the United States are now as low, if not lower than in Canada, notwithstanding this, I am afraid there will be some speculation that may raise the price of our domestic wools beyond their present values, relying on the expectation that when the duties are taken off in the United States, the price will rise. The Americans are not changing their tariff on wools to give the Canadian wool growers more money for their clip, but simply to give the manufacturers of the United States free wool at the lowest possible price in competition with English and foreign wool markets and if the dealers and manufacturers through the country can only realise this fact, the clip of 1894 will be bought at fully 10 to 15 per cent. less than in 1893.

Most of the clip of 1893 is still in the hands of dealers and unsold. During the last twelve months large quantities of wool and sheepskins, the product of the United States, have found their way into Canada as prices much lower than our domestic wools and sheepskins could be sold for here. I would advise caution in buying the Canadian clip as no money has been made out of Canadian wool for three or four years past.

The trend of the trade goes to show that the coming clip should be bought with more care and at the following prices :—

He stood up to cast his line when it capsized and he was drowned before he reached the shore. Deceased was forty years of age and leaves a wife and family.

Are made in large quantities, because foolish people buy where prices are lowest, without giving a thought to quality. Any one who thinks, will not buy a "Piano at $170, or an Organ at $30, guaranteed for nineteen years," because it is cheap. FRATERNAL ASSESSMENT LIABILITY.

"Can't I get out when I please, and have no liability?"

Most people expect "yes" for an answer to this question, when they say they are members of an assessment insurance society, and begin to think of their responsibilities as such. It is important for them to know that they cannot escape liability; because every member, no matter when he drops out, is liable for any deficiencies that may arise in future, if they were developed during his membership. Here is an instance:

The United Masonic Benefit Association of Missouri was some years ago an active and apparently prosperous assessment concern. It provided no reserve, but offered low rates, cheap insurance, and seemingly hoped that new blood would make up for increasing mortality resulting from increasing age. By and bye its forces began to fall off, not enough "new blood" came in, and the cost of membership ran up in a very uncomfortable way. Presently the healthier lives began to feel their burden pressing heavily and steadily left the ranks, until so few were left in the association that the assessments amounted to $140—one hundred and forty dollars—on each certificate. The remaining members refused to pay such a sum, and the concern failed. But there were unpaid death claims for a large amount due, and the State Superintendent of Insurance thought they ought to be paid. So he began suits at law against individual members to enforce payment of the assessments against them; the court has decided that they must pay. The feelings of those who are thus compelled to pay what they never expected have undergone a change with respect to assessment insurance.

Replying to some enquiries which had been made upon this point of liability, and citing this case illustration of what may be expected in any similar case which might be pressed to suit, the Insurance Monitor says: "The decision referred to answers our question which has been debated, whether the member's liability is limited to sums which he may choose to pay; in other words, whether he can get out when he pleases without further harm. This he cannot do. Every member, no matter when he may drop out, is liable for any deficiencies which may crop up in future, resulting during his membership. The only safe course for parties that apprehend breakers ahead is to drop their membership before the breakers are reached; and the misfortune of this course is that the faster they drop, the faster the association drives towards the breakers."

There seems to be only one course open for the prudent man who may be determined to avoid possible liability; that is to keep out of such associations entirely and buy his insurance of the regular companies.—Monetary Times.

CAST OUT the disorders, diseases, and weaknesses peculiar to women—by the prompt action of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. A woman's beauty depends on her health—beauty in this case can be purchased. A bad complexion, a muddy skin, a wrinkled face and sunken eyes, follow the disorders of the womanly functions. Cupid is in demand for healthy woman—not for sick and ailing ones.

The "Favorite Prescription" is a powerful, invigorating tonic, and a strengthening nervine to be used in all those distressing troubles which make woman's life miserable. You'll find relief from sleeplessness, backache and bearing-down sensations. IRISH NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Annual Convention in Liverpool—Public Controversy Will be Discouraged.

LIVERPOOL, May 14.—The annual convention of the Irish National League of Great Britain was held in Liverpool on Saturday. T. P. O'Connor, M.P., president of the league, presided. There was a full attendance of the leaders of the Irish party, among them John Dillon, Timothy M. Healy, Arthur O'Connor, Timothy D. Sullivan, Thos. J. Condon and others of lesser note. The report of the treasurer was read, showing that the income of the league for the past year had been £3,513. Addresses were made advising the Irish party to maintain a close and constant alliance with the Liberals.

The convention passed a compromise resolution. The delegates expressed in this resolution their regret that dissensions had divided the members of the league and recommended that all difficulties be settled within the league's councils, whose decisions the members should accept loyally and finally. The convention resolved also to appeal to the Irish people to discourage public controversy as injurious to the national movement. T. P. O'Connor was re-elected president.

Delegate Quinn, on behalf of Glasgow branch, moved to rescind the rule compelling Irishmen to vote for Liberal candidates in municipal elections, and allow them to vote for labor or other candidates.

Mr. O'Connor said that would be equivalent to a severance of the Irish from the Liberal party. The delegates from Glasgow, Edinburgh and several other cities opposed the motion, and it was lost by a large majority.

Delegate Sullivan, of Bradford, moved a resolution that the convention condemn the dissentions in the Irish parliamentary party, which are the greatest obstacles to the cause of home rule. A number of branches presented similar resolutions, but one branch at Liverpool offered a resolution which declared that factionism was preferable to bossism, and that it would rather be ruled by Redmond and Harrington than by Dillon and O'Brien. The reading of the resolution was interrupted several times by protests.

Delegate Dunn, of Bermondsey, said the minority had a right to guard against the intrigues of the majority with the Parnellites.

At the National League mass meeting last evening resolutions were passed expressing full confidence in the judgment, integrity and patriotism of the Irish party leaders. Justin McCarthy said in his address that the Irish situation was as hopeful as ever. John Dillon and Michael Davitt exhorted all home rulers to unity.

SHOT THE WRONGED HUSBAND.

A Wife's Infidelity Leads to a Shocking and Fatal Tragedy.

CORVALIS, Ore., May 14.—Dr. J. M. Applewhite shot Charles Kenyon on Friday. The shooting grew out of Applewhite's attentions to Mrs. Kenyon. He was her physician.

On Saturday, side by side in a ravine half a mile from the scene of the shooting, were found Mrs. Kenyon and Dr. Applewhite. The woman was dead from the effects of a twenty grain dose of morphine which Applewhite had given her, and the man was suffering from the effects of the same drug which he had taken himself.

He had also cut two gashes in his neck and several across his wrist with a pocket knife in the attempt to open an artery. Kenyon's injuries are not serious.

Dr. Applewhite died yesterday from the result of his self-inflicted wounds. He never regained consciousness after being taken to his home from the scene of the tragedy.

POLITICS IN NEWFOUNDLAND.

Party Feeling Running High on the Island—Candidates Nominated.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., May 14.—Four candidates, Ayer and Macpherson (Government) and Woods and Hutchings (Whitewayites) were nominated at Western Bay. The former two paid their nomination fees in gold and the Whitewayites in bank notes. The former lodged a protest with the returning officer against the Whitewayites on the ground that notes were not legal tender. The Whitewayites at St. John's did not discover till Friday that their candidates' nomination fees were not in gold and then despatched Emerson, the Speaker of the Assembly, by special train with sufficient gold. Emerson did not arrive in time and the Government lawyer thinks this may be sufficient to void the election if the Whitewayites win.

The nomination was not accompanied without some disturbances. Attempts were made to prevent the Government speakers from addressing the meeting, but most of the people insisted on hearing all the speakers. Later in the night, however, while the Government party were journeying towards Island Cove, they were attacked near Gull Island. Attorney-General Morrison, Colonial Secretary Morena and Garland were badly beaten. Their injuries are not great and they got through safely and held a meeting at Island Cove. Sir Wm. Whiteway, Hon. Robert Bond and Hon. Augustus Harvey will start the political war to-day.

THE EMBARGO QUESTION.

Sir Charles Tupper and Mr. Chaplin Engage in a Controversy.

LONDON, May 14.—The question of the admission of Canadian cattle into Great Britain and the efforts to lift the existing embargo has developed a controversy which in certain high circles bids fair to grow sultry. The letter which Sir Charles Tupper addressed to the Times on the 5th inst., combating statements made in the House of Commons on the 18th ult. by Mr. Henry Chaplin, and to the effect that cattle imported from Canada in the years 1890, 1891 and 1892 carried pleuro-pneumonia with them and infected the herds in Scotland, embraced an unqualified denial of the speaker's assertions.

Mr. Chaplin thereupon renews the attack in reply to Sir Charles' denial, and reiterates his statement that the responsibility for the disease in Scotland in 1892 was with Canadian cattle imported that year. Scotland, he adds, was absolutely free from the disease prior to that. Regarding the proposal to exempt Canadian cattle from slaughter at the port of debarkation, Mr. Chaplin says that in his opinion such a course would expose both owners and breeders to a great risk.

"No government," said he, "would be justified in sanctioning it," and concluded, "I will resist with every means in my power any attempt to give effect to the views upon the Board of Agriculture by the Marquis of Ripon."

Fruit Sales at Montreal.

MONTREAL, May 14.—A large number of prominent fruit men from different parts of the States and Canada are in the city in attendance on the big fruit sales. The sales commenced on Saturday and 44,000 boxes of lemons and oranges were sold. Prices were low at the following range. Messina lemons, 40 cents to $3.10 a box; Palermo lemons, 60 cents to $2.80; Messina oranges, half boxes, $1.80 to $2.10; Messina oranges, boxes, $1.60 to $3.80; Palermo oranges, half boxes, $1.70 to $1.80; boxes, $1.30 to $3.80.

Fashions for Men.

IN COATS.

There is more length to the new Coats for 1894 than has been used in Men's Dress since the 60's.

THE DOUBLE BREASTED FROCK is the most fastidious garment man has put on in a generation. It adds to the stature of the man and conceals defects of figure. It is short waisted, snug fitting, long tailed and beautifully moulded to the figure. The Skirts are hollow at the top and form a beautiful curve, which is the most distinctive thing about the new styles.

Then there is the THREE BUTTON CUTAWAY Coat which is a high favourite. It is popularly described as the "Pigeon Wing" on account of its sloping tails. The sleeves are of moderate size and are closed with a vent for three buttons. If properly made it will cling rather closely to the hips.

The new CUTAWAY SACK COAT for business wear is one of the most popular of the season. It has caught the fancy of the young men. All the pockets should have flaps. The collar rolls low and is not faced with Silk.

Any of these garments made up to order to please the most fastidious dresser and with faultless devotion to the fashion plates

Woman's Rights at Bobcaygeon.

The mission of Mr. Smiff, the apostle of the Good and Beautiful at Bobcaygeon, has not been fruitless. Women's rights are recognized. At the annual meeting of the Mechanics' Institute a lady, Mrs. Bonnell, was elected president, a gentleman being placed in the ornamental position of vice-president, and five of the nine directors are ladies. This is no experiment, the board of directors, on account of their satisfactory services the past year, being re-elected.

Bobcaygeon Locks.

The Independent says:—Mr. Rogers, Superintendent of the Trent Works was here this week, and found that the work performed by Mr. Kennedy on the Lock, has been most successful. For some time past the leakage had been most successful. For some time past the leakage has been so bad that a winch was required to open the gates, but with the aid of the diver, Mr. Junkin, the leakage has been so far stopped, that the gates can be opened by a child. Mr. Kennedy is now fitting up the dredge, and a pile driver, preparatory to completing the cut ot the mouth of the Scugog river.

An Ethiopian Soiree.

Tuesday evening in the opera house will see the Amateur Minstrels in full force holding the boards. Eight end men in appropriate costume, thirty-four exponents of song attired in full dress and black faces, wigs and proper get up will make up a chorus that sings with spirit, vigour and capital effect. The whole forms a constellation of brilliancy never before attempted by any local organization. An entirely new distinct and original programme, introducing capital songs, interesting specialties, amusing character sketches, etc. The members have attained a high degree of proficiency and many of the selections are given in a style that could not be beaten by professionals. If you want to be thoroughly well amused, to laugh and enjoy a couple of hours go and see the performance. Plan of the house at Sailsbury's bookstore. Admission, reserved seats, 50 cents; general admission, 25 cents.

Interview Sir Hibbert.

Under the new regulations the closed season for bass commenced last Thursday and continues till June 30th, both days inclusive. It would be a favourable opportunity whilst the delegates from the Trent waters are in Ottawa this week to interview Sir Hibert Tupper, and endeavour to have arrangements made for changing the season on these waters. At the same time the Minister should be impressed with the importance of having an active overseer appointed for Sturgeon and Pigeon Lakes. It is, indeed, a question whether the proposal of a gentleman who is on the committee of the International Fishing Association, should not be adopted. He proposes that the closed season should commence in December, the object being to stop the slaughter of fish which is carried on, through the ice in the winter. If the sale of bass and maskinonge were stopped for a few years, in the same manner as the Game Act, the fish would have a chance of replenishing the lakes.

AN APPRECIATED PASTOR.

A Tribute to the Ministerial Worth and Work of Rev. A. H. Strike.

At the Bowmanville district meeting of the Methodist church the following resolution which explains itself was unanimously passed. Rev. Mr. Strike's many friends will learn of the success of his work with genuine interest:—

Bowmanville district, Tyrone circuit—Whereas, dear Bro. Strike has been on our circuit as junior pastor for the past two years and as he goes to conference, having completed his term of probation as a minister of our beloved Methodist church, this Quarterly Board assembled desire by this to express our high appreciation of him and believe him to be a sincere Christian. As a minister, efficient and fearless in teaching God's word, as a student persevering and able, his genial and kindly department has won for him the confidence of the community and altogether very acceptable as a worker in God's vineyard. We extend to him our warmest and kindest regards and wishes for his future prosperity in the work to which he has devoted himself and pray his life may be long spared to labour in the cause of his loving Master. W. R. CLEMENS, Recording Steward.

Before the above resolution was voted on some seven members of the board made short speeches, all of which were most complimentary to Rev. Mr. Strike. The above was carried unanimously. Possibly on no circuit in this district are the Epworth Leagues so flourishing as on Tyrone circuit and much of this is due the earnest, unremitting labours of Bro. Strike.

Change in the Grocery Business.

The undersigned desire to announce that they have bought out Mr. C. E. Spong's stock of general groceries, provisions, fruits, confectionery, etc., and will continue to carry on business in the same premises, No. 144 Hunter street. The present stock-in-trade having been purchased at a general discount on the wholesale cost, we are in a position to offer the very best value to our customers. Arrangements have already been made for a fresh supply of new goods, and other new lines will be added in order to bring the stock fully up to the standard of a first-class grocery and provision store. As we are determined to carry on business in the line of square dealing, prompt and reliable service, and one low price to all, we hope to merit a share of the public patronage. A call is respectfully solicited. LANE & HUNTER, successors to C. E. Spong, 144 Hunter street. 3dlw —Destroys bed bugs, cockroaches and other similar pests, sure as death. What? Post's Corrosive Sublimate, for sale at Lynch's drug store, 168 Hunter street.

—A meeting of the Peterborough Workingman's Building and Loan Society will be held at seven o'clock this evening in Mr. Jas. Stevenson's office, Water street.

—The Government has decided to send three officers to England to study. The fortunate ones are Capt. Buchanan, Toronto, and Capts. Hudon and Gaudet, "A" battery, Kingston.

—The Governor General has finally signified his intention of visiting Belleville on the 30th. It would be quite a scheme to invite "His Nibs" to run up to Peterborough while in this vicinity.

—A meeting of the Council of the Board of Trade will be held this evening in the Town Clerk's office for the purpose of appointing delegates to go to Ottawa with the Trent Valley Canal deputation on the 16th.

—The entire band cannot go to Campbellford on the 24th, as it is four uniforms short. Thirty-one of the members will go, though, and, considering the material that's in the Peterborough band, 31 means a good deal.

—The Cricket Club Minstrels have togged out a couple of Grafton's dummies in fancy costume and placed them on the post office corner as an advertisement for their performance to-morrow evening. A good deal of merriment has been caused thereby.

—Rhoda Perkins, a girl from the Peterborough Orphans' Home, and for the past year employed as a domestic at the residence of Dr. Cowan, Guelph, was drowned in the Speed river Saturday night by the sinking of a canoe in which she was seated.

—A frame house owned and occupied by James Ferguson of Norwood, was destroyed by fire Saturday evening. The family were away when the fire broke out. A high wind was blowing at the time, and it was with great difficulty that the adjoining houses and stables were saved. The building was insured for $500 and the contents for $250.

—The sale of wall papers, window shades and cornice poles at the Peterborough Book Store is increasing daily. The public appreciate values these lines. If you want the prettiest wall papers, the newest and handsomest line of window shades and corner trimmings go straight to the Peterborough Book Store. We make a specialty of these lines and offer the best values in town.

—It is to be hoped that better light will be furnished the band by Thursday evening at the park. On Friday night last the light was miserable and a huge torch had to be utilized. Gas furnishes a poor light anyway and if some arrangement could be made, whereby incandescent lights could be introduced on the scene it would be a source of great convenience to our band boys.

—Mr. Thos. Graham, Silver Lake, has a ewe that dropped a lamb of the Leicester Southdown persuasion the other day weighing 14 lbs. A spring lamb producer like that ewe carries her own seasoning. She is a mint—of money—to her owner. A good chance of high living up north—say Graham bread and Graham lamb, Bobcaygeon bass or Bass—Smiff's favourite snifter—would not be a bad combination.

—There were nine "dog" cases up before the P. M. this morning. In some cases the fines for neglecting to take out licenses ran as high as four dollars. One citizen tried to evade the law by claiming that, though there were two dogs on his premises, neither of them belonged to him, but to a friend out in the country for whom he was keeping them. The explanation didn't count though and he had to go down in his "dip."

CHURCH CHIMES.

Rev. Mr. Torrance occupied the pulpit of Knox church, Toronto, yesterday.

The collection in St. Paul's church last night went towards defraying the church debt.

The Brotherhood of St. Andrew meets to-morrow evening in Rev. Mr. Kenrick's rooms, Hunter street.

Rev. A. MacWilliams preached a powerful sermon in Mark street church, Ashburnham, last night.

The Y.P. S. C. E. of St. Paul's held their meeting last night after service instead of this evening on account of the service of song.

The Sons of England will attend service in St. Paul's church on the evening of the 27th. Rev. Mr. Torrance will deliver their annual sermon.

Last Sunday, week Rt.-Rev. Bishop Sweatman administered the rite of confirmation to over 35 candidates at Christ's church, Bobcaygeon.

A service of song will be held this evening in St. Paul's church under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society in connection with the anniversary services of the church.

The chancel of St. John's church has been handsomely tinted with a light terra-cotta colour picked out with gold. This brightens the chancel up considerably. The work was done by Mr. H. W. Watson and is merely the basis for more elaborate decorations in the future.

At George street church yesterday the morning service was taken by Rev. George Edwards and in the evening the pulpit was occupied by Rev. Gideon Powell of Harvey Mission. The Sabbath school will hold anniversary services a week from Friday evening.

At St. Peter's yesterday the bishop celebrated pontifical high mass at 10.30 a.m. Father D. O'Connell officiated as deacon and Father Collins as sub-deacon. Pontifical vespers were held during the evening, being sung by Bishop O'Connor. Father Scollard officiated as deacon and Father Collins as sub-deacon. The sermon was delivered by Venerable Archbishop Casey.

In the Charlotte street church yesterday morning the anthem "We Thank Thee, O Father," was sung, Mr. Squires taking the solo and Misses E. and M. Stephens singing the duet. The evening anthem was entitled "Now the Day is Over." Miss M. Stephens sang the solo part, while Miss E. Stephens and Mr. Squires sang the duet. A quartette composed of Misses E. and M. Stephens and Messrs. Stephens and Steers sang "I Will Praise Him" most acceptably while the offertory was being taken up.

The Rev. Mr. Powell, of Harvey, occupied the pulpit of the Charlotte street Methodist church in the morning and preached an instructive and earnest sermon from the 9th Psalm and the 10th verse. The choir rendered the anthem in a pleasing manner. There was a good congregation present. The pastor preached at the evening service and gave a very practical sermon on the Prodigal Son, drawing many lessons from his subject and applying them in an earnest manner.

At a meeting of the Quarterly Official Board of the Charlotte street Methodist church, held on Thursday, May 10th, 1894, it was moved and seconded and unanimously endorsed: That we cannot let this the last meeting of the Board, of which our Pastor, the Rev. Geo. Edwards, will be with us, pass without expressing our deep sense of the esteem and affection in which he is held by the people of this church. During the three years of his ministry here he has made for himself many warm friends, and by his faithful and earnest preaching and pastoral work in the homes of the people, we feel that his name will long be remembered by the members of this church and congregation. We earnestly pray that the Divine blessing may go with him to Carleton Place where he is soon to remove and that his ministry may be abundantly blessed to the church to which he is called. Signed on behalf of the Board,

A. L. DAVIS, Rec. Steward.

ST. LUKE'S CHURCH NOTES.

The grounds of St. Luke's Church have been beautified by the planting of several spruce trees.

There were large congregations at the services of St. Luke's yesterday, and the Sunday school was the largest on record.

There will be service at Auburn at 7.30 p.m. on Thursday next, and in St. Luke's Church at 8 on Friday evening. The rector will continue his addresses on the Epistle of St. James.

Mr. A. Davies, the new organist of St. Luke's, gives great satisfaction by his tasteful playing. Mr. Davies has had much experience on both the piano and the organ, as also in vocal music, and is desirous of securing pupils in Peterborough.

How is it that Grafton & Co. sell so cheap? They are the makers of their own clothing.

Cash vs. Credit

The following article appeared in the Monetary Times (one of the best commercial journals in Canada) and refers to a firm who did a large credit business for many years, but on giving the matter their serious consideration decided that owing to the many advantages of the cash system they would sell for spot cash only. We quote the extract word for word as printed by them:—

"It is a well-known fact that a great proportion of the losses in any business are caused by "Bad Debts" or long standing accounts, and the loss of interest, cost of collecting, care of books, &c. These losses and the cost of carrying accounts are all a charge on the business and must come out of the profits. For example:—Supposing a firm commencing a cash and credit business, do a credit business of $15,000 the first year; during the year they receive by payments on account $5000 which would leave them when the year closed with $10,000 on their books. From our own experience we can say that, with no increase in the amount of business done, this firm would in future never have less than the $10,000 out, for in their second year they would send goods out on credit as fast as they would collect their previous year's accounts. Now see what extra cost there is in a year doing this $15,000 credit business:

Interest on $10,000 at 8 per cent. bank rate	$800
Losses from Bad Debts	400
Cost of Stationery, Postage, &c.	150
Value of time taken in care of books	400
Total	$1750

Or to do the $15,000 business on credit there is an extra cost of $1,750 or nearly 12 per cent.

When marking goods we have to figure on the cost of giving credit just the same as we do for rent, taxes, help, etc.

We believe a cash business will be mutually beneficial. Every person is looking for the cheapest market to buy in, and where goods are sold on credit cannot be the cheapest place. Neither can a cash and credit business be the cheapest, although cash customers may get a discount yet the credit price is always asked, and even with the discount off the prices are not so low as they would be if the business was strictly cash. It is an undoubted fact that the man who sells the cheapest is the man who sells for cash. Selling for Cash we can and will sell at lower prices than ever before. Buying where credit is given you not only have to pay for your own goods but for the man who does not pay. Buying where no credit is given you get your goods at the lowest figure, they are paid for when got and you have no long bill to settle at the end of the year. If you can get your goods 10 per cent. cheaper by paying cash, and we think you can by dealing with a cash house, don't you think it would be well to try it for a year? We are confident if you give it a trial you will not go back to credit. After giving cash a fair trial they write as follows:—

We have found the change a most satisfactory one, exceeding our expectations. We are thoroughly convinced that so far as our town is concerned the cash system is practicable. When making the change we were afraid that it would give offence to many of our old customers but in this were agreeably disappointed. We tried to show the advantage of the cash system to the customers as clearly as we could, and with few exceptions they agreed with us that the change would be a good one. What was the most satisfactory feature of the change was the way in which the volume of sales kept up. We did not look for it, because when you consider that for 27 years we had been running as a credit business, and that at the end of the year from 25 to 35 per cent. of our year's business was on our books, it is not surprising that we should expect a very large decrease in sales when making the change. We are thoroughly satisfied that we made a good move, and never think of changing back to the old and unsatisfactory credit system.

THESE ARE OUR SENTIMENTS.

While many people who are trading on credit and who only come to our store occasionally, tell you that THEY THINK we are not selling much cheaper. Still we could give you the names of many who have found out, by coming to us to match goods, that they had bought in credit stores and (for which they paid cash) that we sell from ten to twenty per cent. on an average less for the same quality of goods.

A CLEAN SHEET.

WITH the approval of the opponents of Mr. Stratton and no doubt the approval of Mr. Winch, in whose interests it is issued a little pamphlet is being circulated about town to-day which is the highest recommendation Mr. Stratton has yet received from either friend or foe. It is issued with the purpose of belittling the success of Mr. Stratton's efforts on behalf of West Peterborough, and can only recoil upon Mr. Winch, whose record as a representative is not brilliant enough to dazzle the eyesight, and one that cannot bear comparison with any high degree of credit to himself or his friends. During the eight years that Mr. Stratton has represented West Peterborough he has liberally and successfully devoted his time his talents and his efforts, as will be shown at the proper time, to promote the best interests of the constituency and the very best certificate of approval that could be issued—

A CLEAN WHITE SHEET

—is that presented in the inner pages of the pamphlet, which gives the straightforward lie to the petty carpings of the Review, and is the most flattering certificate of qualification that Mr. Stratton has yet received, and the blank pages of the booklet referred to may be regarded as a type of the qualifications of the candidate in whose interest it is issued. The EXAMINER has to thank Mr. Winch and friends for the excellent endorsation they have given him—a clean sheet

AND A PURE RECORD.

THE OLD POLICY

In pursuance of the policy of Mr. Meredith and his followers, the Review of Saturday makes an attack on its favourite object of hostility, the Guelph Agricultural College, and attempts to criticise its management adversely. Among other things it rehashes Dr. Ryerson's exploded charge in regard to tuberculosis at the College. The specific charge in this connection is that Hon. Mr. Dryden, Minister of Agriculture, permitted "calves, the progeny of diseased cattle, to be offered for sale." The most dangerous kind of a lie is the one partly true. If our contemporary had desired to honestly state the facts it would have added what it conceals. The truth is, no animals were offered for sale on the occasion referred to, which were known to be diseased. Four calves were offered for sale which appeared to be sound and doubtless were sound, but the moment it was learned that these calves were the progeny of cows slightly infected, the buyers were notified and asked to allow the calves to remain at the college, where they now are. One calf had been sold and delivered, the buyer was notified and the calf was returned to the college. There was no carelessness, no indifference, but every precaution, that could be taken, was adopted. The calves, the progeny of infected cows, may not have had any taint of the disease, for it is not yet settled that tuberculosis is hereditary, and it cannot be asserted that a cow slightly affected will not throw a healthy calf. As to the fact of tuberculosis existing at the College, that proves no carelessness or lack of precaution. There is hardly a large herd of stock in either Canada or the United States that is not more or less affected with tuberculosis, and no human expedients can absolutely guard against the development of the disease. With fallible human minds and judgments, no impossibilities can be done and it is to the high credit of the management of the Agricultural College that they kept clear of the disease so long. All human actions must be judged by the standard of perfection, and to the Review and the Opposition, that standard of perfection is the Dominion Experimental Farm, Ottawa. There was a severe outbreak of tuberculosis at the Dominion Experimental Farm and so severe was it that several cattle died of it. Not one of the animals at Guelph went so far as that and few of the affected animals could have been detected as suffering, if the presence of the disease had not been shown by the Koch test. Those animals slaughtered at Ottawa proved to be in a much more advanced stage of the disease than those at Guelph. No doubt the greatest precautions were taken at Ottawa and the greatest care exercised, as was also done at Guelph, and the fact that tuberculosis developed at both places shows that in spite of the most vigilant care the disease can get a footing. It is slow in developing after exposure to infection. There are amongst experts many points of dispute as to the disease; as to the extent to which it is contagious; as to its being hereditary, and as to the possibility of cure, and, in view of all these facts, no place is better suited for experimental purposes to solve these questions than the Guelph Agricultural College, and the experiments now going on will throw light on a subject which concerns very especially the stock raising and dairy interests of the country. If the Opposition had the interests of the farmers at heart it would assist, instead of hindering, the Department of Agriculture in gaining such information. But, instead of that, there are obstruction and false statements indulged in for the purpose of scoring a political point, no matter how much the interests of the farmer suffer. The false statement made by the Review has been repeatedly shown to be false. Yet it will, doubtless, bob up serenely at intervals to do duty as a campaign lie, till it develops into a rorabach on the day of election.

THE Review and its Opposition friends are so much in sympathy with the Ottawa stealing of the public funds, that it does not hesitate to steal the brains of others as it did in issuing the little pamphlet circulated on the streets to-day, the original idea being adopted by the Liberals of London in opposition to Mr. W. R. Meredith. Stolen ideas, as well as stolen goods, are inconvenient possessions, and often get the purloiner into trouble.

PERSONAL.

Mr. George J. Horkins will bring his family town this week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Moore have left for a visit to Clifton Springs, N.Y.

Mr. A. Thornton, of Omemee, formerly of Bradford, Pa., is spending a few days with his sister Mrs. John Kincaid, Harvey street. Mr. Thornton is an enthusiastic cricketer and was out on the crease with the local men Saturday afternoon.

Mr. "Jerry" Packenham has accepted the position of manager of Simpson & Reid's grocery establishment in Port Hope. The firm is one of the best known along the line of the Grand Trunk and is to be congratulated on securing so efficient a salesman as Mr. Packenham.

Frank Brown says Dodd's Kidney Pills Give Universal Satisfaction—The Reason is They Never Fail to Cure.

SHELBURNE, May 14.—Frank Brown, the well-known druggist here, says: "In the past eighteen months, I have sold 119 dozen of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Considering the quantity I have sold, I have had an opportunity of ascertaining whether the pills give satisfaction or not. I can say, that during my fifteen years' experience in the drug business, I never sold a medicine that gives the universal satisfaction that Dodd's Kidney Pills do. I am satisfied any person suffering with kidney trouble only requires to give Dodd's Kidney Pills a fair trial, and he will be convinced of their wonderful curative properties.

WHAT WE ARE NOT DOING.

We are not selling Tea worth 50 cents for 25 cents. We are not selling Tea worth 25 cents for 35 or 40 cents—adding ten per cent. at the same time asking you to believe that you are getting ten per cent off. We are not selling Teas or Groceries at less than cost price.

WHAT WE ARE DOING.

We are selling Tea worth 25 cents for 25 cents. We are selling Tea worth 40 cents for 40 cents. We are selling Teas and Groceries six days in the week at a small advance upon cost price and feel safe in saying that people who, instead of running after shadows, buy their goods in the way we are selling, save money thereby. We have excellent value in Black, Green, Japan and Oolong Teas from 25 to 50 cents, and think you can save from 10 to 15 cents on this by giving us a trial. We have also a well selected and fresh stock of Groceries and Provisions, and can give you value with every purchase.

THE MODERN CITY OF SHANGHAI AND ITS PEOPLE.

The Foreign Colony in the Chinese City Luxuriate in High Class Clubs and Pursue All the Pleasures of the Age—China's Biggest Newspaper.

Nearing Shanghai is like sailing into one of the great harbors of the Mediterranean. You see a foreign city lining the banks of the river and the smokestacks of a dozen great factories send out their black clouds in the blue sky. There are several miles of these factories, and one I noted which covered many acres was in ruins from a recent fire. It was a big gray brick of many stories, which the Chinese had built for the manufacture of cotton and in which they have for some years employed hundreds of hands and had the finest of modern machinery. Going on up the river through great house-like barges known as opium boats past a mile or so of massive wharves backed by iron-roofed warehouses, almost touching our side-wheeler gunboat, the Monocacy, we landed at the French wharf and in a moment later were in the greatest foreign settlement of China, the Paris of the east, the city of Shanghai.

There is no town on the globe like Shanghai. It is a city of the rich, who out here on the shores of Asia, within a stone's throw of the poorest people of the world, live more luxurious lives than do the wealthy people of the United States or England. I speak of the Shanghai of the European and the American. The Chinese who are mixed up in it are as poor or as rich as they are in other parts of the empire. The foreigners have the right to the land in what is known as the concessions. These belong to England, France and the United States, and the government is made up of a council elected by them, so that there is in reality here a little republic, which makes its own laws, has its own police force and manages its own business independent of the celestials. The land nominally belongs to the emperor, but it is the property of the foreigners by their paying a certain ground rent, which has been fixed by treaty. This amounts to about five gold dollars per acre a year. When it was bought it cost something like two hundred dollars per acre, but much of it has been sold for from $60,000 to $100,000 per acre, and thus made the fortunes of the original holders. Upon it all sorts of improvements have gone up, and along the river there are now as fine houses as you will find anywhere in the world. Business blocks of immense size lie just back of a beautiful park between the river and the street, and a big city has grown up on the ground owned by the foreigners. There are only about 3,000 foreigners, but the foreign settlement contains more than 200,000 people, the remainder of whom are natives, who like to do business and live under foreign protection. In addition to this, there is within a short distance the native City of Shanghai of 123,000 inhabitants. This is surrounded by walls, and it is as dirty and as nasty as are the Chinese cities of the interior, where a foreigner has never been seen. Foreign Shanghai is a city of electric lights, of newspapers and of libraries. The subscription library here contains 12,000 volumes and the library of the Shanghai Club has more than 5,000.

THE CITY EDITOR AND HIS STAFF.

The Biggest Chinese Newspaper.

I paid a visit yesterday to the biggest Chinese newspaper in the empire to make inquiries as to the employment of a Chinese artist to do some native illustrations for me, and had a most interesting talk with the manager. The paper is called the Shun Pao, and it is the best-paying and most widely circulated of the three native newspaper dailies of Shanghai. It is an eight-page sheet of about the size and shape of Frank Leslie's newspaper or Harper's Weekly, printed on the thinnest of rice paper. It is so light that it does not weigh more than a man's handkerchief, and so thin that the paper can be printed on one side only. The paper goes to press in big sheets, which are so folded that the blank side is turned inward when taken in hand by the subscriber, and so that there is neither cutting nor pasting. Owing to the thinness of the paper, it has a greasy yellow appearance, and it is printed so closely with Chinese type that not an inch of space seems to be wasted. The headline or title of the paper consists of two Chinese characters, taking up a space not wider than one of the columns of our newspapers, and not more than an inch in length. It is a 1-cent sheet, its price being 10 cash, but, as China is on a silver basis, this should, in our money, now be divided by two, and its price would then be only half a cent.

But let me give you my talk with the managers. I went to the office without my interpreter, and my jinrikisha man, after driving me through a series of narrow Chinese streets, in which we had a number of narrow escapes from pony cabs and freight wheelbarrows, landed me at a ragged two-story building with a side entrance. Over this were large tea-box characters, meaning the name of the paper. I went in and made my way to the second story, where I luckily stumbled into the room of the managing editor. I addressed him in good plain Anglo-Saxon, and found that he spoke English as well as I did. I introduced myself, and showed him some letters which I carry from the state department and from high officials at Washington. He read them and looked at the seals and then bowed low again and again, and shook his own hands at me in Chinese fashion, and asked me to be seated. At my request he took up a copy of his newspaper and explained it to me, giving me a number of facts about newspaper work among the celestials.

"We have," said he "the largest newspaper in China, and our daily circulation is about 12,000. There are two other native newspapers published in this city, but neither of them makes as much as we do. We are the oldest, and we have been in existence now about twenty-two years. We have a good advertising patronage, and the Chinese believe in newspaper advertising. Take a look at the paper and you will see that it is prosperous from an advertising standpoint."

I looked at it, but for the life of me I could not tell the "adds" from the editorials, and I said so. The editor took it from me and said: "This first page is all editorial. We don't let any of our advertisers use it. If we let one they would all want it, and so we use it only for ourselves when we have special announcements and for editorials and news. The second page and part of the third page is news and the ads do not commence until the latter part of the paper. We often have to issue supplements to get in all our advertising, but our Chinese customers object if we do not put news and reading matter in the supplement as well. You note the lines run up and down the page instead of across it, and the beginning is at the right of the page instead of the left, as with you. Our lines are about fifteen inches long and we count by the word, not by the line. Each Chinese character represents a word, and our rates are five cents for each ten characters for the first insertion, three cents when the advertisement runs for a week and two and a half cents a day per each ten words for all time after that."

"Are there many papers in China and do you find them in the interior?" I asked.

"No," replied the Chinese editor. "We circulate all over China, but you do not find papers published in the native cities. The governors would not permit them, as the editors might say things they would not like, and many of them would not want their doings criticised or reported. The Chinese are very economical. Money is worth a great deal here. We charge, for instance, ten cash for this paper and we have in reality a circulation of at least 50,000, though we print only 12,000 papers."

"How is that?" said I.

Papers Are Rented.

"The paper is resold and rented by the subscribers and others, so that at least that many heads of families get hold of it. We pay our newsboys two cash a copy for selling, or, rather, we sell them the papers, so that we get eight cash out of the ten. They receive in your money just about one-tenth of a cent for selling and delivering the paper. Well! they cheat the regular customers often by renting the paper for six or seven cash to outsiders till 11 or 12 o'clock, when they will come around and get and deliver it. So you see every newspaper reaches at least a half dozen persons or families before it is burned."

ROMEO AND JULIET IN CHINA—FROM CHINESE ILLUSTRATED PAPER.

All of the unsold copies of the Shun Pao are burned by the office. The Chinese reverence literature so that they think it a sin to use as wrapping paper or in any common way anything written or printed in Chinese.

I walked through the offices with the manager and was introduced to the editors. The city editor was a fat Chinese gentleman in tortoise shell spectacles, the glasses of which were as big as a trade dollar, who wore a blue silk gown and a black cap with a red button on it. He was surrounded by his long-gowned reporters, to whom he was giving the assignments of the day, and he told me he would be on duty till 3 o'clock in the morning, when the paper would go to press. I next visited the composing-rooms and took a look at the printers. There were, perhaps, a dozen at work and I was told that their wages were from $1.50 to $3 a week in silver, equal to 75 cents and $1.50 in our currency. The editors get from $30 to $40 a month and reporters from $8 to $10 a month in silver, according to their efficiency. The printers do night and day work for seven days in the week and 365 days in the year at these wages, and it takes no slight learning to be a Chinese printer. There are in the Chinese language 13,000 different characters, and each of the cases I saw in this composing room, the editor told me, contained about 10,000 different characters. In a Chinese printing office the cases are ten times as big as ours, and each printer stands surrounded by three walls of type, running from his feet to the top of his head and sloping out from him on all sides.

After a look at the business office of the newspaper I was shown the only illustrated newspaper in China, which is also issued from this establishment. It is published every ten days. It is about as big as an old-fashioned almanac, and it always appears in red or green covers. It publishes many descriptions of life the world over, and its pictures of foreigners and their ways are laughable in the extreme. There is no perspective shown in the drawings, and the Chinese stories are full of blood and thunder, of sentiment and humor. Here the Chinese Romeo woos his almond-eyed Juliet, and there the tragedies of love, abduction, of crime and superstition are depicted by the Gillams and Remingtons of this celestial land.

FRANK G. CARPENTER.

The Date of Creation.

In the seventeenth century, Dr. John Lightfoot, Vice-Chancellor of the University of Cambridge, the great rabbinical scholar of his time, attempted to reconcile the two accounts in Genesis by saying that "man was created by the Trinity on Oct. 23, 4004 B. C., at 9 o'clock in the morning." Here was, indeed, a triumph of Lactantius's method, the result of a thousand years of biblical study and theological thought, since Bede, in the eighth century, and Vincent de Beauvais, in the thirteenth, had declared that creation must have taken place in the spring. Yet, alas! within two centuries after Lightfoot's great theological demonstration as to the exact hour of creation, it was discovered that at that hour an exceedingly cultivated people, enjoying all the fruits of highly developed civilization, had long been swarming in the great cities of Egypt, and that other nations hardly less advanced had at that time reached a high development in Asia.—Popular Science Monthly.

The Best Medicine.

J. O. WILSON, Contractor and Builder, Sulphur Springs, Texas, thus speaks of Ayer's Pills:

"Ayer's Pills are the best medicine I ever tried; and, in my judgment, no better general remedy could be devised. I have used them in my family and recommended them to my friends and employes for more than twenty years. To my certain knowledge, many cases of the following complaints have been completely and by the use of Ayer's Pills alone: Third day chills, dumb ague, bilious fever, sick headache, rheumatism, flux, dyspepsia, constipation, and hard colds. I know that a moderate use of Ayer's Pills, continued for a few days or weeks, as the nature of the complaint required, would be found an absolute cure for the disorders I have named above."

"I have been selling medicine for eight years, and I can safely say that Ayer's Pills give better satisfaction than any other Pill I ever sold."—J. J. Perry, Spottsylvania C. H., Va.

THE SCHOOLBOY'S WISH.

A little boy sat at his desk in school
Reading his lessons over;
Through the window he heard the bumble-bee
Burning among the clover.

He heard the song of the wren in the tree,
Trilling her merry ditty;
He heard the scream of the railroad train
Speeding away to the city.

He thought—"how I wish that I was that bee
With nothing to do but flying,
Or sing like the wren, or on the train
Away to the city hieing."

But at night when he went to his little bed,
Tired with playing and study
He was glad he was not a bee or a bird,
Or alone in the distant city.

PONDOLAND.

Great Britain's Latest Acquisition in the South of Africa.

Pondoland—where troubles have been brewing for a year or two past—is probably a term unknown to most Englishmen. If asked to state its position on the map few persons would be able to give a satisfactory answer, and yet this comparatively unknown tract of country is one of the loveliest South Africa.

Pondoland, as shown by the accompanying sketch map, lies between the Um-Tata and the Um-Tamvuna. It is bounded on the north by Natal, on the west by Griqualand East and on the southwest by Tembuland and Bomvanaland. It is a country of rich valleys and hills and is well watered, the principal river being that called the Um-Zimvuba or St. John's river, which rises in the Drakensberg. This river possesses an excellent port, which was annexed to Cape Colony in 1884.

The Pondomosi are divided into numerous tribes, of which the principal are the Ama-Kongwe, the Ama-Kongwela, the Ama-Kobola, the Ama-Kwera and the Ama-Negati, etc. They live in villages in the fruitful valleys of their country, and, thanks to the distance which separates them from Cape Colony they have been able to maintain themselves in a comparative state of independence. The total population is estimated at 200,000 persons. The Pondomosi tribe under the chiefs Undetshwa and Umblonblo and some of the most powerful clans, in alliance with the Tembus, took up arms at the outbreak of the Basuto war against the government of Cape Colony. The insurrection was eventually surppressed and a resettlement of the country was effected. Sir Bartle Frere in 1878 issued a proclamation in which Umgikela, the paramount chief of the Pondos, for breach of his treaty engagements, ceased to be recognized as such, and the port of the St. John's river was vested in Cape Colony. Umgikela, however, was permitted to continne as chief of Eastern Pondoland, and a resident was deputed to act as the representative of the government of Cape Colony in that country. Umgikela died in the autumn of 1887, and in the following spring his son Sigcau, the present paramount chieftain, was elected as his successor. The port of St. John's is said to be destined to become the great emporium for trade between East London and Durban. The river at its mouth is nearly 700 yards wide.

Dislikes of Authors.

It is a curious thing how those who write famous books or create well known noms de plume develop an aversion to them as time goes on. Edward Bellamy, for example, absolutely sudders when one talks of "Looking Backward" in his presence. There is no surer way to offend Bret Harte than to refer to him as the author of "The Heathen Chinee." Will Carleton cannot imagine why people should associate "Over the Hills to the Poorhouse" so prominently with his name.

Mrs. Burnett dislikes too much mention of "Little Lord Fauntleroy" in her presence, but courts any praise of her story of "Vagabondia," with which so few, in comparison with those who know her famous juvenile story, have any knowledge. Charles Heber Clarke has a strong aversion to any association of his once famous nom de plume of "Max Adler" with his name.

Charles G. Leland's ire is aroused when one speaks of "Hans Breitmann" as his best piece of work. E. P. Roe never could understand why people bought "Opening of a Chestnut Burr" in preference to his later and what he deemed his better books. Eugene Field feels that he has written fifty poems that are superior to "Little Boy Blue." John Hay's feelings are hurt when one introduces him at a dinner, as did a chairman at a literary supper recently, as the author of "Little Breeches."—London Tit Bits.

Banquet to American Officers.

LONDON, May 12.—A meeting of the committee on banquet to the Chicago officers was held last evening with General Lord Roberts in the chair. After some discussion the members decided to hold the banquet in St. James' hall on May 24, Queen Victoria's Birthday. They made out a partial list of invited guests, among whom will be Ambassador Bayard, several members of his staff; Consul-General Patrick Collins, American consuls from the larger provincial cities, the Lord Mayor and two sheriffs of London.

The Samoan Islands.

BERLIN, May 12.—The Vossische Zeitung says that the statement to Congress of United States Secretary of State Gresham on the situation in Samoa indicates the probable opening of negotiations in the near future which will result in a dual control of the Samoan islands. While such an issue would be regrettable the Zeitung says what Mr. Gresham has said of America will apply equally to Germany, which can gain no honor or advantage in Samoa.

British Aid to Insurgents.

LONDON, May 12.—The Foreign Office has informed Sir J. Blundell Maple, M.P., in answer to a recent inquiry that any statement that assistance of any kind was given by the British commander at Rio de Janeiro to the Insurgents in the late revolutionary movement in Brazil, or that British officials had in any way aided in an attempt to restore the monarchy in Brazil or otherwise affect the political situation was unqualifiedly false.

There Was No Fight at Tete.

LONDON, May 12.—A despatch from Zanzibar says that H. H. Johnston, Imperial Commissioner to Nyasaland has arrived there. He denies that a collision between Portuguese and British forces took place at Tete last March. The Portuguese fort saluted the British gunboat, he says, and the natives probably mistook the demonstration for fighting and spread the report.

Cholera Spreading in Poland.

ODESSA, May 12.—The cholera is spreading with alarming rapidity in the districts of Warsaw, Kovno, Plotsk, Radom, Podolia and Kieff. Although exceptionally careful preventive measures have been taken it is generally feared that the epidemic will be as serious as in 1893.

No Fear of an Uprising.

LONDON, May 12.—Advices from Calcutta say there is no reason to fear a native upriaing, although the authorities have not relaxed their vigilance or abated any of the precautions recently taken to prevent an outbreak.

She Was Absent Minded.

The recent celebration of "Forefather's day" at Medfield, Mass., was an event of more than local interest, says the Boston Journal. Mr. Hezekiah Butterworth, talking about it, spoke of that old town, its landmarks, and what it stood for. Then he said he had learned in connection with that one of the funniest things he ever heard of. "As a case of absent-mindedness it was very, very funny," he said. "Hannah Adams was the first female writer to receive recognition in this country. Her home was in Medford, and her body was the first to be buried at Mount Auburn.

"It was customary then to ride horseback to church. Hannah used to ride with her father, on a pillion behind him, on the same horse. It happened one Sunday on the way to church she fell off, pillion and all. He did not notice it, nor, indeed, miss her until at the church steps he would have helped her alight. Alarmed, he rode rapidly back, afraid she must have been seriously hurt not to have called to him when she fell. And do you know," went on Mr. Butterworth, laughing heartily, "do you know he found her seated on the pillion in the middle of the dusty path, and until he came up to her she was totally oblivious to the fact that she was not seated as usual behind her father on the old horse on the way to church. That's one of the worst instances of absent-mindedness I ever heard. I suppose Hannah was busy writing another book in her mind while sitting there on the pillion in the dust.

A Useful Paper.

A St. Petersburg editor has hit upon the notion of printing his journal on paper suitable for making cigarettes. It is said that its circulation has been largely increased by this means, as the Russians are largely given to smoking cigarettes which they make themselves.

The Unfailing Success of Dodd's Kidney Pills Induces Fradulent Imitators to Attempt to Pass Worthless Remedies on the Public.

TORONTO, May 7.—This appears to be an age of fakes and frauds. It seems impossible for any new idea or valuable invention to be made known without a host of imitators trying to foist their worthless goods on an unsuspecting public in the hope of making an unmerited profit out of their worthless ideas. The unequalled success of Dodd's Kidney Pills in curing all forms of kidney disease, has led to the introduction of many cheap and base imitations that are worse than valueless. Dodd's was the first kidney remedy ever offered in pill form. For their own safety, purchasers should buy none but Dodd's Kidney Pills. Millinery Critics

Recognize the remarkable freshness and beauty of our stock. Seems almost useless to advertise our Millinery. Ever since the spring reception it has been advertising itself, and a stranger looking in would think each day "first view day." Yet it is right to be courteous to our attractive novelties.

Our Millinery business is always being stimulated, and the wonderful varieties of taste displayed brings us happy visitors and pleased customers all the time. Because many are coming and buying; more will come and will buy.

This growing success proves the public faith—you trust and then you buy. Why? Every advertising word is true—you know it, and are sure to find it always so here.

Mantles and Capes.

The very newest and neatest—all much below regular value. In our collection, remember, there are no old things—no mistakes limping up to roll-call and never getting any further. No. All are favourites. They have 1894 style and goodness about them, and the prices combine to make matchless bargains.

Dress Goods.

Tastes differ, uses are various; therefore the proper Dress Goods stock must cover all sorts or there will be disappointment. Our stock is as nearly complete as we can make it, and, out of prevailing times, have grown prices that were never matched before, and are not likely to be equalled again.

Underwear Hosiery and Gloves.

Fresh lots coming in to keep sizes and qualities suitable to the season. Better than that—prices are going down and qualities going up.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES.

REV. DR. PARSONS, OF KNOX CHURCH, TORONTO, DISCOURSES ABLY.

Two Powerful Sermons Delivered by the Well-known Divine — Large Congregations—Collections Devoted to the Payment of the Church Debt —Song Service this Evening.

Anniversary services were held in St. Paul's church yesterday and the pulpit was becomingly decorated with potted plants in bloom. The services were conducted both morning and evening by Rev. Dr. Parsons, of Knox College, Toronto, and his discourses were listened to with intense intense. He is a speaker of great fluency and has a taking way with him which prevents any flagging in the interests of his audiences.

In the evening the Doctor's discourse was confined mainly to the theme concerning the remarks of certain individuals to the effect that they didn't know whether they were Christians or not. This position which they took he claimed to be a false one. No one could be so placed that he was unaware how he stood. The thing was an impossibility. No man could go into the street and meeting another not know whether he knew him or not: therefore no man could go through the world without the knowledge of whether he knew his Saviour or not.

A man cares not to have his sin revealed to him, continued the speaker, and when Jesus Christ came upon earth He would have passed through unmolested if He had merely been announced as a good man engaged in a good work, but when the world understood Him to say He was of God, and equal with God, their anger was engendered, as the world knew it would STAND REVEALED IN ITS SIN.

The relation which He claimed He held with the Father produced a condemnation in themselves of the people. When Christians hear sermons on sin, with descriptions of what it is, they recoil from the bare facts and don't like it. They don't want to hear about hell but what difference does it make to the Almighty whether they want to hear it or not? A little finite being like a mortal setting itself up and trying to say that it didn't like to hear of the consequences of sin?

A particularly apt definition was given by the doctor of the relation borne by Jesus Christ to the Father. The latter was likened to the soul of a mortal and the former to the conscience of that mortal. The Father spoke through the Son to the world as the soul spoke through the conscience to the body. Through the soul and conscience God had given us an understanding so that we could comprehend His works. He stretched out his hand to save the world from rushing to destruction by giving all an understanding.

The small still voice of conscience was then enlarged upon. Disobeying its dictates had filled the courts and jails of the country. The rich and the poor alike fell when the warnings of conscience were passed by unheeded. When a sinner resists this voice of the Almighty he comes under the and starts in to excuse his conduct by subterfuges. This hardens the heart. It might seem strange that the voice of God was instrumental in hardening the heart, and in order to illustrate his meaning more clearly the doctor pointed out how the same sun could cause the seed in the ground to grow and swell and finally burst and send up a blade of vegetation, and yet could cause the ground to grow harder and harder and more difficult of cultivation. The whole difference lay in the state of the soil. It was the same God who hardened Pharoah's heart, who warmed the heart of Moses and made it overflow with love and brotherly kindness.

You will know your heart is in proper condition, continued Dr. Parsons, when you take delight in pleasing the Lord and studying His word to see in what you can please Him.

Christianity, claimed the speaker, did not come to one with a rush. The galvanizing process, as practiced by some denominations could never bring a man to God. A speaker getting up and working an audience up into a renzy more by his mesmeric ability than anything else and then labelling the poor deluded sinners "converts" and turning them loose, could never accomplish any good. Such methods were not

ACCORDING TO HIS GOSPEL.

The system of making great resolutions and saying "now this thing has got to be faced," and thus go through the conversion business found little favour in the eyes of the doctor. He advocated rather a calm "looking unto God and an endeavour to lead a better life and the searching of the Scriptures to learn His will.

"You don't have to run around and tell everybody you are converted," said he. Such proclamations on the street corners are poor samples of a Christian life and it becomes more nauseous every day to hear a man get up and proceed to tell you how good he is and how he became so good. If a man is good his actions will show it; it is not to be bruited abroad. The fact will be known. No reporter ever rushes into his office with the news that the sun is shining, as the fact is apparent to all. So it should be with religion. If you belong to Christ everybody can see something of Christ in you. You become identified with Him, as it were.

Some find it hard, stated he, to reason out how the unspeakable love of God can be harmonized with the mention of his great wrath. "God is Love," so read the Scriptures, and it is this love coming on one and being rejected that brings on himself the condemnation of his conscience. For a time, while the grace of God is extended, the heart, still failing to respond to the rays of love, becomes callous and the sinner proceeds on his way unaffected as he is still protected by the love which is TRYING TO REDEEM HIM.

The love is then withdrawn and with it the grace of God, then the remorse begins and the condemnation of conscience falls like a ban on the life of the sinner. This is the so called wrath of God, neither more nor less than the withdrawal of His love.

The true Christian instead of becoming puffed up with a sense of his perfections is always kept humble with a sense of his shortcomings. People are very observant in their conversation and manners and seek on every occasion to improve them. So it should be in spiritual culture, one should always be improving and noting one's own imperfections.

In conclusion, Doctor Parson, impressively urged the congregation to dispel all idea of making a great struggle and a strong resolution to come unto Jesus. It needed nothing more than the humble prayer, asking and receiving. According to the scriptures "He that believeth on the Son hath witness in himself," there was no such thing therefore as not knowing whether one belonged to God or not. There was no half way about it, one was perfectly sure either one way or the other.

AN ACCIDENT WHICH WAS ALMOST A FATALITY.

The Vestibule Doors on a Train Prove a Trap for an Old Gentleman Who Narrowly Escapes Death.

Mr. Alexander Roe, of Milverton, Perth County, is at present lying in the Nicholls' Hospital swathed in bandages, as the result of an accident, which happened to him Saturday night and which will doubtless prove a lesson to many who might have followed his example.

Mr. Roe, who is 68 years of age, and his wife were on their way from Milverton to the town of Perth in order to attend the funeral of Mr. Maclaren, the father of Mrs. Roe, which was to take place in that town to-day. Shortly before eleven o'clock when the train was in the vicinity of Manvers station, Mr. Roe left his wife to go forward into the smoking car in order to indulge in a whiff at his pipe. Never having travelled on a vestibuled train before by the many doors confronting him when he stepped out on the platform of the car, and in mistake opened a door leading directly out on the car steps. As a natural consequence, as soon as he attempted to find a footing outside, he lost his balance and was hurled from the train.

After lying by the side of the track in an unconscious condition for some hours, Mr. Roe gradually recovered himself and crawled to a spot where he could rest more easily. Here he remained in great agony until he saw the early morning express go by. As the day became further advanced he observed a farm house in the distance and crawling there solicited assistance, which was warmly accorded him by the farmer, a Mr. Gilles, who drove him to Manvers station.

In the meantime the train upon which he had taken passage with his wife had arrived at Perth and the old lady was almost distracted to find that her husband

WAS MISSING FROM THE TRAIN.

The officials on board the train last remembered seeing Mr. Roe somewhere west of Peterborough and messages were accordingly despatched to all stations from here west for an organized search to be inaugurated, while an engine was despatched along the line to keep a sharp look out for the old gentleman.

By the time, therefore, that Mr. Roe and Mr. Giles reached Manvers the officials were aware that a passenger had been missed from the train and were prepared to forward him on the next freight, which came along in time to bring Mr. Roe into Peterborough at about eleven o'clock yesterday morning. Dr. Bell, C. P. R. physician, met him at the station and immediately summoned a hack and drove with the old gentleman to the hospital, where upon examination it was found that two or three ribs were broken on the left side but that, beyond a severe shaking up and considerable bruising, Mr. Roe had

MIRACULOUSLY ESCAPED INJURY.

A telegram was sent Mrs. Roe, allaying her fears, by C. P. R. Station Agent Bamford, who advised her that her immediate presence was not necessary and that Mr. Roe would be able to proceed on his journey in the course of three or four days. Dr. Bell states that he has no fear of any serious results, unless the edges of the broken ribs have turned inward, in which case considerable inflammation might be caused.

Considering that the vestibule doors were placed on the trains as a safe-guard against danger it seems odd that they should almost form a death trap in this manner to a passenger.

LACROSSE.

The opening of the lacrosse season in Peterborough took place Saturday afternoon on Riverside Park, when a team from Millbrook and the Shamrocks of this town lined up on the field to cross sticks. The visitors were costumed in light and dark blue striped jerseys and dark trousers and the town boys were attired in natty uniforms, consisting of light blue jerseys with a couple of white embroidered shamrocks on the breasts, and dark blue trousers with a white strip on the side. This exceedingly taking uniform was topped off with small white caps. The head gear of the visiting team, consisting of large broad-rimmed "marbled" sombreros, were more picturesque than useful, as at the end of five minutes' play there wasn't one in sight on the head of a player.

The attendance was large, a

being present, and the interest in the game was unflagging, from start to finish.

The ball was faced at three o'clock sharp by referee Temple, and the teams lined up as follows:

T McDonough	Field captain	R McMahon

G Temple—Referee.

Eakins for the visitors got the ball at the start and sent it travelling down in close proximity to the Shamrocks' goal, where it stayed several minutes. Jack McDonough, however, relieved presently and sent the ball hustling up to centre where it was cleverly caught by Galley and passed along to the other end of the field. Back and forth travelled the rubber sphere and the best playing of the game was witnessed during the initial ten minutes. The first goal was scored by the Shamrocks by who by a clever shot scored. Time 12 minutes.

MACNAMARA PASSING TO GALLEY,

After resting five minutes, goals were changed and the game was resumed. Thirteen minutes of very wild play ensued, during which time balls were lost in the river on one side and in the creek on the other. The Millbrooks were then successful in making the games even. Rogers had deserted his goal while point was engaged in the scrimmage. The result very naturally was that, when the ball was finally tipped out of the crowd by Charlie Richards to Freddy Coomb, the latter had no difficulty in lobbing the sphere between the posts. Another five minutes' rest was taken and twenty minutes later Galley scored again for the Shamrocks.

Seven minutes after the game was resumed Galley was once more successful in shooting on goal for the Shamrocks, and the fifth and last game was also won by the home team, McMahon doing the needful in seven minutes.

The members of the visiting team were outspoken in acknowledging that they were outclassed at every point. They are a light little team and stood no chance whatever against the weight of the Shamrocks, the one game they secured being as had the home team been playing in any kind of position the score would have stood 4—0 in favor of the Shamrocks instead of 4—1.

The Riverside boys will doubtless make a far better showing when they run up against really good teams if they make more of a feature of their team work. On Saturday there was too much individual play entirely. Galley put up a star game all through, but then it was a star game, as an individual, not as a member of a team. He scored three of the games for the Shamrocks it is true, but then he was supposed to be playing centre and a centre isn't generally found running in on goal. Galley would make an A. 1. man playing home. Jack McDonough and Hickey also put up a game, which showed that the Shammrocks had in the personnel of its team.

For the visitors F. Clary, Jack Natrass and Stanley Carveth did the playing. They were well backed up by Freddy Coomb and G. Leach. The entire team was composed exclusively of Millbrook boys and for a junior team they did well, though being poor at stick work and using little judgment in passing the ball. The Shamrocks held the ball on their sticks too long and the Millbrooks went to the other extreme and fired the ball in almost any direction, as hard as they could, as soon as they secured it.

NOTES.

Umpire Temple performed his duties most satisfactorily to all.

Mr. James Dolan invested in a basket of fruit and very gallantly treated all the ladies in the grand stand.

The Shamrocks are all well put up and can boast a pretty high average for physique.

The return match will be played in Millbrook about the first of June.

LeBar's fast running was noticeable.

The new suits of the home team were greatly admired. They are as catchy uniforms as could be run across in a day's travel.

The Junior Peterborough Lacrosse Club will be pleased to make arrangements to meet the Shamrock Lacrosse Club on Monday evening, May 21st, on the P.A.A.A. grounds. The acceptance of this challenge will oblige

RIVER AND LAKE RIPLETS.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The thanks of canoeists in general are due Mr. R. B. Rogers for giving orders which led to the repairing of the rollers in the canoe and boat chute at the locks. Ten new ones have been placed in position and being well greased, work like a charm.

A number of other repairs was also in progress at the locks. New booms are being placed on the gates and a number of new platforms erected.

Inspector Breese spent Sunday down the river in his canoe in the prosecution of his duties. His steam launch lies idle most of the time as her engine is too weak to propel her at any speed through the water. It is said an engine of greater power will be placed in the little craft.

Not a few fishermen were out yesterday around the locks. Angling with both the gaff and bait was indulged in.

Canoeists were down the river in force during both the morning and afternoon, Sunday.

The new steamer City of Peterborough begins to look quite imposing as she dons her outside coat of paint.

Crowds of small boys and quite a few larger ones indulged in the pleasure of a swim in Little Lake yesterday. The water is quite chilly yet.

The wall papers kept in stock at the Peterborough Bookstore are so pretty and cheap that a customer who buys paper intending to cover only one room, is so delighted that he returns and procures papers for three or four other rooms. This is only natural, for our papers are so beautiful and so low in price that persons find it very hard to resist the temptation of buying. A. H. STRATTON & Co.

That Musty Old Carpet.

Oh, dear to our hearts are the sad days of spring-time,
When the annual house-cleaning recurs to our view;
When we sleep on the sofa and eat off the mantel,
In an atmosphere strongly suggestive of glue,
We think of the stove pipe, the soot that came with it,
Likewise the profanity, fluent and fine;
But saddest and bitterest of all recollections
Is the dusty old carpet that hung on the line.

Oh, that dusty old carpet
That fusty old carpet,
That musty old carpet,
That hung on the line!

We remember how, armed with a huge flagellator,
In the morning we bitterly advanced to the fray;
In the muscular pride of our heart little dreamed we
That cleaning that carpet would take the whole day.
We sweat and we swore, and our hands badly blistered,
While the sun lent its countenance, warmly benign;
But the harder we pounded, the more it was needed
By that dusty old carpet that hung on the line!

Oh, that dusty old carpet,
That musty old carpet,
That fusty old carpet
That hung on the line.

Busy as Beavers.

The season's Carpet trade is booming right along and sales are more satisfactory than we had expected. The inference is that styles and qualities and values are best here.

Come in and learn our prices, then ask yourself the question "if it pays to waste time on that musty old carpet that hangs on the line."

Our stock bears the marks of novelty all over it. The colours are a study. The patterns are a study. Such delightful originality needs to be looked at and known to be properly appreciated.

Before spending a cent on floor-coverings we invite you to see the New Carpets, New Rugs, New Oilcloths, New Linoleums.

No need to magnify our facilities for seeing and showing them. There are no larger, lighter, more adaptable show-rooms the country over. Plenty of room and light helps to a speedier choice and you get what you think you're getting, without doubt.

TEN YEARS AT KINGSTON

Mrs. Evans' Sentence in the Sharon Case—Osman Gets Two Years.

TORONTO, May 15.—Mrs. Lottie Evans and George Osman were up before Justice Robertson at the Assize Court yesterday to receive their sentence in the Sharon poisoning case.

His Lordship sentenced Mrs. Evans to ten years in the provincial penitentiary at Kingston. Mrs. Evans, who has been remarkably cool and collected throughout the course of the whole trial, took the sentence with the utmost composure. On being asked the usual question, "Have you anything to say why sentence should not be passed upon you?" she replied in a steady voice, "Nothing, except that I am innocent of any crime."

Mr. Murdoch, her counsel, applied for a new trial, which application His Lordship refused.

George Osman took his sentence coolly. "If poison was administered it was without my knowledge," he said. He was sentenced to two years in Kingston penitentiary.

ELCTION ROWS IN NEWFOUNDLAND

Bay de Verde Said to be in a State of Petty Warfare.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., May 15.—The various newspapers are full of the most conflicting accounts of the trouble at Bay de Verde. All indications point to very serious outbreaks. The Telegram charges that Colonial Secretary Morine drew a revolver on the inhabitants of Broad Cove because they refused to allow him to speak, and declares that very serious consequences would have ensued but for the forbearance of the people.

The Herald denies this altogether, and declares that Morine and Morrison held a successful meeting there—that Moores, the disqualified Whiteway member, was not allowed to speak, and that Henry Wood, late Surveyor-General, was afraid to attend the meeting.

There was renewed disorder at Bay de Verde yesterday. Further conflicts are expected. The whole district is in, practically, a state of petty warfare. The police force is inadequate to control the mob.

CRUSHED BY A WATER WHEEL.

Terrible Accident to an Employe of a Gatineau Mill.

OTTAWA, May 15.—A sad fatality is reported from Chelsea, up the Gatineau. Moise Joaneisse of that village was crushed and drowned in the turbine of one of Gilmour & Houston's water wheels.

The exact circumstances of the accident are not known, but it seems the victim, who was employed as a millwright, went down into the wheel in the evening to repair some damage, and while he was in that position some party above let in the water, the revolving wheel crushing him in a terrible manner. Finding that the wheel did not revolve properly, the person who turned on the water investigated the cause and Joaneisse was pulled out of the box. He died in a few minutes.

North Waterloo Reformers.

BERLIN, Ont., May 15.—The Reformers of North Waterloo held their convention here yesterday to nominate a candidate for the coming local election. Mr. E. W. B. Snider, the present representative, received the unanimous vote of the delegates, but declined to run. The names of R. Y. Fish, of Waterloo; Conrad Bitzer, of Berlin; and J. F. McKay, of Bloomingdale, were then voted on. On the first count Fish stood first, Bitzer second and McKay third. when the two first were balloted for, which resulted in favor of Mr. Bitzer. The final ballot was then between Messrs. Bitzer and McKay. Some of the delegates, however, claimed the mode of procedure was irregular, and the meeting adjourned until Friday next without finishing the nomination.

Prof. Dean's Portable Dairy.

GEORGETOWN, May 15.—The Esquesing farmers, with their wives and daughters, turned out in large numbers to meet Prof. H. H. Dean, of the Guelph Experimental Farm, who had his portable dairy plant working in the town hall here. Some forty samples of milk were tested, butter churned, worked and put up in pound prints. The professor explained the different stages as the work advanced. Many questions were asked and answered and great interest was manifested throughout the three hours' exhibition, and good results will be forthcoming in the dairying of this township.

Postoffice Burglarized.

SUNDRIDGE, Ont., May 15.—The express and postoffice here was broken into and burglarized on Sunday night. The burglars gained an entrance by breaking and getting through the front window. They pried the desk open but were not very richly rewarded for their trouble as they only got a little change amounting to a dollar and a half or two dollars. They were probably on the search for registered letters but got none. A number of suspicious looking characters were around town but no clue to the midnight visitors as yet.

A London Man Gives Himself Up.

BAY CITY, Mich., May 15.—Beverly Murray, of London, Ont., a brother of Geo. Murray, the alleged accomplice of Chas. W. Thayer, the embezzling clerk now serving five years in prison, walked into the police station here on Saturday night and asked if there was a warrant out for his arrest, as he had been so informed. He was answered in the affirmative. He was charged with having received $50 in gold from Thayer last January. Murray denies all knowledge of the affair and says he is ready for trial. He refuses to divulge the whereabouts of his brother.

FELL OVER THE PRECIPICE

Shocking Death of a Fifteen-Year-Old Boy at Niagara Falls.

DECEIVED BY A ROTTEN LIMB

He Leaned Over the Edge to Survey the Bottom of the Precipice — The Limb Gave Way Beneath His Weight and He Dropped Like a Shot to an Awful Death.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., May 15.—A sad and fatal accident occurred yesterday near a point known as the "Indian path," on the bank of the river between the railway and carriage suspension bridges, in which Frank, son of John Ellis, met a terrible death.

It seems that the lad, whose age was 15 years, with another lad about his own age, named Cole, were exploring for a new path to the water's edge from the top of the precipice. Young Ellis, in order to make a survey of the bottom of the precipice, placed one foot on a limb of a tree that hung over the precipice, braced the other against the ground and leaned over to look down. As his full weight came on the partly rotten limb it gave way and his body was dashed on the rocks about 100 feet below.

His companion spread the news. A number of men, including the lad's father, soon descended to where the lad's body was, and found it terribly mangled, having struck on the side of the head, dashing his brains out. Death must have been instantaneous, his neck, both arms and legs being broken and one side of his face crushed in. The body was carried to the base of the precipice, then raised to the top of the bank.

THEY WERE OLD OFFENDERS.

This Was the Reason the American Tug Boats Were Seized.

SPRINGFIELD, O., May 15.—Ad. Bakhaus, one of the fishermen arrested last Tuesday for fishing in Canadian waters, explains that while Dr. McCormick's petty jealousy had something to do with the arrest, the chief cause was that the two tug boats seized had been blacklisted for repeated law breaking, and that the revenue cutter had been on the lookout for them for some time.

Bought Up the Senators.

NEW YORK, May 15.—The Press prints a full page article under Washington date, which it claims is a "full history of the compromise tariff bill introduced in the Senate last Monday and a full and true account of the surrender to the great trusts." The article states that the Sugar Trust not only paid $500,000 for the legislation it wanted, but also guaranteed United States Senators who speculate a rise of thirty points in Wall street on Sugar Trust stock. It is also claimed that the Standard Oil, Lead and Whiskey Trusts were cared for in the same way.

Attempt to Blow Up a Tunnel.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., May 15.—An attempt by the strikers to blow up the Morgan tunnel on the State Line branch of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad has been made. A large quantity of dynamite was found in the tunnel, but information of a plot to destroy it was received in time to prevent the plan from being carried out. The Baltimore & Ohio Company are daily bringing hundreds of cars of coal in the region from the West Virginia mines, and to destroy the tunnel would stop such shipments for months.

A Fifteen-Year-Old Suicide.

FINDLAY, O., May 15.—Paul Ewing, aged 15, son of Dr. M. J. Ewing, of this city, committed suicide by taking 40 grains of morphine. He was in love with a young girl who would not reciprocate his affections, and so he ended his trouble. Before losing consciousness he informed his parents that two other boys had agreed with him to do the same act. The others failed to do so, however, and say they were only joking, but they are now prostrated at the result.

Butt Mill Workers Strike.

MCKEESPORT, Pa., May 15.—Five hundred men and boys employed in the Butt mill of the National works struck yesterday. The strikers say the men employed in the Lapweld department joined them last night, increasing the force of strikers to several thousands. The strikers demand the restoration of a 20 per cent. reduction made when the men went to work last February. The company is unable to give an answer to the men at present.

Lumber Camp Wiped Out.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., May 15.—The lumber camp of Emery & O'Brien, situated in the woods back of Cammal, this county, has been wiped out by a forest fire together with a saw mill and two million feet of lumber. The drought had rendered the woods dry as tinder and the flames spread with alarming rapidity. The fire was attended by several narrow escapes.

The N. Y. Central's Coal Supply.

NEW YORK, May 15.—Referring to the Albany despatch to the effect that the N. Y. C. has only sufficient coal to last three or four days, Third Vice-President Webb yesterday said, "There is no truth in the story. We have not ordered any coal from Wales, but if it comes here people are likely to buy it."

London High Sheriff Dead.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., May 15.—James Parkinson Taylor, of Nottingdale, Eng., died here of paralysis of the brain. He was en route to San Francisco and was compelled to stop off here last Wednesday on account of illness. He was Lord High Sheriff of London.

Scottish Poet Dead.

NEW YORK, May 15.—Thos. C. Latto, the best-known Scottish poet in this country, died at his residence in Brooklyn on Saturday evening. He was born in Scotland in 1818, and was one of the group of literateurs that contributed to Blackwood's Magazine in the palmy days and helped to make it famous.

HERBERT AND THE ZOUAVES

Hon. Mr. Patterson Disclaims Responsibility for These Opinions.

VALUE OF CRUCIBLE STEEL IMPORTS

The Premier's Ready Retort to the "Member for the United States"—Fifteen Copies of Indian Departmental Report to be Distributed Among the Various Tribes—Capital Notes.

OTTAWA, May 15.—In the House Hon. Mr. Patterson, at the request of Mr. Hughes, read in French the words used by Major-General Herbert on the occasion of his recent visit to Montreal by telegram to the pontifical Zouaves. The Minister of Militia at the same time disclaimed any responsibility for the utterances of any officials of his department.

The Voters' Lists.

Mr. Guay asked: Have instructions been issued to the revising officers, under the Dominion Franchise Act, to prepare for the revision of the voters' lists this year; if not, why not?

Sir John Thompson—No instructions have been issued to revising officers, who have been newly appointed, which requires them to begin their duties of revision on the 1st of June. No instructions otherwise have been issued.

A Quebec Postmastership.

Mr. Brodeur moved for copies of all correspondence in connection with the dismissal of Postmaster Loiselle of Ste. Angele, Que.

Sir Adolphe Caron said that he had been dismissed on the report of the proper official, and in any case it would certainly be unjust to disturb the present postmaster, who was giving satisfaction.

Sir John Thompson advised that the evidence taken at the civil trial should be obtained before judgment should be pronounced in the House. The motion was amended in accordance with this suggestion and adopted.

Crucible Steel Import.

Mr. Charlton moved for an order of the House showing the amount and value of crucible steel imported into Canada free of duty in each year since 1885, under the provisions of the order in council of 6th November, 1885; also the amount and value of lastings and mohair cloth imported into Canada free of duty in each year since 1885, under the provisions of the order in council of 6th November, 1885.

Sir John Thompson said that some of the papers asked for dated back for years.

Mr Charlton replied that before long the Opposition would get all the misdeeds before the public which had been committed by the Government. "The mills of the gods grind slowly but surely."

Sir John Thompson replied that the mills seemed to grind the Opposition finer each time.

The motion carried.

Mr. Charlton's series of motions for returns showing the value of hatters' bands, steel strip, wire rope, felloes of hickory wood, etc., imported under orders in council were also carried.

Maritime Fisheries.

Mr. Bowers moved for copies of correspondence since January 1, 1892, from fishery officers in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, regarding the taking of lobsters and the limitation of the size, and of all recommendations in regard to the same.

Literature for the Indians.

Mr. Paterson, of Brant, moved that 300 extra copies of the report of the Department of Indian Affairs be sent yearly to the various tribes or bands of Indians having trust funds in the hands of the Government, such distribution to be in proportion to population, and sent to the different councils and local superintendents for the use of the Indians, and that all future reports of the department shall contain the items of expenditure from the funds of each such tribe or band during the year. He explained that there were many intelligent Indians in the country now who took a deep interest in their own affairs.

Hon. Mr. Daly agreed to the motion, which was adopted.

Mr. Mill's motion that the franchise be extended to women was dropped.

Settlement of Disputes.

On the motion to adjourn Mr. Edgar asked Sir John if it was not rather early to adjourn the House. He was prepared to go with his motion regarding peaceful settlements of disputes between Canada and the United States by diplomatic agency.

Sir John Thompson replied that it was in the interests of the hon. gentleman he had moved the adjournment of the House. It would be unfair to Mr. Edgar to attempt to discuss universal peace at half-past nine o'clock at night.

Capital Gossip.

Dr. Wickstead, the dismissed official, has removed his books from the department in which he was employed. He has no intention of withdrawing the statements published in his letter.

A deputation consisting of Jas. Crankshaw, J. Winer and H. Rosenthal, of Montreal, had an interview on Saturday with the Minister of Finance and the Controllers of Customs and Inland Revenue on the subject of the duty on waterproof cloths. There is a manufactory in Montreal, which it is represented cannot compete with old country goods with the tariff as at present. The Minister promised to take the matter into consideration.

It has been learned from good authority that a new officer ranking probably as major is about to be appointed to the command of Ottawa Field Battery in the place of the late Lieut-Col. Stewart. The one who is expected to get the appointment is Major Coulse of the Winnipeg Field Battery. The appointment is expected to partly allay the trouble in the ranks at present over Captain Bliss' reinstatement.

G. A. Mountain, chief engineer of the Canada, Atlantic and Ottawa and Parry Sound Railway, has returned from the far end of the latter line. In conversation with the reporter he said that the construction of the Parry Sound road is advancing rapidly. The contract to Killaloo is winding up and the track from Eganville to Golden Lake has been thoroughly ballasted. This part of the road will be ready for Government inspection in a few days and when this is over the O. A. & P. S. Railway will be in operation eighty-four miles from Ottawa.

TUESDAY, MAY 15, 1894.

THE Empire is very free in using arguments in the shape of hard names. We may expect the organ to call Sir Oliver Moss-back, because he is backed by a candidate named Moss—the well-known lawyer in South Toronto. We may also expect a poem by the Empire on the subject of the calf with a cough. If that calf is as near tuberculosis as the editor, in his official capacity, is to paresis it would be a graceful act for it to die.

THE member of West Peterborough must be a source of great trouble to the Empire, to judge by the truculent menaces of political extiction it favours him with. But this is likely to be a case of confirmant of the truth of the adage, "threatened men live long."

MR. STRATTON opens the campaign by addressing a meeting of the electors at the Grange Hall, North Monaghan, on Friday evening, May 18th, and at other points on succeeding evenings.

A DECIDED SUCCESS.

The Sacred Concert in St. Paul's Church Well Attended.

St. Paul's Church was well filled last night on the occasion of the Annual Praise Service given by the choir under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society. The programme was one of considerable variety and was carried out without a hitch of any kind.

The anthem, "All Thy Works shall Praise Thee," by Simper, was rendered in a good full body of tone, the unison parts being very effective. Mr. W. F. Nelson sang "Rodney's Sion" in good voice and capital expression and was followed by a beautiful rendition of "Barri's Beautous" sung by Miss Vair, who gave this selection in a splendid voice.

Mrs. Sanderson and Miss Sheak sang "The Lord is My Shepherd," by Smart, their voices blending nicely. The selection was no doubt, one of considerable difficulty but was well sung.

A quartette, "The Everlasting Hills," by Mrs. Mein, Miss Dawson, Messrs. Matthews and Dawson, was an interesting number and well rendered.

A solo entitled "Babylon," by Watson, was excellently sung by Miss Cameron, and a spirited organ solo by Miss Minnie Clark closed the first part of the programme.

The anthem for contralto solo and chorus "Hark! Hark my Soul," by Shelly, was the gem of the concerted work of the evening. Miss Etta Montgomery did justice to the solo part, her voice showing good power and correctness, the obligato part was well taken by Mrs. Sanderson, while the chorus sang with beautiful expression and correct intonation. The shading in this selection was well done. This number was no doubt the most popular one on the programme.

Mr. Crane assumed the role of vocalist and his solo, the always popular "Where is Heaven," was well given. The duet, "Tarry with me," by Nicolai, for soprano and tenor was admirably rendered by Miss Cameron and Mr. Crane.

Miss Scheak was very successful in her solo, "Hosanna in Excelsis," which she rendered in a beautiful manner, her deep contralto voice showing to splendid effect.

Mrs. Sanderson sang "The Pilgrim," by Adams, and rendered it in her usual good form.

A trio, "Saviour again to Thy Dear Name," was nicely sung by Mrs. Alf Johnston, Misses Dawson and Montgomery, followed by a full chorus, "King of Kings"; and the national anthem brought a really excellent musical evening to a close.

The choir was entertained by the ladies to refreshments after the concert. The whole programme reflected great credit upon the choir and the organist, Mr. Crane, who, with Miss Clarke, performed the arduous duties of accompanist in a very satisfactory manner.

PELAGIC SCHOONER CAUGHT

The Sealer Triumph the First to Violate Sealing Regulations.

ALLOWED TO GO WITH A WARNING

She Was Boarded and Relieved of Her Gun, Spars and Log—Captain May Effectually Putting a Stop to Pelagic Sealing, Although His Actions Are Considered Illegal.

VICTORIA, B.C., May 15.—The schooner Triumph, the first of the sealing fleet to be warned against violating the new international agreement, has arrived at this port. She was spoken off Cross Sound on May 7 by H.M.S. Hyacinthe, six days after the beginning of the closed season. There was a general feeling of relief among the sealers here when the Triumph returned with a simple warning, for, from an American point of view, she was clearly liable to seizure, as she was sealing in prohibited waters.

It is an open question whether the sealer Triumph will be prosecuted for being caught in prohibited waters in the close season. The intention of Captain May, of H.M.S. Hyacinthe, was not clear when he boarded the Triumph and took the guns, spars and log from her. The proceedings were entirely unwarranted by any act. He ordered Captain Cox to report to Collector Milne, but failed to give any written instructions to either that officer or to the dockyard official. The vessel was regularly entered at the custom house, and the owners will receive the cargo of sealskins. The Hyacinthe will return to port on May 24. If Captain May desires to prosecute, it is believed the seizure will be found to be legally void. However, if Captain May is not doing business legally, it is generally conceded that he is effectively stopping pelagic sealing.

What a Word Will Do.

Byron reminds us that a word is enough to rouse mankind to mutual slaughter. Yes, there is power in a word—Marathon, for instance, Waterloo, Gettysburgh, Appomatox. MONTREAL.

A JAUNT TO THE CAPITAL.

THE COUNCILLORS OFF ON WEDNESDAY FOR SOME FUN-DS.

The Trent Valley Canal Deputation Will go to Ottawa for a Couple of Days—The Town will Foot the Bill for the Councillors, The Town Officials and the Commissioners.

There was not much interest taken by the public in the special meeting of council last night, the benches being graced by only a few spectators at the start and these gradually thinned out to infinity before the close of the evening.

Town Clerk Armstrong reported that the petition of the owners of property fronting on that part of Sherbrook street lying west of Park street, asking that the street be drained, was signed by a majority of the property holders affected.

The statement was received and laid on the table.

PETITIONS AND COMMUNICATIONS.

A petition was read from George Rawlings and sixty others, asking that George street be opened in full width from Wescott street to Romaine street and widened from Lake street to Romaine street. The document set forth how the opening and widening of this piece of street would be a great benefit to a large number of ratepayers as the narrow street between Lake and Wescott prevents residents from planting trees and otherwise beautifying the vicinity. The convenience caused by the opening would be considerable too.

The councillors thought that a good deal of expense would be incurred in meeting the desires of the petitioners but referred the matter to the Streets and Bridge committee to report upon.

Mr. J. H. Weese asked an extension of time in which to pay his taxes.

His request was referred to the Court of Revision for action.

The Peterborough Light and Power Company wrote stating in reply to a letter of the 9th inst, that the company would take pleasure in putting a higher pole at the corner of Park and Elm streets.

Mr. William Might wrote as follows :—

GENTLEMEN,—At the request of a widow lady I call your attention to the block on the south side of Dublin street between Bethune and Stewart, where she has two dwellings on which she has been paying taxes a number of years.

Last year taxes were one fourth the entire rent of the property and yet for its improvement the corporation has been at no expense since they were built. A sidewalk was promised her years before the other side of the street was built up. But now it is built and the occupants enjoy their sidewalk, while she and her tenants have to wade through the long wet grass in summer, deep snow in winter, mud in fall, and slush in spring, and still pay for the same privileges as others enjoy.

Believing it is only necessary to call your attention to these facts.

I am, etc.

Referred to the Street and Bridge Committee.

A petition for the placing of a hydrant on the corner of Barnardo avenue and Conger street was referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

The Fire Brigade petition for

to aid them in their efforts to get up a demonstration for the First of July. This sum they represented, together with the different amounts donated by the citizens, would be sufficient to cover the expenses incurred.

The petition was tabled and was forgotten by the members until after adjournment. It is understood, though, that the councillors are willing to give $300 towards the demonstration fund and the committee composed of the firemen and citizens will simply have to submit a round robin to the councillors individually, whereby they will guarantee to vote for the grant. This will obviate the necessity for the calling of a special meeting of the council and at the same time guarantee the committee against loss.

A petition was received from A. G. Herridge and others, complaining of the condition of Water street, between Dublin and Antrim, on account of the amount of rubbish dumped in the vicinity. It was referred to the Street and Bridge Committee.

In submitting the figures Mr. Cahill stated that there between those of this year and those of 1893. The health account was $165 less this year and the amount required by the commissioners of the town trust was decreased by $322. The fire department figures had dropped $400, and for beating the increase was $25. The hydrant figures had decreased by $330, but the lighting would cost $300 more this year. The law expenses would be reduced by $500 and $1,800, which was granted the Nicholls Hospital in '93 would be that much saved this year as no grant was needed. The printing was reduced $50, and the refunds increased by $50. The sewerage had been first placed at $500, then reduced to $200, and might be finally struck off altogether yet. The sum of $4,000 would be saved on streets and bridges this year, and $425 more on special grants. The deficit, though last year was $11,297.77, so that although the figures in the estimates were a trifle lower this year, the rate had undoubtedly to be raised to seventeen mills in order to avoid incurring a like risk this year. Everything would be cleaned off by this 17 mill rate, and though a 16½ mill rate might be struck, it was safer to raise a little over the required sum than overdraw the bank account.

WAS VERY LITTLE DIFFERENCE

The Mayor thought that the amount required by the Commissioners should be a great deal smaller this year as during '93 debentures to the amount of $72,000 had been retired. This would bear looking into, he thought.

The estimates were then received and tabled, on motion of Mr. Cahill.

REFUNDS ON LICENSES.

The License Committee recommended that a rebate of $15 be granted Frank Anthony on his license and a cheque for that amount issued to him. That, as F. Laplante is not a resident of the town, consideration of his application be deferred. The attention of the committee had been called to the desirability of licensing and regulating junk shops and it was recommended that this course be pursued.

Mr. McElwain wanted to know why the license committee had not reported on the protection of licensed carters. He understood that the members had been asked to look into the matter and had neglected doing so. The matter was laid over to be taken up later.

Mr. Roger moved that the rebate be only $10 instead of $15 to Frank Anthony.

The Mayor however stated that the arrangement had been made that $20 be asked, and that a rebate would be made to residents, reducing the fee to $5.

Mr. Roger held that this was not the case, and moved that only $10 be refunded and if there was a breach of faith and Anthony was dissatisfied that a refund of the entire amount be made and the license cancelled. Mr. McElwain seconded the motion.

Mr. Dawson thought that Mr. Roger's memory must be very defective not to remember that the general understanding at the meeting when the question was discussed, was that the mateer be settled in the manner the Mayor had first stated.

Mr. Roger, however, did not understand that any definite sum had been named at the meeting in question, but was willing to give way if the majority of the councillors were of the same opinion as the mayor in regard to the matter. A show of hands showed that the majority were in favour of returning the amount specified in the License Committee's report which was accordingly carried, as Mr. Rogers withdrew his amendment.

Mr. Hughes introduced a by-law for the licensing and fixing the license fee at $30.

In speaking to his motion Mr. Hughes pointed out that by the passage of his by-law the junk shops would be brought more under the control of the police who would then have a right to drop in at any time and see what goods were on sale and compel a dealer to keep his purchased goods at least two days before disposing of them again and be at all times subject to the surveillance of the police.

Mr. Cahill pointed out that if the license fee was set too high, the end in view would not be accomplished, the result being that the shop would be simply driven out of town.

On motion of Mr. Mason, the price of the license was reduced to $20.

Mr. Cahill introduced a by-law for the raising of $10,000 by debentures to pay for Smith street bridge and other improvements. A large amount of the same being intended to apply to the deficit of last year.

Mr. Roger thought it bad policy to try and raise so much money with the object of wiping out the entire deficit of last year. He thought that the better way would be to endeavour to wipe out the amount gradually and not all at once. He therefore moved that the sum be reduced to $5,000. If the deficit was wiped out at once extravagance would get the better of the council again and another deficit incurred.

Mr. Dawson seconded the amendment of Mr. Roger.

Mr. Cahill was strongly in favor of clearing off the indebtedness at once and starting in again. An opportunity was offered to secure the sale of the debentures without the loss even of a commission, at four per cent interest.

Mr. Mason was in favor of the larger amount so that the $900, foot-bridge could be then run across the river at Auburn, as promised long ago.

The Mayor sided with Mr. Cahill in this question and when Mr. Hall questioned as to what would happen if the ratepayers voted the by-law down, he answered that the only other course to pursue then was to put the amount in the estimates.

Mr. Kelly spoke of the necessity of raising this money by debenture. If this was not done the rate would have to be jumped to 20 mills anyway.

Mr. Rogers was more convinced than ever that the deficit should not be wiped out at once but his amendment was lost.

It was finally resolved to take the vote of the people on the by-law on June 7th, next.

On motion of Mr. Cahill, the by-law for the issue of debentures to the amount of $5,000 for the public schools of the town was read a first and second time and will be submitted to the people at the same time as the by-law for the issuing of the $10,000 debentures. The question of the union of Peterborough and Ashburnham will also be decided by the ratepayers on the same day.

Moved by Mr. Brady and seconded by Mr. McElwain, that the License Committee take action at once to have the licensed carters numbered and protected from outsiders and others not having licenses coming in and doing their work, and that the police be instructed to enforce the same.

Mr. Hughes

OBJECTED TO THE PASSAGE

of such a motion. It was aimed at the men who came in with their vehicles and carted night soil. The regular carters would not undertake to do this sort of work, and kicked because these same men at times carted out a load of ashes at the same time.

Mr. Brady stated that there was no objection to those men carting night soil and ashes, but objection was raised when they started in to do regular carting, and yet didn't pay a license fee.

The motion was finally withdrawn and one substituted referring the matter to the License Committee to report upon.

The following motion was introduced by Mr. Roger and engendered quite a debate, which lasted for no little time.

"That one-third of all fines imposed under the Liquor License Act or under any by-laws of this council passed in pursuance thereof be set aside as a fund to be used for the better enforcement of the said Act and by-laws to be administered and paid out from time to time as may be required on the order of the mayor and chairman of the License Committee."

In introducing his motion Mr. Roger stated that he could not understand how the law breaker in this respect met with so much sympathy in the council.

Mr. Cahill rose to reply and was surprised that a lawyer as Mr. Roger was should formulate a motion which induced others to break the law, for these detectives had to violate the law

IN ORDER TO CATCH OTHERS.

Only the other day Judge Robinson had refused the evidence of a detective on the ground that it had been pumped out of the prisoners. It was a mean, low, contemptible system and he had no sympathy with it.

Mr. Kelly hated to see the inauguration of the spy system in the town, but if Mr. Cahill was placed on the committee to administer the fund it would place the matter in a little different light.

Mr. Cahill however refused to have anything to do with it.

Mr. Hughes explained that an entirely wrong conception of the motion was taken, the idea was simply to place a fund of money at the disposal of the local police to help them in securing evidence to secure convictions.

The motion was then put and carried, but Mr. Cahill claimed that as it required an expenditure of money, a two thirds vote was needed to carry it, so the resolution was laid over as a notice of motion.

A NICE BUSINESS JAUNT.

The question regarding the deputation to be sent to Ottawa re the Trent Valley Canal then arose for settlement. At first the idea was to take the councillors, town officials, commissioners and a number of the principal citizens to the Capital at the expense of the town. The more practical ones, however, pointed out that as only $120 had been voted for the trip, and that as the expense would foot up to about $7 a head without counting the incidentals which always run up on aldermanic jaunts of this kind, that caution had to be exercised. Then again it was shown how difficult a task it would be to pick out "representative citizens" and know just where to draw the line. It was finally resolved to extend a general invitation to all citizens to form part of the deputation at their own expense. The town, on motion of Messrs. Roger and McElwain, will foot the bill for the good which the councillors, town officials and commissioners make out of the trip. Needless to add, the humble $120, which was first voted to cover the expenses, has been ignored and if the town treasury is not drawn upon to a greater extent than double that sum it will be strange.

The 11.25 train at noon Wednesday will carry the Peterborough contingent to the capital.

FRATERNAL ASSESSMENT LIABILITY.

"Can't I get out when I please, and have no liability?"

Most people expect "yes" for an answer to this question, when they say they are members of an assessment insurance society, and begin to think of their responsibilities as such. It is important for them to know that they cannot escape liability; because every member, no matter when he drops out, is liable for any deficiencies that may arise in future, if they were developed during his membership. Here is an instance:

The United Masonic Benefit Association of Missouri was some years ago an active and apparently prosperous assessment concern. It provided no reserve, but offered low rates, cheap insurance, and seemingly hoped that new blood would make up for increasing mortality resulting from increasing age. By and bye its forces began to fall off, not enough "new blood" came in, and the cost of membership ran up in a very uncomfortable way. Presently the healthier lives began to feel their burden pressing heavily and steadily left the ranks, until so few were left in the association that the assessments amounted to $140—one hundred and forty dollars—on each certificate. The remaining members refused to pay such a sum, and the concern failed. But there were unpaid death claims for a large amount due, and the State Superintendent of Insurance thought they ought to be paid. So he began suits at law against individual members to enforce payment of the assessments against them; the court has decided that they must pay. The feelings of those who are thus compelled to pay what they never expected have undergone a change with respect to assessment insurance.

Replying to some enquiries which had been made upon this point of liability, and citing this case illustration of what may be expected in any similiar case which might be pressed to suit, the Insurance Monitor says: "The decision referred to answers our question which has been debated, whether the member's liability is limited to sums which he may choose to pay; in other words, whether he can get out when he pleases without further harm. This he cannot do. Every member, no matter when he may drop out, is liable for any deficiencies which may crop up in future, resulting during his membership. The only safe course for parties that apprehend breakers ahead is to drop their membership before the breakers are reached; and the misfortune of this course is that the faster they drop, the faster the association drives towards the breakers."

There seems to be only one course open for the prudent man who may be determined to avoid possible liability; that is to keep out of such associations entirely and buy his insurance of the regular companies.—Monetary Times.

A Vexed Point Settled.

A question was raised the other evening regarding the position occupied by the firemen who had been enlisted as volunteers as to whether they could be compelled to leave town on Dominion Day with the volunteers against the order of their Chief. The general opinion seemed to be that the fireman was exempt from military service. Be that as it may, if he is once sworn in he has to go where he is told by his superior officers in the Battalion to which he belongs. The law speaks out in no undecided manner on this point and furthermore sets forth that anyone trying to dissuade a volunteer from doing his duty by either threats or persuasions is liable to a $100 fine or six months' imprisonment or both. The officers of the 57th, however, will not exercise their prerogative on Dominion Day, but will allow all firemen to do as they choose in the matter.

Perpetual Motion.

There may be seen at Jackson & Co.'s piano warerooms the nearest possible approach to perpetual motion. It is a simple affair like a swing. Two seats, en tete a tete, are suspended from a suitable frame. These seats are so balanced that a slight heel and toe movement sets the swing in motion, and once under way it will practically produce perpetual motion, the slightest touch of the foot being enough to keep up the swing. The standards are movable and this luxurious swing, hammock and easy chair combined can be placed on any part of the lawn where the coolest shade can be found. The perpetual motion swing is capable of being a perpetual delight. Drop into Jackson & Co.'s piano warerooms, place yourself in one of these swings and have the musical friend you take with you play low sweet music, and you will have some idea of what an elysium can be enjoyed in this, ordinarily, rather tough world.

Coutts' Acid Cure.

This old country remedy is now being pushed vigourously throughout Canada, and the proprietors evidently intend to make their treatment as well known here as it is in Europe and Australasia. As a simple but effectual household remedy Acetocura has no equal, and its marvellous efficacy in rheumatism and nervous diseases, as in many minor complaints, explains the readings with which it sells. Mr. Hr. H. S. Macdonald, druggist, has been appointed special agent here, and he displaying Messrs. Coutts' preparation most prominently in his window. We would recommend any who suffer from acute or chronic diseases to get a pamphlet from the agent, buy a bottle and sponge, on handle, and cure themselves. Even in chronic cases, patience and regular application is all that is required to effect a cure. The testimonials at the end of the pamphlet from prominent clergymen and others in Toronto sufficiently prove this.

—If the fire alarm had been a catapult it couldn't have shot the grays and the hose wagon out more promptly than it did this afternoon. The run was a fruitless one, for the alarm was sent in on account of burning rubbish at the "goose pond." Later intelligence is to the effect that the fire was more serious than at first reported. It got into the rubbish with which the bank of the pond on Water street is filled, and behind the crib work, and the work of putting it out was very slow.

—The new roller and the scraper, which the town ordered from the Hamilton agents of the American Road Machine Company, have arrived and were unloaded at the G. T. R. last night and taken to the corporation yards. The roller is a huge affair, built on the reversible plan, so that it will be unnecessary to turn it around, a pair of small front wheels and the tongue being detachable and fitted up in a manner which enables them to be utilized either in the front or rear of the roller. It is a ponderous machine and should do the work for which it is intended well. The scraper is exactly similar in pattern to the one used by the street railway company. Both machines are worth $600.

—For an hour or so yesterday afternoon three little youngsters amused themselves by sliding on a huge board over the rollers leading from the boathouse just below the residence of Mrs. Wm. English to the water's edge. Arrived at this point a projection brought the improvised toboggan to a standstill. The intermittent shocks, however, which this accommodating board received, in the way of stopping the toboggan, gradually loosened it from its fastening and presently the toboggan didn't stop, but went right on down to the bottom of the river, carrying with it the trio of youngsters. As they were all regular water rats no serious consequences resulted, but it was three very bedraggled looking little urchins that betook themselves to their homes immediately thereafter.

ENNISMORE.

The Late Michael O'Reilly.

On Sunday last one of the pioneer residents of Ennismore passed away at the ripe age of 75 years, in the person of Mr. Michael O'Reilly. The cause of his death was hæmorhage of the stomach, from which Mr. O'Reilly had been suffering about a week. The deceased gentleman was a native of Ireland, from which place he came to America about 53 years ago. About fifty years ago he settled in Ennismore. He was for several terms a member of the municipal council and was held in very high esteem by the numerous friends and acquaintances he formed during his half century's residence in Ennismore. He leaves behind him a widow and 8 of a family—three sons and five daughters—one of the latter being Mrs. O'Connor, of Douro.

Our successful tea trade we attribute to the high grade of goods we handle and we never expect to gain a reputation by selling inferior teas, simply because they are cheap. We have one of the largest stocks of tea to choose from, at prices varying from 25c. to $1.00 per pound, and all really fine teas with rich invigorating cup qualities.

LAKEFIELD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The village council at its meeting last night refused to send delegates to Ottawa on Wednesday re. Trent Valley Canal. A few enthusiastic Conservatives have presented a requisition to the reeve to call a public meeting to-night to appoint delegates, each to pay his own expenses.

How is it that Grafton & Co. sell so cheap? They are the makers of their own clothing.

Fashions for Men.

IN COATS.

There is more length to the new Coats for 1894 than has been used in Men's Dress since the 60's.

THE DOUBLE BREASTED FROCK is the most fastiduous garment man has put on in a generation. It adds to the stature of the man and conceals defects of figure. It is short waisted, snug fitting, long tailed and beautifully moulded to the figure. The Skirts are hollow at the top and form a beautiful curve, which is the most distinctive thing about the new styles.

Then there is the THREE BUTTON CUTAWAY Coat which is a high favourite. It is popularly described as the "Pigeon Wing" on account of its sloping tails. The sleeves are of moderate size and are closed with a vent for three buttons. If properly made it will cling rather closely to the hips.

The new CUTAWAY SACK COAT for business wear is one of the most popular of the season. It has caught the fancy of the young men. All the pockets should have flaps. The collar rolls low and is not faced with Silk.

Any of these garments made up to order to please the most fastidious dresser and with faultless devotion to the fashion plates

Cash vs. Credit

The following article appeared in the Monetary Times (one of the best commercial journals in Canada) and refers to a firm who did a large credit business for many years, but on giving the matter their serious consideration decided that owing to the many advantages of the cash system they would sell for spot cash only. We quote the extract word for word as printed by them:—

"It is a well-known fact that a great proportion of the losses in any business are caused by "Bad Debts" or long standing accounts, and the loss of interest, cost of collecting, care of books, &c. These losses and the cost of carrying accounts are all a charge on the business and must come out of the profits. For example:—Supposing a firm commencing a cash and credit business, do a credit business of $15,000 the first year; during the year they receive by payments on account $5000 which would leave them when the year closed with $10,000 on their books. From our own experience we can say that, with no increase in the amount of business done, this firm would in future never have less than the $10,000 out, for in their second year they would send goods out on credit as fast as they would collect their previous year's accounts. Now see what extra cost there is in a year doing this $15,000 credit business:

Interest on $10,000 at 8 per cent. bank rate	$800
Losses from Bad Debts	400
Cost of Stationery, Postage, &c.	150
Value of time taken in care of books	400
Total	$1750

Or to do the $15,000 business on credit there is an extra cost of $1,750 or nearly 12 per cent.

When marking goods we have to figure on the cost of giving credit just the same as we do for rent, taxes, help, etc.

We believe a cash business will be mutually beneficial. Every person is looking for the cheapest market to buy in, and where goods are sold on credit cannot be the cheapest place. Neither can a cash and credit business be the cheapest, although cash customers may get a discount yet the credit price is always asked, and even with the discount off the prices are not so low as they would be if the business was strictly cash. It is an undoubted fact that the man who sells the cheapest is the man who sells for cash. Selling for Cash we can and will sell at lower prices than ever before. Buying where credit is given you not only have to pay for your own goods but for the man who does not pay. Buying where no credit is given you get your goods at the lowest figure, they are paid for when got and you have no long bill to settle at the end of the year. If you can get your goods 10 per cent. cheaper by paying cash, and we think you can by dealing with a cash house, don't you think it would be well to try it for a year? We are confident if you give it a trial you will not go back to credit. After giving cash a fair trial they write as follows:—

We have found the change a most satisfactory one, exceeding our expectations. We are thoroughly convinced that so far as far as our town is concerned the cash system is practicable. When making the change we were afraid that it would give offence to many of our old customers but in this were agreeably disappointed. We tried to show the advantage of the cash system to the customers as clearly as we could, and with few exceptions they agreed with us that the change would be a good one. What was the most satisfactory feature of the change was the way in which the volume of sales kept up. We did not look for it, because when you consider that for 27 years we had been running as a credit business, and that at the end of the year from 25 to 35 per cent. of our year's business was on our books, it is not surprising that we should expect a very large decrease in sales when making the change. We are thoroughly satisfied that we made a good move, and never think of changing back to the old and unsatisfactory credit system.

THESE ARE OUR SENTIMENTS.

While many people who are trading on credit and who only come to our store occasionally, tell you that THEY THINK we are not selling much cheaper. Still we could give you the names of many who have found out, by coming to us to match goods, that they had bought in credit stores and (for which they paid cash) that we sell from ten to twenty per cent. on an average less for the same quality of goods.

SPRIGHTLY SUMMER SPORTS.

On the Lacrosse Field, the Crease and the Diamond Triple A. Topics—The Bicycle and Football.

LACROSSE.

The Shamrock lacrosse club will refuse to play the Peterborough juniors on the claim that the youngsters are aiming too high in sending in a challenge. The Shamrocks would have nothing to gain in winning such a match. The juniors will have to prove their worth before any senior club will give them a game. The Shamrocks, however, are willing to give the senior team of the Peterboroughs a game whenever they want it, and are confident that even if they don't win, they can keep the others hustling pretty hard to come out on top. There is no likelihood, however, in the two teams coming together before the 24th, when they will meet at Campbellford.

Secretary McCabe has notified all the district to send representatives to a meeting next Saturday in order that a schedule of games may be drawn up for the season. It is rumoured that Kingston may drop out and Port Hope drop into the vacancy. Anyway the secretary was instructed from headquarters to notify Port Hope of the meeting. If the latter town drops into line it will of necessity have to cancel its contracts with its Indian players, as they are not allowed to play on league teams. Though there is no love lost between Port Hope and Peterborough, still the accession of a club from that town in this district of the league would make things lively and be sure to run up the gate receipts. The intention of Port Hope to enter the league was not known until a few days ago. Considerable correspondence between that town and Toronto must have been going on.

BASEBALL.

The local knights of the diamond are putting in some great practice in preparation for their game with Lindsay on the 24th. It is a pity that an A1 scratch team could not be scraped together to give them a game before they go.

CRICKET.

An exceptional bowling feat is reported from England. Playing for the Kensington Park Hockey v. the Cricket Club, E C. Mordaunt took all ten wickets (bowled) in the first innings for 9 runs. On the opposite side F. Kendall performed the hat trick, and had in all seven wickets for 5 runs. Scores: Kensington Park C. C., 22 and 90 (for six wickets); Kensington Park H. C., 86.

THE WHEEL.

Captain Horkins of the local bicycle club rode over to Colborne from Campbellford yesterday morning to try the road lying between that village and Grafton, which is the course laid out for him in the relay race in June. The road is a poor one, being very sandy, which makes fast work no easy task. Mr. Horkins rode the 8½ miles to Grafton in 40 minutes and returned in 35. He took a pacemaker with him, but the pacemaker dropped out.

ASHBURNHAM AROUSED.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—As noticed by our villagers, the handsome golden and variegated letters which loom up on the sides of the street railway cars, running mainly on George and Charlotte streets, read "Peterborough and Ashburnham Street Railway Company, Ltd." Now, what we people on this side of the river wish to know is, Why the company is not making a move in the direction of running the line through the village, as the principal streets have already been allotted to the company, and we cannot see why Ashburnham should be left out in the cold while the citizens of Peterborough enjoy the luxury and laugh in their sleeves. If this be the case, the directors of the line should take steps at once and extend it to Ashburnham, or else obliterate the name "Ashburnham" from their cars.

Complaints are, at the same time, being made as regards the extension of the railway down George street to the Otonabee river, which is only one-quarter of a mile from the present terminus. There are at present dozens of steam launches in town and their owners will erect boat houses for the same as soon as the street railway company make this small extension. They would be greatly benefitted, as it would save the lockage. Excursionists in general will be greatly benefitted if this extension were made. At the same time the revenue would be much larger at the end of the year, both for navigation as well as the railway line.

The Railway Company will reap a harvest which was not anticipated and will be one of the most successful electric lines in the province, considering the excursions booked up to date—ten in number. One thing is evident, the Peterborough Navigation Company will not construct their wharf, which has already been surveyed and laid out at the end of George street, until the railway extension is commenced. Quite a number of sportsmen in and about town are anxiously waiting what the Street Railway Company anticipate doing, so as to enable them to construct their boat houses.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for the space in your valuable paper, and Remaining truly yours,

ASHBURNIA.

THE DOMINION DAY CELEBRATION.

The Celebration Committee Meet and Arrange Plans.

The committee appointed to arrange for a demonstration here on July 1st, met in the Fire Brigade rooms last night and talked the matter over. Several communications were read from companies and performers offering to give or bring attractions here on Dominion Day. These were left for consideration at a meeting to be held next Monday evening, when it will be definitely settled whether the celebration will be gone on with or not. Messrs. Chief Rutherford and J. Hayes were appointed collectors to interview the citizens of the town for subscriptions to help with the celebration. They will start on their rounds this afternoon and it is to be hoped that they will meet with liberal support, for if they do not Peterborough will have to go without a demonstration. Providing that the demonstration is held it is probable that excursions will be brought in from Belleville by the Oddfellows, and from Toronto by the Ancient Order of Foresters. The latter will be accompanied by the Grenadiers band who will furnish music for the occasion. A trades and labour procession will be formed and all the business men will be asked to furnish rigs for the occasion and a large number will no doubt do so.

Peterborough has been dead, as far as celebrations on public holidays are concerned, for several years, and this chance should not be passed without getting up a demonstration which will be a credit to town, and which will be sure to bring large crowds for future celebrations.

Horse Attacked With Hydrophobia.

WESTMINSTER, Md., May 14.—About five weeks ago two heifers and a valuable horse were bitten by a rabid dog. The heifers went mad on the twenty-second day after they were bitten. The horse showed no symptoms of the disease, but was sent to a livery stable for treatment. The animal became furious with hydrophobia. He was barred against injuring any person or other animal, and so, in the paroxysm of the disease, bit furiously into the timbers of his stall, and tore the flesh from his own limbs and body by mouthfuls. He was killed to end his sufferings.

Industrials Locked Up.

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., May 14.—Another collision occurred near here between deputy marshals and commonwealers. The latter had captured two freight cars and were fired upon and two of them were wounded, but not seriously. One hundred and twenty of the Coxeyites were taken prisoners and locked up in the county jail.

Death of Judge Scott, of Peel.

BRAMPTON, May 14.—Alexander Forsythe Scott, late judge of the County Court of the County of Peel, died at Brampton on Saturday morning after a long and painful illness. The judge was born in Brampton and passed all his life here, entering upon the practice of his profession immediately after his call to the bar and building up a large and lucrative practice.

A Female Sharper.

BROOKLYN, N.Y., May 14.—Mrs. Kate Bradford, wife of Charles Bradford, a retired furniture dealer, has disappeared from her home in Williamsburg. With the news of her disappearance came the announcement that she had been engaged in alleged swindling operations involving about $200,000.

St. Thomas Man Beheaded.

ST. THOMAS, Ont., May 13.—The body of James Armstrong, a cabinet maker, unmarried, age about 30 years was discovered on Saturday lying on the M.C.R. track at Rose street crossing. The head and left arm were severed from the body and scattered for some distance along the track. A coroner's inquest will be held.

Child Burned to Death.

HALIFAX, May 14.—Dorothy Cunningham, the three-year-old child of the late Arthur H. Cunningham, of the Post Office Department, set herself on fire on Saturday while playing with matches and was burned to death. The mother was almost crazed with grief when she saw her child.

East Middlesex Reformers.

LONDON, Ont., May 14 — The East Middlesex Liberals held their adjourned meeting here on Saturday, and nominated W. H. O'Dell, of Belmont, as their candidate for Ontario elections.

Paris Assassin Arrested.

PARIS, May 14.—The police have arrested a youth of about eighteen years old on suspicion of having murdered the young girl whose mangled body was found in her perfumery shop. Upon being questioned at the police station the young man confessed the murder. He said he did not know the girl and had no other motive in killing her than to rob her of her valuables and plunder the shop.

No Release for Mrs. Maybrick.

LONDON, May 14.—Home Secretary Asquith has positively refused to order the release of Mrs. Maybrick, who is serving a life sentence in Woking prison for murdering her husband, or even to reopen her case for the purpose of introducing new evidence. Mr. Asquith has personally refused to examine the signers of seven affidavits attesting their personal knowledge that Mr. Maybrick was addicted to the use of morphine. The signers of these affidavits will attempt to raise the question in parliament.

BABIES HANDICAPPED.

When Fed on Common Foods.

Lactated Food Produces Healthy Development.

The progress and development of the infant is very often handicapped at the very beginning of its career, through ignorance and want of care. When proper nursing from a healthy breast is impossible, it is of the greatest importance to know just what to use in order to sustain and develop life. Every day, every hour, is of the utmost value in the early days of life. The infant should not be merely kept alive; it must make continual progress in growth and general development.

All starchy, heavy and irritable foods should be avoided. Common sense should dictate the use of a food easily digested, easily assimilated, non fermenting and that will not cause bowel disorders. Science has given mothers the well-tested Lactated Food, free from all injurious ingredients, highly nutritious, non-irritating and suited for the weakest stomach. Physicians admit that Lactated Food is the nearest approach to pure and healthy breast milk, therefore the safest and surest food for the weak and struggling infant.

At this season of the year it is imperatively necessary to use Lactated Food for the baby, if mothers desire to preserve their dear ones from fatal summer complaints.

Suicide's Body Recovered.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., May 15.—The body of Martha Dingwell, who disappeared mysteriously from Morrell on April 2, was found by two men on the shore, one mile from the bridge, where her hat, watch, etc., were found the day following her disappearance. The body was fully dressed. No marks were found on the body to indicate violence. The verdict of the jury was that deceased came to her death by casting herself into the Morrell river.

Campaign Against the Lords.

LONDON, May 15.—The executive committee of the National Liberal Federation has issued a call for a conference to be held at Leeds, on June 20, for the purpose of formulating a plan of campaign against the House of Lords. The circular calling the conference declares that the Upper House of Parliament is a standing menace to the liberties of the people and it is necessary to practically determine how that obstacle can be surmounted or removed.

Electrical Storm in Minnesota.

FERGUS FALLS, Minn., May 15.—An electrical storm of cyclonic character passed over the eastern part of this county near Henning. The cyclone lifted a section of the Northern Pacific track bodily into the air and scattered it over the surrounding country. The westbound train has been delayed in consequence and is still at Wadena. No loss of life is reported.

Seven Sailors Drowned.

BUENOS AYRES, May 15. — The small Argentine steamer Thyria, carrying 350 tons of wheat, collided three days ago with the Italian steamer Remo from Genoa, of San Pedro, Rio Grande do Sul. The Thyra went down almost immediately, and seven of her crew were drowned.

Flooded by an Open Tap.

HAMILTON, May 15.—One of the employes in Smith's clothing store left a water tap on the second storey open on Saturday night, and the sink overflowed. When the store was opened yesterday the place was flooded and several hundred dollars worth of damage done to the goods.

THE RULING MARKETS.

TORONTO, May 15, 1894.

The exports of wheat from the United States for ten months ended April 30 were 141,370,000 bushels.

Foreign capital continues to flow home owing to the stagnation of business in the United States, the floating of European loans and recuperation of trade in Great Britain.

THE FARMERS' MARKET.—Receipts of grain almost nil and prices nominal. White wheat is quoted at 62c, red at 61c, and goose at 58c. Oats are quoted at 39c, barley at 40c to 42c, and peas at 65c to 66c.

The Chicago wheat market was steady, owing to the absence of English cables, and trade was up. The close showed a net gain of ¼ to ⅜c. Corn was dull, closing with a gain ⅛c. Oats were active and closed with a net gain of ¼ to ⅜c for the day.

Buffalo cattle market had 130 cars on sale. Good butcher's cattle sold at a slight advance, while heavy and export grades were dull and weaker and thin, poor cattle hard to sell. Sheep and lambs 100 cars on sale. Sheep steady, fairly active. Lambs weak, and in some cases at a decline of 10c.

In New York the Stock Exchange election overshadowed speculation. The activity was confined entirely to Sugar and Chicago Gas. Manipulators were in control of the former. It closed fractionally higher than the lowest price of the day. Chicago Gas was the only stock which showed sustained strength. The Granger's were weak and exceedingly dull. St. Paul scored the biggest decline under pressure. Burlington was almost completely neglected in the afternoon.

RECORD BREAKERS.

Frank Brown says Dodd's Kidney Pills Give Universal Satisfaction—The Reason is They Never Fail to Cure.

SHELBURNE, May 14.—Frank Brown, the well-known druggist here, says: "In the past eighteen months, I have sold 119 dozen of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Considering the quantity I have sold, I have had an opportunity of ascertaining whether the pills give satisfaction or not. I can say, that during my fifteen years' experience in the drug business, I never sold a medicine that gives the universal satisfaction that Dodd's Kidney Pills do. I am satisfied any person suffering with kidney trouble only requires to give Dodd's Kidney Pills a fair trial, and he will be convinced of their wonderful curative properties.

"Many men, many minds," but all men and all minds agree as to the merits of Burdock Pills, small and sugar-coated.

The Best Medicine.

J. O. WILSON, Contractor and Builder, Sulphur Springs, Texas, thus speaks of Ayer's Pills:

"Ayer's Pills are the best medicine I ever tried; and, in my judgment, no better general remedy could be devised. I have used them in my family and recommended them to my friends and employes for more than twenty years. To my certain knowledge, many cases of the following complaints have been completely and by the use of Ayer's Pills alone: Third day chills, dumb ague, bilious fever, sick headache, rheumatism, flux, dyspepsia, constipation, and hard colds. I know that a moderate use of Ayer's Pills, continued for a few days or weeks, as the nature of the complaint required, would be found an absolute cure for the disorders I have named above."

Permanently Cured

"I have been selling medicine for eight years, and I can safely say that Ayer's Pills give better satisfaction than any other Pill I ever sold."—J. J. Perry, Spottsylvania C. H., Va.

Worthless Pianos and Organs

Are made in large quantities, because foolish people buy where prices are lowest, without giving a thought to quality. Any one who thinks, will not buy a "Piano at $170, or an Organ at $80, guaranteed for nineteen years," because it is cheap. Any one who thus thinks will avoid learning by experience that it would have been cheaper to pay, say $300, for his piano.

We can furnish an Organ for $80, but we will not. We live here and have to "face the music" this year and other years to come.

A LEADER OF LIBERALS.

HON. L. H. DAVIES, CHIEF OF THE MARITIME CONTINGENT.

He Was Premier of His Native Province at the Age of Thirty-One, and Has for Twelve Years Been a Leading Member of the Canadian Parliament.

Hon. L. H. Davies, M.P., of Charlottetown, P.E.I., stands in the front rank of Canadian public men. He is a lawyer by profession, has practised at the bar with distinguished success for twenty-eight years and has been a prominent figure in Canadian political life for twenty-two years. And yet he is not quite forty-nine years of age. He is leader of the Liberals of the Maritime Provinces in Dominion politics—a position which is frankly conceded to him because of his ability as a public man, his eloquence as a speaker, and his excellent qualities of head and heart which have won the confidence and esteem of Liberals wherever he is known.

He was born at Charlottetown, P.E.I., May 4, 1845. His father was Hon. B. Davies, for many years a prominent public man in the island province. He was educated at the Central Academy and Prince of Wales College, and studied law in the office of Charles Palmer, Q.C. He was called to the Prince Edward Island bar in 1866, and completed his legal studies at Inner Temple, London, commencing the practice of his profession in Charlottetown, in September, 1867.

A man of his acknowledged ability could not long remain out of public life, and consequently in 1872 he was elected to the Provincial Legislature for Murray Harbor division, being then 27 years of age. He had previously filled the office of Solicitor-General without seat in the Legislature from 1869 to 1871, and again filled that office in 1872 and 1873. In the Assembly he was leader of the Opposition until September, 1876, when he became Premier and Attorney-General in what was known as the Davies-DeBlois administration, a coalition ministry which grew mainly out of a general election on the question of free and non-sectarian public schools. In 1879 the Ministry resigned because of a disagreement with the Conservative section of it, and in the general election which followed Mr. Davies was defeated with his party on the assessment question.

At the Dominion general election of 1882 he was elected (along with Mr. Brecken, Conservative) to represent Queen's county in the House of Commons, in which he has ever since held a seat, winning his elections usually by very large majorities. In the Dominion Parliament Mr. Davies soon took a prominent position—his ability, his thorough acquaintance with public questions, his readiness in debate and his vigorous eloquence quickly bringing him to the front.

As a lawyer Mr. Davies has won a high reputation, and is regarded as the ablest and most brilliant member of P. E. Island bar, which includes in its ranks some very able men. Exceedingly well versed in law and possessed of a strong and clear intellect he presents the leading and essential points of his argument always with singular terseness and force; and in his address to a jury his language, though not studiously classical, is earnest, energetic and effective in tone, and always commands the attention and sympathy of the listener. It is a tribute to the ability of Mr. Davis as a lawyer that in 1875 he was selected by his polical opponents to act in the capacity of leading counsel before the commissioners, by whom the P. E. Island question was settled, and he conducted by the proceedings on behalf of the Government of that province, until the compulsory purchase of the whole of the proprietors' estates had been completed. The manner in which he discharged the onerous duties of that position won for him the highest encomiums from both political friends and political opponents.

It will also be remembered that Mr. Davies was appointed by the Mackenzie government as one of the counsel to conduct the case of Canada before the international fishery commission which met in Halifax that year. It is worth while noting that that was the only arbitration ever held between Canada and the United States in which this country came out first best. This was due to the merits of the case and to the skill and ability with which it was prepared and handled.

Mr. Davies was not long in the House of Commons when he had ability as a parliamentarian, his acute knowledge of public questions and skill as a debater, placed him in the front rank of Canada's public men and secured prompt recognition for him as one of the ablest among the many able men who forms so large a proportion of the Liberal contingent at Ottawa.

Mr. Davies' personal reputation is irreproachable as a man and a politician. His record as a public man is thoroughly clean and unimpeachable. No stain of wrong-doing rests upon his political escutcheon—the tongue of political slander has never ventured to whisper a syllable of reproach against his personal and private character, while his most bitter political opponents have never ventured to assail him on any but political grounds.

In his personal intercourse with his fellows Mr. Davies is one of the most genial of men. He never allows the asperities of political life to interfere with personal friendships that are worth maintaining; and while in debate, as his opponents very well know, he is a hard hitter when hitting becomes necessary, he never allows himself, even under great provocation, to be betrayed into the use of violent or discourteous language. While he has a thorough contempt for demagogues and shyster politicians, he invariably manifests sincere respect for the opinions of those who may conscientiously differ from him on public questions.

Mr. Davies has already made his mark in Canadian public life, and as he is now in the prime of life and full vigor of manhood we may assume that in the ordinary course of events he has still a long and useful career before him.

THE POISON OF TONGUES.

"Yes, I have found a treasure this time. Esther has been with us a month, and she is all I could ask."

Mrs. Surrey's friend laughed. "What is a month? Remember it is the new broom that sweeps clean."

Mrs. Surrey was sunning herself in the thought of her good fortune, as she started out for a call one afternoon.

The friend she had wished to see was not at home, and, having in mind some necessary sewing, she returned home. She sat down at her sewing-table without delay, noting carelessly that the children were talking on the veranda. They were out of her sight, because the blind of the window was closed.

She had sewed some minutes, keeping company with her own thoughts, before it occurred to her that the children's high-pitched chatter was replaced by Esther's low voice, softened somewhat beyond its custom. A word caught her attention—her sewing slipped to the floor; she slid without noise to the window, listening with frightened face close against the blind.

Upon the eager attention of the four children, the trusted Esther was pouring a stream of filthy information and anecdote. An occasional laugh or comment in answer betrayed that the occasion was not alone of its kind.

The mother's energy was paralyzed for a few seconds by the unexpectedness of the affair. Truly, Esther had found a use for her magnetic power over the children, in compelling them to keep silence in regard to these lessons in evil—these children whose hearts had once been open for the mother to read!

Mrs. Surrey went to the side door, forcing herself to speak naturally.

"Gertrude, had you not better practice your hour before it is any later? Mrs. Bruce was not at home, so I came back again. And, Charley, will you do an errand in town for me?"

She went back to her sewing, the younger children following her, while the older ones went away as bidden. The eyes of mistress and maid had met, and Esther knew that a reckoning would follow as soon as the little ones should be safely absorbed in their play.

Esther being dismissed, Mrs. Surrey set about administering antidotes to the poison. An earnest little chat, a renewal of confidence between mother and child, a few warnings, removed danger in the case of the little ones. But for ten-year-old Charley and thoughtful Gertrude there was but one sure antidote—truth.

Mrs. Surrey had not been one to withhold timely information. Yet, she was reminded by this accident that she had erred on the side of reticence.

Suppositions are not always profitless. What if Mrs. Surrey had not so soon discovered the poison at work in her family? What if she had been less wise in the matter of antidotes? What if her children had not been prepared for scientific truths by familiarity with natural laws at work in fields, garden, sky and water? What if poison has touched your children, while you thought them safe?—The Household.

Emin Pasha's Little Daughter.

Emin Pasha's little daughter Ferida has been allowed by the German authorities to assume "Emin" as her family name. She is the offspring of a union between the well-known explorer, Dr. Emin Schnitzer, and an Abyssinian woman, Farafan, but, in the phraseology dear to the lawyer of the Vaterland, the recta nuptiæ could not be clearly demonstrated, and the name of Schnitzer could not therefore be assumed by the little lassie, who is said to be thriving in Berlin under kindly guardianship. Emin Pasha is understood to have left considerable property, and on this ground, as well as on others, it was thought right to settle "Ferrie's" legal status.

BEWARE OF FRAUDS.

The Unfailing Success of Dodd's Kidney Pills Induces Fradulent Imitators to Attempt to Pass Worthless Remedies on the Public.

TORONTO, May 7.—This appears to be an age of fakes and frauds. It seems impossible for any new idea or valuable invention to be made known without a host of imitators trying to foist their worthless goods on an unsuspecting public in the hope of making an unmerited profit out of their worthless ideas. The unequalled success of Dodd's Kidney Pills in curing all forms of kidney disease, has led to the introduction of many cheap and base imitations that are worse than valueless. Dodd's was the first kidney remedy ever offered in pill form. For their own safety, purchasers should buy none but Dodd's Kidney Pills. Sold in large boxes: price, fifty cents per box or six boxes for $2.50. To be had of all dealers.

Millinery Critics

Recognise the remarkable freshness and beauty of our stock. Seems almost useless to advertise our Millinery. Ever since the spring reception it has been advertising itself, and a stranger looking in would think each day "first view day." Yet it is right to be courteous to our attractive novelties.

Our Millinery business is always being stimulated, and the wonderful varieties of taste displayed brings us happy visitors and pleased customers all the time. Because many are coming and buying; more will come and will buy.

This growing success proves the public faith—you trust and then you buy. Why? Every advertising word is true—you know it, and are sure to find it always so here.

Mantles and Capes.

The very newest and neatest—all much below regular value. In our collection, remember, there are no old things—no mistakes limping up to roll-call and never getting any further. No. All are favourites. They have 1894 style and goodness about them, and the prices combine to make matchless bargains.

Dress Goods.

Tastes differ, uses are various; therefore the proper Dress Goods stock must cover all sorts or there will be disappointment. Our stock is as nearly complete as we can make it, and, out of prevailing times, have grown prices that were never matched before, and are not likely to be equalled again.

Underwear Hosiery and Gloves.

Fresh lots coming in to keep sizes and qualities suitable to the season. Better than that—prices are going down and qualities going up.

"DINK" WILSON ELECTROCUTED.

He Leaves a Statement Clearing His Brother of Complicity.

AUBURN, N. Y., May 15.—On the morning of July 31, 1893, Detective James Howey of Syracuse, undertook to arrest two men whom he suspected as burglars. They walked along quietly with him until within 200 feet of the police station. Then suddenly one of the two men hit the detective on the head with the butt end of his revolver and the other shot him in the head. The detective was killed instantly. The men ran, and a block away separated.

Lucius R. Wilson, or "Dink" Wilson, as he is better known, one of the men, was convicted of the crime and sentenced to death. He was electrocuted in the prison here yesterday. It was a brave and painless death.

The statement given by Wilson to his attorney is as follows:

"I desire to make as my dying statement as follows: That Charlie F. Wilson, otherwise known as George Calhaun, his real name being Charlie F. Wilson, introduced as my brother, who is jointly indicted with me for the killing of James Harvey, is entirely innocent of any connection with the said Mr. James Harvey's death. He is not the man with me at the time said James Harvey met his death.—(Signed) L. R. WILSON."

This is supplemented by another communication asking Chief Wright to deliver all his goods, guns, etc., to his brother, Frank. He concludes with a postscript to Frank telling him to take things as coolly as possible, not to grieve any more than is necessary and to send tokens to the folks.

The electrocution of "Dink" Wilson was the sixth in the history of the institution, and it was as successful from a scientific point of view as any that has taken place since the law went into effect in 1889.

Not a sound was heard nor a movement observed after the fatal current was turned on beyond the usual stiffening of the body. Dink's nerve never deserted him. There was not a tremor in his voice when he spoke nor any nervous twitchings of the fingers, but he was not one whit cooler than Johnson, the colored man, who was his immediate predecessor.

A CONSUMMATE VILLAIN.

Attempted the Life of His Prospective Bride For Her Money.

NEW YORK, May 15.—Yesterday the employes of the New Jersey Trap Rock Company, while on their way to work, discovered in the bushes along the road the insensible body of a young and fine-looking woman. Dr. King found two pistol bullets, one in the breast and the other behind the right ear of the girl. The doctor succeeded in reviving his patient. In weak gasps she gave her name as Sadie Werts of Kraft, and said she lived at Rome, N.Y., and had come to Jersey City yesterday morning with her betrothed to be married. She said the man's name was Bernard Holenberg, 22 years old, a tailor, also of Rome. He induced her to draw all her savings from the bank and leave Rome to be married. They stayed in Jersey City all day Sunday and attended church. After supper Holenberg took her for a walk and then shot her.

Everything was stripped fr · her body by her assailant, who doubtless left the girl for dead, and took everything that might lead to her identification or by which he might himself be traced.

Prof. Henry Morley Dead.

LONDON, May 15.—Prof. Henry Morley, L.L.D., the distinguished author and lecturer, is dead. Prof. Morley was born in London September 15, 1823. He was educated at the Moravian school on the Rhine and at King's college, London, of which college he was an honorary fellow. He practised medicine a short time in his early life, and was later editor of the Examiner in London. He was the author of a large number of works on various subjects. He was English lecturer at King's college from 1857 to 1865, professor of English language and literature at University college, London, from 1865 to 1882, and upon his retirement to Carlsbrooke in 1889 he was made emeritus professor.

German's Want Samoa.

BERLIN, May 15.—Chancellor von Caprivi has received a petition from the German Colonial Society asking that Germany annex Samoa. The German South Sea Islands Trade and Plantation Company has declared against the action of the society, although the support was sought by the company in the first instance. The society claims that the company will be the greatest gainer by the annexation of the Islands, and will persist in its petition.

A Murderer Lynched.

STRONG CITY, Kas., May 15.—Geo. Rose, the printer who killed Assistant Postmaster Karl Kuhl, at Cottonwood Falls, near Emporia, last Friday, was lynched by a mob at that place on Saturday night. The gang of lynchers is said to have included some of the most respectable citizens of the county.

TELFORDIAN TEMPERATURE TOPICS.

Monthly Report of Coquettish April's Behaviour.

How majestic, exact and unchangeable from man's controlling, the time rolls on. April once more has passed into oblivion, cause and effect will wait for no man. Although, generally, a wet cold month while changing from winter to spring still this year it came in fine, continuing throughout. Only once on the 2nd dit it come down to the freezing point and that at 30 degrees at 2 p.m., while 7 times we had it at 70 degrees and over, the 19th and 27th rising to 73 degrees and the 20th to 74 degrees. Now, for the morning observations. We had it fifteen times at and above the freezing point and fifteen times below, the coldest on the 3rd, but only down to 12 degrees above zero, while the hottest was on the 20th, going up to 55 degrees, leaving the mean temperature of the month at 44 18-30 degrees. Rain fell on eight days, but only to the depth of 92-100 of an inch. Snow on eight days, but only making three inches. Twice thunder, but little rain; four keen blowing gales; six solar corona, one solar halo, three lunar coronas and once northern lights of the first degree. Sharp frost and ice on the 29th and 30th and our first swallows seen on the 17th. The following are the different points from which the wind was blowing at sunrise during the month respectively, namely: North-west, 8 days; south-east, 7 days; south-west, 3 days; north-east, 9 days; East, 1 day and West, 2 days.—THOMAS TELFORD.

That Musty Old Carpet.

Oh, dear to our hearts are the sad days of spring-time,
When the annual house-cleaning recurs to our view;
When we sleep on the sofa and eat off the mantel,
In an atmosphere strongly suggestive of glue,
We think of the stove pipe, the soot that came with it,
Likewise the profanity, fluent and fine;
But saddest and bitterest of all recollections
Is the dusty old carpet that hung on the line.

Oh, that dusty old carpet
That fusty old carpet,
That musty old carpet,
That hung on the line!

We remember how, armed with a huge flagellator,
In the morning we bitterly advanced to the fray;
In the muscular pride of our heart little dreaming
That cleaning that carpet would take the whole day.
We sweat and we swore, and our hands badly blistered,
While the sun lent its countenance, warmly benign:
But the harder we pounded, the more it was needed
By that dusty old carpet that hung on the line!

Oh, that dusty old carpet,
That musty old carpet,
That fusty old carpet
That hung on the line.

Busy as Beavers.

The season's Carpet trade is booming right along and sales are more satisfactory than we had expected. The inference is that styles and qualities and values are best here.

Come in and learn our prices, then ask yourself the question "if it pays to waste time on that musty old carpet that hangs on the line."

Our stock bears the marks of novelty all over it. The colours are a study. The patterns are a study. Such delightful originality needs to be looked at and known to be properly appreciated.

THE TURCOTTE CHARGE

Some Very Serious Allegations Against a Conservative Member.

INVESTIGATION IS DEMANDED

Large Sums of Public Money Alleged to Have Been Received by Firms of Which He is a Member—Lively Discussion of the Timber Item.

OTTAWA, May 16.—The charges against A. J. Turcotte came up in the Commons yesterday, when Mr. Bruneau arose to a question of privilege, and said he believed he could establish these facts:

First, that Arthur Joseph Turcotte, a member of this House for Montmorency, and while he was a member of the House was a partner in the firm of Turcotte & Provost, which said firm, during said period, held, enjoyed and executed a contract with or for the Government of Canada, on behalf of the crown, in the name of Jean Baptiste Prevost, one of the members of the said firm, and to the said A. J. Turcotte, when a member of said firm, which said contract was for the supply of groceries and similar goods for the use of the Militia Department at Quebec.

Second, that the said A. J. Turcotte, while a member of this House, was carrying on business for his own benefit in the city of Quebec, under the firm name of Turcotte & Prevost, and during the same period he held, enjoyed and carried out a contract with or for the Government of Canada, on behalf of the crown, which said contract stood in the name of Jean Baptiste Prevost, but was in reality held for the sole use and benefit of the said A. J. Turcotte, and large sums of the public money of Canada were paid under said contract to the said A. J. Turcotte; and, although the cheques were issued therefor to the said J. B. Prevost, the proceeds thereof were received by the said A. J. Turcotte, which said contract was also for the supply of groceries and similar goods for the use of the Militia Department at Quebec.

Third, that the said A. J. Turcotte, while a member of this House, was carrying on business for his own benefit at Quebec under the firm name of "A. J. Turcotte & Co.," and during the same period he held and enjoyed and carried out a contract with, or for, the Government of Canada, on behalf of the crown, which said contract stood in the name of Jean Baptiste Prevost, but was in reality held for the sole use and benefit of the said Arthur Joseph Turcotte, and large sums of the public money of Canada were paid under said contract to said Arthur Joseph Turcotte and the benefit was received by the said Arthur Joseph Turcotte, which said contract was also for the supply of groceries and similar goods for the use of the Militia Department at Quebec.

Fourth, that the said Arthur Joseph Turcotte, while a member of this House, some time in the year 1893, was interested in contracts and agreements with the Department of Marine and Fisheries for the Government of Canada, on behalf of the crown, and large sums of public money of Canada were paid under said contracts and were received by the said Arthur Joseph Turcotte, which said contracts were for the supply of groceries and similar goods for the use of the Department of Marine and Fisheries.

I therefore move: That the matters I have stated be referred to the Select Standing Committee on Privileges and Elections, to enquire into the said allegations, with power to send for persons, papers and records, and to examine witnesses under oath or affirmation, and that the said committee do report the result of their enquiries and whether the said Arthur Joseph Turcotte has vacated his seat.

On the suggestion of Sir John Thompson, the motion was allowed to stand till to-morrow as a notice of motion.

Revision of the Voters' Lists.

Hon. Mr. Laurier stated that it was within fifteen days of the time appointed by law for the revision of voters' lists, and asked if it was the intention of the Government to revise the lists?

Sir John Thompson replied that the revision would take place under the present system. No instructions had been given, except to those newly appointed, or would be given, for the reason that the law provided all that was necessary. The officers had simply to conform with the law. The bill which would shortly be introduced would not interfere with the present system. The bill was designed to make the Franchise Act conform to the redistribution of last session.

To Amend the Territories Act.

Hon. Mr. Daly moved the second reading of his bill to amend the Northwest Territories Act.

Mr. Martin complained that when the bill was before the House upon a previous occasion Hon. Mr. Daly had conducted himself in a bumptious and nasty manner, unbecoming a gentleman. By so doing he did not bring any strength or respectability to his party or the Government. He (Mr. Martin) was always willing to discuss matters of detail in a friendly spirit, but if necessary he would take hard blows from the other side and give just as hard blows in return.

Sir John Thompson said he distinctly objected to the hon. gentleman's proposition that blows should be struck. The bill itself was intended to promote good feeling and prevent blows at elections. It would seem peculiar, to say the least, if members of Parliament should come to blows over it. Probably no one member possessed the combined intelligence of the House, and the Government at least would be willing at all times to accept suggestions from the other side.

Ways and Means.

The House went into Committee on Ways and Means.

Picks, mattocks, grubhoes, adzes, hatchets, and poles and edge tools, n.e.s., of all descriptions, were put at a uniform rate of 35 per cent. ad valorem.

The item "shovels and spades, shovel and spade blanks and iron or steel cut to shape for same, 50 cents per dozen and 35 per cent ad valorem" was next discussed. The item passed.

Iron, structural and special sections, weighing less that 35 pounds per lineal yard, were taken out of the 35 per cent. list and placed in the 12½ per cent. list, thus giving the preference to Canadian builders.

Celluloid lamp shade blanks were changed from 20 to 16 per cent.

The duty on stereotype plates, electrotypes and celluloids of newspaper columns and bases for the same, composed wholly or partly of metal or celluloid, was reduced from ¼ per cent. to ⅛ per cent.

Jewel cases when not more than $3 in value will be taxed 5 cents each and 35 per cent.

Cane, reed, rattan, split or otherwise unmanufactured, was placed at 17½ per cent.

The duty on glucose or grape sugar, glucose syrup and corn syrup, or any syrups containing any other mixture thereof, was reduced to 1 cent per pound.

In textiles the item regarding shirts was made to read: Shirts costing more than $3 per doz. 25 per cent. and $1 per doz.

The item "cotton clothing and other articles made from cotton clothing, and other articles made from cotton fabrics, n.e.s., 32½ per cent." was adopted.

The Free List.

The free list was taken up. Creosoted lumber was placed on the list.

When the item of logs and round manufactured timber in the free list was reached, Dr. Sproule spoke in favor of the re-imposition of an export duty on saw logs. Since the removal of the export duty the export of logs had largely increased. The Georgian Bay district was being denuded of its best timber at the rate of fifty townships a year. The taking of these logs out of the country deprived Canada of this labor. The Americans estimated that they would this year take out of Canada 450,000,000 feet of lumber in the shape of logs. Eight thousand men were thrown out of employment every summer owing to the export of these logs. As a result of the removal of the duty fifty big mills in the Georgian Bay district had closed down. The railways and vessels of Canada lost the carrying trade under the present policy, because American tugs and tackle were brought over to Canada free of duty to tow logs to the United States ports on the lakes. The Georgian Bay fishermen complained that their nets were destroyed by the towing of the logs through Georgian Bay. Mr. Charlton was anxious that free logs should obtain because his mills were in the States. The United States alien labor law prevented Canadians following the logs to saw them in the States. He allowed his financial interests to influence his vote in Parliament.

Mr. Charlton said the re-imposition of the duty on logs would rob the many and benefit the few. He denied that Canadians were excluded from working in the United States mills.

Mr. Ingram—Will you say that the American government will allow Canadians to work in your mills at Tonawanda?

Mr. Charlton said he did not own a saw mill at Tonawanda or any place else on earth. He said he owned a planing mill at Tonawanda.

Mr. Bennett said Mr. Charlton was talking for dollars. He had made a splendid plea for American limit holders in Canada and the Ontario Government. The Ontario Government had the power to advance the dues on logs.

Mr. Charlton denied this last statement.

Mr. Bennett quoted from a speech of Mr. Charlton in the House a year ago to show that he himself then made the same assertion. He read an advertisement from a Tonawanda paper to show that Mr. Charlton did deal in round timbers. If the Government would impose a duty of $5 per 1,000 on logs 15,000 Canadians would come back from Michigan. He asked the Government not to listen to such American capitalists as Mr. Charlton. All the benefit that accrued to Canada from the present policy was that Mr. Charlton's tugs were permitted to take logs from Canada to the States on Sunday as well as other days.

The committee reported progress.

Capital Notes.

At a meeting of the Agriculture Committee yesterday Prof. Robertson, Dairy Commissioner, finished his examination, dealing principally with his experience at the World's Fair. Mr. D. M. Radcliffe, from Calgary, addressed the committee, and asked that the Government give some assistance to the small farmers of Western Alberta to purchase dairy cattle.

D. O'Connor, Ottawa, appeared before the Public Accounts Committee and was examined in regard to his legal charges. Mr. Lister conducted the examination. It appeared from investigation that the firm of O'Connor & Hogg were charging counsel fees for both members of the firm when it appeared by the record of the court that only one of them was present at the trial. This O'Connor explained by saying that he would be doing something else if not present in the court attending to the case at the department. The cases inquired into were the Hardpan and Quebec slide cases. In the latter case the fees of the firm were $2,421.

An evening paper publishes a report that the Dominion Government is preparing for a general election.

One thousand stand of the newly-converted Martini-Metford rifle, with ammunition for the same, have arrived in the city from England. This is the first instalment of the ten thousand promised by the Militia Department. Practice at the ranges with the new weapon is promised in the near future.

An Anarchist Confesses.

BRUSSELS, May 16.—A German anarchist named Mueller, who with thirteen others was arrested on suspicion of exploding the bomb in the hallway of the residence of Dr. Renseon, in Rue de la Paix, Liege, on the night of May 3rd, has confessed that he alone placed the bome where it was found by Dr. Renseon on his return to his house.

NEWFOUNDLAND CRISIS

Political Excitement on the Island Reaching Fever Heat.

SITUATION BECOMING GRAVE

Sectarianism is Now Said to be Dragged Into the Contest and Turbulent Demonstrations are Feared—The Police Repulsed by Strikers.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., May 16.—The disturbances at Bay de Verde continue. Popular excitement is increasing by leaps and bounds and the whole situation is regarded as very grave, especially as it is feared that sectarianism will be dragged into the contest. This, was carried on years ago, and its resurrection at the present time may be ruinous to the future of the colony.

The Telegram accuses Morine and Morrison with trying to make sectarian capital out of the attacks on them, and also that Morine insulted the clergymen of several denominations in Bay de Verde on Saturday. The police entered the Telegram office by orders of the Chief of Police and forced employes to tear down from the windows inflammatory placards which were declared dangerous to the public peace.

On Sunday at Gull Island, Bay de Verde, the police tried to arrest the rioters, but abandoned the attempt and retired to await reinforcements. Parties accompanying the police were attacked by the Gull Islanders and stoned and beaten. The authorities have determined to arrest the rioters at all hazards, as other sections of the district might take the law into their own hands if they did not.

A MANIAC'S FEARFUL WORK.

Killed His Mother and Severely Wounded Several Other Persons.

ALBANY, N.Y., May 16.—Eugene Brady, a maniac, killed his mother, aged 65, in a fit of violence and attempted to kill four other persons. With three knives in his hands he ran wildly around the streets cutting right and left, assaulting every one whom he met. Before the police overpowered him he had cut his sister-in-law, Mrs. James Brady, Alfred J. V. Werner, Mrs. John Kelly and Patrick Rice. Mrs. Kelly's wounds are serious but it is not thought they will prove fatal.

Eugene Brady began quarrelling with his mother and sisters for no apparent reason and they soon determined that he was not in his right mind as Brady's father had been insane and was released from an asylum but a short time ago. The daughter Jennie went to a near-by lumber yard and asked that some of the employees be sent to the house to quiet her brother. The proprietor and two employes repaired to the house and found Brady in the kitchen on the ground floor yelling at those around him and threatening to kill them. When the men entered the house Brady ran upstairs and jumped from a second story window. The men ran outside and picked him up, carried him into the house, placed him on a lounge and bathed his head. He revived in a few minutes and before he could be stopped, jumped up and grabbed a common case knife, a can opener and carving knife.

He then ran out of the house and began a wild and terrible chase through the neighborhood. He carried the case knife and can opener in one hand and the carving knife in the other. His mother and sister had followed him, and at the corner of Vine and Green street, a man tried to strike Brady. The sister held his hand and cried "Don't strike him," preventing him from doing so. But for her act the murder might have been prevented.

The mother now came running up and caught hold of her son's arm. The infuriated man now became calm and dropped all but the carving knife. The two then walked back to the house and when they reached the yard in which his home was Brady threw his arms around his mother's neck and kissed her. He then plunged the long knife into her breast, striking her to the heart, and she died in a few minutes. His sister-in-law was standing near and he slashed at her, the knife catching her on the right arm. At least 200 people saw the murder. Brady then started on another wild chase for a number of blocks. He was followed by a dozen men who wanted to capture him, but when he turned upon them they fled. A. J. V. Werner who tried to stop him received a bad knife wound on the arm. On Gansevoort street, Patrick Rice was painting the stoop of a house. As he was bending over Brady came up on him and plunged the knife into his right hip. The wound is not serious.

Brady continued on and his next victim was Mrs. John Kelly, who ran into her house as Brady approached. The latter followed and plunged the knife into her back twice as she was running up the stairs. Her wounds are not fatal. His pursuers were closing in on him now, when the police patrol wagon then came along. It took four men to get him in the patrol wagon. He was taken to the jail and locked up. He was a horrible sight, being covered with blood and his clothes being torn from his back.

Variety Store Destroyed.

HAMILTON, May 16.—A fire broke out in H. C. Chappell's hardware and general variety store and in a very short space of time the lower flat, containing goods to the value of about $1,400, was destroyed. A couple of small kegs of powder exploded and blew the windows on to the street. The loss will be between $1,500 and $2,000 on stock, which is insured for $2,000.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Beautiful weather, and fruit trees never showed a better blossom.

The many friends and acquaintances of J. McCarroll, sympathize with him in the loss of Mrs. McCarroll, who died very suddenly. The funeral was very largely attended on Sunday.

The Italian camp at Doube's bridge numbers 65 and further additions are to follow. (15c. a day boards them.) Very much indignation is felt on the part of residents of Emily and Omemee, who would be willing to work for the same wages, besides leaving the money in the country, and now are expected to pay taxes, keep their families and nothing to do.

The village was thronged with visitors last Saturday night to listen to the band concert.

The 24th May celebration promises to be one of the grandest affairs outside the cities. No admission fee to sports but 25c admission to the large chorus and military concert to conclude the day's performance. Officers of the different corps in uniform. Hope to see Peterborough present.

The churches were largely attended last Sunday. Omemee has the best observance of the Sabbath, outsiders being the only persons to cause a noise. Rev. Mr. MacKay will take up the heresey case next Sunday, recently disposed of by Professor Campbell, Montreal.

What a Word Will Do.

Byron reminds us that a word is enough to rouse mankind to mutual slaughter. Yes, there is power in a word—Marathon, for instance, Waterloo, Gettysburgh, Appomatox. Great battles these, but what a great battle is going on in many a sick and suffering body. In yours, perhaps. Take courage. You can win. Call to your aid Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It acts powerfully upon the liver, cleanses the system of all blood-taints and impurities; cures all humours from a common Blotch or Eruption to the worst Scrofula, Salt-rheum, "Fever-sores," Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood. Great Eating Ulcers rapidly heal under its benign influence. Especially potent in curing Tetter, Eczema, Erysipelas, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Hip-joint Disease, "White Swellings" and Enlarged Glands.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure permanently constipation, biliousness, sick headache and indigestion.

FOR THE DEMONSTRATION.

THE TOWN COUNCIL SETS ASIDE $250 FOR THE PURPOSE.

If the A. O. F. Comes to Town on Dominion Day the Celebration will be a Success, but if it Doesn't the Grant Doesn't "go."

A special meeting of the town council was called last night by the Mayor for the purpose of re-opening the question as to whether others than members of the council should join the Trent Valley Canal deputation to Ottawa at the expense of the town. The members present, however, were averse to having the question re-opened.

The Mayor explained that the Board of Trade expected that their delegates' expenses would be borne by the town but consensus of opinion was that if the expenses of these gentlemen were paid it would be impossible to stop there as others of the citizens would consider that they had as much right to take in the trip free of expense as the Board of Trade delegates.

On motion of Messrs. Dawson and Sutton it was resolved to made at the council meeting Monday evening whereby only the expenses of the town councillors, town officials and town commissioners would be paid.

Mr. Kelly then brought up the question of the grant, for the first of July celebration, to the firemen.

Mr. Dawson without rhyme or reason trained the guns of his eloquence on Bandmaster Miller and the members of the band for wishing to leave town on Dominion Day. The band, he stated, which was supported by the citizens, had no right to pick up stakes and go out of the town just on the very day it was needed. The council made a grant of $250 a year towards the bandmaster's salary and therefore should have some say regarding his movements. He counselled the discontinuance of the grant.

Mr. Kelly came to the rescue of the band and pointed out that it had remained in town every holiday for years and it was a long time since their services had been required before. The present demonstration had only been talked of lately and the band was quite right in making an engagement to go out of town when it had that it was required here. The volunteers contributed far more to the support of the organization than the town and had some right to be considered.

Mr. Dawson still held to his statement that the town did more in support of the band than the battalion. The latter paid the bandmaster $250 a year salary and nothing more than this sum went to the band.

Mr. Brady interrogated Mr. Dawson on this point, but the latter held to his statement, and added that if the organization remained in town for Dominion Day it would save the cost of bringing a band to the town from outside. He moved, though, that $200 be granted the firemen for their demonstration.

Mr. Kelly pleaded hard for $300 and Mr. Brady ably backed him up. The former stated that if a proper welcome was assured it was probable that the Toronto branches of the Ancient Order of Foresters would come here for the day. The firemen could hold forth no inducements unless they and whether the council would make the grant.

Mr. Hughes thought the times too hard to throw away a large sum of money simply for enjoyment. A few years ago a grant of four or five hundred was nothing to the town but money was scarcer now. It would make no difference the day after the first whether a demonstration had been held or not, still he would vote for the smaller grant of $200.

Mr. Kelly proposed to split the difference and make the grant $250.

Mr. Hall suggested that the matter be referred to the Finance Committee to report upon and the Mayor was also anxious to shelve the question as a number of the councillors were not present and might wish to have a say in the matter.

Mr. Kelly pointed out that the firemen couldn't wait any longer for an answer as they wished either to push forward the work or else drop it immediately. Immediate action was necessary if the Ancient Order of Foresters was wanted here. On his motion it was finally resolved to appropriate the sum of $250 to be granted the Fire Brigade, providing that the Finance Committee after consideration decided that the expenditure of such a sum of money would be of benefit to the town. Practically the idea is that if the Foresters can be persuaded to come to Peterborough on the day mentioned, the grant stands good, and if the invitation of the Fire Brigade is refused by the A.O.F., the grant will be withdrawn.

The council then adjourned.

Experience Has Proved It.

A triumph in medicine was attained when experience proved that Scott's Emulsion would not only stop the progress of Pulmonary Consumption, but by its continued use health and vigor could be fully restored.

Fashions for Men.

IN COATS.

There is more length to the new Coats for 1894 than has been used in Men's Dress since the 60's.

THE DOUBLE BREASTED FROCK is the most fastidious garment man has put on in a generation. It adds to the stature of the man and conceals defects of figure. It is short waisted, snug fitting, long tailed and beautifully moulded to the figure. The skirts are hollow at the top and form a beautiful curve, which is the most distinctive thing about the new styles.

Then there is the THREE BUTTON CUTAWAY Coat which is a high favourite. It is popularly described as the "Pigeon Wing" on account of its sloping tails. The sleeves are of moderate size and are closed with a vent for three buttons. If properly made it will cling rather closely to the hips.

The new CUTAWAY SACK COAT for business wear is one of the most popular of the season. It has caught the fancy of the young men. All the pockets should have flaps. The collar rolls low and is not faced with Silk.

Any of these garments made up to order to please the most fastidious dresser and with faultless devotion to the fashion plates

Y. P. S. C. E. NOTES.

Under the above heading we propose to insert all items of interest to Endeavourers, and trust each society will see to it that we are kept informed of work done or work contemplated. Let some one member be appointed to help us, and you will find these Notes of interest. Please send in at least two copies of your report, addressed to "C. E. Editor," Box 865, Peterborough.

We propose placing before you from week to week extracts from the "Cleveland Endeavourer," giving interesting hints about the coming great convention. We would advise you to cut these out and keep them if you have not a copy of the above paper in your possession.

A CLEVELAND '94 SOCIAL

As the time for holding the 13th International Convention at Cleveland draws near and societies are considering ways and means for raising money to send delegates, a suggestion along this line may be of help. The committee of '94 suggests giving a "Cleveland '94" social, every suggestion for the evening to turn the thoughts of all towards Cleveland and the convention. Have the rooms draped with white and gold, the "colors" of the Cleveland Union. Arrange a literary and musical programme, all the numbers of which shall be the production of Cleveland writers and composers. Interperse these with articles by the chairman of the various 94 committees, telling of their plans and of the city. Utilize this sociable to secure funds for sending a delegate to the convention. The money might be secured in a number of ways. Charge an admission fee, having it understood where the money is going, or take up a collection after making a direct appeal. Another plan would be to have a birthday box, and ask all to put in as many pennies they are years old. A beautiful advance souvenir of the convention has been prepared. This you would want to place on sale, the proceeds to go to the general fund. Make arrangements with F. M. Lewis, 237 St. Clair street, Cleveland, for copies. Social committees can work up details. Write at once for the skeleton plan, get up all the enthusiasm possible, and undoubtedly your society will be well represented in July. All information and an outline of the programme for the literary and musical parts can be secured free of cost by writing to the chairman of the Press Committee, Mr. R. B. Hamilton, 245 Superior street, Cleveland, Ohio.

JUNIOR JOTTINGS.

The Junior union meeting May 26th, promises to be a success. Each society will contribute selections to the programme. All the juniors together will recite Scripture lessons in concert, and societies will respond to the roll call. A two minute report will be given from each society. Mr. R. A. Ward, Co.-Sec. of Y.P.S.C.E., will also give an address to the children which is sure to be attractive. All visitors will be heartily welcome, and members of Young Peoples Societies and parents are more especially invited. The meeting will be held in the Y.M.C.A. rooms at 4 p.m., May 26th.

We are hoping to welcome two or three new societies into the union on this occasion.

The Toronto junior union is progressive. They will hold their first annual rally May 18th in the pavilion of the Horticultural Gardens. They have issued a very attractive programme, and we notice amongst the speakers the names of the mayor of Toronto, Mr. Kennedy, and Rev. Mr. Patterson, of Cook's church.

The Christian, a religious weekly published in England, has this to say of junior societies:—"Junior societies of C. E. are bound to be alive, because they are made of such lively material. Nothing in this world is more thoroughly alive than the small boy. His sister differs from him in this respect only in degree; not in kind. Out of such boys and girls junior societies are constructed. A dead junior society is a curiosity as yet undiscovered." We hope this curiosity may never be discovered in Peterborough county.

CHARLOTTE STREET.

Charlotte street Christian Endeavour held their annual consecration meeting on Monday evening last. The topic "How to Bear Burdens," taken from the evening's lesson, Gal. 6, 1-5, was a good, practical one, which was taken up by Messrs. German and Tovey. The attendance was good, over forty members being present.

The League cottage prayer meeting this coming Friday evening at 8 o'clock is to be held at the residence of Mrs. Blackstock, 101 Rubidge street. Everyone who can make it convenient to attend these meetings are invited to come, both old and young. Now do not forget this, and come.

ST PAUL'S SOCIETY.

We held our meeting on Sunday evening, immediately after the evening service, on account of the sacred song service held in the church on Monday evening. Miss E. J. Best presided. The meeting was a very profitable one. All present received a plainer insight as to "Bearing Burdens," the topic of the evening. The meeting was very active throughout, a great many having prepared papers bearing on the topic.

The executive of the society will meet regularly on the Friday night preceding business meeting, in the church parlour.

GEORGE STREET METHODIST.

The monthly consecration meeting of the George Street Methodist E. P. of C. E. was held on Monday evening. Miss F. Rutherford, president, lead the service, which was a very solemn and helpful one to all. The topic, "Bearing Burdens," was taken up by Mr. Kelso, who spoke very earnestly.

SMITH.

The Smith C.E. society intends holding a grand rally of the workers of the local union for conference and endeavour work in June.

The War in Salvador.

SAN SALVADOR, May 16.—Gen. Joaquin Lopez, who displayed great bravery at the battle of Chalchuahua, has been ordered to take command in San Sonate, where it is thought the rebels will make their last stand. The greater part of Santa Ana is destroyed. The rebels there are said to be surrounded. Pretident Ezeta has returned and turned over the command of the army to his brother, Antonio, who is still suffering from wounds. At a banquet on Sunday leading army officers pledged loyalty to the President. It is believed that he will go abroad later, leaving the government in the hands of his brother.

International Miners Congress.

BERLIN, May 16.—At the opening of the session of the International Miners' Congress there were present forty-one German, thirty-eight English, four French, three Belgian and two Austrian delegates, representing 1,170,000 workmen in mines. Great indignation has been aroused among the German delegates, Herrensinger, Liebknicht and the others who are also members of the Reichstag, by the remarks of the English delegate, Pickard. Mr. Pickard declared it was not the intention of himself and his fellow English delegates to support any movement to incite class against class.

British Columbia Farming.

MONTREAL, May 16.—Right Rev. D. D. Ridley, D.D., Anglican bishop of Columbia, is in the city on his way to England with his wife, and is to remain away a year. In an interview he said that the Chinese in British Columbia can outdo the small farmer, and he would not advise the latter to go there. What is wanted is farmers on a large scale to go in for ranching. There is a large labor supply and he does not advise settlers going there.

Barns and Contents Destroyed.

LIVERPOOL, N.S., May 16.—Two large barns belonging to Thomas Keiller and Lewis Ritchie at Kempt, have been destroyed by fire with all their contents, including thirteen head of cattle, three horses and ten tons of hay. Patrick Dolan, who is suspected of having started the fire, has been arrested and placed in jail.

P. D. McCallum Nominated.

WATFORD, Ont., May 16.—The P. P. A. convention of East Lambton met here last evening. P. D. McCallum, M.P.P., was the choice of the convention as candidate at the coming elections.

South Toronto Liberals.

TORONTO, May 16.—The Liberals of the constituency of South Toronto met last night and nominated Charles Moss, Q.C., as their candidate to contest the coming provincial election.

THE RULING MARKETS.

TORONTO, May 16, 1894.

Cables report the Liverpool cattle market depressed with large supplies. Best Canadians sell on a basis of 9¼ to 9½c Liverpool.

The amount of wheat on passage to Europe is 45,344,000 bushels, an increase of 392,000 bushels for the week. A year ago the amount afloat was 41,264,000 bushels.

At Buffalo cattle were quiet. Sheep and lambs—Active trade about cleaned up the receipts of sale stock, which with late arrivals swelled amount to 117 cars. Market steady and firm with good demand.

THE FARMERS' MARKET.—Receipts of grain were limited and prices steady. Two loads of white wheat sold at 60c and 63c straight; red is quoted at 61c and goose at 58c. Oats steady, 400 bushels selling at 38½c to 39½c. One load of peas sold at 66c.

In Chicago wheat declined and at the end of the session was 1 to 1⅛c below Monday's final figures, breaking the record for low price again. Selling out of long wheat propelled prices on their descent., lower cables being the main feature of the discouraging news. Corn followed wheat and closed with a net loss of ⅛ to ¼c for the day. Cash oats were stronger, closing ¼ to ½c higher.

The most significant feature of the day's operation at the New York Stock Exchange was the impression the bears were enabled to make on prices because of moderate liquidations. There were dribblings of long stock in Missouri, Pacific, Atchison and Sugar. Missouri Pacific was the feature and fell off 2¼ per cent. The Granger, Trunk lines and anthracite coalers lost ¼ to 1½ per cent. The general market closed weak and 1-8 and 2½ per cent. lower

"The flowers that bloom in the Spring" are not more vigorous than are those persons who purify their blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The fabled Elixer Vitæ could scarcely impart greater vivacity to the countenance than this wonderful medicine.

SIRS,—I had such a severe cough that my throat felt as if scraped with a rasp. On taking Norway Pine Syrup I found the first dose gave relief, and the second bottle completely cured me.

FRATERNAL ASSESSMENT LIABILITY.

"Can't I get out when I please, and have no liability?"

Most people expect "yes" for an answer to this question, when they say they are members of an assessment insurance society, and begin to think of their responsibilities as such. It is important for them to know that they cannot escape liability; because every member, no matter when he drops out, is liable for any deficiencies that may arise in future, if they were developed during his membership. Here is an instance:

The United Masonic Benefit Association of Missouri was some years ago an active and apparently prosperous assessment concern. It provided no reserve, but offered low rates, cheap insurance, and seemingly hoped that new blood would make up for increasing mortality resulting from increasing age. By and bye its forces began to fall off, not enough "new blood" came in, and the cost of membership ran up in a very uncomfortable way. Presently the healthier lives began to feel their burden pressing heavily and steadily left the ranks, until so few were left in the association that the assessments amounted to $140—one hundred and forty dollars—on each certificate. The remaining members refused to pay such a sum, and the concern failed. But there were unpaid death claims for a large amount due, and the State Superintendent of Insurance thought they ought to be paid. So he began suits at law against individual members to enforce payment of the assessments against them; the court has decided that they must pay. The feelings of those who are thus compelled to pay what they never expected have undergone a change with respect to assessment insurance.

Replying to some enquiries which had been made upon this point of liability, and citing this case illustration of what may be expected in any similiar case which might be pressed to suit, the Insurance Monitor says: "The decision referred to answers our question which has been debated, whether the member's liability is limited to sums which he may choose to pay; in other words, whether he can get out when he pleases without further harm. This he cannot do. Every member, no matter when he may drop out, is liable for any deficiencies which may crop up in future, resulting during his membership. The only safe course for parties that apprehend breakers ahead is to drop their membership before the breakers are reached; and the misfortune of this course is that the faster they drop, the faster the association drives towards the breakers."

There seems to be only one course open for the prudent man who may be determined to avoid possible liability; that is to keep out of such associations entirely and buy his insurance of the regular companies.—Monetary Times.

Lowest in Prints.

The lowest prices named for prints this season have been made at Miss Rudkins dry goods store, Crystal Block. By a special purchase at the mill, she secured the choice of 5,000 samples of best American washing prints, wide widths, at a price sufficiently lower than they have been previously bought to enable her to sell them at 10c per yard, same as are sold elsewhere at 12½ and 15c. The ladies will know how to appreciate this chance to provide themselves with these goods, now so seasonable.

Messrs. Dolan & Co's. Cant-Stop-It Sale.

Something has to be done to dispose of the greater part of the stock of clothing cloths and gents' furnishings carried by Messrs. Thos. Dolan & Co., in order to move them out of the way of the workmen who will soon commence remodelling this corner store. The clearance sale which was started last week is effecting the purpose. Everybody in Peterborough seems to know about it, judging by the rapid sales which have been going on since the sale opened. The bargains are of the most permptory kind, and thousands of dollars worth of clothing, etc., must be got rid of without delay.

Open Air Concert

The band will turn out to-morrow evening in the park instead of on Friday evening. The reason for the change is that the benefit concert for Mrs. Seward will take place in the opera house Friday evening. The following programme will be rendered :

Quick March—Festal ..... Jones
Lancers—Round the Town ..... Williams
Overture—Children of the West ..... Bishop
Valse—May Blossom ..... Roy
Selection—La Fille of the Regiment ..... Donezetti
Waltz—Wedding Eve ..... Coutt
Galop—Posthorn ..... Keonig

It is hoped that better light will be supplied the band to-morrow evening than was given them last Thursday night, when a torch had to be utilized.

Coutts' Acid Cure.

This old country emedy is now being pushed vigourously throughout Canada, and the proprietors evidently intend to make their treatment as well known here as it is in Europe and Australasia. As a simple but effectual household remedy Acetocura has no equal, and its marvellous efficacy in rheumatism and nervous diseases, as in many minor complaints, explains the readings with which it sells. Mr. Hr. H. S. Macdonald, druggist, has been appointed special agent here, and he displaying Messrs. Coutts' preparation most prominently in his window. We would recommend any who suffer from acute or chronic diseases to get a pamphlet from the agent, buy a bottle and sponge, on handle, and cure themselves. Even in chronic cases, patience and regular application is all that is required to effect a cure. The testimonials at the end of the pamphlet from prominent clergymen and others in Toronto sufficiently prove this.

CUT THIS OUT and send it to us, enclosing a three cent stamp and the names of ten ladies, and we will send each one a sample of one of the best montly papers published, and we will send it to you FREE for six months. Mention EXAMINER, and address MEDICAL ADVISER, Bowmanville, Ont.

The majority of the members of the town council left on this train.

—You can't crush the pluckly sparrow. The awning of Mr. Ed. Clegg's tobacco store, George street, was furled for Saturday evening till Tuesday morning. Then when it was let down, it was found that in the interval, an enterprising sparrow had built a nest complete and had contributed one egg towards the formation of a family party. Evidently the sparrow is not bothered with stationary flies.

—It is said that a by-law will be introduced in the town council, whereby the deluging of the sidewalks with water will not be permitted after 8 o'clock in the morning. Such a by-law is in force in other cities and towns and is found to be a good and useful provision, as after the hour mentioned numbers of ladies in thin soled shoes are on the streets and do not fancy having to pick their way through puddles on the sidewaks.

—One of the summer residents was at Chemong painting his cottage the other week. A tramp came along when the amateur frescoer was wielding the brush and pressed his claims for recognition beyond the patience of the artist, who yanked the coat, vest and shirt off the poor "tie counter" and painting him like an Zebra, turned him loose in the woods. Chemong residents say there was quite a path worn and a streak of paint from the cottage to the hotel.

—The hose wagon team is getting entirely too skittish and when returning from the fire yesterday afternoon would have again demolished the wagon if they had not been "set piling fence rails," or in other words, been turned from the road into the fence. As it was, Ernest Rutherford was thrown from the wagon and had his face and head severely bruised. The driver, Ernest Lawrence, was flung from his seat by the shock of the wagon striking a tree and sustained a nasty cut extending across the nose and forehead. The proper treatment for this team is to put them on the new roller or the watering cart for a couple of weeks and give the dark greys a rest. The latter team, it is true, are not trained to run out from their stalls, but it wouldn't take a great deal of time to teach them the trick.

Spong's stock of general groceries, provisions, fruits, confectionery, etc., and will continue to carry on business in the same premises, No. 144 Hunter street. The present stock-in-trade having been purchased at a general discount on the wholesale cost, we are in a position to offer the very best value to our customers. Arrangements have already been made for a fresh supply of new goods, and other new lines will be added in order to bring the stock fully up to the standard of a first-class grocery and provision store. As we are determined to carry on business in the line of square dealing, prompt and reliable service, and one low price to all, we hope to merit a share of the public patronage. A call is respectfully solicited. LANE & HUNTER, successors to C. E. Spong, 144 Hunter street. 3d1w

THE CRICKET CLUB MINSTRELS.

A Splendid Entertainment—Thoroughly Enjoyed by a Crowded House—Many Features Out of Sight,—Boundary Hits.

The Cricket Club Minstrel entertainment in the Opera House last night was a "corker"—not only in the burnt cork sense, but in the full significance of the argot of the day, expressive of the highest degree of excellence. There was a crush in the way of attendance and large numbers were turned away unable to be given an "innings." The stage was ornamented at either flank of the proscenium with a trophy of ribboned cricket bats, and the mise en scene when the curtain rose after the hidden chorus was complete and effective.

The dusky choristers, grouped on rising seats, encircled Mr. Charles N. Brown, the handsome interlocutor, the only "white trash" in the galaxy of burnt cork stars. He was supported by Johnny Connors as mascot, the nimble little chap that won laurels later in the evening. The septette of end men were :—Tambourines—Dan. Simons, the irrepressible and elastic, who was the life of the entire programme, James Blaine (not) of Maine, and J. C. Crooms. The bones were rattled artistically by Messrs. W. Phelan, Alf. Reynolds, Geo. S. Ames and T. Mahoney.

The opening chorus by Butcher's orchestra was a fine piece of concerted work and won the hearty applause of the audience. This orchestra is to be congratulated upon the excellent, well balanced work it did during the evening. The chorus, "Knights of the Mystic Star," by the company was a capital piece of concerted singing, with excellent balance of parts and gave evidence of careful training. Mr. R. A. Shaw's ballad "Kitty Wells," the chorus by the company, was sung in a manner to elicit loud applause. Mr. J. C. Crooms made in his song "There's no one Like Mother" a decided hit which was a precedent from the beautiful bouquet that hit him on the conclusion of his song. He was compelled to respond to a cordial encore. Later in the evening Mr. Crooms got another brisk recall for his capital singing of a laughing song, the burden of which infected the audience. Mr. Walter Phelan's song, "Climb up, Children, Climb up," with a fine chorus, was heartily received, as well as his topical song, full of taking local hits. Mr. Drope's song, "Swinging on the Grape-vine, Swing," went with a swing, as well as the swinging chorus by the company. Dr. Jebb's banjo solo, "Swanee River," with variations, was admirably performed, and as an encore he gave a most artistic rending of "Home, Sweet Home." At a later stage he contributed a banjo accompaniment to a duet with the accordeon, skilfully manipulated by Mr. Wm. Fraser. They were also encored. Dan Simons in his fancy clog, got there with both feet, as he did in the electric sand jig, which he gave in reply to a loud encore. The tumbling specialties of Dan and Johnny Connors, were as conspicuous for their acrobatic cleverness as their side-splitting comicality. They make a great team. The realistic session of "The Lime Juice Club" was not quite up to the mark of other specialties, still it had a large amount of comical hits, which were duly appreciated. The best thing in this was the lecture on the "Mysteries of Matrimony," which was exceedingly well done by Mr. R. A. Shaw as "Bro. Watermillion Henroost." The concluding farce, literally a screaming one, was the height of absurd comicality. The impressairo, engaged in "Drumming up a Company for the Stage," was Mr. E. Poussette, and he had no end of absurdly ludicrous experiences. The several applicants for "sits" included Mr. Dan. Simons, who was engaged as a valet, and his ludicrous actions, laughable to convulsions, kept the house in a roar. The part of the heavy tragedian was taken in a splendid manner by Mr. H. LeBel. From his entrance to the time Dan. cooled his histrionic ardour with a pail of real cold water, Mr. LeBel, as "Edwin Booth," distinguished himself. His make-up was perfect. The banjo "band" gave a specimen selection in excellent style. Mr. Jack Turner, as "Edward Lloyd," stood a good chance for an engagement, till Dan. fired him with a cannon, as he bodily "fired" Mr. Thos. Connal, the fraudulent "Sandow," the strong man. Mr. W. McClelland, as the "Black Patti," was so overcome with her triumph that she fainted. This roaring skit was one of the best departments of the entertainment, which was throughout a splendid success.

In view of the success of last night's "show," the boys having got "set," as it were, propose repeating the entertainment here and at other towns in the vicinity. They should be warmly welcomed, for they "put up a great game."

Mr. Geo. Smedley, banjo and character specialist, announced to appear last night was unable to be present. His place was ably taken by Mr. J. C. Crooms.

THE MERRY MAKING BEGINS.

After the Chapter was closed down the companions adjourned to the dining hall, where a very pleasant hour was spent in feasting, singing and speech-making.

Excellent Companion, D. Spence occupied the chair and discharged the duties which devolved upon him in a manner which won for him high encomiouma. This is Companion Spence's second term in Z's chair. He seems to retain the confidence of the Companions by his enthusiastic devotion to all that pertains to the welfare of the craft.

The luncheon was served by Caterer John Watt, who, as usual, received the congratulations of all for the effective manner in which he provided for the wants of the inner man and also for the handsome decorations which were arranged by his "crafty" hand.

After justice had been done the good things provided, the chairman rapped the assemblage to order and as the first toast proposed the health of "The Queen and the Craft," which was greeted with Masonic enthusiasm.

The toast of the "Grand Chapter" was coupled with the names of R. Ex. Comp's Eakins, Postlethwaite and Allen, who responded suitably. This was followed by a song by Ex. Comp. Donald.

The next toast was proposed by the occupant of the vice-chair, R. Ex. Comp. R. E. Wood, who called upon the assemblage to drink the health of "The Visiting Companions". Among those who responded were Excellent Comp. White, who delivered a most humourous speech; R.-Ex. Comp. N. T. Lyon and Excellent Comp. Armour.

Companion Sparling contributed a song to the evening's entertainment, which was followed by, a spirited address by Excellent Companion Davis, of Hamilton, and a vocal selection by Ex. Comp. Donald.

The toast of the "Newly-Installed Officers" was proposed by Ex. Comp. White and responded to by Ex. Comps. Spence and Wood. Comp. Denniston was then called on for a speech which he gave as well as contributing a song.

Right Ex. Comp. E. H. D. Hall made some brief and appropriate remarks which was followed by a song by R. Ex. Comp. Benjamin Allen, when the evening was brought to a close by the usual toast by Excellent Comp. Wood.

The More They Get the More They Want.

The wall papers kept in stock at the Peterborough Bookstore are so pretty and cheap that a customer who buys paper intending to cover only one room, is so delighted that he returns and procures papers for three or four other rooms. This is only natural, for our papers are so beautiful and so low in price that persons find it very hard to resist the temptation of buying. A. H. STRATTON & Co.

COMMITTEE ROOMS.

Mr. Stratton's committee rooms will be open every night hereafter from 7 o'clock p. m. The daily papers are on the tables, so that those who desire to use the hall as a reading room can do. This announcement is made so that Mr. Stratton's supporters and the supporters of the Mowat Administration can at all times have a place in which to confer and report or exchange information and suggest action in the interest of the Liberal candidate in the West Riding.

UNDER A CLOUD.

THE Review is nothing, if not abusive; its stock of "arguments" is composed of this kind of contribution to public discussion of political questions. The blank cartridge fired by Mr. Winch through the Review's smooth bore musket "kicked," and recoiled upon the gunner; and, smarting under the sting of the recoil, the organ greased itself with the unguent of abuse to an opponent, a column deep, and it is to be hoped that it feels better for the application. Our contemporary insinuates, what it dares not state, plainly in reference to Mr. Stratton's record, and forgets that the issue of the present election contest is not a personal matter, but one affecting the government of the country, and that personal abuse will no more convince intelligent electors than it will change votes. As to Mr. Stratton's record, he is perfectly willing to leave it to the judgment of the electors, who have a better idea of the duties and performance of a representative than a narrow-gauge political organ, that cannot rise above the petty plane of confusing a public man with a business opponent, and, in its grasp for the almighty dollar, fails to grasp the real significance of the situation. If the Review thinks any of the insinuations contained in the Empire and endorsed by the Review in the registry matter, are justified by the facts, let it make boldly, in the form of a statement, what they insinuate in a cowardly and covert manner, and Mr. Stratton will give it an opportunity to make good its insinuations if it can. The Review is wandering in the clouds at present. Let it possess its soul in patience and "wait till the clouds roll by" on the 26th of June.

SPRIGHTLY SUMMER SPORTS.

On the Lacrosse Field, the Crease and the Diamond—Triple A. Topics—The Bi[illegible] Football.

ACQUATIC.

The "Rob Roy" was out for a whirl yerterday afternoon. The staunch little yacht is more than fulfilling the expectations of her builder and owner, Mr. R. M. Roy, and is a source of constant surprise to the other yachtsmen on the river. Few can understand how machinery occupying a floor room space just 26x29 inches in size can have the power to drive the 26 foot launch through the water at the high rate of speed which it does. The secret lays chiefly in the construction of the hull which is as pretty a model as can well be conceived. In building his boat Mr. Roy did not examine the hulls of the other launches, but modelled his craft on lines which, as a veteran yachtsman, he knew would invest her with the greatest amount of speed at the least possible outlay of energy or power. In consequence his diminutive 14 inch screw drives the launch through the water in a way which will astonish competitors.

CRICKET.

The enthusiasm of the local cricketers no longer lies dormant, and every afternoon from four until six or seven o'clock the knights of the crease can be found either wielding the willow or chasing the pig skin over the P.A.A.A. grounds. The game is becoming most popular and plenty of new blood is being infused into the club this year. The Colts are developing fast, and have aspired to challenge the married members of the club to a match. The Colts naturally do not expect to do much by themselves, but with the assistance of the other unmarried men in the club, think they can win from the vets. "hands down." The date of the match has been set for Saturday afternoon next at three o'clock, and doubtless quite a few spectators will be present. Seats will be provided, and as all the players will, of course, be local men, a great deal of interest is aroused over the event, and as the married men do not propose to be put to shame by the bachelors, the game will be played for all it is worth.

It is to be hoped all members of the club who can possibly be in attendance will turn out to make this, the first match of the season, a success. Among those whom are are expected to to uphold the end of the benedicts are Messrs. R. B. Rogers, Walter Stocker, W. J. Drope, Sam. Ray, G. J. Horkins, W. A. Sailsbury, F.R.Yokome, Tom. Rutherford, H. Strickland, C. McGill, George Hatton, W. H. Wrighton and Dr. Burnham. Some of the bachelors who are expected to take pare are Messrs. W. A. Stratton, P. G. Goldsmith, J. H. Burnham, Thos. Allison, C. McKee, W. A. Kenner, Hal. Burnham, Charlie Halliday, Montgomery, W. A. Parker, Billett, Guy Rogers, Wonham and Dr. Brennan.

THE ANGLER.

Messrs. "Edge." Hartley, D. Boyce, M. Oscar and Barney, and J. V. Laroque have returned from a trouting trip with 76 fish as the result of a day's sport. Unfortunately a party of so-called fishermen from Madoc had just left the stream before the arrival of the Peterborough anglers. The first visitors had placed a bag-net in the creek and, by wading down stream, had been successful in "bagging" over 500 trout, which were driven into the net. It is understood that the officials will endeavour to ascertain the names of the Madoc party in order that they may be brought to justice. Such unsportsmanlike actions are worthy of the rebuke of every true knight of the rod and reel.

Mr. Knapman, manager of the Bell telephone, Peterborough, with several friends, spent a couple of days here last week fishing, and carried back with them a goodly string of fine bass.—Hastings Star.

BASEBALL.

The Vatican Park Baseball Club has organized. Mr. Lionel King is elected captain, and Mr. Bert Dolan, secretary.

The wine-clerks wish it understood that they are not challenging a town team to a game on Friday afternoon, but a team to be composed exclusively of printers or newspaper men.

LACROSSE.

Belleville stick handlers turn out to the practice to the number of forty or fifty every evening. It is necessary to run two games at once to give all a fair chance.

The Port Hope papers boast the acquisition of Jerry Packenham as the best lacrosse player on last season's Peterborough team, and claim that he has been signed by the Port Hopes for the season.

THE TURF.

The Canadian Livestock Journal has the following to say of Charlie Ray, who is a brother to Messrs. Sam and Fred Ray, of Peterborough:—"Charlie Ray has eight in his stable, five with records below 2.30, a pretty good lot to begin on and among them are some that ought to be top notchers. He has Sim Watson 2.21¼, Geo. S. James 2.22¼, Glenora pacer, 2.27, Maud J 2.28¼, Maggie C 2.29¼, Sunbeam 2.29½, by Hampton, May E by Gen. Stanton and Rapid Pat by St. Patrick, the last two green ones. These are all looking well and taking kindly to their work. With such material Charlie should find this his most prosperous turf year.

THE GRANGE HALL GONE.

Fire Settles the Feud of Years—Burned to the Ground.

Eathon Grange Hall, situated in North Monaghan, which has been the subject of so much litigation for the past five or six years, was burned to the ground last night. During the evening the High Park Band were practising in the building and about two hours after its departure the structure was in flames.

OUR CITIZEN SOLDIERY AND WHAT THEY ARE DOING.

Orders for the Week—Two Nights a Week for Drill Regarded as too Much—Auditors appointed.

The Rangers showed up well at the armoury last night, turning out fully 150 strong. The Tuesday evening drills are generally well attended, but the ranks are but slimly filled at the Thursday evening parades. The volunteers think that it is asking a little too much of them when it comes to turning out twice a week for drill. As stated in order number 3, it will be seen that the first march out of the season will take place on Tuesday evening next.

The idea of having the different companies appoint auditors to examine the regimental books is a move on the part of the officers which is highly commended. Hearing of the large sum of money which is received by the Battalion every year, the public naturally forms its own conclusions as to where some of it goes, when the officers have a little "blow out" in their quarters. Those posted in the matter are aware that the officers are put to continual personal expense in keeping up the Battalion, and consider themselves quite lucky if at the end of the year they come out only a hundred or two behind, but the general public does not know what a thankless task it is to hold a commission in a regiment and have an idea that the officers live on the fat of the earth at the expense of the companies in general.

The report of the auditors will speedily disabuse the minds of the public in regard to this particular and the eyes of all will be opened to the painstaking efforts which the officers put forth, without reward, for the good of the men.

The following are the orders for the week:—

HEADQUARTERS,
PETERBOROUGH, May 15, 1894.

Orders by Lt.-Col. J. Z. Rogers, commanding the 57th Battalion of Infantry, Peterborough Rangers:—

No. 1. To be officer of the week, Capt. Hill, C Company; next for duty, Capt. Lech D Company.

No. 2. Leave of absence has been granted Capt. Dennistoun and Lieut. Stevenson to be absent from parade this evening.

No. 3. The battalion with both bands, ambulance and pioneer corps, will parade and march out Tuesday evening, May 22.

No. 4. Attention is called to the order that auditors must be appointed from the respective companies to audit the regimental books. Each company will appoint one auditor who will report to the adjutant next Tuesday evening after drill.

No. 5. There will be an examination of non-commissioned officers soon, and captains will hand the names of all wishing to qualify to the adjutant.

(By order) E. F. MASON, Capt.,
Adjutant 57th Battalion.

10 INDISPUTABLE ARGUMENTS WHY GOUGH BROS. CAN, WILL, AND DO BEAT ALL THEIR COMPETITORS:—

I. GOUGH BROS. Buy the Largest Lots, Sell the Largest Quantities, Get the Largest Discounts, and can afford to make the Lowest Prices.

II. GOUGH BROS. clothe both ends of man—from head to foot. They always give a heaped up, pressed down, overflowing measure of value for every dollar spent in their stores.

III. GOUGH BROS. always keep a "bear" among the Clothing Manufacturers, and make prices dance downwards for the benefit of their customers.

IV. GOUGH BROS. form the largest syndicate of Clothing dealers in Canada. They own Clothing, Hats, Boots and Shoes, secured on contracts, made at prices that cannot be repeated.

V. GOUGH BROS.' buying power commands for their customers the Lowest Prices for everything, whether people know the values or not, and this is the mainspring for the ever-rapid movement of their merchandise.

VI. GOUGH BROS. select the cream from all the manufacturers, in a falling market, for their syndicate of stores. Ceaseless selling means ceaseless supplies, and their command of the market creates extraordinary bargains.

VII. GOUGH BROS. sell Clothing at prices that actually do not represent the cost of labour in making, or the bare material.

VIII. GOUGH BROS. have in stock piles of All Wool Suits made from Auburn Woollen Mill Tweed, which can be bought for less money than was paid for the seven yards of cloth to make the suit.

IX. GOUGH BROS. know that when wheat, cotton and wool must be sold for next to nothing, Clothing must be sold for next to nothing also, and they keep watch for snaps for their customers.

X. GOUGH BROS. have no hankering for being "Manufacturers of Clothing." They can do better. Just as wheat can be bought for 60c. a bushel, at a loss to the farmer, so Clothing can be bought at Gough Bros'. at a loss to the manufacturer.

Terrible Experiences of a Liverpool, N. S., Man—Fell a Victim to Ill Health—Discusses His Illness and the Remedy that Cured Him.

We have heard of many instances in our locality, says the Liverpool, N. S., Times, where much benefit has followed the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and lately one of our citizens, Mr. J. F. Jayne, has been so much benefitted that his case is worthy of special mention. To the Editor of the Times Mr. Jayne said that he had suffered very much and frequently felt like giving up. His whole system was badly run down; his blood thin and watery, and the least exertion completely used him up. His appetite failed him, and a feeling of almost continual drowsiness troubled him. He tried several remedies said to be good in such cases, but without any beneficial results. Hearing of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, he procured a couple of boxes, and before the second was gone he felt the beneficial effects. He continued their use until he had taken seven boxes, by which time he felt better than he had been in years. To use Mr. Jayne's own words, he said:—"The results following the use of Pink Pills was really wonderful. I feel better than I have in years, my appetite has returned, the drowsiness and lassitude which formerly made me miserable have disappeared, and I feel as though new blood were coursing through my veins. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be kept in every family, and having felt their remarkable virtue in my own case, I cannot too highly recommend them."

An impoverished condition of the blood, or a disordered condition of the nerves are the fruitful sources of most ills that affect mankind, and to any thus affected Dr. Williams' Pink Pills offer a speedy and certain cure. No other remedy has ever met with such great and continued success, which is one of the strongest proofs that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills accomplish all that is claimed for them. Sold only in boxes bearing the firm's trade mark. They are never sold in bulk, and any dealer who offers substitutes in this form should be avoided. These pills are manufactured by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., and Schenectady, N.Y., and may be had of all druggists, or direct by mail at either address, at 50 cents or six boxes for $2.50.

A team of football players from here went to Havelock on Saturday to play a friendly match with the Havelock kickers. They returned victors, having defeated the home team 3 to 0.

Friday afternoon Mr. Jas. Ferguson, while working on the hill behind his house on Belmont street, saw smoke issuing from the roof. The alarm was raised and a crowd quickly gathered. A considerable amount of the furnishings on the ground floor were brought out, but nothing was saved from upstairs. The fire burnt very rapidly and in about an hour and a half nothing was left of the house but a few smouldering heaps. The fire brigade and engine did good service in saving the neighbouring houses and a stable at the back of the burning house. Sparks ignited the roofs of several buildings in the vicinity, but these were extinguished without damage. A number of valuable fruit trees were destroyed by the heat. The insurance is $500 on the house and about $250 on the contents.

HOLOCAUST IN BOSTON

Nearly Two Hundred Buildings Licked Up by the Flames.

MANY FAMILIES ARE HOMELESS

Small Boys Start the Conflagration in the Baseball Grounds and it Quickly Spreads Over Twelve Acres of Territory—Million Dollar Loss.

Boston, Mass., May 16.—Some small Roxbury boys set themselves up as rivals to Mrs. O'Leary's cow on the Boston baseball grounds yesterday, and as a result in less than three hours some twelve acres of territory was burned over. The baseball grand stand and bleachers, a large school house and engine house, one hundred and sixty-four wooden buildings and thirteen brick buildings were destroyed and several hundred families rendered homeless. As it had not rained for some days the spot furnished excellent ammunition for a fire. The boys set the fire and getting scared ran away, and the flames got a good start.

The second of the series of games between the Boston and Baltimores had begun when the contest was interrupted by flames which could be seen rising from the right field bleachers. The fire department was slow in getting to work, and the flames attacked the house outside the grounds on the east side and crawled along the fence. Fifteen minutes after the fire was discovered the house in the rear of the ball grounds were attacked and within an hour the whole fence on the right field side, all the seats on the bleachers, the grand stand and the ticket office, with all the wooden structures contiguous, had been destroyed.

The fire had also burned through to Tremont street, and then proceeding southerly had taken all the wooden dwellings on Burke, Coventry and Berlin streets. Having practically consumed everything on the right hand side of Tremont street, it leaped across to the other side of that thoroughfare and proceeded in the direction of Roxbury crossing. At six o'clock it had reached as far as Walpole and Sterling streets, and was burning as if not a drop of water had been put on it.

When the houses began to go before the flames the scene there beggared description. Children were crying for their mothers, and mothers wailing for their offsprings, and it was greatly feared that some of the youngsters were lost in the flames. A number of women fell on the street from exhaustion and had to be carried into the various houses in the vicinity.

Before six o'clock help had been summoned from all cities and towns within a radius of ten miles of Boston, and at 6.15 the first out-of-town apparatus arrived. Soon afterwards control of the fire was secured and the call was rescinded.

A few minutes past six a woman was seen coming from a house on Cabot street with her clothes all on fire. She made a frantic rush from the street towards the ropes, when Patrolmen Green and Lewis caught her in their arms, rolled her in the street and she escaped with only a few slight burns.

The cry was raised that five small children were in one of the burning buildings. They were rescued. Michael Welsh entered his home to save some personal effects, but the flames spread so rapidly that his escape was completely cut off. He rushed to the roof of the building and when enveloped in flames jumped to the ground, about 80 feet. He will probably recover. A number of firemen were slightly injured, and Chief Webber, who was badly injured, was taken to the city hospital.

At a special meeting of the board of aldermen in the evening it was voted to request the trustees of the Johnstown flood fund to expend through the overseers of the poor, the balance remaining in their hands for the relief of the sufferers by the conflagration. The loss is reservedly estimated at from $300,000 to $500,000, although one authority puts it at $1,000,000.

RECORD BREAKERS.

Frank Brown says Dodd's Kidney Pills Give Universal Satisfaction—The Reason is They Never Fail to Cure.

Shelburne, May 14.—Frank Brown, the well-known druggist here, says: "In the past eighteen months, I have sold 119 dozen of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Considering the quantity I have sold, I have had an opportunity of ascertaining whether the pills give satisfaction or not. I can say, that during my fifteen years' experience in the drug business, I never sold a medicine that gives the universal satisfaction that Dodd's Kidney Pills do. I am satisfied any person suffering with kidney trouble only requires to give Dodd's Kidney Pills a fair trial, and he will be convinced of their wonderful curative properties.

The Best Medicine.

J. O. Wilson, Contractor and Builder, Sulphur Springs, Texas, thus speaks of Ayer's Pills:

"Ayer's Pills are the best medicine I ever tried; and, in my judgment, no better general remedy could be devised. I have used them in my family and recommended them to my friends and employes for more than twenty years. To my certain knowledge, many cases of the following complaints have been completely and by the use of Ayer's Pills alone: Third day chills, dumb ague, bilious fever, sick headache, rheumatism, flux, dyspepsia, constipation, and hard colds. I know that a moderate use of Ayer's Pills, continued for a few days or weeks, as the nature of the complaint required, would be found an absolute cure for the disorders I have named above."

Permanently Cured

"I have been selling medicine for eight years, and I can safely say that Ayer's Pills give better satisfaction than any other Pill I ever sold."—J. J. Perry, Spottsylvania C. H., Va.

Worthless Pianos and Organs

Are made in large quantities, because foolish people buy where prices are lowest, without giving a thought to quality. Any one who thinks, will not buy a "Piano at $170, or an Organ at $80, guaranteed for nineteen years," because it is cheap. Any one who thus thinks will avoid learning by experience that it would have been cheaper to pay, say $300, for his piano.

We can furnish an Organ for $80, but we will not. We live here and have to "face the music" this year and other years to come.

MR. GEO. READ.

Read the Proof.

DEAR SIRS.—I write you to say that for some time I had been suffering from acute indigestion or dyspepsia, and of course felt very great inconvenience from same in my general business. I have also used it for my wife and family and have found it the best thing they can take, and from past experience I have every pleasure in strongly recommending B.B.B. to all my friends.

I write you because I think that it should be generally known what B. B. B. can accomplish in cases of indigestion.

A MOMENT'S PASSION.

Phil Daynton was as susceptible as most artists in their twenty-sixth year. Still, it never occurred to him that he might be imperilling his happiness and Beatrice's by just crossing to Capri for a week.

A week is but seven days, yet at twenty-five one may live a great deal in seven days, especially if you include the evenings, with a bright moon to them, and the Bay of Naples for it to shine upon.

Beatrice and her mother remained at the Hotel Victoria in Naples. They were Falconers, well-known people, and Phil was engaged to Bee. She was a pretty girl, but after the colder type of English beauty. For instance, she was not prone to express admiration for things and landscapes, though she felt it. Her mother went to and fro, looking at what she was bidden to look at, and exclaiming: "Wonderful! What excellent taste!" and that sort of thing. Beatrice behaved as though her mother spoke for her also. Mrs. Falconer was a fine figure of a woman, and carried her long-stemmed tortoise-shell glasses with considerable grace.

But there was no doubt about Bee's affection for Phil, who was a cousin of a remote kind. Phil knew that this was so, for had not he felt the gentle pressure of her arm in his at moments of supreme ecstacy; when, for instance, they were listening to the music in the Villa Gardens on a royal afternoon of May or strolling up and down the Via Caracciolo at promenade time, with the crimson sunset clouds over the glorious bay Vesuvius a beauteous purple shade, with a gold-tipped coronet, and the long headland of Posilippo enchanting as the arms of a siren? Yes, Phil knew his little cousin better than any one else in the world and was content that he was to marry her when she was twenty-one.

As an artist of means, the young man was not compelled to sue nature and his own artistic moods with crushing earnestness. He had about a thousand a year, and painted only when the passion was strong on him.

In Naples, strange to say, he had not once taken up a brush. And yet it was not so very strange, either. For they had lived in a fashionable whirl, with dinners and tennis in the garden of the Prince di Castro—who adored all things English—suppers at Posilippo under the starlight with the splash of the blue waves against the base of their supper table, the theatre, and Wagner's operas at the great house of San Carlo which costs the Neapolitans so much to maintain.

How should the sweet spirit of art find a corner in his soul in the midst of this racket? It tried to do so now and again, when, for example, they sat on their hotel balcony and looked at the moonlight on the bay, and listened to the seducing melody of mandolins below them. But Beatrice was then its rival. Her cold little hand, set lightly on Phil's sinewy brown ones, banished it when it seemed likely to assert its noble sway.

And so in a moment of dutifulness to his ideals, Phil said, one day:

"I must go to Capri."

Mrs. Falconer declined positively to make this little voyage of four or five hours. She was wont to feel very ill during the crossing from Calais to Dover. Besides, the Bay of Naples has vigorous little waves at times, and the packet boat is a mean affair.

"Oh, mama!" sighed disappointed Bee—but it was no use.

That was how Phil came to set off by himself. He waved his handkerchief in the direction of Hotel Victoria for several minutes, and then having lighted a cigar, turned his attention to his fellow-passengers and the gray, angular shape which was soon to declare itself definitely as the witching island which Tiberius tried to make into a palace and a country seat both in one.

The passengers were what he expected—mostly Teutonic, the gentlemen in German-made straw hats and coats fitting tight to the waist, wearing spectacles for the most part, with tin cases—for sandwiches, dried specimens, and so forth—slung from their shoulders, and very much absorbed in their Baedekers, and the ladies enthusiastic enough to make him shudder. Two or three Britons in light suits lounged about, rejecting the addresses of the men who sell coral pins, tortoise-shell combs, and copies of Neapolitan "canzoni"; but he did not feel drawn to them.

"I shall be rather glad when I have got through the trip," murmured Phil to himself. "I miss Bee already. No, thanks, I don't want any. I tell you I desire none of your things. Can't you leave a fellow alone, you beastly nuisances?"

These words were forced from him by the solicitations of the deck merchants, who showed surprising patience and assiduity. In the end they were repaid for their persistence, as usual. Phil, like many others, spent several francs in buying them off into another direction.

That night, however, in the Hotel Pa-gano, where you may see some wonderfully realistic frescoes on the dining room walls—the result of Capri wine, Capri sunlight and air, and the exuberance of sprits that possesses the artist in the island—Phil was fain to confess that he felt marvellously at home. He had drunk some excellent wine at the table d'hote, not the ordinary table fluid by any means, and had enjoyed some lively conversation. His neighbor was a veteran Englishman who spent three months annually in Capri "and mean to do so as long as I can toddle, Sir." The gentleman, like himself, had a turn for art, and had taken Phil to his private room and shown him his pictures.

If the young man had had the gift of mental analysis, he would have realised that his excitement was due in a degree to a certain one of these pictures.

It was a conventional enough study—a girl in Capri costume, with a pitcher on her head; background, a staring white wall, with the sun and a lizard on it, and the crest of a palm tree above the wall. But the girl's face won him in a moment.

Mr. Brabazon, the stranger, laughed when Phil expressed his admiration.

"She's young yet; in a few years she'll be a hag. If you like, I'll send round word that you'd like to have her for a sitting or two. It's a good chance, as five artists cleared out yesterday to take their canvases to the show at Milan."

A sweet, if rather bold face of seventeen or eighteen, with eyes dovelike, and yet with the most alluring of slight smiles in their brown depths, the lips just parted with the smile, white, even teeth, hands and feet and ears all small for a Southerner—such was Carolina Certi, the model.

Brabazon seemed a trifle amused at the way in which Phil expressed his sense of the girl's beauty.

"Oh, yes, she's well enough, with high spirits like all these Capri damsels. She'll be spoiled out and out by and by, and box a man's ears as soon as look at him, but not yet. Her terms are 10f. the sitting, which is mighty good pay for her. She'll be a lass worth marrying in a year or two—for a caprice."

Phil and this Englishman paced up and down the hotel garden between the rose trees under the moonlight. At 10 o'clock they parted and went to bed. But Bee Falconer's betrothed did not sleep all at once, for the brown, ardent eyes of his model of the morrow were with him as he lay. He looked at Bee's photograph in a silver frame—which he was under a self-imposed vow always to take with him wherever he went—and then looked quickly away. It was rather absurd of him, thus to be almost infatuated with a dream figure. But he had the artistic temperament, which has a wild, wayward will of its own.

The next morning he had but just dressed, and his coffee and rolls been brought in, when Carolina Certi appeared.

"I am ready, Signor," she said, as she threw off her red-and-white gossamer shawl and smiled upon him just as she smiled in Brabazon's picture.

Phil colored and gave her a chair by the window, with the garden of orange and lemon trees beneath its balcony and the lurid glow of the Capi sun on the roofs and rocks beyond. Then, at her bidding, he began to eat his breakfast, while she smoked one of his Turkish cigarettes, and they talked. The grace with which she puffed the perfumed smoke was as remarkable as the winsomeness of her face and her extraordinary self-composure.

"I should like to paint you, very much," said Phil.

"Si, Signor; it is easy. I am here. It is 10f. the time, and I am not restless. See, I fold my hands thus, and can stand—oh, so long, without even winking the eyes."

"I shall want you more than once. Let us say every day for a week, at least."

Phil spoke in a hurry. The thought that any one else might come between him and her on the morrow, and, by right of two silver crowns, be able to say, "She is mine this day," the thought hurt him like the stab of a knife.

"Oh, I will not annoy you like that," said Phil, kindly. "I am not a real artist, only an amateur."

"That means, Signor, that you love to paint, but do not sell what you paint. Is it not so?"

"Pretty much, Carolina."

How the light played about the girl's eyes and lips and glossy long hair while she talked! Phil saw it all, even though he appeared to be otherwise engaged. When at length the easel was set and he had taken the crayon in his hand, he was trembling, positively trembling, for all his light words.

"The Signor will like the left side of my face best," remarked Carolina, as she turned in profile. "It is often so, I am told."

"With you," said Phil, "It does not matter;" and content with the girl's own pose, he set to work.

He worked for an hour, and then threw down the crayon and drew a chair close to the girl.

"Tell me," he said. "about yourself. With whom do you live, and do you wish to pass your life in this little island?"

Carolina folded her hands in her lap, with Phil's permission took another cigarette, and answered his inquiries.

"It has been asked me before, Signor. There was a large German gentleman with a beard down so low," (she put her hand to her waist), "and he was so interested in me that he visited the house and drank the wine of my father's own pressing, out of our own cups. He was so 'simpatico,' and when I had sat to him for three days—only think, Signor—he desired me in marriage."

The Unfailing Success of Dodd's Kidney Pills Induces Fradulent Imitators to Attempt to Pass Worthless Remedies on the Public.

TORONTO, May 7.—This appears to be an age of fakes and frauds. It seems impossible for any new idea or valuable invention to be made known without a host of imitators trying to foist their worthless goods on an unsuspecting public in the hope of making an unmerited profit out of their worthless ideas. The unequalled success of Dodd's Kidney Pills in curing all forms of kidney disease, has led to the introduction of many cheap and base imitations that are worse than valueless. Dodd's was the first kidney remedy ever offered in pill form. For their own safety, purchasers should buy none but Dodd's Kidney Pills. Millinery Critics

Recognize the remarkable freshness and beauty of our stock. Seems almost useless to advertise our Millinery. Ever since the spring reception it has been advertising itself, and a stranger looking in would think each day "first view day." Yet it is right to be courteous to our attractive novelties.

Our Millinery business is always being stimulated, and the wonderful varieties of taste displayed brings us happy visitors and pleased customers all the time. Because many are coming and buying; more will come and will buy.

This growing success proves the public faith—you trust and then you buy. Why? Every advertising word is true—you know it, and are sure to find it always so here.

Mantles and Capes.

The very newest and neatest—all much below regular value. In our collection, remember, there are no old things—no mistakes limping up to roll-call and never getting any further. No. All are favourites. They have 1894 style and goodness about them, and the prices combine to make matchless bargains.

Dress Goods.

Tastes differ, uses are various; therefore the proper Dress Goods stock must cover all sorts or there will be disappointment. Our stock is as nearly complete as we can make it, and, out of prevailing times, have grown prices that were never matched before, and are not likely to be equalled again.

Underwear Hosiery and Gloves.

Fresh lots coming in to keep sizes and qualities suitable to the season. Better than that—prices are going down and qualities going up.

SOUTH MONAGHAN.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Obituary—It is with feelings of profound sorrow that it becomes our painful duty to chronicle the death of Mrs. Andrew Goodfellow, near Frazerville. The deceased had been in delicate health for some time but her recovery was hopefully looked for until lately she began to decline, and on Saturday evening last quietly passed away midst loving and sorrowing friends. The deceased was of Scotch descent and possessed great love for the land of her birth. She was an ardent member of the Presbyterian church and very highly esteemed and much loved by all who knew her. The funeral took place from the family residence on Monday at 2 o'clock, and proceeded to the Methodist burying ground. Rev. Mr. Cattanach and Rev. Mr. Kingour officiated. The sorrowing friends and relatives will have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire neighborhood in this their bereavement.

"We see but dimly through the mists
And vapors, mid these earthly damps;
What seem to us but sad funeral
Tapers, may be heaven's distant lamps."

THE ONTARIO ELECTIONS

Officially Announced to Take Place on Tuesday, June 26.

INTERESTING LIBEL SUIT.

Judge Taschereau's Judgment in the St. Louis v. Ayotte Case.

MONTREAL, May 16.—Justice Taschereau has rendered an interesting judgment dismissing a reply in law to defendant's plea in the action of Horace St. Louis v. Ayotte, editor of Le Trifluvien, of Three Rivers. Le Trifluvien published an article commending Father Lacasses' work, "Dans le Camp Ennemi," particularly that part of it wherein Mr. St. Louis was stigmatized a bad Catholic and deserving of excommunication on account of his occupying the position of counsel for the Canada Revue Company in their now celebrated action against Archbishop Fabre. Mr. St. Louis sues Le Trifluvien's editor for $200 damages. The latter pleads mainly the truth of the statements that Mr. St. Louis is a bad Catholic. Mr. St. Louis' reply in law asked that the defence be rejected on the ground that the truth of an injurious statement was no justification for its circulation. The judge expressed himself strongly in favor of this view, but declared he was obliged to be guided by the jurisprudence established by the Court of Appeal in recent decisions and reserve the case for trial on its merits, to give the defendant opportunity to prove, if possible, the truth of the alleged injurious statement.

IMPORTING A COAL SUPPLY.

Coal Companies Intend Fighting the Strike to a Finish.

NEW YORK, May 16.—There has been 50,000 tons of English and Nova Scotia coal sold to arrive in New York, a portion of which has already been shipped from Cardiff, Liverpool and Glasgow, and from Sidney, Nova Scotia. The cost is within 45 to 50 cents per ton of the ordinary price of soft steamer coal delivered alongside New York. The bulk of this has been taken by the companies supplying steamers to fill their contracts.

Negotiations are on foot for the purchase of 100,000 tons more to be delivered here between the first and tenth of June by the same parties for the same purpose. From this fact it is inferred that coal companies intend fighting the strike to the finish. The present low rates of ocean freight make the operation possible to bring coal from England in unlimited quantities and at competing prices even by steam, as very little freight is now coming this way.

PELAGIC SEALING.

An American Schooner Ignores the Warning of a British Patrol.

VICTORIA, B. C., May 16.—One pelagic sealer which is certain of seizure and confiscation is the American schooner Helens, of Puget Sound. News is just received that she was boarded on May 5th by Capt. May of H. M. S. Hyacinthe, and that a formal notice of warning was served on her by the captain of the British warship.

The captain of the American vessel said he did not know the Britisher, and would not recognize him nor his ship, flag, warning, or orders, in any shape or form. He refused to leave the sealing grounds, and did not even call in the small boats which were working around the Helens.

The vessel is certain of seizure, the next time a British warship speaks to her, or any American patrol runs across her.

Memorial to Canadian Heroes.

LONDON, May 16.—Their old comrades and friends of the Royal Military College of Canada have just placed in the south transept of Rochester cathedral a handsome memorial to those officers of Royal Engineers who were graduated at the college, namely Capt. W. C. Stairs, Capt. H. B. Mackay and Capt. W. H. Robinson. The first two officers died of fever in Africa and Capt. Robinson was killed in an action near Sierra Leone in March, 1892. The college at Kingston has given to the army some excellent soldiers.

Canadian Sentenced in Buffalo.

BUFFALO, May 16.—John Post, a 36-year-old Canadian, was sentenced by Judge Hatch to seven years and four months in Auburn State Prison for the crime of highway robbery. Post and an unknown pal lured David Moore to Childs street on April 21 under pretence of helping him to find work, and when they reached a lonely spot, pounced upon him and relieved him of $19, all his worldly wealth.

Lanark Liberals.

LANARK, May 16.—A convention of the Reformers of this riding met here yesterday to nominate a candidate for the coming provincial elections. A number of names were offered to the convention, but they all retired in favor of the present member Mr. W. C. Caldwell, who received the nomination.

Another Bullet-Proof Coat.

BERLIN, May 16.—An improved bullet-proof coat, the invention of the Mannheim tailor, Dowe, was subjected to a test at Spandau, the coat being much lighter in weight and texture than those hitherto tested. Twelve shots were fired at various distances, each one striking the coat, but none of them pierced the garment.

Commonwealers Sent to Jail.

HELENA, Mont., May 16.—The Montana contingent of Coxey's army are the first commonwealers in the country to be punished by court for stealing a train. Hogan, the leader, was sent to jail for six months: the engineer, firemen and forty captains and lieutenants for two months each.

"Disfigured For Life"

Is the despairing cry of thousands afflicted with Unsightly skin diseases.
Do you realize what this disfiguration means to sensitive souls?
It means isolation, seclusion.
It is a bar to social and business success.
Do you wonder that despair seizes upon these sufferers when Doctors fail,
Standard remedies fail,
And nostrums prove worse than useless?
Skin diseases are most obstinate to cure or even relieve.
It is an easy matter to claim to cure them, but quite another thing to do so.
CUTICURA REMEDIES
Have earned the right to be called Skin Specifics,
Because for years they have met with most remarkable success.
There are cases that they cannot cure, but they are few indeed.
It is no long-drawn-out, expensive experiment.
25c. invested in a cake of
CUTICURA SOAP
Will prove more convincing than a page of advertisement.
In short
CUTICURA works wonders,
And its cures are simply marvellous.

That Musty Old Carpet.

Oh, dear to our hearts are the sad days of spring-time,
When the annual house-cleaning recurs to our view;
When we sleep on the sofa and eat off the mantel,
In an atmosphere strongly suggestive of glue,
We think of the stove pipe, the soot that came with it,
Likewise the profanity, fluent and fine;
But saddest and bitterest of all recollections
Is the dusty old carpet that hung on the line.

Oh, that dusty old carpet
That fusty old carpet,
That musty old carpet,
That hung on the line!

We remember how, armed with a huge flagellator,
In the morning we bitterly advanced to the fray;
In the muscular pride of our heart little dreaming
That cleaning that carpet would take the whole day.
We sweat and we swore, and our hands badly blistered,
While the sun lent its countenance, warmly benign;
But the harder we pounded, the more it was needed
By that dusty old carpet that hung on the line!

Oh, that dusty old carpet,
That musty old carpet,
That fusty old carpet
That hung on the line.

Busy as Beavers.

The season's Carpet trade is booming right along and sales are more satisfactory than we had expected. The inference is that styles and qualities and values are best here.

Come in and learn our prices, then ask yourself the question "If it pays to waste time on that musty old carpet that hangs on the line."

Our stock bears the marks of novelty all over it. The colours are a study. The patterns are a study. Such delightful originality needs to be looked at and known to be properly appreciated.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT

Bill to Disfranchise Those Voters Who Have Taken Bribes.

OCCUPIES THE WHOLE SITTING

Several Amendments Offered to the Measure Lost—Bills From the Senate Introduced — Government Measures Read a Third Time.

OTTAWA, May 17.—Sir John Thompson, replying to Mr. Taylor in the House yesterday as to whether the Government intended adjourning the House on Wednesday until the following Monday in order to permit the members to enjoy a few Queen's Birthday holidays, replied that he would accede to the wishes of the members, but that he would expect that in that case Wednesday should be given to the Government for public measures. Hon. Mr. Laurier objected to giving Wednesday, and Sir John Thompson replied that that was an end to the adjournment.

These bills, which had been received from the Senate, were introduced and read a first time: Sir John Thompson—To amend the Insurance Act. Mr. Davis—To incorporate the Red Deer Valley Railway & Coal Company. Mr. Ross (Lisgar)—Respecting the Manitoba & Northwestern Railway Company. Sir John Thompson—Respecting the arrest, trial and imprisonment of youthful offenders.

These bills, which had been passed in the Senate, were read a third time. Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper—To amend the Harbor Masters' Act. Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper—To amend the Act respecting lighouses, buoys and beacons of Sable Island. Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper—Respecting public harbors.

The House went into committee to further consider Dr. Weldon's bill to disfranchise voters who have taken bribes.

Mr. Joncas thought that the bill should not pass unless provision were made to punish the party offering the bribe as well as the receiver.

Dr. Weldon pointed out that it would be difficult to secure evidence if both parties were to be punishment.

Mr. Jeannotte moved, in amendment to the second clause, that the time for presenting a petition for the purpose of making an enquiry be limited to thirty days after an election instead of sixty days, as in the bill.

Dr. Weldon, with a view to keeping clear of election petitions, moved that the clause read: "On a day not less than forty days, and not more than sixty days, after the election is held."

The amendment was adopted.

Mr. Jeannotte moved another amendment to the second clause, that before a petition shall be received it shall be shown that the cases of corruption are to the personal knowledge of the petitioners.

The amendment was lost on a vote of 50 to 25. The second clause was carried.

After recess the House continued in committee on Dr. Weldon's bill, taking up section 0: "It shall be the duty of the judge to endeavor by all lawful means to ascertain the persons who have taken bribes at the last election."

Mr. Joncas moved an amendment to make the section read "Given, offered, or taken bribes."

Mr. Jeannotte spoke two hours. Dr. Weldon protested against his taking up the time of the House, saying that the hon. gentleman talked four hours when the bill was up before, and that there was no telling how long he would talk this time.

Mr. Jeannotte spoke till 11.05 and the amendment was lost.

Mr. Jeannotte moved that the committee rise.

Sir John Thompson said he hoped the committee would not rise. It looked as if the discussion of the bill would last several days, and as the days for the discussion of bills were few, the House should sit up all night for the purpose of securing the passage or defeat of the bill whatever it might be.

The motion to rise was lost.

Col. Amyot wished to move amendment to section six, but Mr. Bergeron (chairman) ruled him out of order.

Section 7 was taken up, defining the powers of the judges under the Act.

Col. Amyot moved as an amendment: "It shall also be the duty of the judge to be satisfied that parties implicated in the charges of corruption have been served with a notice of the charge and have had an opportunity of offering their own defence."

The chairman ruled the amendment out of order, but finally allowed it to stand. It was then lost.

Sections 8, 9, 10 and 11 went through and Mr. Moncrieff moved that the committee rise.

Sir John Thompson thought they had better go on: The motion to rise was carried, Sir John Thompson and other members of the Government voting with the minority.

The committee having risen, Mr. Mulock said it seemed as if there was no desire on the part of the House to proceed with the business of the House. The scenes of the past day were not creditable, but the time would soon come when the country would say whether or not the proceedings of the House would degenerate into a farce.

Sir John Thompson did not think these remarks were called for. He would like to have seen the bill disposed of, but the bill was an important one and had, he thought, provoked earnest opposition. For his part he would like to see the bill pass, so that it could have a trial at least. Members who had opposed it, however, should not be charged with insincerity. He hoped the bill would be disposed of as soon as possible.

Mr. Laurier said Sir John Thompson's previous remarks justified Mr. Mulock in describing the opposition to the bill as insincere.

Mr. Dupont protested against the charge of obstruction.

Col. Amyot said Mr. Mulock could not understand the French discussion and therefore took it upon himself to insult the French. He wanted Mr. Mulock to understand that the French had just as many rights in the House as he had.

The House rose at 12.30 a.m.

Capital Notes.

At a meeting of the Private Bills Committee the bill to give a divorce to Caroline Jane Downey was passed.

Mr. Turcotte, M.P., states that to-day he will make his declaration to the House regarding the charges of violating the Independence of Parliament Act.

The result of the labor of those who have been engaged on the Quebec gerrymander schedule has been placed in the hands of the Minister of Public Works, Col. Ouimet, who will lay the matter before the Council. The French-Canadian members say that a redistribution bill is sure to be the result.

The Government has decided to ask Parliament to ratify the French treaty this session and in reply to objections which the Opposition undoubtedly will allege, will point out that if the treaty is found to militate against Canada's interests it may be abrogated at the end of one year. This decision has been arrived at under the advices of Sir Charles Tupper, Canadian High Commissioner.

At a meeting of the Railway Committee an act to incorporate the Cariboo Railway Company was passed. The bill provides for the building of a narrow gauge railway from Kamloops, on the C. P. R., to Bakerville, in the Cariboo district. There was some opposition to the building of a narrow gauge road, but it was finally agreed to. The power asked to build branches was restricted to the building of one to the Fraser river.

MR. FRASER'S APPOINTMENT.

He Will be Inspector of Registry Offices and Forestry.

TORONTO, May 17.—Hon. C. F. Fraser has been appointed inspector of registry offices and of forestry. These two offices have been combined into one, Mr. Johnston, the former inspector of registry offices, retiring voluntarily. The forestry office has been vacant ever since the death of the late R. W. Phipps. Mr. Fraser takes both offices, and will enter upon his duties at once.

It is also stated, though not officially, that Hon. G. M. Gibson will succeed Mr. Fraser as commissioner of Public Works, and that Mr. Harty, of Kingston, will succeed Mr. Gibson.

Fell From a Moving Train.

MONCTON, N.B., May 17. — George McGinn, baggage-master on the Campbellton accommodation, whilst near Barti Bouge station, leaned out of the car door to see if the smoke he perceived was due to a hot box. In doing so he lost his balance and was thrown to the ground, rolling down a high embankment. Conductor Hunter, who saw the accident, stopped the train and McGinn was picked up in an unconscious condition. His head was covered with blood. He was brought to Moncton, where a medical examination discovered a long and deep cut on the back of his head, but the skull was not fractured. McGinn is suffering intensely from pains in his back and neck, but it is hoped the fall will not prove fatal.

Bolt Works Close Down.

HAMILTON, May 17.—The Grand Trunk railway bolt works and foundry located here have closed down for an indefinite period. Mechanical Superintendent C. K. Domville says the railway company has only three weeks' supply of coal on hand and the shut down is caused by the big strike by coal mine operatives in Pennsylvania. Instructions were received from Montreal after closing hours, and when the men came to work they found the notice posted and the gate locked. Two hundred men are affected by the order.

Canadian Oarsmen Win.

AUSTIN, Tex., May 17.—Six thousand people witnessed the second day of the regatta. The principal interest centred in the three-mile professional dash. The entries were Gaudaur and Durnan against Teemer and Hosmer. The second crew rowed so strong and so well that the old-timer, Gaudaur, and his partner were completely done for when they landed at the safety line. Gaudaur and Durnan won by a boat length. Time, 17.50.

For the Ottawa Conference.

MELBOURNE, May 17.—Sir Henry John Whixson, member of the Legislative Assembly, and ex-Attorney-General of Victoria, and Messrs. Simon Fraser and Nicholas Fitzgerald, members of the Legislative Council, have left for Ottawa, Canada, to represent the colony of Victoria. They will sail for Vancouver on the steamer Arawa, which is to leave Sydney to-morrow.

Patrons of Monck.

DUNNVILLE, May 17.—The Patrons of Monck assembled in convention at Wellandport yesterday and nominated Mr. Hugh Crawford of Canborough as their standard bearer for the provincial elections. Mr. Mettar, the P. P. A. candidate, has withdrawn from the contest, Mr. Crawford having endorsed the platform of that party.

Fighting in Brazil.

LONDON, May 17.—Advices from Rio de Janeiro say the Brazilian government forces, under command of Generals Juca and Tigre, have been defeated in a battle with the insurgents near Iguazu, on the river of that name, which divides the States of San Paulo and Rio Grande do Sul. The federals had 140 men killed.

Girl Drowned Near London.

LONDON, Ont., May 17.—Elgie Fortinier, daughter of Mr. Frank Fortinier, of London township, was drowned yesterday while crossing a plank leading to an adjoining field, where her father was working. She fell into the pond unknown to him. Her body was discovered soon after.

West Lambton Reformers.

SARNIA, May 17.—The West Lambton Reform Association met here yesterday in convention for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the coming provincial elections. Many names were put in nomination, but all withdrew in favor of Mr. Charles Mackenzie, the present member.

FOREIGN CABLE NEWS

Sir John Pender Replies to Sir Charles Tupper.

UPRISING FEARED IN SERVIA

Naval War Will be Inevitable Should Britain Attempt to Take Tangier —Shocking Suicide in France —Portugal's Relations With Brazil.

LONDON, May 17.—Sir John Pender, chairman of the Eastern Limited Telegraph Company, writing to Sir Charles Tupper, Canadian High Commissioner, yesterday, on the subject of the proposed Pacific cable, says:

"After a careful perusal of the paper read by you at the Royal Colonial Institute recently, I feel that I cannot permit one statement at least to pass unchallenged. That statement is embraced in the assertion that the protest against the proposed cable enterprise is based upon fallacies. If you would carefully study our figures you would soon discover that the arguments which you treat so lightly are based upon a foundation of actual facts, and you would soon arrive at the conclusion that the fallacies are not upon our side but upon yours. In stating that thirty-per cent. of the cable forming the system of the eastern extension telegraph is more than twenty years old you are entirely mistaken. As a matter of fact, nearly the whole of the cables have been renewed and some entirely within a much shorter period. In your estimate of the traffic you quite ignore the fact that at the Wellington conference it was decided to levy a tariff of three shillings instead of three shillings and threepence, as proposed by Fleming. Your description of the existing system as a monopoly cannot be justified by facts. The proposed cable, viewed commercially, can be regarded only as a needless luxury, the expenditure for which may be characterized as an unwarrantable waste of money."

Sir Charles Tupper in an interview yesterday said that he would reply to Sir John's communication to day at furthest.

Will England Attempt It?

MADRID, May 17.—In the Cortes yesterday the policy of the government in regard to the hostilities of the Riffians at Melilla was severely criticised by a number of deputies. In the course of debate ex-Premier Canovas del Castillo mentioned the possibility of an attempt on the part of England to seize Tangier with the object of controlling absolutely the passage of vessels through the Straits of Gibraltar. Should such an attempt be made, he declared, all Europe would protest in such a manner as would precipitate the most disastrous naval war ever known to humanity.

Brazil and Portugal.

LISBON, May 17.—The course of the government in regard to Brazil meets the approval of the entire press. All the newspapers agree in expressions of hope that Portugal may be able to effect a reconciliation with the South American republic. Despatches from Rio de Janeiro say Count de Paraty, the Portuguese Minister, handed the keys of the legation to British Minister Wyndman and, accompanied by his staff, went on board a Portuguese warship. The commanders of the warships Minello and Alfonso de Albuquerque will be court-martialled.

Uprising Feared in Servia.

VIENNA, May 17.—News from Belgrade indicates that a popular uprising is feared in Servia. Great excitement prevails among the people, who are indignant at the arbitrary and oppressive acts of the government in prohibiting meetings which it was proposed to hold to protest against the reinstatement in power of ex-King Milan. The government, in giving notice that such meetings would not be allowed, declared that troops would be used to prevent them. The radicals, however, declare their intention to hold meetings on Sunday and conflicts are expected.

An Artist and Four Sisters Suicide.

VIENNA, May 17.—An artist named Kollars and his three unmarried sisters attended divine service in the church of Lanzandorf and returned to the hotel where they resided. Nothing further was seen of them until the dead bodies of all four were found in their apartments. They had committed suicide by taking cyandide of potassium. They left a letter explaining that they had taken their own lives, fearing that they might outlive one another. To this they preferred to die together. All were over fifty years of age.

A Bicycle Rider's Hard Luck.

PARIS, May 17. — The Desbats says the American bicycle rider, Cahn. W. Ashinger, not having won a single one of the races in which he had engaged in Paris, and having no capital but his muscles, is in a condition bordering upon extreme poverty. On the strength of this announcement the professional bicyclists, bicycle makers, journalists and others started a fund for his benefit yesterday and the subscriptions already amount to 500 francs.

International Dynamite Plot.

BRUSSELS, May 17.—The arrest of the German anarchist Mueller, who has confessed that he placed the bomb in the hallway of the residence of Dr. Ranson, in Liege, on the night of May 3, is believed to furnish a clue to an international dynamite plot. It is alleged a self-styled Baron Sternberg in acting in concert with the London and Paris anarchists, and that he directed the recent explosions in Liege. The police are following up the clue.

French and Belgian Workmen Fight.

PARIS, May 17.—The violent quarrels which have recently occurred between the French and Belgian workmen employed in the brick works at Ivry Sur Seine, culminated in a riot in which a number of the combatants were hurt. The police quelled the disturbance, but the feeling among the men is very bitter and it is feared the disorder will be renewed.

ONTARIO ELECTIONS.

The Ontario Legislature has been dissolved and writs have been issued for a new election to be held on Tuesday, June 26, the nominations to be held a week earlier. The Reform party throughout the province should now enter upon the campaign in earnest and put in 40 days of hard, active work for the maintenance of the able, honest, economical Administration of Sir Oliver Mowat. In those ridings in which the candidate has not yet been selected no time should be lost in taking this important step. Toronto has set an excellent example in this respect. It has already three candidates in the field for the four constituencies, Mr. Chas. Moss, Q. C., having been last night nominated for South Toronto at one of the most enthusiastic conventions ever seen in the city.

The electors now receive back the trust confided in Sir Oliver Mowat and his colleagues on June 5, 1890. The question that every unprejudiced and honest citizen should ask himself is, has the record of the Government in that time been such as entitles it to a renewal of public confidence? And if an answer to that question is impartially sought, the Government need have no fear as to the result of the casting of the ballots. The four years that have elapsed since last election have but added to the splendid record of efficiency, capacity, wisdom, conscientiousness and equal treatment of all classes of our people that have characterized Reform administration in Provincial affairs for the eighteen years that preceded them.

The candidates who will bear the standard of the party in the various constituencies of the province may go on the platforms to meet their opponents with perfect equanimity, for there is not an accusation against the Government that has not been effectually disposed of during the session that has just closed. In those questions of policy that admit of plausible differences of opinion, the Government was in each instance able to establish a strong case in favor of the course which was adopted.

The personal strength of the Administration was never more conspicuous than during the Parliament that has just been dissolved, and never more striking in that period than during the session just closed. It includes a number of public men of whom the people of this Province may justly be proud, and the Reform party may, without any impropriety, challenge comparison with the men on the opposite side of the House to whom the people of Ontario are asked to entrust their affairs

If ever a party went into a contest feeling that they had a patriotic duty to perform in striving for the renewed success of an honored leader, that party is the Reform party of the Province of Ontario, and the time is now. We say in all sincerity, and with a perfect sense of the meaning of the words, that the defeat of the Mowat Government on the 26th of June would be a severe blow to the Province, and give occasion for believing that the electors are indifferent as to how their affairs are carried on, and but little concerned to show their appreciation of the able and and faithful services of one of the most distinguished public men in the Dominion. It is because we do not think that that is the character of the people of Ontario that we entertain the faith that they will retain in office the men from whose services they have benefitted so much in the past. Over-confidence, however, would be a mistake, and it is therefore fair to ask that every man who values the fair fame for clean government that this Province has earned, will actively charge himself to do whatever he can to assure the success of Sir Oliver Mowat and the continuance of his unrivalled administration of the affairs of the Province.—Globe.

In West Peterborough the campaign is in full swing. The organization on behalf the candidate of the Mowat Government in this riding, is complete in the town, and on Friday night the first meeting of the campaign will be held in North Monaghan The chances for the success of the Liberal candidate in this riding are not so much chances as certainties. His friends are actively alert, and the candidate himself is setting the example of energetic work. Though there is reason for confidence in the favourable, not to say triumphant, issue of the campaign in this riding, yet it is the confidence that inspires the idea of persistent effort. No enemy defeats himself, though the Opposition party in this riding is making a gallant attempt in that direction. With the most just cause victory is always the price of work. And Mr. Stratton's hosts of friends in every part of the riding are working for him with a will. His record in the past, his industry as a representative, always on the alert for the interests of every section, commend him to the electors as the very best representative West Peterborough can have, and one whose usefulness increases with the length of time his services are given. Such a representative the people have confidence in and such a representative the electors will heartily support and, without claiming prophetic powers, such a represensative will head the poll in West Peterborough on June 26th.

SINCE 1891 the export of cheese from the United States has dropped from $16,381,000 to $7,624,000. In the same time the export of Canadian cheese has gone up from five and a half to thirteen and a half millions. Of this immense quantity, Ontario produced the larger bulk, another evidence that the liberal assistance the Ontario Government has given to the dairy industry has had a beneficial effect. The Agricultural College, the Experimental Farm and the Dairy School, the Travelling Dairy and the influence of the Farmers' Institutes have all operated to bring about this result. Not only has Canadian cheese a very large output, but owing to the care exercised by the Government, promptly met by the intelligent co-operation of the farmers and cheese men generally, the quality is unsurpassed in any country in the world. So high is the standard of Canadian cheese that the "greatest nation in creation," the United States, is not above branding its cheese "Canadian" in order to give it a standing in the British markets.

THE Toronto News, which finds it hard to say anything good of the Mowat Government is just enough to say in reference to the date of the Provincial elections:—"Polling in the Provincial elections will be held on the 26th. A more convenient date could not be chosen. The work of planting will be well over long before that and haying will not commence until later on. The Mowat Government deserves credit for at least two things—for having allowed the Legislature to run its full course before dissolution, and for fixing the date of polling at a convenient season of the year."—If the News would, with similar candour, pursue its investigations it would find that there are a thousand things that the Mowat Government deserves credit for and will get credit for on the 26th of June.

THE cricket club minstrels propose repeating their excellent entertainment. Since the first Toronto artist engaged disappointed the boys, they might try Toronto again. Mr. Meredith, the greatest political lightning change artist in Canada, would be an interesting specialty.

THE Ottawa Free Press thinks Sir Oliver Mowat must be a very bad man. Some of the members of the Thompson cabinet say that they intend to support him at the coming provincial election.

If ever a man feels like "a poor worm of the dust," it is when he suffers from that tired feeling. Ayer's Sarsaparilla removes this discouraging physical condition and imparts the thrill of new life and energy to every nerve, tissue, muscle, and fibre of the whole body.

Do not neglect coughs, colds, asthma, and bronchitis, but cure them by using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

Fashions for Men.

IN COATS.

There is more length to the new Coats for 1894 than has been used in Men's Dress since the 60's.

THE DOUBLE BREASTED FROCK is the most fastidious garment man has put on in a generation. It adds to the stature of the man and conceals defects of figure. It is short waisted, easy fitting, long tailed and beautifully moulded to the figure. The Skirts are hollow at the top and form a beautiful curve, which is the most distinctive thing about the new styles.

Then there is the THREE BUTTON CUTAWAY Coat which is a high favourite. It is popularly described as the "Pigeon Wing" on account of its sloping tails. The sleeves are of moderate size and are closed with a vent for three buttons. If properly made it will cling rather closely to the hips.

The new CUTAWAY SACK COAT for business wear is one of the most popular of the season. It has caught the fancy of the young men. All the pockets should have flaps. The collar rolls low and is not faced with Silk.

Any of these garments made up to order to please the most fastidious dresser and with faultless devotion to the fashion plates

At some period in her life, a woman requires a general tonic and nervine, as well as a remedy adapted to her special needs.

You can find no other remedy that's guaranteed. If the "Prescription" ever fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back.

CONFESSED HIS CRIME

Altenberger Admits Shooting Katie Rupp Near Jersey City.

THE UNFORTUNATE GIRL DIES

German Friends of the Dead Girl in Rome, N.Y., Aroused With Indignation at the Revolting and Evidently Premeditated Crime.

JERSEY CITY, N.J., May 17.—Katie Rupp, who was shot on Sunday at Snake Hill by Altenberger, died late last night. Altenberger made a confession yesterday in which he stated the facts in connection with the case entirely in accordance with the story told by the deceased girl. He admitted shooting the girl and left her for dead.

The news of Altenberger's capture was received with much satisfaction by the people of Rome. A prominent German said that Altenberger was fortunate in not being able to get to Rome, for if found here he might have met with violence at the hands of the friends of Miss Rupp. In an interview with a reporter Altenberger denied absolutely that he was ever at Snake Hill or around Jersey City before. He said it was by mere chance that they happened to stroll into the county house grounds. He also denied that he had premeditated shooting her. According to his story she planned the whole plot against herself.

WILL GIVE NO WARNING.

American Patrols Will Seize Every Sealer Found Poaching.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—By direction of the Navy Department the American seal patrol fleet, under command of Captain Clarke, of the flagship Mohican, has sailed from Port Townsend. The government has officially been informed that 54 sealing vessels have left coast ports, and the names of these have been given to the captains of the patrol ships with special instructions to seize every one of them that has violated the law, and to warn others found within the proscribed waters to return to port at once.

Naval officials are excited over the news that the crew of the Canadian schooner Triumph had been caught with over 1,300 sealskins on board by the British cruiser Hyacinthe, and had been sent into Victoria. It was also reported that the Hyacinthe had similarly warned 24 other poaching vessels. Captain Clarke was notified by telegraph to seize any of these vessels he could intercept if they had skins on board which had been taken since May 1.

The State Department announces that the American patrol fleet will issue no warnings where newly-taken skins are found aboard poachers, but will seize them in every case and send them to port under a prize crew.

The War in Salvador.

PANAMA, May 17.—A despatch from San Salvador says that Santa Ana is still held by the revolutionists. General Antonio Ezeta, the commander of the government forces, was dangerously wounded in a recent engagement and is reported to have died. Another despatch from San Salvador says that 300 persons have been killed in a railroad accident, resulting from a train running off the track. Gen. Carlos Ezeta, the president of the republic, was aboard the train, but was not hurt.

Baby Ruth's Affliction.

DETROIT, Mich., May 17.—A special from Washington gives a sad reason for the non-appearance of Mrs Cleveland in society this season. It states that little Ruth Cleveland is almost deaf and dumb. It is understood that everything possible is being done for the child and that Mrs. Cleveland spends hours in trying to teach it to articulate. The little one's mind is said, in some quarters, to be backward, but that is believed not to be the case.

Big Blaze in New York.

NEW YORK, May 17.—The Empire Coliseum and Washington Park, the two adjoining resorts for summer dancers, long famous under the name of Jones' Wood, were yesterday wiped out by fire. All the buildings in the two parks are gone excepting a portion of the Washington Park structure at the northeast corner. Outside Jones' Wood there were seven dwellings totally and one partially destroyed, two docks, the buildings at the tunnel mouth of the East River Gas Company, all that could burn in a stoneyard, a number of squatters' shanties, nearly 200 trucks and about 50 horses. The horses were locked in their stable and could not be saved. The loss is estimated at $250,000, fully insured.

Welsh Members Dissatisfied.

LONDON, May 17.—David Lloyd George, Welsh Nationalist M.P. for the Carnarvon district, addressed a large meeting at Bangor, Wales, last evening on the parliamentary situation. The time had come, he said, when the Welsh members of Parliament would be unable to give their unswerving support to the Government. The Welsh disestablishment bill was a miserable measure, which no loyal Welshman could accept as in any way satisfactory.

Wanted to See Henry Die.

PARIS, May 17.—A number of persons remained in the vicinity of La Roquette prison all night in expectation that the execution of Emile Henry, the Cafe Terminus anarchist, would take place at dawn, though no announcement had been made to warrant such expectation. It is believed that Henry will be executed next week.

The Coal Question.

LONDON, May 17.—In consequence of the coal strikes in the United States, several Scotch coal owners were asked to tender a number of ship loads of coal for New York.

Fighting With Kellyites.

ELDONIA, Iowa, May 17.—The Kelly army is encamped two miles below this place. A battle occurred between the local guards and the men on one boat. The Kellyites attempted to land outside of the prescribed limits. The guards ordered them off. A fight followed, in which clubs and stones were used. Several men on both sides were injured.

Drowned Through a Collision.

HAMBURG, May 17.—A collision occurred in the River Elbe between the steamer Irne and a small vessel. The owner of the latter, a man named Schwartz, and three others were drowned.

THE RULING MARKETS.

TORONTO, May 17, 1894.

Two million dollars in gold was shipped to New York to-day.

Total European supplies of wheat the past week were 6,858,000 bushels.

The earnings of Grand Trunk for the week ended May 13 were $331,809, a decrease of $20,614 as compared with the same week of last year.

At the London wool sales 5,700 bales were offered. The quality of the offerings was fair and the bidding spirited. Yorkshire buyers purchased crossbreeds liberally and at steady rates.

THE FARMERS' MARKET.—Receipts of grain were small and prices steady. Two loads of wheat sold at 62c for white and 61c for red; goose nominal at 58c. Oats steady, 300 bushels selling at 39c. Peas are quoted at 66c, and barley at 40c to 42c.

Chicago wheat market advanced under conditions which ordinarily would cause a decline. July wheat closed with a gain of ¼c to ½c. Corn was active, closing a shade lower. Oats were firm and gained ¼c to ½c for the day.

Lower prices were the rule at the New York Exchange. The bears had it all their own way. At the opening, brokers identified with the leading bear interests were liberal sellers of the industrials, and London at the same time disposed of some of its specialties. At the close, however, there was a good borrowing demand for stocks, which indicates a material increase in short interest.

Buffalo cattle market was again quiet for the amount of stock to sell; the late receipts were only one load of sale out of 113 cars received the last twenty-four hours. Sheep and lambs were almost at a standstill, both markets being reported as filled up with Southern lambs, the best of them selling at $6.25, and choice yearlings selling at $5.

FRATERNAL ASSESSMENT LIABILITY.

"Can't I get out when I please, and have no liability?"

Most people expect "yes" for an answer to this question, when they say they are members of an assessment insurance society, and begin to think of their responsibilities as such. It is important for them to know that they cannot escape liability; because every member, no matter when he drops out, is liable for any deficiencies that may arise in future, if they were developed during his membership. Here is an instance:

The United Masonic Benefit Association of Missouri was some years ago an active and apparently prosperous assessment concern. It provided no reserve, but offered low rates, cheap insurance, and seemingly hoped that new blood would make up for increasing mortality resulting from increasing age. By and bye its forces began to fall off, not enough "new blood" came in, and the cost of membership ran up in a very uncomfortable way. Presently the healthier lives began to feel their burden pressing heavily and steadily left the ranks, until so few were left in the association that the assessments amounted to $140—one hundred and forty dollars—on each certificate. The remaining members refused to pay such a sum, and the concern failed. But there were unpaid death claims for a large amount due, and the State Superintendent of Insurance thought they ought to be paid. So he began suits at law against individual members to enforce payment of the assessments against them; the court has decided that they must pay. The feelings of those who are thus compelled to pay what they never expected have undergone a change with respect to assessment insurance.

Replying to some enquiries which had been made upon this point of liability, and citing this case illustration of what may be expected in any similiar case which might be pressed to suit, the Insurance Monitor says: "The decision referred to answers our question which has been debated, whether the member's liability is limited to sums which he may choose to pay; in other words, whether he can get out when he pleases without further harm. This he cannot do. Every member, no matter when he may drop out, is liable for any deficiencies which may crop up in future, resulting during his membership. The only safe course for parties that apprehend breakers ahead is to drop their membership before the breakers are reached; and the misfortune of this course is that the faster they drop, the faster the association drives towards the breakers."

There seems to be only one course open for the prudent man who may be determined to avoid possible liability; that is to keep out of such associations entirely and buy his insurance of the regular companies.—Monetary Times.

Mr. Lent will take charge of the services.

Gough's Giant.

Gough Bros. are always noted for having the tallest kind of stock and the shortest kind of prices. In compliance with the eternal fitness of things, the establishment now boasts on its staff the tallest and the shortest man in Peterborough—one typical of the tip-topness of the stock, and the other of the low-downess of the prices. The giant engaged, by Gough Bros., who are always on the lookout for bargains for their customers and novelties in their business, as Mascot in ordinary is a diminutive gentlemen a floor walker and plenipotentiary, a man just 40 inches in height. This gentleman circulates through the immense double stores like a pea in a packing case. He wears a full beard, and boasts thirty-five summers. It costs money to see other small men, but the public can see Gough Bros.' midget Mascot for nothing, and at the same time see the tallest stock and the tallest bargains in clothing, boots and shoes, hats and caps in Canada.

The Tassel is Seen.

Another evidence of the extraordinary early growth of this year may be seen in a field of rye on the farm of Mr. Peter Miller, west of the village, which was heading out on the 9th of May. The man who brought a few heads as a sample to this office, says that this is an advance of anything in rye he has seen in his recollection of thirty years.—Campbellford Herald.

Can Pay Their Own Expenses.

The members of the Board of Trade are anxious to have it put before the public plainly that they did not solicit the town council to pay the expenses of their deputation to Ottawa. In fact, when the deputation was appointed, it was only upon the condition that each member foot his own bill. The matter was brought up in the council by the councillors themselves, each member of the deputation having received a notification of the conditions with which he would have to comply in acting as a delegate.

How do They do It?

There is one firm in town who are becoming noted for stunning value in Kid Gloves, and who seem to have the lucky snaps drop into their mit. It would be untruthful to say that they give away the gloves, but on several occasions already this season they have actually been selling them at less than the manufacturer's figures, and now comes another snap—a regular record-breaker—the best of all; and if the ladies will turn their eyes to the top of the first column on the next page they will find out all about their latest good fortune.

That Salvage Wagon Accident.

Mr. Ernest Lawrence is looking considerably the worse for wear since meeting with the accident of being thrown from his seat on the fire brigade hose wagon. He was placed in a most dangerous position, when the team started to run, being thrown down on the whiffletree, where he was subjected to a violent blow every time the horse flourished their heels, although he was too close to them to get the full benefit of the kick. His nose and forehead bear marks of the treatment he received and his right leg will be sore for many a day to come, being bruised and skinned from ankle to knee. The crankiness of the wagon when being turned is due to the fact that the front portion is too heavy for the rear when there is no hose in the box.

R. H. Kell's Great Enlarging Sale.

Attention is directed to the advertisement in another column of the unavoidable peremptory stock clearing sale of Mr. R. H. Kells, Peterborough. The stock must be cleared out in order to permit enlargement and change in his store, and in this clearing process great bargains will be given. Read the advertisement, please.

The More They Get the More They Want.

The wall papers kept in stock at the Peterborough Bookstore are so pretty and cheap that a customer who buys paper intending to cover only one room, is so delighted that he returns and procures papers for three or four other rooms. This is only natural, for our papers are so beautiful and so low in price that persons find it very hard to resist the temptation of buying. A. H. STRATTON & Co.

Prettily Painted Pictures.

Mr. T. W. Wilkinson, artist, of Toronto, has on exhibition in Mr. A. Clegg's furniture warerooms some exquisite water color paintings. Several are particularly well executed, among them being a couple of scenes off the Welsh coast in the Bristol Channel. A picture painted from a scene near the Gulf of Taranto in Italy is particularly pleasing to the eye, as is one of a silver birch overhanging the water's edge.

A Beautiful Display.

All should avail themselves of the opportunity of viewing the exhibit of paintings at A. Clegg's. These pictures are treated in a very able manner, the marine subjects are very good. Mr. Wilkinson's evening effects are charming, full of tender warmth. No. 9, "Murmuring Waters," is very realistic. This is a rare chance to procure some choice original paintings at very moderate prices and we think few of the pieces should leave town. On view at A. CLEGG'S, George street.

A New Set Needed.

Chief Inspector Gilchrist and his staff at Rice Lake are having a big time enforcing the fishery laws. Some of the residents of that part have become quite lawless of late, and several boats have been seized and smashed. But so far none of the offenders have been caught, they having avoided arrest by fleeing into the shrubbery. It is said that at the head of the lake people take away fish by the bag full, and also that maskinonge are offered for sale by the storekeepers and butchers. If such is true it is near time that the government appoint a new set, and at as early a date as possible. At present the fishery inspectorship is a fraud and no good has come of it so far. The good fish are slaughtered without any fear of arrest, or prosecution after the deed is done.—Post.

RAILWAY RUMBLES.

Newsy Notes from the Whirling Wheels At Home and Abroad.

Local C. P. R. Agent W. B. Bamford has received a telegram stating that the picnic of the C.P.R. employees would not come to Peterborough this year, as the eastern delegates on the picnic committee were too strong for the western contingent. Perth, therefore, has been selected as the picnicing ground, but it is on the understanding that Peterborough is to be the objective point for the outing next year.

A T.V.C. delegate came very nearly being left behind by the noon train to Ottawa yesterday. As not one of the deputation could be spared the train was stopped and ran back for him.

Employees of the C. P. R. and G. T. R. at Toronto are very uneasy, owing to the large reductions in the staffs of the railways made at Montreal.

Mr. T. E. Boddy, town agent of the C. P. R., is still in Toronto with his nephew, who is reported to be very low. Mr. Balmer, of Windsor, will continue in charge of the office until his return.

Mr. Alexander Roe, of Milverton, who fell off the C. P. R. train last Saturday night near Manvers when it was running at the rate of 50 miles an hour, has almost completely recovered from the injuries received and will proceed on his trip to Perth to-night, nearly as well as ever he was. He has been in the Nicholls hospital since last Sunday.

The Grand Trunk have about 400 empty cars standing on the old Cobourg and Harwood railroad.

Superintendent Domville, of the Grand Trunk railway car-shops at Hamilton, Ont., has received an order to close down the works owing to the scarcity of coal, and as a result about two hundred men are thrown out of employment.

Mr. T. E. Brandon, of the G.T.R. freight department, is in town to-day.

Local men on the G.T.R. are being paid this afternoon. The Italian navvies from the gravel pit come in for their wages on Saturday.

The G.T.R. officials fear a coal famine in locomotive fuel unless the Pennsylvania strikers resume work in the near future. No coal can be bought in the U. S. and the New York Central seizes all the coal that is brought on its lines.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Wm. Wand, Ashburnham, is confined to his room through illness.

Mr. James Boxall, of Lindsay, was in town last night as was Dr. Jefferson of the same place.

Mr. "Jerry" Packenham left at noon to-day for Port Hope, where he will take up his residence.

Mr. J. J. Turner, of Peterborough, the tent and awning manufacturer, was here last week and secured a number of orders.—Campbellford Herald.

Mr. C. J. Pusey, of Irondale, president of the Irondale, Bancroft and Ottawa R.R. was in town yesterday and this morning, the guest of his son-in-law, Mr. R. G. Kingan.

Have you seen those Sailor Suits of Grafton's at 75c., 98c., $1.25?

The Steamer "Mary Ellen."

Will run an excursion on May 24th from Lakefield to Stony Lake and return, connecting with the G. T. R. morning and evening trains. A special train in connection with this excursion will leave Lakefield at 7.30 p. m. for Peterborough.

—The pupils of the Ontario Institute for the Deaf and Dumb, will leave Belleville for their holidays on Wednesday, June 13th, by early train, under the charge of officers of the Institution, arriving at the various stations agreed upon. —There is fear in Great Britain of a drought this spring similar to the one which broke all records last year and caused much discomfixture and loss. The weather during the latter part of February and the whole of March and April was exceptionally warm and dry. The rainfall during the whole winter in many districts was much below the average,

—Some of the residents are endeavoring to outwit the police and are manufacturing tags for their dogs similiar to those which are passed out over the desk by Town Clerk Armstrong. The home-made tags though have no numbers on them and will probably prove a trap to catch their ingenious manufacturers. Quite a number of tags have been stolen off too friendly canines and transferred to others, which have no right to them.

—Mr. R. M. Roy is out with the statement that the Eden-Fontana entertainment which was given the other evening was a fake from start to finish. He admits that it was a clever fake all right enough and put on the stage in a most entertaining way. He is prepared to do any or all of the tricks performed at a moment's notice and though he has not had the practice which would enable him to perform the seeming wonders with the same finish as the Eden-Fontana combination, yet he holds that he could do them sufficiently well to escape detection.

SPRIGHTLY SUMMER SPORTS.

On the Lacrosse Field, the Crease and the Diamond—Triple A. Topics—The Bicycle and Football.

QUOITS.

The local quoit pitchers are beginning to get into shape and turn out for practice pretty regularly in the school grounds. Mr. Giroux has only been out once this year, however, and will not, in all probability, challenge Claus, the eastern champion, until later on in the season. Claus and Police Officer Morton, of Belleville, pitched a match the other day, in which the officer, though considered an A-1 man, was badly worsted.

BASEBALL.

Mr. Graham, of the Oriental, states that he will not play ball on the wine clerks' team against the printers on Friday next; not that he objects to playing with a losing team, but he likes to see his men play ball for all there is in it and not stop to ascertain who is nearest a ball before they chase it.

The great game between these rival nines will be called at 2.30 p.m. sharp Friday, and doubtless a good many will be present to witness the fun.

The game of baseball on Friday afternoon will hardly be called before four o'clock as the printers will find it impossible to get away from their cases before that hour.

The two games on the beautiful Toronto Baseball grounds between Varsity and Toronto Dukes, on May 24th, will likely attract many lovers of baseball from the provincial cities and towns, and with the local attendance there should be a record crowd over the Don on the holiday. The morning game starts at 10, and thus the racing enthusiasts will have ample opportunity to see the first contest. Play will be called at 4 in the afternoon. The teams met last July 1, when Varsity won in the morning 3 0, and the Dukes in the afternoon 5-4. Both teams are strong this year, and two good games are sure to eventuate on Her Majesty's birthday.

THE WHEEL.

The bicyclists, weather permitting, will indulge in another run to Lakefield this evening, leaving Court House park at 7 p.m. sharp.

The medals to be presented for successful competition in the lacrosse tournament and bicycle races at Campbellford on the 24th of May are now on exhibition in the window of R. J. Orr, jeweller. There are thirteen beautiful gold medals for the successful lacrosse team, and six medals—three gold and three silver—for bicycle races. They are of the finest workmanship and will be well worth winning—Belleville Intelligencer.

Three diamonds are included in the list of prizes offered for Dr. Doolittle's twelve-mile century road road race from Trenton to Belleville. The entry list for this event will close on June 25, position at the start to be determined according to priority of entry. The doctor has already disposed of 152 coupons for the trip, and the applications are still coming in at a rapid rate. With such eclat has the affair been taken up, that the promoter has secured a special train to carry the centurions to Port Hope. This train will leave the Union Station at 7 o'clock on Friday evening, June 29th.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The members of the Gun Club are having their regular weekly shoot this afternoon.

Port Hope has spent $260 on its race track this year.

THE BAND QUESTION.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—I see by your report of the council meeting of Tuesday, 15th, that Councillor Dawson attacked myself and band for wishing to go away from town on Dominion Day. He also made reference to the grant of $250 which the town gives. Now, as regards the 1st of July, every one in town except Mr. Dawson knows that we are a battalion band and go with the battalion whenever they leave town. I am very much surprised at Mr. Dawson's remarks about the town grant. He appears to know as little about how the grant is given to the band as he does about the band's relation to the battalion. I might say for the benefit of Mr. Dawson and the citizens generally how the town grant is given. It is given, and has been for years, on condition that the band play in the park during the summer months, which we have always done, thus complying with the conditions of the grant. Mr. Dawson is entirely at sea when he states that the Battalion only gives $250 per year to the band. Let me correct him once more. I draw $300 per year as salary from the Battalion, and the men receive 75c per man for every evening parade, and $1.50 for every day and expenses. Last year the Battalion paid the band five hundred and fifty dollars. This is why the Battalion has such a strong claim upon the band. We are also sworn in as any other volunteer and liable to arrest if we don't turn out when ordered by the commanding officer.

Our successful tea trade we attribute to the high grade of goods we handle and we never expect to gain a reputation by selling inferior teas, simply because they are cheap. We have one of the largest stocks of tea to choose from, at prices varying from 25c. to $1.00 per pound, and all really fine teas with rich invigorating cup qualities.

Beautiful Lawns.

No other town in Ontario has so many handsome lawns as are to be found in Peterborough. Never before were lawn mowers so cheap and so well made. Look in the north window of the Peterborough Hardware Coy's store and see the display of lawn and garden tools. They have some magnificent cast iron urns at very low prices. dtf

MANUFACTURERS' PRICES

DASHED DOWN WITHOUT MERCY.

10 INDISPUTABLE ARGUMENTS WHY COUGH BROS. CAN, WILL, AND DO BEAT ALL THEIR COMPETITORS:—

I. GOUGH BROS. Buy the Largest Lots, Sell the Largest Quantities, Get the Largest Discounts, and can afford to make the Lowest Prices.

II. GOUGH BROS. clothe both ends of man—from head to foot. They always give a heaped up, pressed down, overflowing measure of value for every dollar spent in their stores.

III. GOUGH BROS. always keep a "bear" among the Clothing Manufacturers, and make prices dance downwards for the benefit of their customers.

IV. GOUGH BROS. form the largest syndicate of Clothing dealers in Canada. They own Clothing, Hats, Boots and Shoes, secured on contracts, made at prices that cannot be repeated.

V. GOUGH BROS.' buying power commands for their customers the Lowest Prices for everything, whether people know the values or not, and this is the mainspring for the ever-rapid movement of their merchandise.

VI. GOUGH BROS. select the cream from all the manufacturers, in a falling market, for their syndicate of stores. Ceaseless selling means ceaseless supplies, and their command of the market creates extraordinary bargains.

VII. GOUGH BROS. sell Clothing at prices that actually do not represent the cost of labour in making, or the bare material.

VIII. GOUGH BROS. have in stock piles of All Wool Suits made from Auburn Woollen Mill Tweed, which can be bought for less money than was paid for the seven yards of cloth to make the suit.

IX. GOUGH BROS. know that when wheat, cotton and wool must be sold for next to nothing, Clothing must be sold for next to nothing also, and they keep watch for snaps for their customers.

X. GOUGH BROS. have no hankering for being "Manufacturers of Clothing." They can do better. Just as wheat can be bought for 60c. a bushel, at a loss to the farmer, so Clothing can be bought at Gough Bros'. at a loss to the manufacturer.

HAVE A SPIRITED TIME.

The International Miners' Congress Have a Riotous Meeting.

BERLIN, May 17.—There was war in the International Miners' Congress yesterday in consequence of a misunderstanding of the translations of the official interpreters. Delegates Wilson, Lamendin and Strutz, representing English, French and German, had been selected as presiding officers for the day. Delegate Lamendin, in a very theatrical and highly offensive manner, refused to serve. M. Lamendin's remarks were translated by interpreter Ledebur, and Delegate Wilson arose to accept his appointment as one of the presiding officers of the day.

While Wilson was speaking the German delegates noisily protested against Lamendin's remarks, the protest being translated and conveyed to the meeting by Interpreter Ledebur. Wilson turned upon Ledebur and virtually told him to mind his own business by demanding that he confine himself to translation and refrain from meddling with the order of the day, with which he had nothing to do. At this the Germans shouted: "Withdraw remarks," "apologize," "come down," etc. The English retorted with cries of "Germans get out of the room," "go home," etc. Deputies Singer and Liebknecht tried in vain to pacify the excited German and English delegates, and the uproar became deafening. Finally an English delegate succeeded in making himself heard and moved to take a recess of ten minutes.

Before the motion could be put a Catholic miner named Wallstein sprang to his feet and demanded that his resolution be discussed. In stentorian tones he shouted that he had been delegated by the Christian and monarchist majority of the German miners. He and his friends, he declared, shared the views of the English delegates (riotous denials). In common with the English and his friends he desired peaceful and legal reform of the condition of the miners, and he protested against the Socialists ruling this international congress. In conclusion he exhorted the congress to stand by the Kaiser, the Empire and the Pope. This speech created a tremendous uproar. The Socialist delegates had endeavored to howl Wallstein down, but without success. Singer, Leibknecht and others had repeatedly interrupted him and tried to induce him to withdraw from the congress, but he steadfastly refused and continued his speech to the end. The scene at his conclusion was indescribable.

THE COAL MINERS' STRIKE.

Prospect of an Early and Peaceable Settlement of the Trouble.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 17.—The second day of the great coal conference opened with two meetings behind closed doors. The miners held a consultation together and so did the operators. It was nearly eleven o'clock before the session at Case hall opened some of the operators were of the opinion that there were more hopeful signs of an agreement being arrived at during the conference. The statement that some of the Pennsylvania and Ohio men had agreed upon a rate to offer to the miners was looked upon as a favorable indication. President McBride, of the miners, announced that the miners had selected their conference committee and that it was prepared to meet the operators. Mr. Morton made a similar statement in behalf of the operators. The convention decided to adjourn until two o'clock, in order that the two committees might be given an opportunity to confer with each other. The committees then proceeded to the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce for a discussion of the questions at issue.

Killed His Wife's Insulter.

DENISON, Tex., May 17.—Henry Shields, a young farmer, shot and killed Dr. Obera at Lynn, I.T. Shields joined a party of friends on a fishing trip and placed his pretty wife under the care of the doctor's family during his absence. Dr. Obera attempted to debauch Mrs. Shields, but she resisted and told her husband when he returned. Shields said nothing, but waited until the doctor went away, when he endeavored to enter the sleeping apartment of the doctor's wife, who called for help and Shields fled. The doctor was told of the circumstances when he returned, and securing a pistol swore that he would kill Shields at sight. The men met, when Shields said, "Doctor, we are even, let the matter drop." Dr. Obera, however, reached for his gun, when Shields filled him full of buckshot.

What a Word Will Do.

Byron reminds us that a word is enough to rouse mankind to mutual slaughter. Yes, there is power in a word—Marathon, for instance, Waterloo, Gettysburgh, Appomatox. Considering the quantity I have sold, I have had an opportunity of ascertaining whether the pills give satisfaction or not. I can say, that during my fifteen years' experience in the drug business, I never sold a medicine that gives the universal satisfaction that Dodd's Kidney Pills do. I am satisfied any person suffering with kidney trouble only requires to give Dodd's Kidney Pills a fair trial, and he will be convinced of their wonderful curative properties.

The Best Medicine.

J. O. WILSON, Contractor and Builder, Sulphur Springs, Texas, thus speaks of Ayer's Pills:

"Ayer's Pills are the best medicine I ever tried; and, in my judgment, no better general remedy could be devised. I have used them in my family and recommended them to my friends and employes for more than twenty years. To my certain knowledge, many cases of the following complaints have been completely and by the use of Ayer's Pills alone: Third day chills, dumb ague, bilious fever, sick headache, rheumatism, flux, dyspepsia, constipation, and hard colds. I know that a moderate use of Ayer's Pills, continued for a few days or weeks, as the nature of the complaint required, would be found an absolute cure for the disorders I have named above."

Permanently Cured

"I have been selling medicine for eight years, and I can safely say that Ayer's Pills give better satisfaction than any other Pill I ever sold."—J. J. Perry, Spottsylvania C. H., Va.

Worthless Pianos and Organs

Are made in large quantities, because foolish people buy where prices are lowest, without giving a thought to quality. Any one who thinks, will not buy a "Piano at $170, or an Organ at $30, guaranteed for nineteen years," because it is cheap. Any one who thus thinks will avoid learning by experience that it would have been cheaper to pay, say $300, for his piano.

We can furnish an Organ for $30, but we will not. We live here and have to "face the music" this year and other years to come.

DYSPEPSIA CURED BY B.B.B.

MR. GEO. READ.

Read the Proof.

DEAR SIRS.—I write you to say that for some time I had been suffering from acute indigestion or dyspepsia, and of course felt very great inconvenience from same in my general business. I thereupon decided to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after taking two bottles I found I was quite another man, for B.B.B. entirely cured me. I have also used it for my wife and family and have found it the best thing they can take, and from past experience I have every pleasure in strongly recommending B.B.B. to all my friends.

I write you because I think that it should be generally known what B.B.B. can accomplish in cases of indigestion.

Yours faithfully,
GEORGE READ,

A MOMENT'S PASSION.

"Desired you in marriage—and you, what did you say, Carolina?"

"Oh, Signor, he was an old man, fifty, and my mother she laughed. And when he heard the laugh the gentleman went away pulling at his beard which was gray, and he left Capri by the next steamer. It was so droll. But I have not answered the Signor's kind questions. My father is Giacomo Certi, and we have a little white cottage under Anacapri, where I was born, and my three other little sisters. Is that what the Signor wished to know of me?"

"Thank you, Carolina."

Master Phil strode twice up and down the room with his hands deep in his pockets. The girl thrust her head from the window and exchanged a few merry words in dialect with one of the hotel servants in the garden.

"Carolina!"

"Yes, Signor."

"Here are the 10f. for to-day. I shall not work any more until to-morrow."

"Oh, but it is a very short day. I do not deserve so much money for so little time."

"Oblige me by taking it—and to-morrow at the same time."

With a charming shrug of her pretty shoulders and a sort of courtesy the girl then took the money and smiled herself away.

When she was gone Phil continued to walk about, without casting so much as a glance at the canvas. This lasted half an hour, and then he snatched up his hat and wandered forth. he cared not whither.

To Mr. Brabazon, and one or two others who got wind of it, Phil's attachment seemed quite a matter of course. It became an attachment after the second sitting. The young man resisted it so long. Then he told Carolina that she was the desire of his heart, and that he would never wed any one but herself.

The girl tried to dissuade him from being so much in earnest.

"You will soon forget me, Signor, when you return to Naples," she said. But Phil protested that it would not, could not be. The very innocence of her attempt to play the part of Angel of Prudence for him did but the more increase his infatuation.

Instead of having her to sit for him and his paint brushes he took her here and there about the island. He hired a boat on purpose and kept it in a nook under the headland Capocchia. Carolina gave herself up to the pleasures of the moment, like the true Southerner she was. She even yielded to his urgings that she should call him by his Christian name. "Filipo mio" sounded wondrous sweet on those pretty lips of hers.

At the hotel he made a confident of Mr. Brabazon. This gentleman, though he made light of the affair, ventured on the whole to advise Phil not to go too far.

"But," protested the young man, did you not say it is often done? Who is that rich Englishman that lives by Anacapri with a Capri woman for a wife? And there are others in Naples. Why, bless my soul, I think there is no comparison between Carolina and any other girl in the world!"

"Quite so; I don't deny it. But remember what she is. Her parents are not wholly the simple rustics you might fancy. You have given the girl presents—forgive my alluding to them; these are so much property. The old folks know her beauty won't last forever—"

"Mr. Brabazon!" exclaimed Phil, much shocked.

But the other merely laughed and nodded.

"It is the way of the world—of Capri," he said. "Remember this is the island of the sirens."

"Oh, confound those old legends! I'm resolved."

"So be it, my dear fellow; then all happiness attend you. Possibly it may; I don't know. Life is a queer, uncertain business at the best."

That night Master Phil wrote a long letter to Beatrice Falconer, and a short one to Mrs. Falconer. The tone of these letters affected the ladies differently. Mrs. Falconer said "The boy is mad!" when she read hers. But Bee shed tears and said little or nothing.

The more Mrs. Falconer pondered over her letter, the more impatient she became.

"He must be mad," she said at dinner that evening. And, for the poor fellow's own service, though not without inward shuddering, she resolved that the Capri boat of the following day should see her on its deck.

But, as it happened, that very evening was a time of bitter humiliation for Phil Daynton. It was an evening of golden sunlight melting gradually into silver moonlight, with all those surpassing cloud and scenic accompaniments which are part of the fascination of the little island.

Phil dined at the table d'hote, but hurried away ere half the courses were through. Carolina was waiting for him in the doorway of the shoe shop in the tiny piazza of the town, and together they sauntered down the lanes between roses and geraniums to the little boat place.

They had not gone far, however, when, with a shy glance into her lover's eyes, the girl remarked:

"Giovannino is home to-day."

"And who may Giovannino be?" asked Phil, smiling.

"Oh, he is Giovannino. He is very passionate, that is the worst of him. We were brought up together, and—"

"Well?"

"He is my own age or a little older, not much."

Phil pressed the round arm that hung on his, looked merrily into Carolina's dark eyes, the unusual expression in which did not trouble him, and having laughed again dismissed Giovannino from his mind.

But when they came to the Capocchia Creek, a man in a blue cotton jacket and with a light woolen cap on his head was seen sitting on the gunwale of their boat.

"That," said Carolina, "is Giovannino," and she withdrew her arm from his.

However, Giovannino, since that was his name, had seen them, and was already approaching them rapidly. He began to call out phrases which Phil knew were reproaches and insults, and when he was close to them it seemed as if he would ill-treat the girl.

"Keep your distance," said Phil angrily.

The man lifted his hat sardonically.

"Enough," he said. "I do not allow my 'sposa' to keep company with you any longer, Signor."

"'Sposa!'" cried Phil, and he felt as if he could eat dust from very shame.

"In effect, it is the same thing. We shall be married within the month. She has always been mine—from the first. Make your adieus, Signor, I beg; for she and I return together this night, without you."

Phil stood like one petrified. Then he turned upon the girl. There could be no doubt about it. He saw in her face that vague expression of attachment—not toward him—which the Southern woman wears in the presence of her heart's master.

"It is true, Carolina?" he asked dismally.

"Si, Signor," she replied.

Mrs. Falconer was horribly ill during the passage next morning. She looked extremely yellow when Phil was brought to her. But her physical discomfort soon gave up troubling her when she heard the young man's sorrowful tale to its glad conclusion.

"Will Bee ever forgive me?" he asked.

"You'll have to put the question to her, my dear boy," replied the lady hilariously, "Certainly it was very, very, wrong of you to be led away like that. They are a dreadful people, these Italians—the women, I mean. You must take us home next week, Phil, if you please."

"Then you think she will not be hard on me?"

"I'm sure she won't; besides, you really look quite sufficiently punished."

To tell the truth, Bee Falconer showed no rancor at all when Phil unbosomed himself to her. But she could not veil the gladness in her eyes, and her heart's gratitude for this speedy return to her of the lover whom she thought she had lost. As for Phil he felt that Bee was really dearer to him than she had ever yet been.

The Newest Stamp.

A correspondent forwards a set of the first issue of stamps by the Mozambique Company, which owns a large and valuable territory on the East Coast of Africa. Through Mozambique runs the Beira Railway, the high road of the future to Mashonaland and Matabeleland. The new stamps, originally issued for the Portuguese colonial province of Mozambique, were adapted as a provisional issue by surcharging with the name of the Mozambique Company now owning the territory. It is anticipated that shortly the company will issue the stamps for its own use, when the present stamps, now somewhat rare, will become even more difficult for collectors to obtain. The nominal value of the specimen produced is 40 reis. It is printed in brown, the surcharge being in black. —London Daily Graphic.

TORONTO, May 7.—This appears to be an age of fakes and frauds. It seems impossible for any new idea or valuable invention to be made known without a host of imitators trying to foist their worthless goods on an unsuspecting public in the hope of making an unmerited profit out of their worthless ideas. The unequalled success of Dodd's Kidney Pills in curing all forms of kidney disease, has led to the introduction of many cheap and base imitations that are worse than valueless. Millinery Critics

Recognize the remarkable freshness and beauty of our stock. Seems almost useless to advertise our Millinery. Ever since the spring reception it has been advertising itself, and a stranger looking in would think each day "first view day." Yet it is right to be courteous to our attractive novelties.

Our Millinery business is always being stimulated, and the wonderful varieties of taste displayed brings us happy visitors and pleased customers all the time. Because many are coming and buying; more will come and will buy.

This growing success proves the public faith—you trust and then you buy. Why? Every advertising word is true—you know it, and are sure to find it always so here.

Mantles and Capes.

The very newest and neatest—all much below regular value. In our collection, remember, there are no old things—no mistakes limping up to roll-call and never getting any further. No. All are favourites. They have 1894 style and goodness about them, and the prices combine to make matchless bargains.

Dress Goods.

Tastes differ, uses are various; therefore the proper Dress Goods stock must cover all sorts or there will be disappointment. Our stock is as nearly complete as we can make it, and, out of prevailing times, have grown prices that were never matched before, and are not likely to be equalled again.

Underwear Hosiery and Gloves.

Fresh lots coming in to keep sizes and qualities suitable to the season. Better than that—prices are going down and qualities going up.

MAN HER FOE AND PREY

SO SAYS THE NIECE OF THE EX-GOVERNOR-GENERAL OF JAMAICA.

A Bewitching Young Woman of Three or Four Names Whose Dashing Career Has Been Cut Short—The History of a Reckless Woman.

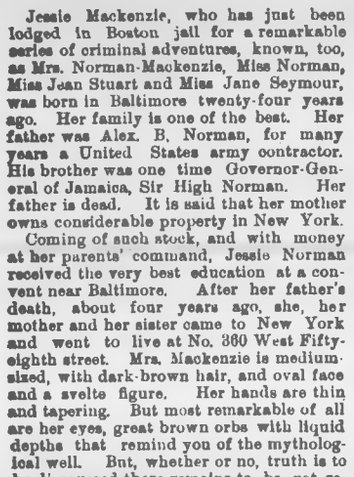
Jessie Mackenzie, who has just been lodged in Boston jail for a remarkable series of criminal adventures, known, too, as Mrs. Norman-Mackenzie, Miss Norman, Miss Jean Stuart and Miss Jane Seymour, was born in Baltimore twenty-four years ago. Her family is one of the best. Her father was Alex. B. Norman, for many years a United States army contractor. His brother was one time Governor-General of Jamaica, Sir High Norman. Her father is dead. It is said that her mother owns considerable property in New York.

Coming of such stock, and with money at her parents' command, Jessie Norman received the very best education at a convent near Baltimore. After her father's death, about four years ago, she, her mother and her sister came to New York and went to live at No. 360 West Fifty-eighth street. Mrs. Mackenzie is medium-sized, with dark-brown hair, and oval face and a svelte figure. Her hands are thin and tapering. But most remarkable of all are her eyes, great brown orbs with liquid depths that remind you of the mythological well. But, whether or no, truth is to be discovered there remains to be yet revealed.

This woman of the world has without effort the manners of the great lady. She never throws off those manners, for once she said to Capt. Haynes: "Do you know how I hold my power over men? It is by my assumed refinement of manner. No man ever thinks a refined woman can be wholly bad."

During the first part of her residence in New York, as in Baltimore, she was entirely happy and content with her home life. Her mother trusted her implicitly. One day in September, 1891, unluckily for her, she paid a visit to the Continental Hotel, on Broadway. There she was introduced to a tall, handsome man, of fine bearing and good manners. Mr. James Stuart Mackenzie was his name, and he was particularly careful to impress upon her that his middle name should be spelled as it is spelled here, and that the Mac in his name should be spelled out, to designate his clan. For he was proud of his blood, the old Scotch blood.

Mackenzie told her that he came from Cambridge, Mass., and that he was a graduate of Harvard. He was a skilled electrician, he said, and was engaged in building electrical plants in various cities. The girl, for she was scarcely more, became completely infatuated. He pretended to return her passion. He urged her to marry him. He told her, as he said frankly, that he had been divorced from his wife, but that wife was dead. He had, he declared, one young son, who passed half the time with him, and half with his grandmother.



JESSIE NORMAN-MACKENZIE.

On Dec. 17, 1891, yielding to his prayers and his protestations of affection, Jessie left her mother's roof. She took with her $8,000 worth of jewelry and whatever ready money that she thought she had a right to. Mackenzie never fulfilled his promise to marry her.

"I regarded myself as his wife," said Mrs. Mackenzie to a reporter. 'There was no other man on earth for me then. But I soon learned that I had married not only a gambler but a scoundrel. This man, I found, came originally from Pictou, Nova Scotia, whence he was driven by the sheriff. We traveled about from city to city, never remaining long anywhere. He was never satisfied with the amount of money he had. Two or three hundred dollars was a bagatelle to him, and he would count it over and say ruefully, 'How can a poor tramp exist on this for three or four days?' I have seen him with wads of money as thick around as his calf. Where he got it I never knew. He gave me none of it. But when he had none he forced me to go to my mother for money. In less than a year my love for that man cost me $18,000 in money got from my mother, besides all my jewelry, which I cheerfully gave to him to pawn. I never knew a happy moment with him.

"One day he said to me quite coolly, 'Well, Jess, I think I will leave you and go to my wife.'

"'Your wife!' I exclaimed. 'You have all along told me your wife was dead—that you were divorced from her.'

"'I told you that,' he answered with the greatest nonchalance, 'but it is not true. She is living in New York.'

"'Then I will leave you,' I cried, and I did.

"This man," Mrs. Mackenzie told Capt. Haynes, "in effect drove me out into the streets, saying, "Go; you are pretty enough to make your living there.'

"From that moment I have regarded man as my enemy and my prey. No man can ever have the influence over me that Mackenzie had. I verily believe he hypnotized me. Had he told me to jump off the roof of a house I would have thought it exactly the proper thing to do."

Her crimes, which have been investigated by her common-law husband, have been of the hotel beat bogus check passing order, some of them being extremely exciting. She takes things very coolly. A recapitulation of the family history shows that Jessie Norman Mackenzie can boast of the bluest of blood in her veins. Her father was an affluent army contractor. He was an Englishman, and his family tree bristles with titles. His brother is Sir Henry Wylie Norman, for many years Governor-General of Jamaica and now Governor of Queensland, Australia. Mrs. Norman, the mother of the erring Jessie, together with her other daughter, Lily Jean, is now living at No. 242 West Forty-second street, New York, says the World of that city. Her distress is painful in the extreme. Mrs. Norman is a woman of eminent refinement with a pleasant face, which shows strong traces of suffering. She is comfortably and independently situated, living upon the rents of an estate in this city.

"I would give my life for my daughter Jessie," she said; "but what can I do? I have paid thousands of dollars to save her from disgrace, but I never know what new thing is going to turn up. We are broken-hearted."

"Yes," put in the other sister, "but we have had our hearts broken so often that we are getting used to it."

"That is true," said the mother. "We have been supporting her, and there is no reason in the world why she should get into difficulties. I suppose we shall have to help her again out of her present difficulty."

CANADA FOREVER.

Beautiful Views of Our Beautiful Dominion.

In the pages of the EVENING EXAMINER will be found a coupon referring to "Canada," a portfolio of original photographic views of our beloved country. This portfolio is published in weekly parts. Each part contains not less than 16 pages 10x14 inches in size of illustrations and descriptive matter. Twenty-six parts will comprise the series, making altogether upwards of four hundred superb photographic views, covering the whole vast domain of British America. The object of this splendid series of Canadian fine art pictures is to provide the people of Canada with a scenic and descriptive reproduction of the artistic beauties of Canada and the evidences of its resources and material progress—to show Canada's glorious lake, river and mountain scenery—to depict in panorama of photographic pictures the urban and rural life of the Canadian people—to place within the reach of our own people the means of acquainting themselves with all that is notable in the national features of our own country. Every home should have one of these portfolios; they will be a never-ending and perpetual delight to the family, to callers and friends, an ornament to the home, a mine of wealth of scenic beauty and illustration of the resources of Canada. How to get this portfolio. Cut out the coupon printed in each issue of this paper and send or bring it with ten cents to the EXAMINER office. Part I is now ready, and the remaining parts up to 26 will be issued weekly. Only 10 cents a week will give you at the end of the series a magnificent volume of nearly 400 pages. The pictures, 400 in number, are superb, half-tone photographs of mountains, rivers, lakes, forests, cities, towns and other picturesque features of the land we live in. Be sure to cut out the coupon and enclose ten cents with it and get series No. 1. Begin at the beginning and don't by delay regret that you are missing this great chance.

FRASERVILLE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

A football team was organized here last Saturday under the name of "Brooksides of Fraserville," with the following officers: John Latimer, captain; Thos. Weston, secretary; John Bothwell, treasurer. Some good playing is expected this season Challenges will receive prompt attention if all communications are addressed to the secretary. We wish the boys good luck.

Fraserville seems to be growing of late there now being telegraph communication with this place in Mr. A. A. Goodfellow's general store. He also has the Canadian Express office along with it. What we want now is a railway ticket office, which would be a great benefit to the travelling public. Every Saturday there is a large crowd goes to town.

THE GRANGE HALL FIRE.

Rathon Grange Hall to be Rebuilt.

Last night there was a largely attended meeting of the members of Rathon Grange, held at the school house near the site of the hall burned down on Tuesday night. The meeting was called to consider the course of action to be pursued and it was decided to rebuild the structure at once. The loss on the building was about $300; protected by an insurance in the Alliance of $250. In addition to the loss on the building the contents were of considerable value. The hall contained 100 chairs, a new organ, said to belong to the Royal Templars of Temperance, several musical instruments belonging to the High Park band, etc. The Patrons of Industry also used the hall as a place of meeting and probably lost some of their belongings in the fire.

The authorities should take prompt and decisive action in connection with the burning of this building, in order to fix the responsibility of its destruction upon the right shoulders. There has been a great deal of trouble, fortunately, though narrowly, falling short of being of a very serious character in connection with this building; and there is a feeling in the public mind that in the public interests there has been too great leniency shown in certain directions. It is to be hoped the authorities will firmly grasp the situation on this occasion.

NORTH MONAGHAN.

Annual Union Picnic in Tully's Grove.

The annual union festival under the auspices of Eat on Grange, Templars and Patrons will be held in Tully's grove near the site of the late Grange Hall, on Thursday, May 24th. Addresses will be delivered by Mr. E. H. Milburn, president of the Ontario People's Salt Company and others, beginning at one o'clock. During the afternoon there will be run off a programme of games and sports. Tea will be served at 5 o'clock. The High Park Brass Band will be present. Tickets 25 cents.

AN IDEAL GREAT MAN'S WIFE.

Mrs. Gladstone's Wonderful Tact in Watching Her Husband's Many Moods.

The watchful care which Mrs. William Ewart Gladstone continually exercises over the health and comfort of her distinguished husband is the subject of frequent comment among her intimates. Possessed of a forceful intellect and strong womanly sympathies, she uses these characteristics in such a way as to make the ex-premier think her the cleverest woman in the world. Out of all the members of her household she alone knows just how to manage her venerable husband, who in recent years has occasionally manifested a disposition to indulge in what would be regarded as tantrums in less distinguished men. On one occasion recently a leading London journalist, while dining with the Gladstones, got into a heated argument with the sage of Hawarden over some question of public policy. While the discussion was at its stormiest a servant quietly slipped a card into the hand of the daring newspaper man. On it were the words written in Mrs. Gladstone's large, angular hand: "We never contradict Mr. Gladstone." The visitor then for the first time noticed that the grand old man wore a flushed and excited look. He at once took the hint, and after feebly contesting the point for a few moments longer confessed himself worsted and peace was restored.

MRS. GLADSTONE.

Pope Leo a Thinker.

Leo XIII. is a master of men. Having seen him to advantage, I can well appreciate a story which was told me by one who is not far removed from the person of the Pontiff. The delicacy of his physique, the liberality of his mind and the gentleness of his disposition induced many to think when Leo ascended to the Popedom that he might be a man who could be easily moulded by parties. When he chose the title by which he was to be known as the 258th successor to St. Peter, a cardinal who was in his confidence exclaimed: "Oh! the unlucky 13!"

"Ah! but the lion!" replied Leo, with a quiet smile, as he closed his hand over that of the cardinal in an iron grip.

That frail Pope with the unlucky number has proved himself well worthy of the leonine name. He knows how to manage men and how to rule them. There is the grip of steel beneath the velvet glove. This Pope thinks ahead. He watches with the keenest interest the social changes throughout the world, and he is endeavoring to shape a policy which may be continued by his successors, a policy which may bring the church into proper relation with those changes. He sees in the world signs of upheaval; changes whose results cannot be foretold; he sees anarchy rising here and there, and defiance of order, the uprooting of old ideas which have been cherished by the nations; he hears the march of European democracy—a democracy determined to upset old institutions, but yet hardly knowing how they will be replaced.—Rome Cor. Boston Herald.

That Musty Old Carpet.

Oh, dear to our hearts are the sad days of spring-time,
When the annual house-cleaning recurs to our view;
When we sleep on the sofa and eat off the mantel,
In an atmosphere strongly suggestive of glue,
We think of the stove pipe, the soot that came with it,
Likewise the profanity, fluent and fine;
But saddest and bitterest of all recollections
Is the dusty old carpet that hung on the line.

Oh, that dusty old carpet
That fusty old carpet,
That musty old carpet,
That hung on the line!

We remember how, armed with a huge flagellator,
In the morning we bitterly advanced to the fray;
In the muscular pride of our heart little dreaming
That cleaning that carpet would take the whole day.
We sweat and we swore, and our hands badly blistered,
While the sun lent its countenance, warmly benign;
But the harder we pounded, the more it was needed
By that dusty old carpet that hung on the line!

Oh, that dusty old carpet,
That musty old carpet,
That fusty old carpet
That hung on the line.

Busy as Beavers.

The season's Carpet trade is booming right along and sales are more satisfactory than we had expected. The inference is that styles and qualities and values are best here.

Come in and learn our prices, then ask yourself the question "if it pays to waste time on that musty old carpet that hangs on the line."

Our stock bears the marks of novelty all over it. The colours are a study. The patterns are a study. Such delightful originality needs to be looked at and known to be properly appreciated.

THE TURCOTTE CHARGE

Investigation by Committee Blocked by the Government.

TURCOTTE ON HIS DEFENCE

He Reads to the House a Declaration Regarding His Position With the Firm—Inquiry Side-Tracked by the Premier—Ways and Means.

OTTAWA, May 18.—In the Commons yesterday Mr. Bruneau moved that his charges against Mr. Turcotte be referred to a committee of investigation. The motion gave the committee power to report on the facts of the case and whether the said Arthur J. Turcotte had vacated his seat.

Mr. Turcotte replied, denying the charges brought against him by the member for Richelieu. He had not become a contractor with the Government. In so far as the present charges were concerned, he read a declaration published by Mr. J. B. Prevost, the contractor at that time, and the present, for supplies furnished the citadel at Quebec, and the Marine Department in that city, and who is mentioned in the charges. The declaration was dated Quebec, April 21, 1894, addressed to the editor of L'Evenement, and by it Mr. Turcotte was completely exonerated. He further stated, in order that the House might have official information of the same, that he is defendant in a law suit, taken the 30th day of April last, by which he is asked to pay the penalties to which he may be liable for having sat in this House in contravention of the Act concerning the independence of Parliament.

Sir John Thompson thought that the matter should go to a committee for investigation, but, inasmuch as the courts of Quebec were dealing with the question also, it would not be proper to give the committee power to say whether or not the member has vacated his seat. He moved an amendment accordingly, striking out the clause giving the committee this power.

Hon. Mr. Laurier disagreed with the First Minister.

The House divided on the amendment, which was carried by 108 to 69.

Sir John Thompson announced with regret the death of Hon. John Hearn, late a member of the House, paying a tribute to his high qualities.

Hon. Mr. Laurier, on behalf of the Opposition, expressed regret at the late member's death.

Mr. Taylor again brought up the question of the adjournment over Friday after the Queen's birthday.

Sir John Thompson said he would be willing if the House would give up Wednesday for Government days.

Mr. Laurier and Mr. Davis favored the adjournment. Although no action was taken, it looks as if the adjournment will take place from Wednesday until Monday.

The House again went into committee of Ways and Means, the item under discussion being sawlogs on the free list.

Mr. Macdonnell (Alpena) spoke in favor of the reimposition of the duty on sawlogs. He hoped the Government would reimpose the duty. It would require 7,000 men to cut the timber taken to the States annually. This 7,000 men with their families would mean a population of 35,000 souls to add to the wealth of Canada. Mr. Macdonnell also spoke of the damage done to the Georgian bay fishing industries by the towing of sawlogs to the United States ports.

Col. O'Brien thought if the duty were re-imposed it would paralyze the Canadian lumber industry. The loss to the country by the export of logs had been exaggerated.

Mr. Masson said they had no right to assume that the lumber trade of Canada would be paralyzed if the export duties were re-imposed. The very men who were buying the Canadian logs were the owners of the Michigan limits. They were depleting our forests and preserving their own. He believed the export duty on logs would bring about an immediate and visible benefit.

Mr. Bennett said it was a remarkable thing that the only members who were opposed to the re-imposition of these duties were those directly interested in the business. He hoped before the session passed the saw mill industry on the north shore would again be in full blast by a change of policy.

Mr. Devlin opposed the reimposition of the duty and after some further discussion the item passed.

To the item "sawed boards, plank deals and other lumber," Hon. Mr. Foster proposed to add the words, "undressed or dressed upon one side only."

The item as amended was adopted.

The item "pine clapboards" was next discussed and carried.

The proviso was then reached which empowered the Governor-General in council to issue a proclamation charging export duty upon logs according to a schedule, provided any country shall impose duties upon the articles on the free list as fixed in the tariff.

Mr. Charlton held that this was a power the Government should not have. The Government might decide to charge export duties without proper consideration, and it was too great a power to put into the hands of thirteen men.

Mr. Bryson said the House knew that Mr. Charlton had no confidence in the present administration, but he also knew that the Government supporters in this House had full confidence in the Government, and, if under the Wilson bill duties were charged on articles in our free list, the Government would be in a position to re-impose an export duty on logs.

The clause passed.

Hon. Mr. Foster moved that elm logs be included among the logs upon which the Government will have power to put an export duty not exceeding $3 per thousand feet. The logs coming within the schedule are pine, Douglas fir, fir, balsam, cedar and hemlock.

The amendment was passed.

Sir Richard Cartwright took strong objection to this clause: "Provided that the Governor-General in Council may by proclamation published in like manner from time to time remove and reimpose such export duty," but the clause was passed without further discussion.

The item in the free list of "cane, rattans and reeds not further manufactured than" was made to read, "cane, rattans and reeds not manufactured."

"Whip" was struck out from the [illegible] having been placed on [illegible] of 35 per cent.

[illegible] in the tariff were carried and the House adjourned at 12.10 a. m.

Capital Notes.

Lord Aberdeen has purchased a summer residence on the Grand Cascapedia. It was formerly occupied by Lord Derby. It is understood that the price paid is $4,600.

The Banking and Commerce Committee met and the Consumers' Cordage Company's bill was once more proceeded with. The bill was reported after some unimportant amendments had been made. The next bill taken up was an act to incorporate the Canadian Railway Accident Insurance Company. The bill was reported. Dominion burglary bill was also passed.

With the approach of the Queen's birthpay comes the talk of who is likely to receive the honor of knighthood from Her Majesty. The first spoken of is Hon. Frank Smith, a member of the Government without portfolio. Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, leader of the Senate and Minister of Trade and Commerce, is also mentioned as one likely to be knighted. Mr. Bowell, whose special pride is that he rose from a "devil" in a newspaper office to his present position, does not desire the honor, but owing to his associations if his name is put forward he will accept.

In reply to the Trent Valley canal delegation, Mr. Haggart declared himself a believer in the work. The first cost of the canal was estimated at between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000, but a revised estimate placed it at $4,000,000. It was his intention to put a portion of the work under contract this fall. He believed the Government should carry out the promise made before the last general election, and if the Conservative Government remained in power the Trent Valley canal would some day be completed. Sir John Thompson said that Mr. Haggart spoke the sentiments of the whole Government. He also said he did not believe that Sir John Macdonald sent his telegram two days before the general election to influence the elections. He thought the undertaking could be justified on its merits, and he hoped before he left office to go through the completed canal, which would be built "as fast as the resources of the country permitted." In conclusion the Premier reminded them that in return the Government could not live by "moral and intellectual support alone."

They May Criticize the Shah.

BRUSSELS, May 18.—A journalist named Osquerr in an article in his paper recently critized the Shah of Persia severely, and was arrested and tried. The prosecution showed that Osquerr had characterized the Persian monarch as a swinish brute and had advised his arrest as an altogether obnoxious person should he visit Belgium, as it was reported he intended to do. The public prosecutor demanded Osquerr's conviction on the ground that Belgium had received important commercial concessions from Persia, which might be revoked. The jury rendered a verdict of acquittal, based upon the belief that a verdict of conviction would be an abridgement of the freedom of the press.

The Pacific Cable.

LONDON, May 18.—Sir Charles Tupper, Canadian High Commissioner and Sir John Pender, M. P., have been exchanging letters concerning the proposed Pacific cable. The correspondence arose from the paper which Sir Charles read before the Colonial Institute on May 8. Most of it concerned technical matters, but in a letter published this morning Sir Charles emphasizes the strategic importance of the cable, whose construction and operation, he believes, could easily be secured upon the lines suggested by the conference at Wellington, with such modifications as may be adopted at the Ottawa conference.

On the Track of Smugglers.

NEW YORK, May 18.—Major John A. Butter captured a trunk smuggled through from the City hotel at Montreal containing 250 pounds of Sumatra tobacco, worth here $8 per pound. The trunk was consigned to S. Kohl and was cased at the tobacco warehouse of Jacob Hirsch. When informed of this by the officer the manager for Jacob Hirsch denied all knowledge of the trunk and its contents. The officers are confident they are on the track of persons who have been smuggling thousands of pounds of fine tobacco across the Canadian border.

Against Disestablishment.

LONDON, May 18.—The Episcopal archbishops and bishops of England have issued a circular letter protesting against the proposed disestablishment of the Church of Wales, which, they declare, would endanger the unity of the Church of England. The bishops particularly denounce the disendowment proposals, which, they say, appropriate to secular purposes ancient gifts intended for the service of God.

Depression in Argentine.

LONDON, May 18.—A Times despatch from Buenos Ayres says that the high gold premium is partly due to the distrust of the commercial community in the immediate future, and partly to persistent rumors of impending resignations of members of the cabinet. Business in the produce markets is paralyzed on account of the cheapness of cereals, and the result is that all commerce is depressed.

A New and Destructive Bug.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 18.—Prof. Entner, the state entomologist has received some samples of a very destructive bug, or beetle, now for the first time found in Central New York, devastating the asparagus crop. It is reported to have almost destroyed the crop in Monroe county. It is known generally as the twelve-spotted asparagus beetle.

BLUEFIELDS EMBROGLIO

The White Powers Not Likely to Clash in the Mosquito Reserve.

CHIEF CLARENCE REINSTATED

Aguella, the Murderer of the American, Wilson, Escapes—Pursued by the Governor, But He Finds Safety in a Dense Jungle.

BLUEFIELDS, M.R., Nicaragua, May 12, via New Orleans, May 16.—Word reached here from the San Francisco, which is anchored off the Bluffs, that Robert H. Clarence, the Mosquito chief, would be brought back here from Pearl Lagoon on board the British man-of-war Magicienne and domiciled in Bluefields to stay, or in other words that he would be reinstated in his rights as chief of the Mosquitos by the English.

In the afternoon the Magicienne arrived, and immediately Captain Clark came ashore with Clarence and a few of his natives and he was domiciled at his old home in the city. I asked Captain Watson the meaning of this, but all he would say in reply to my questions was, "You will be safe in saying he has come to stay."

He added that everyone should understand that England and the United States were not working against each other, but, as Minister Blake had put it, "The white people had combined to meet the advances of the Latin race."

Last night the San Francisco departed for Greytown to take Consul Braide to his post of duty, leaving this place without an American official representative, though it is expected Consul B. B. Seat will return shortly from the United States.

Aguella, the murderer of Wm. Wilson, escaped on Wednesday last. Governor Ruelling, the new official at Rama who supplanted Torres, immediately started on a hunt for him, but was unable to head him off. Ruelling arrived here last night and reports that Aguella is located in a dense jungle two miles from Rama, where it is almost impossible to get at him.

ITS EFFECT IN CANADA.

The Big Coal Strike Closes Down all the Grand Trunk Shops.

MONTREAL, May 18.—To day all the shops on the Grand Trunk system without exception will close down owing to the coal famine. The close down may last ten days or three weeks. The passenger and freight trains will be curtailed as much as possible. There will be nothing done on new work and the working staff of the engineering department will also cease work. In Montreal alone there are fully 1,700 men affected by the change.

Officials of the Grand Trunk in Chicago have announced that pending a settlement of coal strike, no more grain would be received for shipment. Any coal received by the system, it is announced, will be reserved for passenger trains and perishable freight.

Gurney Works to Close.

HAMILTON, May 18.—On account of the scarcity of coal the Gurney-Tilden Stove Company will close down at the end of this week. They have about three weeks' supply of coal on hand and this will be reserved for rush orders. About 200 men will be affected. Several other manufacturing institutions in the city are considering the advisability of similar action.

GAUDAUR WINS AGAIN.

He Does the Three-Mile in 19, 1 1-2, Breaking the World's Record.

AUSTIN, Texas, May 18.—The first race of the international regatta was the final three-mile heat professional single scull for a purse amounting to $2,100, the first money being $1,000.

Entries—J. G. Gaudaur, Orillia, Ont.; H. Peterson, San Francisco; E. Durnan, Toronto; John Teemer, St. Louis; George Hosmer, Boston, and Ed. Rogers, Saratoga.

The race was terrific, Gaudaur and Peterson both hustling for first place, though Ed. Durnan pressed them hard for honors on the first dash out of the box. Gaudaur turned the even mile and started back down the course like mad. He led slightly on the down course, though Peterson pushed him hard. Gaudaur shot over the home line into safety only four feet in the lead of the silent oarsman from the Pacific slope, making the race in 19.01¼, thereby breaking his record of 19.06 of last year, which broke the world's record. Peterson made the run in 19.02½, which broke the run of Gaudaur last year, and Gaudaur acknowledges that he was never pushed so hard in a race in his life as he was yesterday.

BOTH LEGS CUT OFF.

Fatal Accident on the Grand Trunk Track in Toronto.

TORONTO, May 18.—A fatal accident occurred yesterday on the G. T. R. tracks, near the foot of Portland street. A train was backing up from the Esplanade, and when at the foot of Portland street a man named John Dickey was seen to jump on the end of a car and attempt to put on the brakes. In some manner his foot slipped and he fell in front of the train, which passed over him, cutting off both legs at the hip joint. He was at once removed in the ambulance to the General Hospital, but the shock he received was so great that he died a few hours after.

Suffocated by Gas.

TORONTO, May 18.—John Coulter, a farmer from near Bolton, came to the city and put up at the Kerby house. The proprietor took him to his room and before leaving showed him how the gas was turned off. Coulter said it would be all right as he knew how to do it. Yesterday morning when the proprietor went to his room he found it full of gas and the unfortunate man lying dead. The deceased was a man between 35 and 40 years of age.

An Old Man's Fall.

ROCKWOOD, May 18.—Richard Cook, a carpenter, about 75 years old, fell off a driving house at Squire Strange's and was almost killed. He had been shingling and fell a distance of about twent feet, alighting on a large flat stone. His arm is broken at the wrist, two ribs are broken, and he is cut on the head and it is feared that he is hurt internally. It is not likely he will recover.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION FOR LIVE FARMERS.

MATTERS OF MOMENT IN REGARD TO DAIRYING.

The Cheese and Butter Interest—How It is Being Developed by the Ontario Government — Important Practical Questions Dealt With.

The lively and steady interest shown by the Mowat government in promoting the interest of Agriculture is shown by the fact that since Sir Oliver became premier the Ontario Government has devoted the immense sum of nearly five million dollars ($4,541,076) to this end, an average of about a quarter of a million a year. Of this no small share has been devoted to the development of the dairy industry which has proved the salvation of the farm the past few years. In the last three years the sum of $13,505 has been spent in the maintenance of the Travelling Dairy which brought an object lesson in the best methods of butter making to the doors of the farmers and their wives. The Government is constantly preparing and sending out bulletins and reports upon dairy subjects and the following bulletin upon "Ontario Dairy Farming" will be read with great interest:

Princess and Premier may wed. At least Dame Rumor says that the Earl of Roseberry, the Grand Old Man's successor, and Princess Maud the youngest daughter of the Prince of Wales, are engaged. The Princess is by far the best looking of the three sisters, and would be considered quite pretty did she not belong to the Royal Family. But, though only 24 years of age, thoroughly well educated, a good rider and fencer, her most estimable quality and useful accomplishment is that she is as excellent maker of butter as her mother. She comes honestly by that talent through her Danish mother—the little sea-girt kingdom in Northern Europe being justly famed as the home of the best butter-makers in the world. What a splendid example as a prospective wife the Princess Maud sets the young women of this great farming country.

It does not necessarily follow that every pretty girl who can make the best of butter—even beat her mother at it—will catch a premier for a husband, though that would be none too good a thing to happen her, but her chances in the matrimonial market of getting a prize should and undoubtedly would be immeasurably increased.

Dairying—the making of butter and cheese—is the agricultural art above all others that modern science and invention, coupled with the distance-destroying steamship of to-day, have placed in the very fore-front as a profitable branch of farming in Ontario. Deep-set milk-pans, power cream separators, the Babcock milk tester, improved churns, new apparatus and processes for cheese-making, as well as a better system of packing butter for shipment to far away markets, not to mention minor details in which decided advancement has been made, have practically revolutioned the dairy business.

Then the slow but sure "brooding-up" process going on in the average milch cow of the province through judicious blendings with the best blood of well recognized milking strains of cattle, is an element of extraordinary value in estimating the present worth of this important branch of the greatest industry in the country.

The World's Columbian Exposition at Chicago, with its sweeping successes for Canadian dairying, is of enormous benefit to us in Ontario who will profit by the lessons taught thereby and follow up the tremendous advantage such an advertisement as that was of the province's capabilities in the production of the finest butter and cheese.

It is not to be wondered at, therefore, that the 17th annual conventions of the two Dairymen's Associations, those of Eastern and Western Ontario, dealing with cheese making and that of the Creameries Association of Ontario, covering the whole province in its scope as a gathering of butter makers should this year have been brighter and better than any ever held before.

This hopeful condition of things is evident to anyone who will look through the 240 clearly printed pages containing extended verbatim reports of the speeches made, the papers read and the interesting discussions thereon at these meetings which has been published under authority of the Minister of Agriculture, Hon. John Dryden.

Incidental to the invaluable technical information for butter and cheese makers imparted by these expert dairymen in their essays, addresses and talks across the table, is a perfect treasure mine of general agricultural lore—useful knowledge to any farmer who wants to keep abreast of the times in his profession. The book will be found good reading by all who have at heart the welfare and progress of agriculture in Ontario.

All that has been said about the above publication as of especial interest to the farmers of Ontario just now is applicable with intensified relevance to another emenation from the same Government source—a special bulletin dated Toronto, May 1st, 1894, entitled "Dairying in Ontario," prepared by the Department of Agriculture. A simple list of the questions treated in it with exhaustive care and minute exactness as to facts and figures, must suffice to whet the appetite for this opportune and presently precious pamphlet. Here they are:

Have dairy products decreased in price in Ontario as much as grain?

Is dairying less exhaustive upon the soil than other methods of farming?

Is Ontario adapted to dairying?

Have the dairy exports of Canada been increasing or decreasing?

What about the exports from the United States?

With what countries other than the United States do we compete in the British market?

In what way has Denmark got such a hold upon the British market?

What has been done in Ontario in the way of making butter in creameries?

What is the difference in price between different grades of butter?

Will the use of improved methods increase the quantity of butter?

Are there any other advantages in the co-operative system of butter or cheese-making?

What will be the cost of a factory, with plans for a centrifugal creamery, capacity 500 cows; or one one on the cream-gathering principle with a capacity for 500 to 700 cows?

What will it cost to equip a factory?

What is the best way to start a factory or creamery?

What is the best method of conducting a business?

How may a Dairy Company become incorporated?

What Acts have been passed by the Ontario Legislature in regard to creameries and cheese factories?

Application to the Department of Agriculture, Toronto, will bring copies of these two publications by the Ontario Government to all who will take the trouble to write on a post card their names and addresses.

[The replies to these questions will be given in a later issue.]

THE Empire is reminded that an outbreak of tuberculos larceny has occurred in Kingston penitentary. And it isn't petty larceny either, but as the school girl would say a real bad "type." The thieves confined in the penitentiary have infected the Dominion Government officials at the Kingston penitentiary who have been stealing right and left. Stuff from the penitentiary farm and pigs were sold and less than half the price entered in the books, the balance being pocketed by the officials. Perhaps this outbreak of larceny was contracted by the officials visiting some of the Dominion cabinet ministers and it shows gross carelessness on the part of those responsible. The nearer the penitentiary the closer to crime. From the particulars already elicited it would appear that there would be some advantage in the interests of the honest administration of the Kingston penitentiary, if some of the convicts changed places with some of the officials.

THE Empire is expending so much sympathy and shedding so many saurian tears over the dismissal of a certain official that it has none left for the poor Dominion government official in the Kingston penetentiary, who was "fired" for reporting irregularites that culminated in the recently discovered steals, and, as an additional punishment, was subjected to the indignity of being appointed a landing waiter in Toronto.

If ever a man feels like "a poor worm of the dust," it is when he suffers from that tired feeling. Ayer's Sarsaparilla removes this discouraging physical condition and imparts the thrill of new life and energy to every nerve, tissue, muscle, and fibre of the whole body.

Do not neglect coughs, colds, asthma, and bronchitis, but cure them by using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

IN COATS.

There is more length to the new Coats for 1894 than has been used in Men's Dress since the 60's.

THE DOUBLE BREASTED FROCK is the most fastidious garment man has put on in a generation. It adds to the stature of the man and conceals defects of figure. It is short waisted, snug fitting, long tailed and beautifully moulded to the figure. The Skirts are hollow at the top and form a beautiful curve, which is the most distinctive thing about the new styles.

Then there is the THREE BUTTON CUTAWAY Coat which is a high favourite. It is popularly described as the "Pigeon Wing" on account of its sloping tails. The sleeves are of moderate size and are closed with a vent for three buttons. If properly made it will cling rather closely to the hips.

The new CUTAWAY SACK COAT for business wear is one of the most popular of the season. It has caught the fancy of the young men. All the pockets should have flaps. The collar rolls low and is not faced with Silk.

Any of these garments made up to order to please the most fastidious dresser and with faultless devotion to the fashion plates

To Beautify the Complexion —do not take the cosmetics, paints and powders which injure the skin, but take the easiest way to gain a beautiful color and a wholesome skin. Health is the greatest beautifier. The means to beauty, comfort, and health for women is Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Dull eyes, sallow or wrinkled face, and those "feelings of weakness," have their rise in the derangements peculiar to women.

"Favorite Prescription" will build up, strengthen, and invigorate, every "run-down" or delicate woman by regulating and assisting all the natural functions. It also lessens pain.

At some period in her life, a woman requires a general tonic and nervine, as well as a remedy adapted to her special needs.

You can find no other remedy that's guaranteed. If the "Prescription" ever fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back.

A positive cure for Catarrh—you'll find in Dr. Sage's Remedy. There's $500 reward for an incurable case.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

A Petrolea Man Instantly Killed During an Electric Storm.

PETROLEA, Ont., May 18.—Mr. R. T. Thompson of this town, a stonemason and bricklayer, who was engaged in erecting a stone foundation for a new barn on Mr. John Mertin's farm, near Glenrae, was instantly killed by lightning yesterday.

It appears that Mr. Thompson and his brother, J. J. Thompson, and another man, saw a storm coming up while at work, and ran to a barn for safety. They were in the building about ten or fifteen minutes when the corner of the barn was torn off by lightning, knocking the other two men senseless and killing Mr. R. T. Thompson. When his brother came to, he found Thompson standing up with his hand around a post in the barn. He went to his assistance but was too late, death being instantaneous.

He was at one time captain of the Salvation Army here and is well-known in many places. He leaves a young wife and two small children.

South Toronto Nominations.

TORONTO, May 18.—Mr. Oliver A. Howland, barrister, was nominated last night by the Conservatives of the constituency of South Toronto to contest the coming elections for the provincial legislature. There is some talk of the P.P.A. nominating a candidate also in this riding, and of asking Capt. J. A. Currie to stand. In this event there will be three candidates in the field in this constituency.

Teeswater Mill Destroyed.

TEESWATER, Ont., May 18.—The sawmill of W. R. Thompson here was discovered on fire yesterday and was completely destroyed. Large quantities of shingles, maple blocks and broom handles were burned. Loss about $5,000; insured in Gore Mutual for $1,500. Lightning is supposed to have been the cause, as a violent thunderstorm was taking place at the time.

Electric Storm at London.

LONDON, Ont., May 18.—A terrific electric storm broke over the city yesterday. Rain fell in torrents, accompanied by hail stones the size of a marble, which did a great deal of damage by smashing conservatory glass. Trees also suffered considerable damage. A number of houses were struck by lightning, but the damage was comparatively slight.

Frontenac Conservatives.

KINGSTON, May 18.—The Frontenac Conservative Association met in convention for the selection of a candidate for the Local Legislature yesterday. Mr. J. L. Gallagher received the nomination.

Springhill Strike Over.

HALIFAX, N.S., May 18.—A despatch from Amherst says the Springhill strike is over. The difference have been arranged and the miners will resume work on Monday.

An Absconding Secretary.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., May 18.—W. H. Simsrott, the grand secretary and treasurer of the Switchmen's Mutual Aid Association, is missing. Grand Organizer Barrett thinks Simsrott may have been waylaid by persons supposing he carried the order's funds.

Tom Leary Released.

DUBLIN, May 18.—Through the efforts of William Redmond, M.P., Tom Leary, who had been serving a ten years' sentence in Clare prison, has been released. Leary was sentenced two years ago for alleged agrarian crimes.

Will Colonize Siberia.

ODESSA, May 18.—The government has decided to settle 4,400 peasants from Southern Russia and 100 Cossack families in Usuri, Siberia, during the coming summer. The transfer of these colonists will be made entirely at the expense of the government.

Wants England's Mediation.

LISBON, May 18.—Portugal has sent copies of the correspondence with Brazil concerning the refugees to the European powers, most of whom have been consulted as to the rupture. England's mediation has been solicited.

"The flowers that bloom in the Spring" are not more vigorous than are those persons who purify their blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The fabled Elixer Vitæ could scarcely impart greater vivacity to the countenance than this wonderful medicine.

SIRS,—I had such a severe cough that my throat felt as if scraped with a rasp. On taking Norway Pine Syrup I found the first dose gave relief, and the second bottle completely cured me.

SWEPT BY A CYCLONE

Kunkel, an Ohio Village, Almost Wiped Off the Earth.

SEVEN INHABITANTS KILLED

The Village Contained Only Three Hundred Persons, and Thirty of Them Have Been Injured, Some Fatally—Fifty Houses Demolished.

BRYAN, Ohio, May 18.—The village of Kunkel, in Williams county, was almost entirely destroyed by a cyclone yesterday. Seven lives are known to have been lost. Thirty persons were injured, some of them fatally, and more than fifty houses demolished.

Kunkel is a town of about 300 inhabitants in the extreme northwestern part of the state, on the Detroit and Logansport branch of the Wabash railway. Montpelier, Ohio, the nearest telegraph station, was closed when the report came in, and there is no telegraphic communication between Bryan, the county seat, and Kunkel.

Blot on a Race Track.

PARIS, May 18.—At the Long Champs track Edmond Blancs Toujours, the favorite for the Prix Heisait, broke from the course and did not finish. The crowd became riotous. They swarmed down over the course, dragged Toujours' jockey to the ground and began to maltreat him. He bolted and some 200 angry losers gave chase. The police checked the disturbance for a few minutes, but it was renewed at the paddock. The jockey and horse were pelted with dirt and stones, and fully 400 men got into a free-for-all fight. The jockey's friends were worsted, but they got him beyond the crowds reach before he could be injured.

Beat Nelly Bly's Record.

LONDON, May 18.—George Griffiths, who started from London on the morning of March 12 to circumnavigate the world and beat the record of 74 days, held by "Nelly Bly," of New York, has arrived here, having accomplished his feat in 64 days, 11 hours and 20 minutes. Griffiths expected to cover the distance in 60 days.

Henry Tries to Escape.

PARIS, May 18.—La Libre Parole says Emil Henry, the Cafe Terminus anarchist, now awaiting execution, attempted to escape from Mazas prison a few days ago by bribing his keepers. One of the keepers reported the fact to his chief, and Henry is under constant surveillance.

APPEAL FOR A NEW TRIAL.

Robinette, MacWherrell's Counsel, Files His Reasons With the Court.

TORONTO, May 18.—T. C. Robinette filed his reasons for a new trial on behalf of William Walter MacWherrell in the Court of Queen's Bench yesterday. The grounds upon which the appeal will be made are:

That the verdict was against the weight of evidence.

That sufficient new, important and material evidence has been obtained, which, in case a new trial is granted, will establish MacWherrell's innocence.

That the new evidence clearly shows that MacWherrell was in Toronto about 7.30 on the evening of the 14th December, the day he was said to be on Williams' farm.

That the learned trial judge in his charge did not sufficiently lay before the jury the law of reasonable doubt.

That a necessary and material witness, named Harry Irwin, on behalf of the crown, could not be found at the time of the trial, but has now reappeared and will give evidence in case a new trial is granted.

That the learned judge erred in his statement of law to the jury that the possession of the horse and cutter by MacWherrell so soon after the crime had been committed was not only presumptive evidence that MacWherrell had stolen the horse and cutter, but that he also committed the crime.

That no motive in order to fasten the crime on the prisoner has been shown and his conduct both preceding and subsequent to the murder renders it very improbable that he should be the guilty man.

That the bias and prejudice of the people of the county of Peel against the prisoner rendered it impossible to obtain twelve men from the jury panel whose minds were not already either partially or wholly made up as to his guilt.

FRATERNAL ASSESSMENT LIABILITY.

"Can't I get out when I please, and have no liability?"

Most people expect "yes" for an answer to this question, when they say they are members of an assessment insurance society, and begin to think of their responsibilities as such. It is important for them to know that they cannot escape liability; because every member, no matter when he drops out, is liable for any deficiencies that may arise in future, if they were developed during his membership. Here is an instance:

The United Masonic Benefit Association of Missouri was some years ago an active and apparently prosperous assessment concern. It provided no reserve, but offered low rates, cheap insurance, and seemingly hoped that new blood would make up for increasing mortality resulting from increasing age. By and bye its forces began to fall off, not enough "new blood" came in, and the cost of membership ran up in a very uncomfortable way. Presently the healthier lives began to feel their burden pressing heavily and steadily left the ranks, until so few were left in the association that the assessments amounted to $140—one hundred and forty dollars—on each certificate. The remaining members refused to pay such a sum, and the concern failed. But there were unpaid death claims for a large amount due, and the State Superintendent of Insurance thought they ought to be paid. So he began suits at law against individual members to enforce payment of the assessments against them; the court has decided that they must pay. The feelings of those who are thus compelled to pay what they never expected have undergone a change with respect to assessment insurance.

Replying to some enquiries which had been made upon this point of liability, and citing this case illustration of what may be expected in any similiar case which might be pressed to suit, the Insurance Monitor says: "The decision referred to answers our question which has been debated, whether the member's liability is limited to sums which he may choose to pay; in other words, whether he can get out when he pleases without further harm. This he cannot do. Every member, no matter when he may drop out, is liable for any deficiencies which may crop up in future, resulting during his membership. The only safe course for parties that apprehend breakers ahead is to drop their membership before the breakers are reached; and the misfortune of this course is that the faster they drop, the faster the association drives towards the breakers."

There seems to be only one course open for the prudent man who may be determined to avoid possible liability; that is to keep out of such associations entirely and buy his insurance of the regular companies.—Monetary Times.

A Correction (?) Falls Flat.

A paragraph in last evening's issue of the Review stated that the horses attached to the hose wagon, in running away the other day out on Water street near the goosepond, did not run into a tree. This statement is manifestly incorrect, as the horses "straddled" a tree, one going on either side of the trunk which the tongue of the wagon struck. In the Review Driver Lawrence is credited with stating that the horses in question are not "skittish." During the afternoon Driver Lawrence remarked to an EXAMINER reporter that he didn't know what was getting into his horses lately. At one time he had known them to stand perfectly quiet when the wagon turned completely over, while now they tried to get away on the slightest pretext. Fire teams are not supposed to run away just because a wagon in being turned tilts up slightly. After running away a few times a team becomes untrustworthy. No man, if he knows it, will purchase a runaway horse and the sooner this team is given a little heavy work on the town roller the better. If taken in time they may be broken of this bad trick of bolting. An exchange of work for play should be made with the other team.

An Evening with Orpheus.

The band furnished a delightful evening in the Park last night. The grounds were crowded during the entire couple of hours that the band played and it is well within the mark to say that a couple of thousand of the citizens were strolling in the park during the evening. The light furnished was satisfactory to every member of the band—in fact it was so brilliant that it drew myriads of flies to the scene and the head of each musician was surrounded by a halo of gnats, which proved most annoying. The following programme was rendered in a manner emminently satisfactory :

Quick March—Festal .....Jones
Lancers—Round the Town .....Williams
Overture—Children of the West .....Bishop
Valse—May Blossom .....Roy
Selection—La Fille du Regiment.....Donizetti
Waltz—Wedding Eve.....Coote
Galop—Posthorn .....Koenig

The band will turn out on Friday evening hereafter.

A Highly Successful Entertainment.

A very successful and highly entertaining concert was given by the Girls' Missionary Guild in the mission chapel yesterday evening. The children took their parts admirably and reflected great credit on the ladies who have charge of the Guild and prepared them for their performance. If the Guild do all their work as well and successfully as last night's concert, the South Ward Mission must needs be very proud of their little workers. The net proceeds amounted to somewhere in the neighbourhood of four or fifteen dollars. Following is the OFFICERS OF THE SERGEANTS' MESS.

A Surplus on Hand—What will be done With it?—A Boufet or New Furnishings for the Rooms.

The Sergeants of the Peterborough Rangers have elected Staff Sergeant Elcombe, president, and Bugle Sergeant Sharp, secretary-treasurer, of their mess.

At a meeting held the other evening the treasurer announced that the mess had $100 to its credit in the bank, and a big discussion ensued as to how this money was to be spent. A number of the members were in favor of fitting up a buffet de boire in the rooms, but the majority thought that it would be better to expend the surplus in beautifying the rooms and buying new furniture, etc., and in support of their arguments against introducing a buffet into the mess instanced the result which followed under similiar circumstances a few years ago.

It was finally resolved to leave the matter to the officers for settlement after the merits of the case had been laid before them. The sanction of the officers is necessary before the contemplated move could be put into execution.

Sergeant-Major Peters is head of the mess by reason of his position in the battalion, and in his absence the President takes the chair.

The Steamer "Mary Ellen."

Will run an excursion on May 24th from Lakefield to Stony Lake and return, connecting with the G. T. R. morning and evening trains. A special train in connection with this excursion will leave Lakefield at 7.30 p. m. for Peterborough.

Mr. Stratton's committee rooms will be open every night hereafter from 7 o'clock p. m. The daily papers are on the tables, so that those who desire to use the hall as a reading room can do. This announcement is made so that Mr. Stratton's supporters and the supporters of the Mowat Administration can at all times have a place in which to confer and report or exchange information and suggest action in the interest of the Liberal candidate in the West Riding.

ANOTHER PROMISING PROMISE.

There is considerable jubilation which, judging by precedent, is pretty certain to resolve itself into gratitude for favours yet to come—professed over the reception of the 300 delegates alleged to have waited upon the Government at Ottawa on Wednesday to solicit a grant for further work on the Trent Valley Canal. They did not get the grant, and where the jubilation comes in it is difficult to see, for they only got another promise. And a government promise is not exactly an asset convertible into cash. We have one big promise of recent date in mind, and that has gone to protest ; even the bank of the canal wouldn't discount it. This was the promise made by the late premier, Sir John Macdonald on March 3rd, 1891. Of course an election was pending and it would not have done to ignore the true functions of the Trent Valley Canal scheme, from a Government point of view —the making of votes—so Sir John, while taking a rest at Kingston after the fatigues of the campaign, conceived the brilliant idea of helping Mr. Stevenson and, at the same time, promoting a great public work. And Mr. Stevenson's heart was gladdened and the ceiling of the Conservative committee rooms lifted with applause, by the reception of the telegram printed below. The Conservative candidate in signing the telegraph messenger's book, doubtless, felt that he was signing his opponent's political death warrant—for that campaign at least. The telegram was published in the Review with a big scare heading and enthusiastic endorsation as below. The Review's article read thus :—

TELEGRAM FROM SIR JOHN.

AN APPROPRIATION NEXT SESSION FOR THE TRENT VALLEY CANAL—THE GOVERNMENT HAVING RECEIVED A FAVOURABLE REPORT FROM THE COMMISSION, WILL GO ON WITH THE WORK—A GREAT THING FOR PETERBOROUGH.

Mr. James Stevenson to-day (March 3rd, 1891) received the following despatch from Sir John Macdonald, which shows that the Government will go on with the construction of the Trent Valley Canal, which will be a great boon for Peterborough and the whole district through which it will pass :—

KINGSTON, March 3rd, 1891.

"The Trent Valley Canal Commissioners having reported favourably on the completion of the scheme, Parliament will be asked to place in the estimates next session a grant for the purpose.

JOHN A. MACDONALD."

That was pronounced a satisfactory assurance that work on the canal would proceed at once. The electors apparently believed it, for on the day of polling, two days afterwards, Mr. Stevenson, the government candidate, was elected by a large majority ; and Mr. Stevenson himself evidently believed it, too, and publicly staked his political life on the promise being kept, declaring in the opera house on the night of the election that he would resign his seat unless a grant for another section was made at the next session. Mr. Stevenson lost his wager, for there was no grant made or thought of, but the stakes have not been paid over.

Now the Review (in issue of May 17, 1894,) assures us that the delegation was given

"A clear, straight" (were the other promises 'crooked') "promise from Hon. Mr. Haggart that a portion of the work could' (mark the "could") "be placed under contract this year, but on which section" (certainly the section through the weakest constituency) "work would" (could) "be commenced, had not been decided on."

Now, we have had repeated promises of practical work in pushing the Trent Valley Canal construction, but these promises have been flagrantly disregarded and, judging from the juggling and trifling with which the Government have, honoured the canal scheme in the past, faith in any new promise is rather a risky investment. It would be a good thing if the new promise were a bona fide one and meant business. This great work of so much importance and prospective benefit to Peterborough and the country at large, particularly the North-west, should have been built long ago. It is and has been a more urgently needed and useful work than the hundreds of unnecessary public works constructed and public buildings erected, as bribes to constituencies, which have absorbed immense sums of money which, if they had been economically put to canal construction, would have finished a long stretch of that important work—the Trent Valley Canal. The canal should be built, and it will be built, when the Government comes to regard it as a national necessity to the perfection of our internal transport system and ceases to make it a political hydraulic engine to squeeze out votes.

Our Suits at $6.50 and $8.50 for men are marvels of good style and value. Grafton & Co.

NEWS NUGGETS.

—The dandelions are already going to seed.

—That shower which fell last night and during the day was much needed.

—A number of new electric light poles are being erected in Ashburnham.

—For biliousness or liver trouble, Madill's Stomach and Liver Pills are a sure cure.

—Already the air is becoming redolent with the fumes of the bursting firecracker.

—There is a bread war among the bakers in Oshawa, and bread is selling at three cents a loaf.

—The business men of the town are subscribing liberally to the Fire Brigade subscription committee.

—Sand to the depth of half an inch or so has been deposited on the cedar block floor of the armoury.

—Otonabee Lodge, I. O. G. T., meets to-night for practice of team work. Every member is requested to be present.

—The terraced lawn of St. John's church is looking beautiful indeed these days. The grass almost has the appearance of velvet.

—Although the members of the band kicked about the light a week ago Thursday night there is this to be said in its favour—"there were no flies on it."

Destroys bed bugs, cockroaches and other similiar pests, sure as death. What? Post's Corrosive Sublimote, for sale at Lynch's Drug store, 168 Hunter street.

—The new lodge rooms of the Oddfellows are rapidly nearing completion. The walls have been papered and tinted in light shades and "house cleaning" is in full swing.

—Every person having fruit trees with black knot growing on them should have it removed at once. They are liable to a heavy fine if this is not done. Take a look over your trees.

—The Simpson House, Lindsay, has changed hands. Mr. J. McAdam will run the hotel in the future, and the late proprietor, W. H. Simpson, will take charge of the famous Sturgeon Point hotel.

—Residents on Perry street are anxious to know why their brethren on Lake street can have the roadway watered, which they have to take the dust. They would like to see the watering cart up on their street.

—There were only 21 volunteers who turned out for battalion drill last night. Two officers were on the scene, one in civilians clothes, for about 20 minutes. These Thursday night drills are not very popular.

—The Citizens' Band of Lindsay has engaged Mr. A. Brown, late leader of the Bowmanville band, to fill a similar position in that town. Mr. Brown's son Thomas is said to be a juvenile wonder on the clarinet.

—There is a fixed, inexorable fashion in business. It is to advertise. There is a fixed irremediable public habit. It is to patronize people who advertise. If you would profit by the habit you must abide in the fashion.

—In advertising do not over extol the superior quality of your own goods. Self praise will not help your case. Just make plain statements. They have a great effect on a customer. Still, if you have nothing good to offer, dont advertise.

—The man who refuses to advertise his business, saying that he is willing to let trade come to him by natural means, should, to be consistent, walk home from business, cook his dinner over a few embers, and read the paper by the light of a pine knot—if he can read.

—Inspector Breeze has taken the engine out of his little steam launch and will put a larger one in. A sixteen inch screw will replace the 12 inch one formerly in use. Mr. Breeze expects to make about seven and a half or eight miles an hour when he gets his yacht on the water again.

—The Governor-General will visit Belleville on May 29th and 30th. He will receive a yard or so of addresses in the drill hall, will meet the school children at a given point and then the report adds : "He will be driven to the hospital." The reception committee has certainly shown much forethought.—Kingston Whig.

—On Wednesday evening Mme. Rosa d'Erina and Prof. Vontom gave one of their recitals in the opera house, Kingston, for the benefit of the new Infant Home. The audience was the most fashionable one of the season. The advanced sale of reserved seats was unusually large. On Thursday at noon Mme. Rosa d'Erina gave, by request, a private organ recital in St. George's cathedral. Mme. d'Erina sings at Adolphustown to-day and will return to Peterborough for Sunday.

MANUFACTURERS' PRICES

DASHED DOWN WITHOUT MERCY.

10 INDISPUTABLE ARGUMENTS WHY GOUGH BROS. CAN, WILL, AND DO BEAT ALL THEIR COMPETITORS :—

I. GOUGH BROS. Buy the Largest Lots, Sell the Largest Quantities, Get the Largest Discounts, and can afford to make the Lowest Prices.

II. GOUGH BROS. clothe both ends of man—from head to foot. They always give a heaped up, pressed down, overflowing measure of value for every dollar spent in their stores.

III. GOUGH BROS. always keep a "bear" among the Clothing Manufacturers, and make prices dance downwards for the benefit of their customers.

IV. GOUGH BROS. form the largest syndicate of Clothing dealers in Canada. They own Clothing, Hats, Boots and Shoes, secured on contracts, made at prices that cannot be repeated.

V. GOUGH BROS.' buying power commands for their customers the Lowest Prices for everything, whether people know the values or not, and this is the mainspring for the ever-rapid movement of their merchandise.

VI. GOUGH BROS. select the cream from all the manufacturers, in a falling market, for their syndicate of stores. Ceaseless selling means ceaseless supplies, and their command of the market creates extraordinary bargains.

VII. GOUGH BROS. sell Clothing at prices that actually do not represent the cost of labour in making, or the bare material.

VIII. GOUGH BROS. have in stock piles of All Wool Suits made from Auburn Woollen Mill Tweed, which can be bought for less money than was paid for the seven yards of cloth to make the suit.

IX. GOUGH BROS. know that when wheat, cotton and wool must be sold for next to nothing, Clothing must be sold for next to nothing also, and they keep watch for snaps for their customers.

X. GOUGH BROS. have no hankering for being "Manufacturers of Clothing." They can do better. Just as wheat can be bought for 60c. a bushel, at a loss to the farmer, so Clothing can be bought at Gough Bros'. at a loss to the manufacturer.

THE CHEMONG ROWING CLUB HAS BEEN ORGANIZED.

Over Fifty Peterboroughians have Signified their intention of identifying Themselves with the New Organisation.

A new boating club has just been organized for the purpose of taking over the boats and boathouse of the defunct Chemong Lake Boating Club. The latter organisation died a natural death, as the train service was such that the members were unable to get out to the lake in the evening. This year, however, it will be possible to go out by train either at five o'clock in the afternoon or eight o'clock in the evening. A small steamer will meet both trains and convey passenners to the park. It will be possible to return in the morning at an early hour, arriving in town about 7:30 a. m., which will enable the members to go out and spend the night on their island.

The boat and club house is a substantial affair and quite elegantly finished off. It is the intention of the members to provide curtains and cots for their respective boat or canoe compartments and sleep there during the summer nights.

At present the boats and club house are in the hands of a syndicate and the intention of the new club is to lease the entire affair for a number of years. Among the boats are some four oared and double sculls and doubtless some interesting races will be held during the season. The new organization will be known as the Chemong Rowing Club and has already a membership of over fifty. Mr. D. C. King is the moving spirit in the club and among the members he has secured are the following gentlemen :—Messrs. F. D. Mackay, A. H. Stratton, C. S. McLennan, R. Gough, A. Gough, R. Fife, O. B. A Beautiful Display.

All should avail themselves of the opportunity of viewing the exhibit of paintings at A. Clegg's. These pictures are treated in a very able manner, the marine subjects are very good. Mr. Wilkinson's evening effects are charming, full of tender warmth. No. 9, "Murmuring Waters," is very realistic. This is a rare chance to procure some choice original paintings at very moderate prices and we think few of the pieces should leave town. On view at A. CLEGG'S, George street.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER.

ALLEGED BRIBERY OF SENATORS.

Investigation of the Recent Newspaper Publications Demanded.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—The recent newspaper publications as to the alleged attempt to bribe two senators to vote against the tariff bill as to the sugar provisions in that bill, having been inserted in consideration of the gift of half a million dollars to the Democratic campaign fund in 1892, were brought up in the senate and occupied its attention throughout the morning hour.

Mr. Hunton (Dem., Va.), one of the two senators whose votes it was sought to buy, expressed the hope that the matter would be investigated and probed to its depth, and Mr. Harris (Dem., Tenn.,) joined in like request on behalf of the other senator interested.—Mr. Kyle (Pop., S.D.,) absent from Washington. Senator Hansbrough (Rep., N.D.,) presented a letter from the reputed bribery agent, C. W. Butts, also inviting the speediest investigation and denouncing the whole story as a falsehood and slander.

The resolution was finally agreed to without a division, considerably widened in its scope from the one originally offered by Mr. Lodge.

DISSATISFIED WITH AWARDS.

An English China Company Declined Their Diplomas.

NEW YORK, May 18.—Additional evidences of the dissatisfaction caused by the system of awards at the World's Fair in Chicago is furnished by correspondence just received in this city, between the Coalport China Company of England and Sir Henry Trueman Wood, secretary to the British common awards.

Upon receiving the list of awards, the company wrote to Sir Henry on April 24 appraising him of their intention to decline the diplomas and medals awarded them as exhibitors on the ground that "every exhibitor appears to have received an award." In reply, Sir Henry said he had already pointed out to the awards committee that the list "carried its own condemnation on the face of it, since awards were given to amateurs for exhibits of the most trifling character which were equal to those made to the largest and most important exhibitors."

Her Majesty Reviews the Troops.

LONDON, May 18.—The Queen, accompanied by the Prince of Wales and the Duke of Cambridge, journeyed to Aldershot yesterday to witness the annual review of the troops on Lafan's plain. They were received with appropriate ceremony by Gen. Sir Redvers H. Buller, Sir Henry Evelyn Wood and Sir Francis Wallace Grenfell. Twelve thousand troops, under the command of H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught, marched past the reviewing stand. The horse artillery came first, and in order named followed the cavalry, militia and marines. Afterwards the infantry brigades marched in column, the mounted troops trotted and cavalry galloped past the reviewing stand. The lines were then formed [illegible] in front of her Majesty in review order and gave the royal salute.

THE RULING MARKETS.

TORONTO, May 18, 1894.

Bradstreet's latest available supply of wheat in the United States and Canada is placed at 86,718,000 bushels, a decrease of 23,394,000 bushels since January 1.

The bank clearings here this week amount to $5,730,330, as compared with $5,933,622 last week and $5,407,840 the corresponding week of last year.

THE FARMERS' MARKET.—Receipts of grain were limited to a load of oats, which sold at 39c. Wheat is quoted at 62c for white, at 61c for red, and 58c for goose. Peas quoted at 66c, and barley at 40 to 42c.

At the London wool sales 7,500 bales were offered, the better grades being actively competed for. Queensland greasies sold readily to continental buyers and secured wools were in good demand with the home trade and buyers for Germany.

In Chicago another slump in the price of wheat took place owing to the absence of export demand and heavy receipts. The close showed a net loss of 1¼c for the day. Corn followed wheat closing with a loss of ¼c. Oats were quiet. At the close July was a shade higher, whilst May and June were ¼ to ⅜c lower.

Buffalo cattle market reports nothing doing. Tone steady. Sheep and lambs, 35 cars on sale, weak. One load of prime selected 75 pound lambs brought $4.70, but the best of the lambs generally sold at $4.50 to $4.60, with choice 60 and 70 pound lots at $4.25 to $4.40 for the general run of butchers' sheep.

What a Word Will Do.

Byron reminds us that a word is enough to rouse mankind to mutual slaughter. Yes, there is power in a word—Marathon, for instance, Waterloo, Gettysburgh, Appomatox. Great battles these, but what a great battle is going on in many a sick and suffering body. In yours, perhaps. Take courage. You can win. Call to your aid Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It acts powerfully upon the liver, cleanses the system of all blood-taints and impurities; cures all humours from a common Blotch or Eruption to the worst Scrofula, Salt-rheum, "Fever-sores," Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood. Great Eating Ulcers rapidly heal under its benign influence. Especially potent in curing Tetter, Eczema, Erysipelas, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Hip-joint Disease, "White Swellings" and Enlarged Glands.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure permanently constipation, billousness, sick headache and indigestion.

Derby is acknowledged to be the best Plug Smoking Tobacco in the market, 5 10 and 20 cent plugs.

Line Between Halifax and West Indies.

HALIFAX, May 18.—A new steamship line has been established between Halifax and the West Indes, the vessels stopping at Haytian ports and bidding for trade, which is now carried on by the United States merchants. The American consul reports to the State Department that the goods left by the first steamer consisted of fish, flour, potatoes and buckets.

CANADA FOREVER.

Beautiful Views of Our Beautiful Dominion.

In the pages of the EVENING EXAMINER will be found a coupon referring to "Canada," a portfolio of original photographic views of our beloved country. This portfolio is published in weekly parts. Each part contains not less than 16 pages 10x14 inches in size of illustrations and descriptive matter. Twenty-six parts will comprise the series, making altogether upwards of four hundred superb photographic views, covering the whole vast domain of British America. The object of this splendid series of Canadian fine art pictures is to provide the people of Canada with a scenic and descriptive reproduction of the artistic beauties of Canada and the evidences of its resources and material progress—to show Canada's glorious lake, river and mountain scenery—to depict in panorama of photographic pictures the urban and rural life of the Canadian people—to place within the reach of our own people the means of acquainting themselves with all that is notable in the national features of our own country. Every home should have one of these portfolios; they will be a never-ending and perpetual delight to the family, to callers and friends, an ornament to the home, a mine of wealth of scenic beauty and illustration of the resources of Canada. How to get this portfolio. Cut out the coupon printed in each issue of this paper and send or bring it with ten cents to the EXAMINER office. Part I is now ready, and the remaining parts up to 26 will be issued weekly. Only 10 cents a week will give you at the end of the series a magnificent volume of nearly 400 pages. The pictures, 400 in number, are superb, halftone photographs of mountains, rivers, lakes, forests, cities, towns and other picturesque features of the land we live in. Be sure to cut out the coupon and enclose ten cents with it and get series No. 1. Begin at the beginning and don't by delay regret that you are missing this great chance.

Frank Brown says Dodd's Kidney Pills Give Universal Satisfaction—The Reason is They Never Fail to Cure.

SHELBURNE, May 14.—Frank Brown, the well-known druggist here, says: "In the past eighteen months, I have sold 119 dozen of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Considering the quantity I have sold, I have had an opportunity of ascertaining whether the pills give satisfaction or not. I can say, that during my fifteen years' experience in the drug business, I never sold a medicine that gives the universal satisfaction that Dodd's Kidney Pills do. I am satisfied any person suffering with kidney trouble only requires to give Dodd's Kidney Pills a fair trial, and he will be convinced of their wonderful curative properties.

The Best Medicine.

J. O. WILSON, Contractor and Builder, Sulphur Springs, Texas, thus speaks of Ayer's Pills:

"Ayer's Pills are the best medicine I ever tried; and, in my judgment, no better general remedy could be devised. I have used them in my family and recommended them to my friends and employes for more than twenty years. To my certain knowledge, many cases of the following complaints have been completely and by the use of Ayer's Pills alone: Third day chills, dumb ague, bilious fever, sick headache, rheumatism, flux, dyspepsia, constipation, and hard colds. I know that a moderate use of Ayer's Pills, continued for a few days or weeks, as the nature of the complaint required, would be found an absolute cure for the disorders I have named above."

Permanently Cured

"I have been selling medicine for eight years, and I can safely say that Ayer's Pills give better satisfaction than any other Pill I ever sold."—J. J. Perry, Spottsylvania C. H., Va.

Worthless Pianos and Organs

Are made in large quantities, because foolish people buy where prices are lowest, without giving a thought to quality. Any one who thinks will not buy a "Piano at $170, or an Organ at $30, guaranteed for nineteen years," because it is cheap. Any one who thus thinks will avoid learning by experience that it would have been cheaper to pay, say $300, for his piano.

We can furnish an Organ for $30, but we will not. We live here and have to "face the music" this year and other years to come.

DYSPEPSIA CURED BY B.B.B.

MR. GEO. READ.

Read the Proof.

DEAR SIRS.—I write you to say that for some time I had been suffering from acute indigestion or dyspepsia, and of course felt very great inconvenience from same in my general business. I write you because I think that it should be generally known what B.B.B. can accomplish in cases of indigestion.

Yours faithfully,

A FEMALE DETECTIVE.

Two young fellows of good birth, companions since childhood, had set themselves to earn fame and fortune, or the latter at least, in their native place—Albert Musgrave as an artist and Herbert Cadson as a doctor.

Their love for each other was brotherly; yet love proved the gulf which separated them. Both had been fascinated with the charms of a sunny-haired, bright-eyed, laughing picture of beauty.

One morning people were horrified with the report of murder. Musgrave had been shot in his studio.

A revolver was found on the table a few inches from the dead body.

Both revolver and cartridges were proved to have been bought by Cadson within twenty-four hours of the crime. He was known to have been at the house at the time of the murder, as nearly as possible.

The eventful day of the trial came. The breathless hush of suspense was oppressive. Presently a door opened. Twelve men solemnly took their seats.

"Guilty, or not guilty?"

"Guilty!"

* * * * *

Mr. Carter, Herbert's solicitor, was disturbed in his office by a young lady whom he at first failed to recognize as Edna.

Her haggard face; large eyes, looking larger from their sunken sockets. Was this the airy, smiling creature of a few days ago? She had aged years.

He invited her to a seat, then inquired the object of her visit.

"To free Herbert Cadson. He is innocent, and I have discovered the culprit."

"Have you any evidence of your statement?"

"Ample. The murderer has a foot two inches longer than Herbert. He wore a pair of old goloshes with a cut across the left sole. On that night he wore a light suit; the other fellow wore a dark tweed suit, with a red thread, rather a peculiar kind of material, lighter in weight and cheaper."

"How in the name of all that's rational did you learn all this?"

"Thereby hangs my tale. I believed Herbert to be innocent. Knowing the landlord, I obtained permission to see the house. I searched for hours without success.

"Suddenly Fido capered about me with something in his mouth. It was a handkerchief. I took it. A glance made my heart stop—bloodstains. I examined that handkerchief as a forlorn digger would gold dust.

"It was a woman's. It was marked 'P. H., No. 4.' I recognized it and knew the owner. I smelt it. What a peculiar scent! I renewed my search with vigor.

"It was evident the criminal had escaped by the back way. Reviving hope fired me. Inch by inch I scrutinized doors, walls, windows.

"My total discoveries were some threads of cloth torn off while squeezing through a small window, bloodstains on the sash arising from a cut with a rusty nail in the wood, footprints on the ground beneath the window.

"The ground was soft enough to receive an impression. Very close examination revealed a peculiar imprint with a cut across. An inspiration dawned on me—goloshes!

"From these links how could I form a chain? First, the handkerchief. I went to Laycock, the chemist. He ransacked his shop, but could not find a scent like it. I shot an arrow at a venture.

"'You sold some to Miss Harvey, I think?'

"'Oh, yes, I know now; I got that especially for her. I am sorry I have none left.'

"I reeled out of the shop. I was on the track. 'P.H.' were Priscilla Harvey's initials, this was her handkerchief.

"I went straight to her house. During my stay I feigned having lost my handkerchief. She lent me the exact counterpart of the one I had found, save it was marked 'No. 7.'

"I twitted her that I knew she was in the habit of lending her handkerchiefs to gentlemen. She laughed and blushed. I bantered her into confession. She had never lent but one. She told me to whom.

"Now, I had fairly run down my game. How should I get into his house? Providence aided me. I knew his landlady well.

"By dint of coaxing and presents I induced the old dame to let me do as I pleased.

"I wanted to make her lodger a pair of slippers without his knowledge. She offered me a pair to measure. No. I knew he had a pair of goloshes somewhere.

"Buried in a corner of a wardrobe I found a pair. There was a cut across the sole of the left foot.

"I took them to Musgrave's house; they fitted the prints exactly. I have had the scrapings of the sole of the footprint analyzed by the chemist, who says they are identical.

"I have traced the suit of clothes and can prove the purchaser and date of purchase. But one thing remains undone.

"I swore I saw Herbert three minutes after the murder close to the back of the house. As Heroart is dark and the culprit light he must have disguised himself, which proves his design.

"A local hairdresser says he lent the same man some wigs, whiskers, etc., for private theatricals. Certainly no private theatricals have taken place, while he had them before and returned them after the date of the murder, so that they were in his possession then."

"You astound me—a girl like you, with such astuteness. It passes my comprehension."

"Don't you think I have good grounds for his arrest?"

"Certainly. Who is he?"

"Mr. Satley, the curate."

Mr. Carter fairly leaped from his chair with an irreverent expression of surprise.

Then he sent for the inspector of police, putting details into his possession. Two hours after the officer returned to Mr. Carter's sanctum with a somewhat gloomy face.

"It is all over, Mr. Carter."

"What, has he confessed?"

"Yes, in words and action. I was going up to Mr. Satley's house when I saw him coming. He was in a great hurry, carrying a portmanteau.

"Well, I followed him. As I expected he went to the railway station. I touched him and advised him not to buy a ticket; as he would waste his money.

"'God help me! I was mad; it was all for her,' he said in a quivering voice. 'Please do not handcuff me,' he implored.

"'Very well, Mr. Santley,' I replied.

"Just then the shriek of an express whistle made me start. He dropped his bag and dashed across the platform, I after him.

"He won the race—I lost a prisoner. He jumped clean on to the engine, which hurled him off like a football, over and over. His body is lying at the mortuary now."

MRS. BEECHER IN STRAIGHTS.

The Widow of Brooklyn's Famous Preacher Forced to Leave Her Old Home.

Much against her will, Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher has been compelled to leave the comfortable brick house at Hicks and Orange streets, Brooklyn, where she has so long resided. The widow of the noted pastor met with some severe financial disasters in the past year, and now finds herself unable to pay the $300 a year demanded. She has moved into a small flat in the Plymouth apartment-house, on Orange street, near the church where so many years her late husband conducted services. Some time before his death Mr. Beecher picked out the corner from which his widow has just moved. It was then vacant and he had intended to build a home there. Shortly after he died a row of brick houses was built there, and the widow engaged the one on the spot which had met with favor in her husband's eyes. She had expected to pass the remainder of her days there, but financial reverses have now compelled her to move into less expensive quarters. Mrs. Beecher will be 82 in August.

Undying Friendships.

Did you ever notice how you outgrow your old friendships?

Have you ever met an old chum that you haven't seen for a few years? If you have you must have noticed how you looked at her and thought "what in the world did I ever find so very interesting in you?"

And that is probably the same idea that was spinning through the brain of the other girl.

It is quite apparent that your ideals are constantly changing—oh, yes; girls have ideals among themselves as well as among their men acquaintances—and the companion of our school days does not prove quite satisfactory as the friend of our maturer years.

Sometimes it is positively pathetic, this growing away from the old acquaintances of one's youth, especially, when one looks forward impatiently to a visit from some old chum that one hasn't seen for a long time. The disappointment is so great. Taking it all in all, to me it seems to prove that the real lasting friendship is of the colder, more practical kind, and that the proper thing to do is to fight shy of these "undying. I'll-love-you-forever-and-forever" attachments that make you want to be with your chums seven days in the week and every evening.

In the end it doesn't pay, and what can be more pitiful than a friendship that is cold and dead?—Chicago Record.

The Unfailing Success of Dodd's Kidney Pills Induces Fradulent Imitators to Attempt to Pass Worthless Remedies on the Public.

TORONTO, May 7.—This appears to be an age of fakes and frauds. It seems impossible for any new idea or valuable invention to be made known without a host of imitators trying to foist their worthless goods on an unsuspecting public in the hope of making an unmerited profit out of their worthless ideas. The unequalled success of Dodd's Kidney Pills in curing all forms of kidney disease, has led to the introduction of many cheap and base imitations that are worse than valueless. Dodd's was the first kidney remedy ever offered in pill form. For their own safety, purchasers should buy none but Dodd's Kidney Pills. Millinery Critics

Recognize the remarkable freshness and beauty of our stock. Seems almost useless to advertise our Millinery. Ever since the spring reception it has been advertising itself, and a stranger looking in would think each day "first view day." Yet it is right to be courteous to our attractive novelties.

Our Millinery business is always being stimulated, and the wonderful varieties of taste displayed brings us happy visitors and pleased customers all the time. Because many are coming and buying; more will come and will buy.

This growing success proves the public faith—you trust and then you buy. Why? Every advertising word is true—you know it, and are sure to find it always so here.

Mantles and Capes.

The very newest and neatest—all much below regular value. In our collection, remember, there are no old things—no mistakes limping up to roll-call and never getting any further. No. All are favourites. They have 1894 style and goodness about them, and the prices combine to make matchless bargains.

Dress Goods.

Tastes differ, uses are various; therefore the proper Dress Goods stock must cover all sorts or there will be disappointment. Our stock is as nearly complete as we can make it, and, out of prevailing times, have grown prices that were never matched before, and are not likely to be equalled again.

Underwear Hosiery and Gloves.

Fresh lots coming in to keep sizes and qualities suitable to the season. Better than that—prices are going down and qualities going up.

CRICKET.

The cricketers held a good practice yesterday afternoon for a couple of hours, quite a few turning out for the first time this season. Great interest has been aroused over the match which will take place to-morrow between the married and single men. It is earnestly hoped that the members will turn out in force, as it is absolutely necessary that a good practice match of this description be held before the first eleven plays any matches with outside clubs. The first eleven of Trinity School, Port Hope has arranged to be here a week from Saturday and the local club is anxious to open the season with a victory if possible, when an endeavour will be made to make an unbroken run of winning games through the season. Such a feat is not unlikely as the club will be very strong both at the bat and in the field this year. Among those expected out for the Benedicts vs. Batchelors match are; Benedicts, Messrs. R. B. Rogers, Walter Stocker, W. J. Drope, Sam Ray, G. J. Horkins, W. A. Salisbury, F. R. Yokome, Tom Rutherford, H. Strickland, C. McGill, George Hatton, W. H. Wrighton and Dr. Burnham. Some of the bachelors who are expected to take part are Messrs. W. A. Stratton, P. G. Goldsmith, J. H. Burnham, Thos. Allison, C. McKee, W. A. Kenner, Hal. Burnham, Charlie Halliday, Montgomery, W. A. Parker, Billett, Guy Rogers, Wonham and Dr. Brennan.

The match will be called at 3 p.m. sharp and a large attendance of spectators is expected.

THE MARKSMEN.

The Gun club members held their regular weekly shoot yesterday with the following result:

FIFTEEN BIRD MATCH.

Ray	1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1	15
Rutherford	0 1 0 1 1 1 1 0 1 1 1 1 1 0 1	11

5 BIRD MATCH. UNKNOWN ANGLES (GUN BELOW ELBOW.)

Ferguson	1 1 1 1 1	5
Ray	1 1 1 0 1	4
Morris	1 0 1 1 1	4
Rutherford	0 1 1 0 1	3
Dayman	0 1 0 0 1	2
Tivey	0 1 0 0 1	2

In the five bird match, bird flown at unknown angles and gun held below the elbow, Messrs. Ferguson, Ray and Morris made excellent scores as will be seen, Mr. Ferguson getting every bird to which he raised his gun.

The score of Mr. Sam Ray in knocking down all of the fifteen birds short at in the first match was a phenomenal achievement—Sam evidently thinking he was playing cricket, carried out his ba. Campbellford would stand no possible chance against such marksmanship as that.

The members are requested to turn out for practice Tuesday afternoon at 4.30 o'clock. This will be the last practice of the team before shooting the match at Campbellford and it is desired that every be present. A 25 bird match will be shot off.

THE ANGLER.

An Oswego paper announces that Mr. D. M. Kittle, of that place, has lately invented a combination fish hook for live bait which is a simple contrivance and the bait is put on in such a way that a fish striking it cannot get off and is certain to get caught. Mr. Kittle's invention will not find much favour amongst the devotees of the gentle craft, for not only would it put the skilful and unskilful fishers on a par, but it would also "knock out" that class of fish stories which relate to the size of the fish that escape after being hooked. No, no, Mr. Kittle! Anglers won't consent to have the skill, pleasure and romance of their favourite sport destroyed by your dire invention.

BURGLARS BEING CORNERED REFUSE TO SURRENDER.

They Defend Themselves With Pistols and Hold off Their Would be Captors Until They Can Escape.

Norwood has had another burglary committed within the village precincts and the residents are worked up to a fever heat of excitement over an attempt which was made to capture the perpetrators of the theft.

The store of Mr. Wasson was entered some six weeks ago, since which time Mrs. Wasson has been somewhat nervous at night. About 1.30 this morning she heard stealthy steps on the sidewalk and awakened her husband, who cautiously raised the window and perceived a trio of men picking their way silently up the street. When they turned the corner he thought that perhaps they intended entering the store of Mr. J. B. Pearce, which has been burglarized three times within the past week, and accordingly went over and roused the members of that family. Although Mr. Pearce's store had been entered and goods taken, as stated, three distinct times of the fact as it was thought, if the thief was given enough rope, he would be sure to hang himself.

FEW IN THE VILLAGE WERE AWARE

Messrs Fred and Charlie Pearce and Dick Wilson, the latter a clerk in the employ of Mr. J. B. Pearce, immediately rose and going down to the store opened up but could find no evidences of anyone trying to obtain an entry. On stepping outside the door, however, they perceived two men standing in the lane which separated their premises from those occupied by Mr. W. H. Tucker, as a grocery. The three young fellows were just about to make a dash and effect a capture, when the two men were joined by a third who issued forth from the grocery. This addition made the forces equal, but the burglars were provided with arms, and opened fire almost immediately. With much profanity they to attempt to come any nearer. Fred Pearce had a revolver, but it wasn't loaded, and when he pointed it at the depredators the only result was to draw fire on himself and a bullet whizzed by his ear and buried itself in the building. Young Wilson, thinking he recognized one of the party, called him by name, told him he knew him and added that if another shot was fired he would have his life. He then made a rush for his man, but was met by a regular fusillade, which naturally caused him to halt. At this juncture the interlopers broke and ran for it.

As may be supposed, the firing and shouts of the men aroused the village and half the residents were out in the street and the balance hanging out of the windows in a very short space of time. The footsteps of one man were traced to his own doorstep and if numbers count for anything, the amateur detectives who are working on various clues will soon bring

THE MATTER TO AN ISSUE.

This morning it was ascertained that Squires' grist mill and Cummings' woollen mill had also been entered during the night, but nothing of value removed.

Nothing was taken from Tucker's grocery, either, but a well filled basket near the door showed clearly that the thieves would not have gone away empty handed had they not been disturbed. On the safe was found a portion of a kit of burglars tools, in which was an apparatus for forcing a safe—evidently they were just stopped in time to prevent the safe being blown open. Mr. Tucker, however, had sent his money in to one of the Peterborough banks during the afternoon. Although no arrests have as yet been made, the names of some of the villagers are openly connected with the burglary.

Mr. T. Evans shipped a fine lot of live stock from Pontypool Wednesday for Manitoba. The shipment includes thirteen choice shorthorn bulls, one fine Clydesdale stallion, Major Brown, one fine team of heavy work horses, and two Tamworth sows. IT PAYS TO AVDERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

A MIDNIGHT BLAZE.

The Alarm Calls out the Fire Laddies at a Late Hour Last Night.

At 11.10 last night the alarm was sounded calling the fire brigade to an old structure owned by Mr. T. Bradburn, just north of the building formerly utilized as a post office on George street. Twice before this building has been on fire and twice before have the efforts of the firemen preserved it from destruction. Last night, however, it was completely gutted and is now in a state which precludes the possibility of its being rebuilt unless torn down first.

Mr. Thos. Bradburn states that when the last insurance on the building was paid the policy was not renewed, which makes the loss a total one of five or six hundred dollars.

The blaze while it lasted was very bright and illuminated the northern portion of the town most brilliantly, but the firemen, who seemed to be on the ground in the twinkling of an eye, completely deluged the building and soon had the fire well under control. While it lasted the fire was a most destructive one, and it was but a very few minutes before the whole building was enveloped in flames. There was a strong suspicion of coal oil in the air to the first arrivals, and this fact lends strength to the statement of Mr. Bradburn to the effect, that he is positive the destruction of his property is the work of an incendiary.

THE FEES' COMMISSION.

Most of the Witnesses Favor the Present System.

(Belleville Ontario.)

The Ontario Fees' Commission met in the city council chamber this morning and took considerable evidence. All the members were present, namely, Ex-Lieutenant Governor Robinson, Chancellor Boyd, and Messrs. J. I. Hobson, J. J. Masson and Thos. Brooke.

Mr. J. Parker Thomas had no fault to find with the existing system in most respects, but thought justices of the peace should be paid by salary instead of fees, and that medical health officers should be appointed by the Provincial Board of Health. More Inspectors of Division Courts were needed. Judicial and Executive officers should be paid by salary, and ministerial officers by fees.

Mayor Walmsley believed that the appointments should be made by the government of the day, and that stated salaries should be given instead of fees.

Thos. Wills, County Treasures, supported generally the present system, both of appointment and payment of fees, but thought the tariff of fees needed revision, some being too high and some too low. Clerks of the peace and county attorneys had perhaps better receive salaries instead of fees.

Mr. N. Vermilyea, Reeve of Thurlow, favored the present system of appointment. He remembered very well when the License Inspector was appointed by the township council that the matter of the appointment was a question in all the township elections in a very offensive and undesirable way, whereas the present system worked smoothly and satisfactorially to all parties. He was strongly in favor of payment by fees as at present, because the man who does the work gets the pay, and the man who got the service paid for it. Overplus of fees should be taken for public expenses.

William McLaren, Reeve of Tyendinaga, favoured the present system both of appointment and payment. Appointment by county councils would be a great deal of trouble and cause much bad feeling. Some registrars and sheriffs were too well paid.

Ald. Ponton favoured generally the present system. County judges should have something to say in the appointment and supervision of division court bailiffs. The city should have two representatives on the police commission.

Henry G. Bleecker, reeve of Frankford, would retain the present system if some way could be found of giving the farming community a share of the offices, to which they were entitled.

Mr. J. W. Johnson favoured the continuance of the appointment of all of the officials named by the government, as these are provincial, not municipal offices. Efficiency with dignity and courtesy should mark the intercourse of the official with the public and these would not be so well received if the appointment came from any lower source than the province. As a rule we find competent men appointed. A change would be no improvement and if there is no improvement there should be no change. Then there could be no supervision without provincial appointments, as a municipality could not afford an inspector. But he was opposed to the fee system of paying officials. The fee should be paid into the provincial treasury and a salary paid to the officials, who should attend daily at their offices for fixed hours and personally perform the labour connected with it. He did not think the present remuneration of these officials too great.

That Musty Old Carpet.

Oh, dear to our hearts are the sad days of spring-time,
When the annual house-cleaning recurs to our view;
When we sleep on the sofa and eat off the mantel,
In an atmosphere strongly suggestive of glue,
We think of the stove pipe, the soot that came with it,
Likewise the profanity, fluent and fine;
But maddest and bitterest of all recollections
Is the dusty old carpet that hung on the line.

Oh, that dusty old carpet
That fusty old carpet,
That musty old carpet,
That hung on the line!

We remember how, armed with a huge flagellator,
In the morning we bitterly advanced to the fray;
In the muscular pride of our heart little dreaming
That cleaning that carpet would take the whole day.
We sweat and we swore, and our hands badly blistered,
While the sun lent its countenance, warmly benign:
But the harder we pounded, the more it was needed
By that dusty old carpet that hung on the line!

Oh, that dusty old carpet,
That musty old carpet,
That fusty old carpet
That hung on the line.

Busy as Beavers.

The season's Carpet trade is booming right along and sales are more satisfactory than we had expected. The inference is that styles and qualities and values are best here.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT

Government Tinkers With the Tariff While the Country Waits.

THE OPPOSITION ASKS WHY

And the Ministers Endeavor to Hide Their Fault by Charging the Opposition With Obstruction—The Holidays — Bills Read a Third Time.

OTTAWA, May 19.—In the House yesterday Hon. Mr. Daly moved the first reading of a bill from the Senate to further amend the Indian Act; also of a bill from the Senate for the preservation of game in the unorganized portions of the Northwest Territories.

Hon. Mr. Wood moved the first reading of his bill respecting the units of electrical measures.

Mr. Taylor moved that when the House adjourned on Wednesday it should stand adjourned until Monday, 28th May. It was decided to leave the question open until Monday next.

Sir John Thompson moved the second reading of his bill to amend the Insurance Act. The bill was read a second time and referred to the Committee on Banking and Commerce.

Hon. Mr. Foster moved the House into Committee of Ways and Means.

Mr. Paterson said that the reason of so much delay in dealing with the tariff was that the Government did not know their own mind. They were constantly changing the tariff, much to the confusion of trade throughout the Dominion. He complained against the Finance Minister being allowed to change the provisions of the tariff from day to day. He made these remarks that the country might know that the responsibility for delay rested with the Government.

Hon Mr. Foster said that the delay had been caused by the Opposition, who for weeks past had done nothing but obstruct with old, stale and wornout arguments. When these useless discussions were over there was not an instance except one where the Government had not been prepared to go on with the tariff, and had gone on with it.

Sir Richard Cartwright said the delay in the business of the House had been caused by the Government giving ear to the deputations representing the protected manufacturer that had waited upon them.

Sir John Thompson said he wished to call the attention of the public to the object of this demonstration. The Opposition had been under the stress of public opinion and public censure for the way in which they had obstructed the business of the House from the very first day of the session until the present moment. Nobody in the country would be convinced that the Government was responsible for the sham fight this afternoon.

Hon. Mr. Laurier disclaimed any intention upon the part of the Opposition to obstruct. The real reason of the delay was because the Government did not know their own minds.

Sir Charles H. Tupper referred to the tariff which had been introduced by the Mackenzie Government. It had been introduced to the House and two weeks later withdrawn altogether. Never had a tariff been introduced in which so few changes had been made.

Sir Richard Cartwright said there never was a tariff in which so many changes had been introduced.

The motion was adopted and the House went into Committee of Ways and Means.

Leather was the first item taken up. Under the provisions of the new tariff leather and skins, belting leather, sole cordovan, kid, lamb, sheep and calf, were placed at 15 per cent. ad valorem. This was changed to 17½ per cent.

Lumber upon which a duty of 20 per cent. was imposed was changed to take in all lumber not on the free list.

Manufactures composed wholly or in part of wool, worsted, the hair of the alpaca goat, or other like animals, blankets and flannels, overcoatings and felt cloth, n.e.s., were changed to 5 cents per pound and 25 per cent. ad valorem.

Fabrics, composed wholly or in part of wool, worsted, the hair of the alpaca goat, was changed to 30 per cent.

The duty on yarn, woollen or worsted, was changed to a simple duty of 30 per cent. Mr. Henderson urgently advocated adding a specific duty, saying that unless this were done this important industry would be ruined. Sir Richard Cartwright strongly supported this contention.

Ready-made clothing, wholly or part of wool, was made 5 cents per pound and 30 per cent. ad valorem.

Shirts, n.e.s., were made 35 per cent. ad valorem.

Window shades, in the piece or cut or hemmed, were made 35 per cent. ad valorem, but not less than 5 cents per square yard.

Enamelled floor, stair, shelf and oil cloth, cork matting or carpet and linoleum was made 30 per cent., but not less than 4 cents per square yard.

Socks and stockings of all kinds, n.e.s., were made 10 cents per dozen pairs, and 35 per cent. ad valorem.

The slate duty was amended to read that the duty should not be more than 75 cents per square for black or blue slate, and 90 cents for colored slate, when split or dressed only, and school or writing slates 30 per cent.

On the item of mining machinery in the free list Mr. Mara said he wished to see the most liberal construction given to this class of articles, and proposed to add to the tariff a list of articles not made in Canada, which prospectors and capitalists could see could be brought in free.

At the suggestion of Hon. Mr. Foster, Mr. Mara handed his list to the Controller of Customs, who will furnish collectors of customs throughout the country with copies.

These bills were given the third reading:—Mr. Colter—To incorporate the alliance of the Reformed Baptist Church of Canada and the several churches connected therewith; Sir James Grant—To incorporate the Ottawa Electric Light Company; Sir James Grant—Respecting the Chaudiere Electric Lighting and Power Company, limited, and to change the name thereof to "The Ottawa Electric Company." Mr. Sproule—Respecting the Dominion Burglary Guarantee Company, limited. Mr. McKay—To incorporate the Welland Power and Supply Canal Company, limited; Col. Tisdale—To incorporate the Cariboo Railway Company; Mr. Robillard—To confirm an agreement between the Ottawa City Passenger Railway Co. and the Ottawa Street Railway Co.

The Senate bill granting a divorce to Caroline Jane Downey from her husband was read a third time.

Capital Notes.

The examination of Mr. O'Connor was continued before the public accounts committee. Mr. Lister conducted the examination.

L. P. Kribs has issued his report of the royal commission on prohibition. It will be recollected that he was the representative of the liquor trade accompanying the commission, and his report is very interesting. A copy of it has been sent to each of the members.

Mr. T. C. Robinette, counsel for McWherrell in the Williams murder case, is in the city, and will have an interview today by appointment with the premier. Upon new material he will ask for a new trial. Failing this he will endeavor to secure a commutation of the sentence, this failing a postponement of the execution until after the trial of Walker.

Prof. Robertson has sent several large pieces of the famous mammoth Canadian cheese to the House of Commons, Senate and press gallery. The big cheese was cut up in England and a portion sent back to Canada, arriving a couple of days ago on the Parisian. Though over two years old the cheese is of excellent quality. The report that was sent out from England to the effect that the whole cheese when cut was found to be in a state of decay were untrue. Only a couple of inches on the top were spoiled.

SIR CHARLES' REPLY.

The High Commissioner Strongly Defends the Cable Scheme.

LONDON, May 19.—Sir Charles Tupper, Canada's High Commissioner in London, has promptly replied to the strictures of Sir John Pender, chairman of the Eastern Telegraph Company, on the proposed Pacific cable, the subject being treated in a paper read by the former at a meeting of the Royal Colonial Institute. With regard to Sir John's protest against the proposed enterprise receiving any Government recognition, Sir Charles retorts that the evidence is conclusive that the existing companies received substantial state aid, and combats the statements regarding the lasting qualities of the cables by quoting Sir John himself, who stated not long ago that one of the existing cables was twenty years old.

Referring to Sir John's repudiation of the charge of monopoly, Sir Charles quotes Mr. Fleming's report to the Canadian Government, and further supports his contention by recalling the Colonial Conference in London in 1887 where the Hon. Cecil Raikes, Postmaster-General, in addressing the meeting said it was impossible for the Government to recognize any such monopoly as that which the cable company seemed to claim. Sir Charles is emphatic in his opinion that there will be no difficulty experienced in promoting the construction of the Pacific cable on the lines suggested at the Wellington conference.

Sir John Pender is at present absent in France. Mr. Denison, managing director of the Eastern Telegraph Company, to whom Sir Charles Tupper's statements were submitted, says it undoubtedly is the intention to oppose to the uttermost any attempt to secure financial aid from the Imperial Government for the proposed Pacific cable, as it was believed to be not altogether for the country's good that the project was being pushed with such vigor. The benefit to individuals to be derived from the completion of the cable is what causes some people to so strongly support the scheme.

INTERNATIONAL MINERS CONGRESS.

The English Delegates Withdraw From the Convention by Request.

BERLIN, May 19.—The international miners congress adjourned yesterday in great disorder. Delegate Wilson, of England, who was presiding, insisted that the vote of the delegates representing the largest number of miners ought to decide all questions. The German and French delegates protested against this ruling and accused the English delegates of trying to override the congress. Delegate Schroeder (German) declared that the congress would continue without the English delegates, and the latter thereupon withdrew from the hall and the sitting adjourned.

Dun & Co.'s Review of Trade.

NEW YORK, May 19.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: The obstacles to improvement do not lessen. The strikes of coal miners and coke workers have not ceased, but have caused the stoppage of numerous works this week and embarrassment to some railroads. Proceedings in the Senate do not indicate that the latest form of tariff revision has made speedy, final action more probable. Yet the recuperative force of the country is so great that observers are constantly amazed at the volume of business being transacted, the tonnage being transported, the number of works resuming operation, and the general soundness of trade, notwithstanding influences which in any other land would produce dire disaster. Some industries are clearly doing better.

RAILWAY SHOPS SILENT

Unprecedented Circumstance in the History of the Grand Trunk.

ALL BECAUSE OF THE STRIKE

Over Twelve Hundred Men in Montreal Are Now Idle—Mr. Seargeant Talks of the Situation — American Cities Ask About Canadian Coal.

MONTREAL, May 19.—For the first time in the history of the Grand Trunk railway all its fires are out, all its hammers are idle, and all its mechanical employes walk the streets. There have been temporary closings down, reductions of wages have taken place, and now and then strikes have produced temporary dislocation, but this silence in paint, in car, in mechanical and in locomotive shops is the first and oppressive experience to the 3,000 men or more who have been depending upon the company for their livelihood. Over 1,200 men are thrown out of employment and the shops are all closed. There is not likely to be any change until the coal strike is settled.

Coal shippers in Montreal are receiving enquiries from several American cities, but up to the present few orders have been received. A large coal shipper says that the output of the Canadian mines could at present be doubled if necessary. He wished it distinctly understood that the Grand Trunk Company could get all the coal it wanted in Canada. They would be delighted to supply them. It was not fair, he said, that an impression should go abroad that Canada was in any way mixed up in the closing down of the railway's work shops. The mines were not working up to their capacity of last year. There was no fear of coal being dearer in Canada at present. One of the agents of the Dominion Coal Company said that both the C.P.R. and G.T.R. were customers of the company. The C.P.R. bought more than the G.T.R., but the latter had been making enquiries lately. The only difference the strike made to the company was the fact that it had been receiving numerous enquiries since it began.

Another coal shipper said if the strike continued in the States he would import soft coal from the Old Country. He said it was quite in the power of the Dominion Company to divert their coal to the States if it so pleased, as it was merely an American company. He had heard that the company had received one order for 50,000 tons for New York.

General Manager Seargeant, of the G.T.R., when asked the latest in the situation said the most interesting feature to us is how the Canadian railways will be able to keep the traffic going if the strike continues any length of time. So far as the Grand Trunk is concerned we have not been desirous of increasing our stocks of coal at the different points along the system because of the uncertainty of the coal duty and in order to see whether the duties would not be abrogated by joint action on the part of the Canadian and United States Governments, but we had about an average stock on hand and we, to a large extent, have been drawing on it since the beginning of the strike. Pressure in the United States became so pronounced that we found it impossible to get our coal through from the mines, it being confiscated en route by the American road over which it had to pass. The general commercial public need be under no apprehension as to our ability to carry on their operations, but we may want their assistance. It is simply a question of prudence in the face of a possible dire calamity.

Freight Traffic Curtailed.

HAMILTON, May 19.—An order has been issued by the G. T. R. authorities that on and after Monday next no freight, except such as is of a perishable nature, will be accepted for shipment. This action, it is announced, is taken on account of lack of coal. The announcement was received with consternation by Hamilton manufacturers, wholesale dealers and other big shippers. The rolling mills, rail works and sewer pipe works closed down to-day for an indefinite period. The rolling mill people had plenty of coal in transit, but it has been seized by railway companies in the United States.

The Fight Will Go On.

CLEVELAND, O., May 19.—The striking soft coal miners held a final convention yesterday, at which it was decided to continue the fight until the operators agree to restore the old scale. President McBride made an address to the delegates urging them to use only peaceable means to gain the desired result, and to strengthen their lines by extending their organization.

North Waterloo Reformers.

BERLIN, Ont., May 19.—The adjourned meeting of the Reform convention for the North Riding of Waterloo, was held here yesterday. By mutual agreement fresh nominations were made. The following were then balloted upon: C. Bitzer, Berlin; R. Y. Fish, Waterloo; J. F. McKay, Bloomingdale; J. L. Umbach, Woolwich; Alex. Robertson, farmer, Wellesley Township. The balloting resulted in Mr. Robertson being the choice.

Durnan Wins a Race.

AUSTIN, Tex., May 19.—A terrific wind straight down the course made the water so rough that all races were postponed with the exception of the three-mile consolation race for non-winners. The entries were: J. J. Rice, Harry Parker, Fred Plaisted, George Hosmer and Ed. Durnan. The race was warmly contested, and resulted in Durnan's victory. To-day will witness the great four-oared challenge race for $1,000 a side.

Howard Abortion Case.

LONDON, Ont., May 19.—Alva Everett and wife who were arrested here last Tuesday on the charge of attempting an abortion on a young girl of about 18, named Sarah Dove, daughter of a Howard farmer, were arraigned before Reeve Byer, at Thamesville, on Wednesday. The hearing was with closed doors. The prisoners were committed for trial, but were let go on furnishing bail for $1,500.

THE QUESTION OF LICENSE REDUCTION.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—As considerable misconception seems to exist, intensified by interested parties, in reference to the course of the License Commissioners in regard to the extension of hotel licenses in town, you will perhaps allow us to refer to the matter. As empowered by the Liquor License Act, in cases where licenses are not re-issued, the Commissioners granted three months' extension to several hotels. True, the Commissioners did not specify the particular licenses that were not to be re-issued, and in this they felt that they were justified by the circumstances. Unscrupulous persons, with the most flimsy pretext and with no pretext at all, are fond of attributing partizan motives to the Commissioners in the discharge of their duties, and if on the eve of an election we had decided to announce the licenses to be withheld the most unworthy motives would have been imputed, and that licenses were being withheld for sinister reasons and purposes. It is well known that Mr. Winch, the local Conservative candidate, is interested in three hotel properties, the Balmoral, the Palace and the Southern hotels, and that Mr. T. E. Bradburn, chairman of the Conservative Association is interested in the Canadian Pacific, the Hub and the Little Windsor hotels. Now, if it had so happened that the Commissioners had decided (which they have not done, nor have the licenses to be affected by the reduction of number, been discussed or considered) to not re-issue licenses to any of these hotels, it would at once have been said, judging by the way the issue of licenses has been talked about, that we were using our office to strike a blow at prominent members of the Conservative party, especially in the heat of the political excitement existing within a short time of the holding of a general election, but these gentlemen and the public may rest assured that when the licenses are being considered this will be done without any political prejudice whatever. The commissioners, acting as they were, according to the requirements of the License Law, felt that they did not wish to incur the odium of false charges that would be made and decided to defer definite action till the excitement of the moment in political matters had given way to a calmer state of feeling. The public who are really interested in the carrying out of the law, will see that in due course the town bylaw regarding the reduction of the number of hotel licenses and complete separation of shops from any other business will be carried out so far as the commissioners' share of it is concerned, and that no one with a right to complain will have any cause to say that the requirements of the town bylaw in reference to reduction have not been fully met, for at the expiration of the extension the number will be reduced according to the by-law of the town.

The Commissioners being ready and willing to comply with the town by-law regarding the reduction of the number of licenses, when cutting off the number, will also feel it their duty to consider carefully the character of the applicants, their record for compliance with the law, and their general fitness to conduct a hotel properly. All these matters are legitimate subjects of consideration and any person who considers the subject—apart from its prejudices of the party politician, must concede that the commissioners have acted in the wisest way possible, and uninfluenced by any motives interested parties may have seen fit to impute.

Yours truly,

R. GRAHAM,
Chairman West Peterborough License Commissioners.

Lakefield, May 17th, 1894.

"If all the gold in mine or bank,
All earthly things that men call wealth
Were mine, with every titled rank,
I'd give them all for precious health."

Thus in anguish wrote a lady teacher to a near friend, telling of pitiless headache, of smarting pain, of pain in back and loins, of dejection, weakness and nervous, feverish unrest. The friend knew both causes and cure and flashed back the answer, "Take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription." The distressed teacher obeyed, was restored to perfect health, and her daily duties once more became a daily pleasure. For lady teachers, saleslades and others kept long standing, or broken down by exhausting work, the "Prescription" is a most potent restorative tonic, and a certain cure for all female weakness. Guaranteed to cure in every case or money returned. See printed guarantee around each bottle.

RIVER AND LAKE RIPLETS.

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Mr. Fred Cook, the artistic sign writer, has finished lettering and painting the steamer Daisy, which is "out of sight." No wonder Capt. Chas. Calcutt calls her a "daisy." She rides the water like a duck. Both the captain and crew are most courteous. Mr. Cook also had in hand the lettering of the City of Peterborough, which job has just been completed. The letters are in body, black, and are outlined in red, white and blue. They will not dazzle the eye exactly, but will show the public in general that the artist is a "corker."

At a meeting of the Farmers' Institute held at the Morgan House the other day it was unanimously agreed upon that a draft of the programme be made and it was decided that the sports should be A 1, as well as the boat races on the lake. Commodore Calcutt has the programme in hand and intends making it one of the best of the season. No pains will be spared to make the farmers' "at home" a most enjoyable one. The above picnic takes place at Juilee Point, June the 7th.

A cinder from a steam launch which was anchored in close proximity to it caused one of the P.S. & N. Co.'s scows at the Ashburnham dock to burst into flame. However, before much damage was done the blaze was promptly extinguished by the crew of the steamer Daisy. These petty crafts should not throw anchors out near scows.

Mr. R. J. Hartley had the pleasure of sounding the whistle of the new boat City of Peterborough for the first time Thursday afternoon. It has a good blow, and is a most familiar one at home and abroad, and no doubt will attract no little attention when sounded.

A drive of saw logs are enroute from the northern lakes belonging to Fowlds Bros., Hastings. Forty thousand in all are expected to pass through town in a day or so.

Last Friday some of the dead game sports from town had an adventure which they will not readily forget. It seems that they had gone down the river on a fishing expedition some ten miles from town and had set their nets in Squirrel Creek, a mile below Hales' Bridge. Everything went along O.K. until they heard from a distance what they they thought was the approach of Fishery Inspector Breeze's steam launch. (It turned out to be the steamer Daisy bound for Harwood.) They naturally supposed that the Inspector's steam launch was upon them and jumped into the muck, mire and water, leaving canoes, nets, utensils, etc., behind them, and hoofed it home in this truly deplorable condition. Inspector Breeze will be most happy to inform the out-of-date anglers where they may find their canoes, fishing appliances, etc.,—by calling at his uptown office.

Work on the new steamer City of Peterborough is being pushed forward with all possible attainable speed, and she will, by the 24th of May, look like "a picture on the wall."

Trent Valley Canal Superintendent R. B. Rogers visited Bobcaygeon last week, looking into "matters generally" in connection and pertaining to the work being done, and found that the job done by Contractor Kennedy on the lock, was most satisfactory. For some time past the leakage at this point was so great that a winch was required to open the gates. However a pile driver has been deemed necessary preparatory to completing the cut.

THE CAPTAIN'S REMARKABLE STATEMENT

He Says: "Paine's Celery Compound Knocks Out the Medical Practioner."

Encouraging Testimony from a Popular Winnipeg Resident

CAPTAIN DOUGLAS.

It would be a difficult matter to find one hundred people in the progressive city of Winnipeg, who do not know popular Captain Douglas.

The genial and whole-souled Captain is the proprietor of the famous Leland House amongst the best appointed of Canada's modern hotels. The weary and dust-stained traveller, who has once experienced the comforts of the "Leland," and the kind attentions of its worthy proprietor, invariably goes back to the popular house when business or pleasure leads him again to the prairie city.

Capt. Douglas is an enthusiastic believer in the efficacy of Paine's Celery Compound. He daily recommends it to his fellow citizens, when they complain of troubles such as rheumatism, weakness, nervousness, sleeplessness, dyspepsia, liver and kidney troubles and impure blood. The Captain has thoroughly tested Paine's Celery Compound for his own troubles in the past, and says without hesitation that "the great medicine knocks out the medical practitioner." It was through the Captain's influence and strong recommendations that Mr. G. Swain, the well-known C.P.R. station master, of Winnipeg, used paine's Celery Compound, and found a cure, and when the doctors and other medicines had failed to banish his rheumatism.

Captain Douglas, in order to encourage and benefit Canadians, writes as follows:

"It gives me very great pleasure to say a word in favour of your excellent preparation known as Paine's Celery Compound. I was troubled for some time with indigestion and dyspepsia, and a general feeling of lassitude, all of which have been banished after using your Compound. I can recommend it with confidence to all who need such a valuable tonic."

In a later letter regarding his success with nature's health restorer, the captain says:—

"You know well what I think of Paine's Celery Compound. It is a most valuable medicine, and I can truly bear testimony to its excellent restorative and invigorating qualities; in fact, it knocks out the medical practitioner. A person has only to use it to know its worth to the human family.

Through its use I now feel like a boy, and may Paine's Celery Compound long live to go on with its good work. I am pleased to lend my name to the grand work of extending a knowledge of this valuable Compound and can never say too much in its favour and you may be sure I shall never cease to sing its praises."

THE MAMMOTH CANADIAN CHEESE.

Members of both Houses to-day sampled the Canadian mammoth cheese which was exhibited at Chicago last year. Recently the cheese was cut up in London, and Prof. Robertson has had a block sent to Canada. The general verdict of those who sampled it to-day was that it is of prime quality. Samples are being sent out from the Experimental farm to-day to the Dairymen's Boards of Trade in different parts of the country, the following being a copy of the explanatory letter notifying the different boards:

"Dairy Commissioner's Office, Ottawa, May 17, 1894.

"Dear Sir,—A sample block of the mammoth Canadian eleven-ton cheese arrived from London, England, per SS. Parisian, and was delivered at the Dairy Commissioner's office on the Experimental Farm on Tuesday evening. The mammoth cheese—called the "Canadian Mite"—was exhibited at the World's Fair at Chicago last summer. It was made at one of the Dominion experimental dairy stations in Lanark county, Ontario, in September, 1892. It stood in the vast Agricultural building on the World's Fair grounds at Chicago from May until November, 1893. As the building had a glass roof, the temperature was often as high as 95 degrees inside.

"The mammoth cheese was afterwards shipped to England, and was cut up in London during March and April of the present year. Excepting a few inches on the surface, the quality was similar to the sample which was sent out here, and of which I am sending you a piece. This sample was cut from below the middle of the big cheese; and as you will be able to learn from personal examination the quality is still a marvel of excellence, considering its age and the unfavorable conditions to which it was exposed. It amply justifies the reputation of Canadian cheese in possessing good keeping qualities, and utterly refutes the slander on an important industry published by one unscrupulous cheese buyer to the effect that it was 'spoiled' and 'rotten.' The mammoth cheese was a great advertising hit, and to the very end of its career has given good service, and good service only, to the dairy interests and dairy farmers of the Dominion of Canada. Samples of this cheese are being sent to-day to the Senate and House of Commons, to the Press Gallery and to many of the Dairymen's Boards of Trade, where experts will be able to see its condition and quality,

"I am your obedient servant,

"(Signed) JAS. W. ROBERTSON,

"Dairy Commissioner."

GIVEN ONE MONTH TO LIVE.

The Wonderful Story of a Johnville, Que., Miller—Attacked with Inflammatory Rheumatism and Paralysis—How he Found a Cure After Hope Had Been Abandoned.

There are few men, says the Sherbrooke Gazette, more widely known in this section than Mr. A. T. Hopkins, of Johnville, Que. Previous to his removal to Johnville, Mr. Hopkins resided at Windsor Mills and was for three years a member of the municipal council of that place. When a young man Mr. Hopkins was noted for his strength and his activity as a wrestler. His strength stands him in good stead for he works hard at his business, carrying heavy sacks of flour in his mill for many hours during the day. Active as he is, there was a time not long distant when he was as helpless as an infant and suffered intolerable agony. About three years ago, he was attacked by inflammatory rheumatism. It grew worse and worse until, in spite of medical prescriptions, after a year's illness he had a stroke of paralysis. His right arm and leg became quite useless. Sores broke out on both legs. He suffered excruciating agony, and had rest neither day nor night. He sought the best medical advice but no hopes were held out to him by the physicians. "He will certainly die within a month," one well known practitioner told his friends. "He will be a cripple for life," said two other doctors. It is no wonder that, as he says, life became a burden to him and he longed for death to relieve him from his sufferings. He heard of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and determined to try them. He did so, and before long was able to take outdoor exercise. He persevered with the treatment, and is to-day nearly as strong as when a young man, and is able to follow successfully the laborious calling by which he gets a living. Such was the wonderful story told the Gazette by Mr. Hopkins, who attributes his recovery solely to the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and he is willing to satisfy any person who may call on him as to their wonderful effects. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills strike at the root of the disease, driving it from the system and restoring the patient to health and strength. In cases of paralysis, spinal troubles, locomotor ataxia, sciatica, rheumatism, erysipelas, scrofulous troubles, etc., these pills are superior to all other treatment. They are also a specific for the troubles which make the lives of so many women a burden, and speedily restore the rich glow of health to sallow cheeks. Men broken down by overwork, worry or excesses, will find in Pink Pills a certain cure. Sold by all dealers or sent by mail, postpaid, at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y.. Beware of imitations and substitutes alleged to be "just as good."

SIRS,—I had such a severe cough that my throat felt as if scraped with a rasp. On taking Norway Pine Syrup I found the first dose gave relief, and the second bottle completely cured me.

Frank Brown says Dodd's Kidney Pills Give Universal Satisfaction—The Reason is They Never Fail to Cure.

SHELBURNE, May 14.—Frank Brown, the well-known druggist here, says: "In the past eighteen months, I have sold 119 dozen of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Considering the quantity I have sold, I have had an opportunity of ascertaining whether the pills give satisfaction or not. I can say, that during my fifteen years' experience in the drug business, I never sold a medicine that gives the universal satisfaction that Dodd's Kidney Pills do. I am satisfied any person suffering with kidney trouble only requires to give Dodd's Kidney Pills a fair trial, and he will be convinced of their wonderful curative properties.

Golden Wedding.

Mr. J. C. Field, ex-M. P. P., the brother of Mr. C. C. Field, Liberal, M. P. P., celebrated his golden wedding yesterday at his residence, Woodlawn, Cobourg. Mr. and Mrs. Field entertained in a most handsome manner their numerous relatives and friends, who thronged the spacious rooms of his fine old mansion, and received many tokens of the good-will of their friends and congratulations on the happy anniversary. A pleasing feature of the affair was the baptism of Mr. Field's infant grandson, son of Mr. E. C. S. Huyke, barrister, by Rev. Dr. Reynar of Toronto University.

A Painful Accident.

The other afternoon, says the Lakefield News, Mrs. Wm. Copeland, of Hall's Bridge met with a painful, and perhaps serious accident. Mr. and Mrs. Copeland had been down to Peterborough and were returning home, and when opposite the old Walton farm, a flock of sheep, which were lying on the road, started up suddenly and freightened the horse, which instantly shied to the side of the road, throwing Mr. Copeland into the ditch. As Mrs. Copeland could not reach the lines, she had no control over the horse, which by this time was going over the ground at a rapid rate, until it got opposite Mr. Geo. Bickell's place, where it again shied, and pitched the occupant of the buggy into the road, she falling on the road, and being unable to rise, as her left leg was broken just above the knee. Some men coming along shortly after, captured the horse, and the injured woman and her husband were conveyed to the village where the injuries were attended to. It was found that besides having her leg broken, Mrs. Copeland was also badly shaken up and bruised, while Mr. Copeland was badly bruised over the back and otherwise injured. It will be some time before the injured couple will be able to be around again.

NEWS NUGGETS.

—One drunk was fined two dollars and costs by the P. M. this morning.

—This rain, though a cold one, is nevertheless welcomed by the farmers.

—For biliousness or liver trouble, Madill's Stomach and Liver Pills are a sure cure.

—In advertising, contrast plays an important part in display; don't be afraid of "white space."

—Every bird common to this section has returned to look up a new building site and raise another family.

—The Cobourg Sentinel-Star claims that work on the new railway will be undertaken at both ends of the road next month.

—While the cold nights prevail it is feared the blossoms of fruit trees will be blasted. Little or no injury has been noticed up to the present.

—A poet writes: "The chink bug eats the farmer's grains, the bee bug spoils his honey, the bed bug fills him full of pain, but the humbug scoops his money."

—The regular meeting of the W.C.T.U. will be held on Monday, May 21st, at 3.30 p.m. at the residence of Mrs. Geo. Paton, 292 Brock street. All are welcome.

—The outlook for fruit this season is at present bright. Old inhabitants tell us that the apple and other blossoms were never before so abundant or promising.

Destroys bed bugs, cockroaches and other similiar pests, sure as death. What? Post's Corrosive Sublimote, for sale at Lynch's Drug store, 168 Hunter street.

—Mr. John C. Plunkett, designer and wood carver for the Kendry mansion, has left here to accept a similar position with the Great Mills Furniture Manufacturing Co., of Merrickville.

—A young man named L. T. Dean, said to be from Peterborough, was drowned, with a companion, while sailing on Burrard Inlet, opposite Vancouver, B.C., on Tuesday of last week. He leaves a young wife.—Lindsay Post.

—Quite a number of dog cases were disposed of at the police court this morning. Those who had taken out their tags after being summoned were simply assessed the amount of the costs, while others were fined a dollar in addition to the costs, thus making a dog tag cost about $4.00.

—While the miser's money is secreted in a cellar, it is losing interest. The merchant who has goods in stock and fails to let the public know of it, pursues a policy that is equally unsound. In both cases the principal may be secure, but the profit which might be realized is lost.

—The Mail's Winnipeg correspondent says:—Five American companies tendered for the iron superstructure of the new bridge over the Assiniboine, but from the figures published, the contract will probably go to the Bridge and Engineering Company of Peterborough.

—Facts remain, as ever, the most stubborn of things. This being true, no one can find any better or more potent form of argument to introduce into his advertising. Ours is a very practical age, and we really do like to "get down to facts." The advertiser who recognizes this fact scores a point.

—One of our young men while returning home from Peterborough early on Tuesday morning ran into the bridge, owing to the night being so dark? and smashed up a rig belonging to Hendren Bros., pretty badly. It does not pay to go to sleep in a rig while driving.—Lakefield News.

—The local corps of the Salvation Army will run an excursion out of town on July 1st to Sturgeon Point. The picnickers will proceed to Chemong by rail when the steamer Crandella will transport the party to its destination, calling at Bobcaygeon on the way.

—The recuit class was out for drill in the armory last night. An officers class will be started next week. The Sergeant-Major will not allow men to join the Rangers just a few drills before inspection day. He wishes to have the men as nearly perfect as possible and will not have the effects of his work spoiled by a few bunglers.

—The Pullman cars in which the Peterborough Trent Valley Canal deputation returned from Ottawa had to be laid off at this station as some members of the deputation had changed around the hats and boots of the others. Report has it that the atmosphere grew blue and hazy with the sulphurous odor of the invective which was launched at the unknown head of the perpetrator of the joke. A silk tile from Ashburnham come to grief in the melee.

—The Lindsay Post says: Much sympathy is expressed by business men, and by many friends in town and county, for Mr. M. E. Tanguey, furniture manufacturer, whose wife passed away on Thursday morning of last week, after a long and trying illness. Deceased, who was in her 33rd year, was a daughter of the late John McCarthy, of Peterborough. She was highly esteemed by a large circle of friends, who feel deeply for the four little children who are thus deprived of a fond mother's care. The funeral took place Friday morning to the G.T.R. station, the body being taken to Peterborough for interment, which took place on Saturday morning.

CRICKET.

In answer to the prayers of the Benedicts the rain came and relieved them from the awkward necessity of having to submit to being vanquished in the match with the Batchelors, which was to have come off this afternoon. With the exception of one or two, the married men have not practiced as assiduously as the batchelors during the past week, and as the latter have improved wonderfully in form they looked forward most confidently to a victory. The date to which the match has been postponed will be announced next week. The membership tickets are already out, and members wishing to join the club can avail themselves of the opportunity of purchasing one on the grounds any afternoon.

The cricket teams of Campbellford and Belleville came together yesterday at the former town and the visitors met with dire defeat at the hands of the home club by a score of 106 to 32. Mr. G. J. Horkins played with the Campbellford club but only arrived in time to go in as last man. He carried out his bat for 12 runs.

In a match between Milbrook and Cobourg, Saturday, the latter team won by 8 wickets.

BASEBALL.

The following teams represented the wine clerks and the printers in a game of baseball at Riverside Park yesterday afternoon:

Wine clerks—Drain, c.; Burdick, p.; Patterson, 1st b.; Connors, 2nd base.; Collins, 3rd b.; Carroll, s. s.; Nelson, r. f.; Holland, l. f.; P. Blain, c. f.

Printers—Canning, c.; White, p.; Paxman, 1st b.; McCabe, 2nd b.; Dobbin, 3rd b.; McWilliams, s. s.; Nott, l. f.; Duncan, c. f.; Jamieson, r. f.

Umpire—W. Metheral.

At the conclusion of the third innings the printers were ahead, but the wine clerks changed their pitcher, putting Holland into the box. The printers were completely puzzled by his speedy delivery and could not find him or get their eye on the ball. The consequence was that in the two succeeding innings the printers at the bat went out in one, two, three order, while the score of their opponents crept up to 13, overtopping that of the typos by four runs.

McCabe was then then put into the box for the printers, but the "whisky nine" refused to continue the game, if a change in pitcher was made, and thus forfeited the game according to Rule 25, sec. 2 of Spalding's Baseball Guide. The rule reads that a game is forfeited "if, after the game has began, one sides refuses or fails to continue playing unless such game has been suspended or terminated by the umpire." Thus the game goes to the printers. It is unfortunate that the fun should have a termination of this sort, as doubtless no more games will be played. The wine clerks hold that they only matched themselves against the printers on the condition that McCabe was not allowed in the box, whereas the printers disclaim any knowledge of such an arrangement. Even supposing the statement of the wine clerks is correct regarding this proviso, it could not hold good unless the umpire had knowledge of the arrangement. In this case he knew nothing of it.

Local baseball circles were ruffled on Monday, says the Cobourg Star, when it was learned that Malone, the Cobourg catcher last year, had signed with the Cobourg team for 1894, in the morning and with Port Hope the same afternoon. His action has disqualified him from playing with either team, and if Port Hope plays him knowing he has not been released by Cobourg, that club will be liable to disqualification. Port Hope's sharp game is no credit to them, and as for Malone, his chances on the diamond for this year are ruined. Malone will not be released by Cobourg, and we'll see where his foolish conduct will land him." Cobourg is served "just right" in this instance. If the people of that village haven't sense enough to fight shy of the Port Hope sporting element, they should be prepared for all kinds of trickery and "low down" business.

FOOTBALL.

The return match between the football team which the Collegiate Institute boys played a draw with at Keene, some few Saturdays ago, has been announced to take place this afternoon in the Agricultural grounds, weather permitting.

Telfordian Temperature Topics.

Saturday, May 19.—I thought it strange the halos and caronas we had four times around sun and moon did not bring rain, but the riddle is solved when we learn of the storms and floods in the western and north-western States, no doubt bringing us a lower temperature which may continue for some time. At yesterday morning's observation the thermometer registered 50 degrees above, 1 p.m. 52, at night 48 degrees, very low, although uniform, and this morning it only indicated 38 degrees above zero and stormy.—THOMAS TELFORD.

Coutts' Acid Cure.

This old country remedy is now being pushed vigorously throughout Canada, and the proprietors evidently intend to make their treatment as well known here as it is in Europe and Australasia. As a simple but effectual household remedy Acetocura has no equal, and its marvellous efficacy in rheumatism and nervous diseases, as in many minor complaints, explains the readiness with which it sells. Mr. H. S. Macdonald, druggist, has been appointed special agent here, and he is displaying Messrs. Coutts' preparation most prominently in his window. We would recommend any who suffer from acute or chronic diseases to get a pamphlet from the agent, buy a bottle, and sponge, on handle, and cure themselves. Even in chronic cases, patience and regular application is all that is required to effect a cure. The testimonials at the end of the pamphlet from prominet clergymen and others in Toronto sufficiently prove this.

Between 200 and 300 men in London are out of work, owing to the G. T. R.'s order which came into force yesterday.

The men thrown out of work by the closing of the G.T.R. shops claim that the true cause is the prevailing commercial depression and not the scarcity of coal.

A BIG BENEFIT CONCERT.

A Crowded House and an Excellent Programme.

The benefit concert to Mrs. Seward last night was a great success, not only in the financial outcome, represented by the crowded gathering that packed the opera house, but in the popular demonstration of respect to the memory of the late Mr. Seward, and a popular tribute to the great service he has rendered the cause of music in Peterborough. The programme presented was an excellent one, the performers, doubtless, having in memory one of the most thorough musicians that ever lived in Peterborough, were keyed up to a concert pitch, and seemed to be at their best and, having a sympathetic and appreciative audience, the result was most satisfactory. The programme opened with a brilliantly rendered pianoforte solo by Mr. Croombs, who also opened the second part of the programme with another well presented solo. Master Everett Hall made his debut as a whistling soloist and really distinguished himself by his excellent production of "The Mocking Bird," and, later, the "Whistling Coon." He has a fine "mouth" organ and uses it with great skill. He was heartily encored for his "Whistling Coon." Mr. Mulligan, the new choirmaster of St. Andrew's church, the possessor of a fine baritone voice which he uses in a manner to give evidence of careful culture, sang the exacting selection, "Honour and Arms" from the oratorio of Sampson. Mr. Mulligan's first appearance in Peterborough was a triumph for him. He was recalled after his first number and twice recalled after his second selection. Miss Lily Jackson's first well sung number, "Bright Star of Dawn," was a fine piece of vocalization, and her second was "La Gitana." This was admirably sung and was rewarded with an encore. Miss Fawcett again scored her invariable successes in her two numbers, "The Fairies" and the "Golden Argosy." Her encore numbers were also splendidly sung. Mr. Crooms also sang with excellent expression two fine songs and was worthily rewarded with encores. His second number, "Bright Eyes," was sung with especially fine effect. Mr. R. A. Shaw never sang in Peterborough in better voice and with better effect than he did last night. His selections, two old, simple, but sweet, ballads, were given with great expression and force where force was required. They were "Bonnie Prince Charlie" and "The Minstrel Boy." Mr. Shaw sang excellently and the highly pleasing effect of his singing was much aided by the graceful and sympathetic accompaniments of Miss Annie Sproule, a favourite pupil of the late Mr. Seward. Mr. H. LeBel satisfactorily accompanied Mr. Croom's solos, while Mr. Fred Clarke supplied the other accompaniment with the exquisite taste and expression that characterizes his always satisfactory work as an accompanist.

Mr. R. A. Shaw had charge of the concert and announced the several numbers of the programme, to keep down expenses no programmes having been printed. Mr. Shaw's action in arranging this concert shows that his heart is in the righ place and the success of the musical programme is creditable to his musical perception. For the inception and arrangement of this highly successful benefit concert, both musically and financially, Mr. Shaw deserves the thanks not only of the person directly concerned but of the general public who were provided with such an enjoyable medium of expressing their practical sympathy on the occasion. The audience that filled the opera house, representing all social conditions and all creeds, shows that selfish self containment is not a characteristic of the citizens of Peterborough.

MANUFACTURERS' PRICES

DASHED DOWN WITHOUT MERCY.

10 INDISPUTABLE ARGUMENTS WHY GOUGH BROS. CAN, WILL, AND DO BEAT ALL THEIR COMPETITORS:—

I. GOUGH BROS. Buy the Largest Lots, Sell the Largest Quantities, Get the Largest Discounts, and can afford to make the Lowest Prices.

II. GOUGH BROS. clothe both ends of man—from head to foot. They always give a heaped up, pressed down, overflowing measure of value for every dollar spent in their stores.

III. GOUGH BROS. always keep a "bear" among the Clothing Manufacturers, and make prices dance downwards for the benefit of their customers.

IV. GOUGH BROS. form the largest syndicate of Clothing dealers in Canada. They own Clothing, Hats, Boots and Shoes, secured on contracts, made at prices that cannot be repeated.

V. GOUGH BROS.' buying power commands for their customers the Lowest Prices for everything, whether people know the values or not, and this is the mainspring for the ever-rapid movement of their merchandise.

VI. GOUGH BROS. select the cream from all the manufacturers, in a falling market, for their syndicate of stores. Ceaseless selling means ceaseless supplies, and their command of the market creates extraordinary bargains.

VII. GOUGH BROS. sell Clothing at prices that actually do not represent the cost of labour in making, or the bare material.

VIII. GOUGH BROS. have in stock piles of All Wool Suits made from Auburn Woollen Mill Tweed, which can be bought for less money than was paid for the seven yards of cloth to make the suit.

IX. GOUGH BROS. know that when wheat, cotton and wool must be sold for next to nothing, Clothing must be sold for next to nothing also, and they keep watch for snaps for their customers.

X. GOUGH BROS. have no hankering for being "Manufacturers of Clothing." They can do better. Just as wheat can be bought for 60c. a bushel, at a loss to the farmer, so Clothing can be bought at Gough Bros'. at a loss to the manufacturer.

A STRAIGHT BID FOR VOTES

Seems to be the Way the Trent Valley Scheme is Being Worked—Sir John Thompson Wants Substantial Support in Return for the Governments "Promises."

The following is the Globe's report of the interview of the Trent Valley Deputation. From the straight manner in which Sir John Thompson makes a bid for votes it is plain that Mr. Poussette will continue to have to complain, as he remarked at Ottawa, that it was cast up to the promoters of the work that it a was "nothing but a political dodge." The Government have made a political tool of the Trent Valley Canal for years and they have fooled the electors during the same period. If the Government means business there is plenty of chance for making good their intentions. It is not "promises" but business that is wanted. The Globe says:—

The scheme for a navigable channel connecting Georgian Bay with Lake Ontario, known as the Trent Valley Canal, was revived to-day by the presence of a large deputation consisting of about 300 delegates from various towns and townships along the route of the canal. A dozen counties were represented, and all the Parliamentary representatives whose constituencies are interested in the affair were on hand in force. Mr. James Stevenson, M.P., was chosen chairman of the meeting, which convened in the Railway Committee room of the House of Commons. Sir John Thompson, Hon. J. G. Haggart and Hon. Mr. Bowell met the delegates. Mr. Carnegie, ex-M.P.P., of Peterborough, was the first speaker. He was the Secretary of the Trent Valley Commission, because one of the shifts and delays resorted to by the Government to keep this matter dangling before the electors from one general election to another was a royal commission. Mr. Carnegie referred to the report of the commission as having been made just before the last general election. Two days before the election Sir John Macdonald sent a telegram to Mr. Stevenson promising a grant at next session. In view of the feeling that it was a Trent Valley Government, that section has returned fifteen members to support the Government. Mr. Carnegie, who is a strong Conservative, stated that these promises were circulated on the eve of the general election "with a view of influencing the electors."

There were a number of other speakers, who urged the Government to make a substantial grant this session. They told the Government that they were really in earnest and wished the scheme to be regarded as something beside a political dodge. Mr. Pousette, member of the Board of Trade at Peterborough, complained that it was cast up to them that it was "nothing but a political dodge."

Sir John Thompson listened and once in a while laughed to himself softly as he was told by one speaker after another that all the Government required to do to secure fifteen supporters in the next election was to vote a sum of money.

In reply, Mr. Haggart declared himself a believer in the work. The first cost of the canal was estimated at between five and six millions, but a revised estimate placed it at four million dollars. It was his intention to put a portion of the work under contract this fall. This statement was loudly cheered. He believed the Government should carry out the promise made before the last general election, and if the Conservative Government remained in power the Trent Valley Canal would some day be completed.

Sir John Thompson said that Mr. Haggart spoke the sentiments of the whole Government. He said he had heard of the many who were present. In the plainest possible manner the Premier conveyed the idea that, while the Government were willing to start the work seriously, it was contingent on their securing the votes of the people to be benefitted by the expenditure. The same idea ran through Mr. Haggart's speech, and was manifest by his saying that if the Conservative Government was retained in office the canal would be completed.

Rev. W. A. Newcombe,

Thomaston, Maine writes: Suffering from indigestion when in Nova Scotia a year ago, a package of K.D.C. was given me. I cheerfully acknowledge that the effect of the remedy in curing the trouble was very marked and prompt, as well as lasting.

CONCERNING CANADA'S FUTURE.

The London Times' Article on Our Relations With Britain.

LONDON, May 19.—The Times to-day comments editorially on the series of articles concerning Canada, which it has published recently. The writer says:

"It seems manifest that of the large problems on the successful solution of which the future of the British Empire will depend, there are very few which are not more or less directly illustrated by Canadian experience, and the probable solutions that Canada will find, whether for good or evil, will largely affect the organic structure of the empire. It is certain that the influence of Canada on the international relations of Great Britain and the United States have tended more than anything else to a peaceful settlement by arbitration of questions which, under less favorable conditions, might have proved intractable to diplomacy. It is not, perhaps, altogether fanciful to surmise the beneficent results achieved in this direction. Possibly they will be the germ of future developments almost too vast and far-reaching for the political imagination of living men to conceive. What may be the future of Canada's relations to the United States on the one hand, and to Great Britain on the other, no man can yet say; but none can doubt that the problem here propounded is big with the fate of untold generations."

The Samoan Question.

LONDON, May 19.—Sir George Grey, ex-Premier of New Zealand, in an interview in the Pall Mall Gazette, expresses the opinion that the annexation of the Samoan Islands to the colony would be to the benefit of the former. He thinks that German acquisition of the islands should be distasteful to the United States, because of the menacing position it would occupy to their Pacific coast.

Killed in a Boxing Match.

LONDON, May 19.—A boxing match with five-ounce gloves took place at Aberdare, Wales, when one of the competitors, a young man named Rees, was knocked over the ropes and received a fracture of the skull, from which he died, in a few minutes. Rees' opponent was arrested on a charge of murder, and seventeen of the attendants were taken.

J. O. WILSON, Contractor and Builder, Sulphur Springs, Texas, thus speaks of Ayer's Pills:

"Ayer's Pills are the best medicine I ever tried; and, in my judgment, no better general remedy could be devised. I have used them in my family and recommended them to my friends and employes for more than twenty years. To my certain knowledge, many cases of the following complaints have been completely and by the use of Ayer's Pills alone: Third day chills, dumb ague, bilious fever, sick headache, rheumatism, flux, dyspepsia, constipation, and hard colds. I know that a moderate use of Ayer's Pills, continued for a few days or weeks, as the nature of the complaint required, would be found an absolute cure for the disorders I have named above."

Permanently Cured

"I have been selling medicine for eight years, and I can safely say that Ayer's Pills give better satisfaction than any other Pill I ever sold."—J. J. Perry, Spottsylvania C. H., Va.

Worthless Pianos and Organs

Are made in large quantities, because foolish people buy where prices are lowest, without giving a thought to quality. Any one who thinks, will not buy a "Piano at $170, or an Organ at $80, guaranteed for nineteen years," because it is cheap. Any one who thus thinks will avoid learning by experience that it would have been cheaper to pay, say $800, for his piano.

We can furnish an Organ for $30, but we will not. We live here and have to "face the music" this year and other years to come.

DEAR SIRS.—I write you to say that for some time I had been suffering from acute indigestion or dyspepsia, and of course felt very great inconvenience from same in my general business. BLEW A FIERCE GALE

Awful Havoc Created on Lake Michigan by the Storm.

MANY SAILORS ARE DROWNED

Several Schooners and Smaller Vessels Go to the Bottom—Exciting Scenes of Rescue—A Kingston Boy Saved from a Watery Grave.

CHICAGO, May 19.—Lake Michigan has not been lashed and churned for months as it was yesterday by the fierce wind that has been sweeping down from the north for the past thirty-six hours. Twelve or fifteen lives have been lost along the shore of this city and its suburbs. The only other point reporting loss of life is Milwaukee, where six of the schooner Cummings' crew were drowned before they could be rescued by the life-saving crew. Half a dozen schooners and smaller craft foundered off this city during the day, a score or more are dismantled and stove in in making an almost hopeless fight against the gale and the huge waves that every few minutes swept over them, endanger the lives of those who are still on board.

At least thirty vessels are anchored outside the harbor waiting for the storm to subside. All are more or less damaged, and the signals of distress that have appeared among them from time to time during the day have kept the life savers busy. Twenty-five or thirty men have been brought in all exhausted and suffering immensely from the exposure and cold. In several cases help has arrived too late and a corpse was found among the half conscious sailors.

The John Loomis McLaren, which had been riding at anchor about a mile out, parted her chains and commenced to come for the shore at Twenty-ninth street. Darkness was coming on, but it was seen that eight men were clinging to the rigging. The boat was carried on to the piling. She rebounded like a rubber ball, while another wave came sweeping over the rigging. In the meantime the life saving crew, reinforced by half a dozen of their men, had made ready their lines. The first rocket took effect, and one by one the men were brought ashore.

In the evening the lumber fleet, about two miles out, was throwing out distress rockets and was apparently coming ashore. About the same time the schooner Myrtle was seen drifting ashore near 29th street. Six half-frozen men were clinging to the rigging. The life-saving crew was busy a mile away and could give no assistance. Nine officers with plenty of ropes were on the shore, but having no rockets with which to cast their lines they could not help the doomed sailors. The captain, whose name is Warner, was the first to go. A huge wave swept him overboard and he was not seen again. The schooner had drifted to 34th street when her mainmast was carried away, taking with it as it fell one side of the cabin. Deprived of this shelter, the remaining sailors were washed overboard one by one until but one was left. He took off his clothes during a lull in the storm and jumped overboard, striking out for the shore. He had gone but a few yards, however, when he was carried under by the waves and did not reappear. The schooner foundered 200 feet off 35th street.

One member of the crew, Reinardson, had broken his arm and was unable to reach the lifeboat. The crew climbed into the boat and floated to within 200 feet of shore when it was overturned for the third time. The men, with the aid of their life preservers, floated ashore. The life saving crew went out again and finally managed to reach the boat. Only three members of the crew, numbering seven in all, could be seen still clinging to the rigging, and Frank Guardin of the life saving crew had also been able to hold on. Two of those above water were dead and were not brought to shore. The only two finally saved were Robert Patterson, of Buffalo, whose parents live in Kingston, Ont., and Frank Guardis, member of the life-saving crew. The six dead are: Capt. McCullogh, 35 years old, single, Oswego; Mate Tom Bessot, of Buffalo; Thomas Tercott, Kingston; two unknown sailors from Buffalo; unknown woman cook from vicinity of Toronto.

Forty lives were saved by the crews of the life saving boats and the tugs of the Chicago company during the day. At midnight the velocity of the wind was 45 to 50 miles an hour. The members of the various life saving crews and the officers from the police stations on the south side of the city are patrolling the beach.

DESPERATE SMUGGLER CAPTURED.

Government Cruiser Constance Makes a Good Haul.

QUEBEC, May 19.—The Government cruiser Constance has fallen in lately with a suspicious schooner and put the grapplings to her. Yesterday the Constance was observed sailing into port with a prize, a deeply laden fore and aft schooner. The correspondent boarded her at once and Capt. May, the commander of the Constance, readily gave him the information required.

Wednesday evening the lookout man reported a schooner south-eastward. The wind was abeam, so that the craft, having slack sheets, scampered away nicely. The Constance was then standing northward of the schooner at equal distance from Seven Islands and the south-west point of Anticosti. The steamer bore down on her and hailed the suspicious craft. No one would answer satisfactorily. There seemed to be no master on board of her.

Captain May put out a boat with a crew of five men. This was the boarding party. The boat pulled up close to the schooner, and the first officer of the Constance, who was in charge of the boat, hailed the captain of the schooner to heave-to. No one on board of the suspected smuggler heeded the officer's command. The boat tried to pull close to the schooner, but the craft boarded its fore and aft sheets inboard and stood towards the reef-bound shores of the Anticosti close hauled. The boat now having a head sea on could not reach the schooner so that the Constance had to take the boat in tow and drop her ahead of the smuggler. This time the boat managed to reach the smugglers' side, but a resolute set of men, all of whom were animated with fighting disposition, lined the lee rail.

The Constance's men boarded her, nevertheless, and received wounds from an axe wielded by a sailor who seemed bent on destruction. One of the Constance's sailors was wounded on the back of the head, two pieces of skin being cut off. Others were more or less wounded or scratched. One of the sailors of the Constance who was put in charge of the schooner alongside of the wharf said he did not believe that the smugglers intended to kill anyone. The cargo is worth about $5,000. It consists of twenty-eight barrels of alcohol and forty cases of brandy and rum. Captain May has taken warrants against the men in charge of the schooner. Captain Philelem Biouin, a well-known smuggler, was found on board. He is believed to be the skipper of the smuggler.

Eloped With His Employer's Wife.

BERLIN, May 19.—Clemence Schrieber, managing clerk in the employ of a prominent lawyer, has absconded in company with the lawyer's wife, who has been living apart from her husband. It is understood that the couple have gone to New York. Schrieber also took with him a bank book belonging to his employer's mother, which he abstracted from the safe and upon which he drew 1,000 marks.

Confiscated the Poachers.

AMHERSTBURG, May 19.—Deputy Marshal Campbell, of Windsor, confiscated the seized boats Leroy Brooks and Visitor by order of Deputy Minister of Justice, at Ottawa. They cannot be bonded. The owners will have to apply to the Admiralty Court for redress.

Killed Near Campbellford.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 19.—William Varcoe, of Seymour East, was suddenly killed while at work on a roller. The seat gave way and he fell backwards breaking his neck. Death was instantaneous.

THE RULING MARKETS.

TORONTO, May 19, 1894.

The earnings of the Canadian Pacific for the second week of May decreased $21,000.

The clearings of Winnipeg banks for the week were $778,042, as against $837,572 the previous week.

Clearings of Montreal banks this week were $11,373,500, as compared with $11,945,080 the same week last year.

THE FARMERS' MARKET.—Business dull, with a sale of a load of white wheat at 61c. Red is quoted at 60c and goose at 58c. One load of oats sold at 39c. Barley is quoted at 40c to 42c and peas at 66c.

Chicago wheat market opened weak, but soon revived on reports of cold weather in the southwest. Corn made a slight gain from yesterday on storm reports. Oats were steady. Receipts to-day: Wheat 80 cars, corn 500 cars, oats 250 cars, hogs 12,000.

Buffalo cattle market reports local trade limited to a few lots of oxen and cows, which were taken at weak former prices. Sheep and lambs, 60 cars on sale; 5 to 10c lower for lambs. Good to best wethers, $4 to $4.40. Good to fancy lambs, $4.25 to $4.50. Good to best spring lambs, $5.50 to $7.50.

The bear campaign at the New York stock exchange made further progress. Sales of stocks were the heaviest for any one day this week. The bearish feeling was in the ascendant, the engagement of gold for export and the steady depreciation in the price of wheat having had an adverse influence. Manhattan and Sugar were the special cards.

The Unfailing Success of Dodd's Kidney Pills Induces Fradulent Imitators to Attempt to Pass Worthless Remedies on the Public.

TORONTO, May 7.—This appears to be an age of fakes and frauds. It seems impossible for any new idea or valuable invention to be made known without a host of imitators trying to foist their worthless goods on an unsuspecting public in the hope of making an unmerited profit out of their worthless ideas. The unequalled success of Dodd's Kidney Pills in curing all forms of kidney disease, has led to the introduction of many cheap and base imitations that are worse than valueless. Dodd's was the first kidney remedy ever offered in pill form. For their own safety, purchasers should buy none but Dodd's Kidney Pills. Millinery Critics

Recognize the remarkable freshness and beauty of our stock. Seems almost useless to advertise our Millinery. Ever since the spring reception it has been advertising itself, and a stranger looking in would think each day "first view day." Yet it is right to be courteous to our attractive novelties.

Our Millinery business is always being stimulated, and the wonderful varieties of taste displayed brings us happy visitors and pleased customers all the time. Because many are coming and buying; more will come and will buy.

This growing success proves the public faith—you trust and then you buy. Why? Every advertising word is true—you know it, and are sure to find it always so here.

Mantles and Capes.

The very newest and neatest—all much below regular value. In our collection, remember, there are no old things—no mistakes limping up to roll-call and never getting any further. No. All are favourites. They have 1894 style and goodness about them, and the prices combine to make matchless bargains.

Dress Goods.

Tastes differ, uses are various; therefore the proper Dress Goods stock must cover all sorts or there will be disappointment. Our stock is as nearly complete as we can make it, and, out of prevailing times, have grown prices that were never matched before, and are not likely to be equalled again.

Underwear Hosiery and Gloves.

Fresh lots coming in to keep sizes and qualities suitable to the season. Better than that—prices are going down and qualities going up.

MR. STRATTON'S FIRST MEETING.

A Large Attendance Greets His Initial Appearance.

THE SCHOOL ROOM WELL FILLED.

The Farmers of North Monaghan Turned out in Large Numbers to hear the First Shot Fired From the Campaign Gun—Some Convincing Statements by Mr. W. H. Murray Were Driven Home by the Local Representative.

Mr. J. R. Stratton, M. P. P., addressed the members of North Monaghan last night in the school-house near the recently burned Grange Hall, and the boom of the initial gun of the campaign which he touched off will continue to reverberate until the evening of June 28th, when with the assistance of the supporters of an honest and above-board administration he will be triumphantly returned to again represent the riding of West Peterborough.

The attendance of electors was large and throughout the evening the closest attention was paid to the array of facts which both Mr. Murray and Mr. Stratton presensed to the attention of those present.

Mr. John Fowler was asked to take the chair and called upon Mr. W. H. Murray, of the firm of Edwards & Murray, to address the meeting.

In opening, Mr. Murray stated that, with the exception of a few details, of the sound legislation of the past 22 years there was little which he would bring before the meeting regarding the

LABORS AND TRIUMPHS

of the administration of Sir Oliver Mowat. The record was open and investigation was courted. There was no better test of a government than a scrutiny of the manner in which the finances were administered. The surplus of the Ontario Government was at present $6,000,000, which he considered a grand showing as compared with that of the province of Quebec, for example, which had a debt of $25,000,000 hanging over it. Both provinces started with a clear sheet together in 1867—

COMMENT WAS SUPERFLUOUS.

Mr. Murray then drew attention to the fact that out of an expenditure of $23,000,000 made by the Administration in the last 7 years the Opposition had only carped at items of expense amounting in all to $47,000—in short they had only raised objections to amounts which aggregated one-fifth of a cent on each dollar expended. This he considered silenced all criticism regarding the financing of the Mowat Administration.

The speaker then proceeded to draw the attention of the audience to a strong and invincible array of facts which he placed before them in giving evidence of possessing oratorical power to a degree which will cause him henceforth to be regarded as an important figure in the political arena of the riding. On resuming his seat Mr. Murray was heartily applauded for the fluent manner in which he had marshalled the headings of his speech before the meeting.

Mr. Hampden Burnham, on behalf of Mr. Winch, in replying to Mr. Murray also made an address clothed in language of a character which has won for him the admiration of many. Mr. Burnham dealt principally with generalities and in his accusations seldom descended into details in an at all specific manner. He admitted that the Mowat Government was one of the shrewdest administrations on earth, but claimed that all must admire Mr. Meredith, who had only remained out of power because he had stuck to his opinions for the last 20 years and, added he, will stick to them for the next 20, if necessary. Then again a strong factor against the Opposition leader was that he was not always supported by his own party. On different occasion when he had set up his opinion against theirs his party had refused him their countenance

He acknowledged that the Opposition had talked the

during the last session of the legislature, but urged in extenuation of this fact that they were talking as against a wall, the overwhelming majority of the Government being impossible to overcome. This he supposed led the members of the Opposition to talk in the half-hearted, hopeless kind of a way, which he denominated "utter rot."

Turning his attention to thed Aministration the speaker made the statement that the Mowat Government had stirred the entire province up into a perfect ferment of religious strife. He did not attempt to prove this assertion, but simply let it stand as his opinion and turned his attention to the new Parliament buildings. Even while charging that an appropriation of $400,000 additional to the estimated cost had be made in footing the bill for these buildings, Mr. Burnham generously admitted that he was proud of them and did not see how anyone could help regarding them in the light of being an education in themselves.

The speaker then raised his voice against the hypocrisy of the world in general, and expressed the opinion that Mr. Meredith was the only man of backbone in the Legislative Assembly, and his true worth would not be known until his death.

He didn't approve of any Government, Dominion or Provincial, "fixing things up" and then taking a snatch verdict from the country. It was a false principle for any administration to adopt.

In

TOUCHING ON THE LICENSE QUESTION

in the town of Peterborough, Mr. Burnham explained how the council had directed that six of the 24 licenses in the town be cut off and how the license commissioners instead of taking action as directed had granted the entire 24 license holders an extension of three months. Mr. Hall's resignation as a commissioner, he stated, was the reason given for the pursuance of this course, but he challanged Mr. Stratton to say whether or not it was a political move on the part of the Reformers. Before resuming his seat Mr. Burnham took occasion to explain to those present that the views he had taken of the different subjects under discussion might not be as he had not consulted him regarding them. As may be naturally supposed, such a statemant caused no little amount of comment amongst those present, who were under the impression that Mr. Burnham was acting as spokesman for the Conservative candidate, who, it appears, does not speak in public.

On being questioned by one of the audience regarding his opinions as to the platform of the Patrons of Industry Mr. Burnham was compelled to admit that he was not even aware of just what planks the platform of the Patrons was composed. The speaker's pleasant style of address won him hearty applause as he stepped from the platform.

Mr. Stratton's appearance was the signal for an outbreak of applause from those present. In opening Mr. Stratton was puzzled just how to treat the remarks of the previous speaker as he wasn't sure just exactly as he had distinctly stated in connection with his remarks that, his opinions, as expressed by his remarks, were those of himself and not of Mr. Winch. Mr. Burnham, however, claimed that his address had been delivered in the interests of Mr. Winch, after which Mr. Stratton proceeded to say that in the choice of a representative the personal qualifications of the different candidates should first be considered, after which, the next question to be decided was which one would support such measures as the electors believed in. The duty of the elector was to condem wrong-doing and the only reward of the public man consisted in such a vote of confidence in his integrity as would lead to his return at the polls. Mr. Stratton was sure that if his record for the past eight years in the Legislature was camly considered that every elector was bound in reason to give him his loyal support. Even those who voted against him last time, should, on consideration, rally to his support now, as in his entire public career no stigma of wrong doing had became attached to his name and he had used his best efforts on behalf of his constituents.

WHOM HE DID REPRESENT,

He considered it

AN AUGURY OF SUCCESS

when, though the Mowat Administration had been in power for 22 years, Mr. Burnham had found so very little fault with the way public affairs had been conducted. Mr. Stratton then scored a strong point in his arraignment of the Opposition for being before the country devoid of a platform. Mr. Burnham had devoted almost an hour, he stated, to criticising the Mowat Administration, but had carefully fought shy of mentioning what platform the Conservatives were depending upon in this election. This political party had flopped and twisted about so much that unless a direct statement concerning where it stood now, was made, there could be no telling just where it was.

Regarding the religious ferment which Mr. Burnham charged Mr. Mowat with working the province up into, Mr. Stratton queried as to which party in '83 issued a pamphlet of "Facts for Irish Electors", which tried to point out that Mr. Meredith was the only man from whom the Roman Catholics could expect justice. The pamphlet, he held, was the inauguration of the religious excitement which has been kept up to the boiling point ever since by the Conservative party. (Hear! Hear!) In 1886 they had tried to work the denominational racket again by attacking what was known as the Ross Bible and had run a campaign on that. (Hear! Hear!) The party therefore had most inconsistently flopped over from their platform of the previous election. In 1890 only the leaders of the party in Peterborough had come out during the campaign—they were not supported by the honest electors. It was almost impossible to find a gentleman to accept the nomination as a supporter of this grand (!) man, Mr. Meredith, who according to Mr. Burnham, held such grand secrets locked in his breast, but who never was known to divulge them. At last Mr. Carnegie was secured and an attempt was made by him to ride the and get into the Legislature on that, but it was a dismal failure. To-day instead of trying a fusion with the Equal Rights party, the P.P.A. organization was being worked as an election factor. (Hear! hear!) It was just another flop of the Conservative party, though this time the conservative nominated a candidate and the P. P. A. are doing the "secret-service" work.

Mr. Burnham had said that the Conservatives in the Legislature had talked utter rot last session. They had no record and therefore Mr. Winch would doubtless make a very able member for the Opposition as he had no record either, (laughter). Mr. Burnham had come out and given his own opinions on the various matters under discussion and acknowledged they were not Mr. Winch's. Mr. Stratton stated that he supposed if these views were found not to suit the electors that Mr. Winch would come along along later and propound a different set in order to catch the vote one way or the other. (Laughter.) Mr. Winch took a position similiar to a certain Yankee he had heard of, who, in laying his platform before the electors, told them if they didn't like it he could "blamed soon change it." (Laughter.)

The administration of the Provincial finances, Mr. Stratton pointed out, was above criticism. Even Dr. Willoughby, a prominent Conservative M. P. P., had declared in open speech that Hon. C. F. Fraser in retiring from public life on account of ill-health did so with clean hands and a creditable record. (Continued applause.) His services for his province had been characterized by care, wisdom and prudence. (Applause.)

The argument of Mr. Burnham that Mr. Meredith owed his defeat to lack of support from his party showed what kind of a man he must be when even his own party had

NO CONFIDENCE IN HIM.

In regard to the Separate Schools question Mr. Stratton frankly avowed that he had voted for the Conmee Bill and again criticised the position Mr. Burnham had taken in giving his own views instead of those of Mr. Winch on these matters.

Concerning the License question Mr. Stratton spoke of the fact that Mr. Hall had not resigned his position as a political exigency, but as impure motives were imputed to the party in making the appointment, and as it was stated that the law practice of his (Mr. Stratton's) brother was supposed to be greatly strengthened by having his partner on the commission, Mr. Hall had decided to resign. Being a man of sterling uprightness Mr. Hall had thought this was the only course to pursue under the circumstances. It was a manly stand for Mr. Hall to take and he had earned the respect of all by following such a course. (Applause.)

He supposed the reason why the extension of time had been granted to the license holders was to enable the Commissoners to decide upon the matter when no impure motives could be attributed to them in the discharge of their difficult duties.

The Opposition could only raise a cry of squandering assets, but they could not substantiate their charge. In the Public Accounts Committee an error of only two cents had been discovered. No scandal or charge of improper expenditure could be laid at the door of the Mowat Administration. (Applause.)

Mr. Stratton then touched on the enormous amounts paid over by the administration in the interests of educational and other provincial institutions during the last 20 years. The almost incredibable amount of $23,000,000 had been returned directly to the people in this manner. Of this sum $369,919.70 had been paid out directly for the benefit of residents of the County of Peterborough. (Applause.)

The Government of Ontario, he stated, had the

at heart, as instanced by the introduction of the binder twine industry at the penetentiary in order to break the back of the combine which had raised the price up to 13 or 14 cents per pound. (Applause.)

The peace and contentment which reigned throughout the province was ample proof, he thought, of how the efforts of the Government on behalf of the people had succeeded.

In reply to a question, Mr. Stratton thus defined his position in relation to the PATRONS' PLATFORM.

Mr. Stratton dwelt on the following points:—

1. "Maintenance of British connection."

The Liberal party has always advocated and desired British connection and it is not a party issue in any sense in this contest.

2. "Reservation of public lands for actual settlers."

The free grant system in Ontario gives to each citizen of 18 years or upward 200 acres of land suitable for cultivation on condition of 5 years actual residence thereon, the clearing of 15 acres, building a habitable house and suitable barn, reserving the pine timber for the public use except what is needed for building and fencing and that cut for purposes of clearing.

3. "Purity of administration and independence of Parliament."

This principle as practiced by the Mowat Government has

RETAINED THE CONFIDENCE

of the people for 22 years and is likely to keep it in power for another parliament anyway.

4. "Rigid economy in every department of the public service."

This has also been practiced by the Mowat Government with the utmost fidelity consistent with efficient maintenance of the public service and the fact that of a total proposed expenditure of thirty million dollars the Opposition has objected during the past ten years to only about one-third of one per cent. should be ample assurance in this sense. A farmer doesn't starve his horses all winter for the sake of economy to get them ready for spring work and the Ontario Government has expendee only such sums as were absolutely necessary to maintain the various departments of the public service.

5. "Simplification of the laws, etc."

During Sir Oliver Mowat's term of office the laws have been simplified to the GREATEST POSSIBLE DEGREE

and the cost of litigation reduced to such an extent that the lawyers are even complaining that they can't make money as they used to do. At last session an Act was passed further reducing the legal expenses.

6. "Abolition of the Canadian Senate."

Public opinion seems to be ripe for the abolition of the Senate or if it remain in existence, the Senate should be elected by vote of the people for a given term. Ontario flourishes and prospers without any second chamber and other provinces are agitating for the removing of the fifth wheel of the Legislative coach.

7. "Relating to grand juries."

Three years ago legislation was adopted in the Local Legislature reducing the number of grand jurors to 13.

8. "Giving county councils power to appoint county officials, except judges."

The county council of Peterborough at the last January session unanimously refused to take any action asking for the power to be given county councils to appoint all officials who are paid by the county, believing no doubt that the Government upon the appointees than a body liable to such frequent changes as a county council and would be less influenced by local feelings of sympathy with candidates, perhaps neighbors or personal friends. Political parties have no sympathies, but, if the people, who are the true source of the power, desire the power of making choice of such officials as are paid by County assessments, then I have no objection to such officials being elected by the vote of the people.

9. "Tariff for revenue only, &c."

This has been the policy of the Liberal party ever since the defeat of the Mackenzie Government on that platform, and it is STILL THE LIBERAL POLICY.

10. "Reciprocal trade on fair and equitable terms between Canada and the world."

This a plank of the platform of the Liberals upon which they stand with both feet.

11. "Legislation to protect labor from combines and monoplies."

The working men and the mechanics, I may say without boasting, have reason to regard me as their friend: they know that I will advocate and support all such legislation as will benefit their condition, and at the same time, safeguard the interests of the manufacturers, the interests of both classes under fair economic conditions being one dependent on another. The Mowat Government has done a very great deal

TO PROTECT AND PROMOTE

the interests of the working men and the workingmen have not been slow to appreciate and recognize a candidate who stands by them, and who, as a representative has always by voice and vote as well as in his newspaper, recognised the rights of the wealth creators of the country. And the Ontario Government has shown its love for combines by shackling the oppressive hands of the cordage combine with Central Prison binder twine, which has given the farmer a twine cheaper in price and of greater length to the pound than any previously obtainable, and if the Ontario twine is not the cheapest has been forced to reduce the prices.

IT IS BECAUSE THE COMBINE

12. "Prohibition of the bonusing of railway by Government grants."

The Ontario Government since the railway requirements necessary for development of newer portions have been met grants aid only to railways absolutely necessary to the opening of new portions of country and where new settlements demand access by rail to markets. It is probable that this plank of the Patrons' platform is largely suggested by the fact of the Dominion Government having in addition to millions in cash subsidies, given away 44,240,000 acres of the peoples' lands to railway companies, an acreage twice as large as all the cultivated land in the Dominion; of recent years no complaint has been made by

THE MOST CRANKY CRITIC

of the aid given to railways by the Ontario Government.

13. "The preparation of the voters' lists, Dominion and Local, by municipal officers."

This is both the preaching and practice of the Liberal party, since Confederation, the Ontario voters' lists being prepared by the officers of the municipalities. The manhood franchise list in cities and towns will, in all probability hereafter be prepared by personal registration of the qualified voter a month or so previous to voting.

14. "Conformity of electoral districts to county boundaries."

This is more Liberal

PREACHING AND PRACTICE

as shown by the several redistribution acts of the Mowat Government, which have, as accurately as possible, adjusted the population in so far as this could be done without disturbing county municipal boundaries.

As the Patron's platform and the platform always advocated by myself, are so nearly identical, I feel that I might reasonably expect the support of all Patrons and all sympathizers with the principles of the order.

In referring to his own career as a public man, Mr. Stratton averred that he had left nothing undone which he could do in or out of the Legislature on behalf of his constituents. He had gone from one end of the riding to the other in order to ascertain how he might be of use to the electors (applause), and hoped that he had done as much if not more for his constituents than any representative they had ever had and hoped his efforts on their behalf had proven him worthy of re-election at the polls.

When Mr. Stratton concluded his forcible speech he was accorded the hearty applause of the audience which had followed him through his address with marked interest and the closest attention.

Mr. G. M. Roger, who was present, was asked to address the meeting, but forebore on account of the lateness of the hour.

Mr. Stratton moved a vote of thanks to the chairman, Mr. John Fowler, which was carried, after which three cheers for the Queen were given and the audience dispersed, being evidently well pleased with the able handling of the various political questions by their popular representative.

That Musty Old Carpet.

Oh, dear to our hearts are the sad days of spring-time,
When the annual house-cleaning recurs to our view;
When we sleep on the sofa and eat off the mantel,
In an atmosphere strongly suggestive of glue,
We think of the stove pipe, the soot that came with it.
Likewise the profanity, fluent and fine;
But saddest and bitterest of all recollections
Is the dusty old carpet that hung on the line.

Oh, that dusty old carpet
That fusty old carpet,
That musty old carpet,
That hung on the line!

We remember how, armed with a huge flagellator,
In the morning we bitterly advanced to the fray;
In the muscular pride of our heart little dreaming
That cleaning that carpet would take the whole day.
We sweat and we swore, and our hands badly blistered,
While the sun lent its countenance, warmly benign,
But the harder we pounded, the more it was needed
By that dusty old carpet that hung on the line!

Oh, that dusty old carpet,
That musty old carpet,
That fusty old carpet
That hung on the line.

Busy as Beavers.

The season's Carpet trade is booming right along and sales are more satisfactory than we had expected. The inference is that styles and qualities and values are best here.

Come in and learn our prices, then ask yourself the question "if it pays to waste time on that musty old carpet that hangs on the line."

Our stock bears the marks of novelty all over it. The colours are a study. The patterns are a study. Such delightful originality needs to be looked at and known to be properly appreciated.

TURNBULL'S

Years in business teaches many lessons. One we have learned is, that in order to make the store always a centre of attraction we must keep in stock everything people are looking for, and in a good quality. As the season advances many lines that are very popular get scarce and hard to find. We have just received several new shades in Dress Goods in light and mid brown at 50c. and 60c. a yard. Black Dress Goods in light weight, for summer wear, in plain and figured. These are very desirable and scarce goods. New Vandyke Trimmings, with feather edge. Dressmakers can tell their customers we have all shades and that they are cheaper than the common goods we have had before. Jet Trimmings are becoming popular again; we are showing a splendid assortment of Narrow Gimps in Pressed Cut Jet, from 1ec. to 25c. a yard. Seer Suckers are worn again; we are showing the dark goods in Canadian, also the finer imported goods in light colours. A nice variety of Ladies' Blouses in all the leading shades, plain colours, trimmed with fine braid; also white lawn Blouses, from the plain goods at lowest prices to the finest goods trimmed with Embroidery Lace, etc. We remind you again that we are showing a splendid assortment of Prints in dress effects, and also in small neat patterns suitable for children.

We have not overstocked ourselves this season, and are consequently in a position to buy JOB LINES, and can give our customers new goods at the regular wholesale cost, and often under, which you will find is much lower than clearing sale prices.

"LONG LIVE ANARCHY"

With This Cry on His Lips Emile Henry Expiates His Crime.

EXECUTED BY THE GUILLOTINE

Like the Anarchist Vaillant the Cafe Terminus Bomb-Thrower Meets His Death With a Bold Front and a Ringing Cry of Defiance.

PARIS, May 21.—Emile Henry, who on February 12 threw a bomb in the cafe of the Hotel Terminus, was executed at 4.10 o'clock this morning.

The news that Henry would be executed in the morning spread so slowly that few signs of public interest were apparent in the late afternoon and early evening. Shortly before 2 o'clock the guards, 1,000 strong, marched into the square and took positions that blocked ingress and egress through the streets leading into it.

At 3.10 o'clock fifteen mounted policemen formed a piquet d'execution facing the guillotine.

At 4.07 o'clock the little door of the prison creaked on its rusty hinges and the fifteen policemen of the piquet d'execution bared their swords. Every eye turned towards the big gateway and every eye was strained to catch the first glimpse of the prisoner. The iron doors swung slowly apart. Chaplain Valadier walked in front. Henry was corded more tightly than is usual and over his shoulders was a close blue jacked. He was ghastly white, but he walked with a firm step. As he approached the platform he shouted: "Courage comrades; long live anarchy!"

His voice was not as loud as Vaillant's, and trembled noticeably. Deibler's assistants whipped off his jacket. As they pushed him against the plank he shouted again, "Courage; long live Anarchy!"

His neck did not fit the lunette properly as he fell and Deibler gave him a little tug forward. The click of the knife was heard the next moment and Henry's head dropped to the ground. The blood from the trunk spurted high as the body revolved into the basket.

Deibler himself picked up the head from the sawdust and threw it viciously into the basket with the body.

THE VENEZUELA EARTHQUAKE.

A Town With All Its Inhabitants Disappeared—It Was a Terrible Disaster.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Advices received at the State Department from Consul Plumacher, at Maracaibo, dated May 5, show that the greatest damage of the Venezuelan earthquake was done on the famous San Carlos & Merida Railway nearly completed in the Andes. The axis of the disturbance, which lasted at some points three days, was along its line. Several splendid bridges were totally destroyed and others were considerably injured. Several stations were thrown down, the rails were twisted and bent and in some places broken apart, and a number of lives were lost. La Guillos, with all its inhabitants, disappeared entirely, a lake now occupying its site. In some places black water having a fetid odor was expelled from crevasses in the earth. The earthquake is said to have been much worse than those of 1849 and 1875.

EDMUND YATES DEAD.

The Noted Newspaper Correspondent and Satirist Passes Suddenly Away.

LONDON, May 21. — Edmund Yates, author and journalist, was stricken with apoplexy on Saturday evening at the Garrick Theatre, where Lytton's "Money" was playing. He was removed to the Savoy hotel, where he died last evening.

Edmund Yates was well known in journalistic circles both on the continent and in America, and had acquired a world wide reputation as a correspondent of extraordinary ability.

High Water in Minnesota.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 21.—The Mississippi river is on a tear at Minneapolis. The rain has risen four inches in the last twenty-four hours and is still on the rise. If the water rises even a few inches higher a number of dwellings will be wrenched from their foundations and the occupants will be homeless. Almost all of the saw mills closed down Saturday on account of the high standing of the water.

The Tragedy at Jersey City.

JERSEY CITY, May 21.—Bernhardt Altenberger, the murderer of Katie Rupp, has arrived at police headquarters. When told that his victim was dead, Altenberger's face became pale and he appeared to be on the verge of fainting, but soon recovered his composure and refused to discuss the matter further.

Confessed on the Gallows.

EUTAW, Ia., May 21.—Armstead Rice was hanged here for the murder of Burrell Kimbro last Christmas night. On the scaffold Rice confessed the crime; also to having murdered a man in Mississippi several years ago, and afterwards another in Birmingham and to shooting a woman in Green county last fall.

Mrs. Meyer to Be Tried.

NEW YORK, May 21.—Mrs. Meyer, wife of Dr. Henry C. Meyer, who was convicted of murder in the second degree for poisoning Ludwig Brandt, to obtain insurance money, will be put on trial for murder early in June. The testimony of Kiefel, who turned states evidence, will be largely relied on.

COLLISION IN A TUNNEL

Two Railway Trains Collide on the Mississippi Valley Railway.

SEVEN WERE INSTANTLY KILLED

The Engine of the Freight Crashes Into a Boarding Car Imprisoning Six Men—The Engineer and Fireman Save Their Lives by Jumping.

PRINCETON, Ky., May 21.—Seven persons were instantly killed in a collision on the Newport News and Mississippi Valley railway, seventeen miles east of this city, on Saturday. The dead are: J. Crisp, Westport, Ky.; R. L. Bower, Paducah, Ky.; J. Conndrey, Mayfield, Ky.; Bess Butler, Westport; Nick Hill, conductor; John B. Duncan, Dulaney, Ky.; John Whitehead, Paducah, Ky., skull crushed; and a number of passengers received minor injuries.

The disaster occurred in the Standing Rock tunnel between an extra freight westbound and the bridge construction train in charge of Conductor Nick Hill. Hill expected to take the siding just at the junction. He took the precaution of sending a flagman ahead to warn the freight or any other train which might come up.

Hill was backing up with a boarding car in front, but had followed the flagman too closely. Just as his train had entered the tunnel, Engineer Jones, with the extra freight, entered the other end of the tunnel. His train was going at thirty miles an hour. The fireman and Jones saw their danger in time to jump and save their lives. The engine crashed into the boarding car, where the six doomed men were imprisoned. The car was smashed into kindling wood, the engine of the freight train plowing almost through it and filling the tunnel with wreckage. Access to the wreck was impossible on account of the eleven flat and box cars being piled in a mass to the rear.

A wrecking train and crew were put to work at each end of the tunnel, and the bodies will soon be reached.

A BULLET THROUGH HIS BRAIN.

A Son of the Late "Joe Beef" Ends His Life by Suicide.

MONTREAL, May 21.—Yesterday the report of a revolver was heard on Craig street near the News office. Watchmen Burns and Emery, who were in the vicinity at the time, hurried to the spot and on their arrival they were horrified to find a man lying in a pool of blood with a twenty-two calibre revolver beside him. A crowd soon gathered and several persons recognized the prostrate man as Thomas McKiernan, a son of the late "Joe Beef." The watchman at once rang for the ambulance. When it came it was found that the man was dead. He had sent a bullet through his brain.

The deceased was twenty-seven years of age and was a stove plate moulder. He had been employed in Clendinning's foundry for about thirteen years. Recently he was laid off on account of the depression, which is felt in several branches of business, particularly in the iron trade. This circumstance, together with the fact that his wife had been ill for some time, had made him rather despondent, and to this cause is attributed the desperate and fatal act.

Military School for Montreal.

MONTREAL, May 21.—A meeting of the special committee of the city council appointed to consider the establishing of a military school in Montreal decided to recommend the council to make a grant of $25,000 to that end. It was pointed ont that city officers in having to go to St. John's had to give up their civic occupation and that four men would come from the country to qualify where one would go to St. John's; besides they would have the advantage of a permanent school and a military spirit infused into the citizens, as well as the assistance of a permanent force in case of trouble. The city has already spent $147,000 on the Champ de Mars and handed it over to the Government at $1 a year.

Quebec West Elections.

QUEBEC, May 21.—The news of the death of Hon. John Hearn was scarcely known before the names of candidates for the vacant seat of Quebec West began to be whispered about. The two probable candidates will be Hon. T. McGreevy (Independent) and Mr. Lawrence Lynch (Liberal). The former, who represented the constituency for a number of years, made known his intention of seeking re-election at the first opportunity, while Mr. Lynch has been chosen as the Liberal standard-bearer. The name of Mr. R. R. Dobell is also mentioned as a Conservative candidate, but the gentleman has not yet arrived from Europe.

Archdeacon McMurray Dead.

NIAGARA Ont., May 21.—On Saturday the Ven. Archdeacon McMurray, rector of St. Mark's church, Niagara, passed quietly away, in the eighty-fourth year of his age, after an illness of several months. The deceased was a native of Ireland, and was born in the parish of Seagol, near Portadown, September 19, 1810, and was brought to Canada by his parents in the following year. The family settled in York, now Toronto. When eight years of age he entered the school of Dr. Strachan, with whom he afterwards read as student of divinity and under whose care he remained until he was ordained.

Hooper Still Confident.

THREE RIVERS, Que., May 21.—J. R. Hooper is counting the days that still have to be passed before his trial takes place. Very little is heard of his trial in the city and apart from the interest taken in it by those directly interested, not a word is heard of it. It will take place on June 1. Hooper is looking much better and is gaining in flesh. He occupies himself with his hobby, postage stamps, and takes exercise regularly in the yard. He expresses the opinion that no jury will convict him of a crime of which he is not guilty and for which there is no direct proofs.

PEERS PASS OPINIONS

Some of England's Noble Lords Talk of Their Impending Doom.

THEIR VETO POWER THE ISSUE

The Liberals Will Make the Survival of the Upper Chamber, as Present Constituted, the First Plank in Their Platform—Dissolution Expected.

LONDON, May 21.—Parliament resumed its sitting to-day under the shadow of dissolution. Sir William Harcourt, the Government leader in the House, has informed the leaders of the McCarthyite section of the Irish Parliament, that the next general election will probably take place in July, and other Liberal authorities have conveyed similar intimation. Mr. Richard Haldane, M. P., in his speech to his constituents, also predicted an early dissolution, and added that in his opinion it ought to have occurred ere now in order to have the election of such a majority as would stamp unmistakably the desire of the country to pass Government measures without further hindrance. While the opinion is general that the dissolution is imminent, not one of the best informed of the Liberal party knows whether the Government will attempt to carry the clauses of budget, the registration bill and the evicted tenants bill before appealing to the country.

If the present feeble majority would persistently adhere to the Government the session would be prolonged until all important bills, including the measure of the disestablishment of the church in Wales, would be passed by the House of Commons and sent to the House of Lords for rejection, but the possibility of defeat lurks in every proposal submitted by the Government to the popular legislative body. An electoral struggle may be precipitated at any moment, and all that the Ministers can do is wait and prepare for it. The coming anti-Lord's conference in Leeds will sound the trumpet of battle. The Cabinet are resolved to make the question of the survival of the House of Lords, as it is at present constituted, the first plank in their election programme. This assurance has caused the National Liberal Federation to take action to obtain from all constituencies picked delegates to the conference.

Several members of the Cabinet have very reluctantly given their assent to the adoption of a bold and determined policy in opposition to the House of Lords, but the majority of the Ministers are thoroughly convinced that further liberal legislation is impossible unless the Upper House is controlled, and those gentlemen are heartily en rapport with the popular feeling. The principal reason which will engage the attention of the anti-Lords conference will propose the limitation of the peers to a single session. Any bill required by the House of Lords which shall again be passed by the House of Commons at a subsequent session need not go to the Upper House. Though the resolution has the sanction of the Cabinet it will fall very far short of satisfying the radicals, but in Government circles it is believed that such a change can be more easily effected than the complete abolition of the peers' veto power.

A London paper, which has been gleaning the ideas of number of peers on the coming doom of their body, has elicited the opinion of the Duke of Fife, son-in-law of the Prince of Wales, who expresses himself as in favor of infusing popular elements into the Upper House without breaking its historic continuity. The Duke declines to discuss the question whether the new elements shall consist of elective or life peerages, but suggests that a committee, comprising the best men in both Houses of Parliament, be appointed to study the subject. The other peers who responded to the newspaper's invitation to express their views on the subject, included Viscount Harrington, Earl Delamere, Lord Norton, the Earl of South and Lord Sherborne, all of whom are opposed to any concessions on the part of the House of Lords and in favor of a determined fight for the integrity of that body. Earl Stanhope shares to a certain extent the views expressed by the Duke of Fife, believing that it would be well to add to the Upper House a limited number of life peers. Lord Windsor advises the abolition of the present House, and the formation of a new one on the basis of elective and selective. The responses as a whole, however, show that the peers are wholly ignorant of the strength of the popular determination to amend or end their legislative body.

The party organizers are energetically at work in preparing for the inevitable election. The lists of candidates, the most laborious of the preliminary work, are nearly completed. The Liberals have offered to defray the election expenses of six labor candidates, provided they will pledge themselves to support the Government under all circumstances.

Stopped the Funeral Procession.

PARIS, May 21.—A serious dispute arose a day or two ago between the Mayor of St. Denis and the pastor of one of the Catholic churches in that place. The difference arose from a funeral, at which religious emblems were displayed. The mayor ordered the emblems to be taken away, but the clergyman refused to permit their withdrawal, whereupon the mayor detained the cortege until the orders were complied with. The matter was referred by the mayor to the council of state, which decided that the funeral was a procession in the meaning of the law and the mayor could therefore legally prohibit it. The archbishop of Paris has ordered the clergy of St. Denis to submit to the civil authorities without question.

Slavery in Africa.

LONDON, May 21. — The anti-slavery society has learned that the slave trade between West Africa and the Islands of Sao Thome and Principe continues despite Portugal's pledge at the Brussells conference to end it. No Portuguese steamer leaves Benguella or Novo Redondo without a partial cargo of slaves for Loando or Sao Thome. In most cases the slaves are sold to owners of coffee plantations. The trade in young children is especially large.

SUBSTANTIAL REASONS.

The electors of Ontario should support Sir Oliver Mowat first, last and all the time,

Because he has given to the province the best system of common schools in the world and an honest, economical Government, free from jobs, boodle and scandal.

Because he has spent millions in promoting agriculture, in founding public institutions, in promoting public charities and in aiding railways, and has never called upon the ratepayers for a single dollar, but has returned many millions of dollars to the municipalities to save the people from direct taxation.

Because he has ruled upon the true principle of equal rights to all. They should support him,

Because he saved to Ontario one hundred thousand square miles of valuable agricultural, mineral and timber lands, and, lastly,

Because it would be a public disgrace and a crime to reward honesty, ability, faithfulness and eminent success with ingratitude and defeat.

These are sufficient reasons for every honest man in the province to give Sir Oliver Mowat a warm, a hearty and an enthusiastic support.

THE Globe and other journals make an appeal to the opposition journals for a decent campaign. The Globe might save its eloquence. The policy of the opposition is a policy of mud slinging. They cannot attack, with any success, the impregnable record of the Mowat Government, and being impelled to say something, their only resource is abuse, in most cases, of a personal character. This mode of attack of the Opposition is the strongest possible proof of the strong position of the Government.

The Montreal Witness rebukes its contemporaries for jeering at Mr. Laurier on account of his uprightness and integrity. These seem to be qualities calculated to keep a man in Opposition at Ottawa, but they keep a man in power in Ontario. It is to be hoped this Province will never try a different policy.

Lakefield Council would not sanction the sending of a deputation to Ottawa in re. the Trent Valley Canal scheme. Lakefield's councillors can pat themselves on the back now for hanging on to their "elegant stuff" and not spending it to receive in return nothing but a promise.

A GENEROUS BEQUEST.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—Will you kindly publish in your columns the following list of bequests by a wealthy Catholic Englisman who died recently. It unmistakably shows the old catholic spirit is still living, and there is still hope for England returning to her first love and her first faith.

Yours truly,
A CATHOLIC SUBSCRIBER.

Town, May 19th, 1894.

"John Gillow, of Lilystone Hall, Inglestone, Essex, has bequeathed the whole of his personality, amounting to nearly $650,000 for the benefit of the Catholic church in England and Wales. He directs his trustees, who are Cardinal Vaughnan, Monsignor Johnson, Sir Stuart Knill, Bart., G. M. Arnold, J.P., and F. I. Coverdale, to apply Lilystone Hall and grounds for any of the following purposes:

1. As a country archiepiscopal residence.
2. A home for sick or aged priests of the diocese of Wetsminster.
3. A convent for charitable purposes or a church.

The sum of $250,000 is to be applied as an endownment. In addition, $175,000 is to be invested and the income applied for the promotion of the Catholic religion in the diocese of Westminster, and principally in Essex. Twenty-five thousand are bequeathed similarly for each of the dioceses of Hexam and Newcastle, Leeds, Middlesborough, Liverpool, Salford and Shrewsbury; $15,000 for the diocese of Newport and Menevia, and $20,000 to be divided equally between the Bishops of Southwork, Portamouth, Plymouth, Clifton, Birmingham, Northampton and Nottingham. The Order of the Good Shepherd receives $5,000, and the Providence Row Night Refuge, Moorfields, $25,000."

TEN CLINCHERS FOR THE COW.

The special dairy bulletin just issued under authority of the Minister of Agriculture, Hon. John Dryden, from the Department of Agriculture, Toronto, application to which will bring any one who will write name and address a copy, is worth its weight in gold.

After an elaborate treatment of the whole of the questions that are raised by old fashioned farmers, the list of which was published on Saturday, when butter and cheese making is advocated as an advantageous adjunct to the present system of grain growing, if it is not a satisfactory substitute for that exhaustive and at present most unprofitable kind of farming to follow in Ontario, this timely bulletin ends with a series of ten conclusions that clinch the argument for the cow.

They are:

1. Prices for grain have fallen over 30 per cent. in ten years; prices for butter and cheese have fallen less than 6 per cent.

2. Dairy farming is less exhaustive than grain farming. The sale of butter removes nothing from the soil. In fact, by dairying, the lost fertility of the soil may be restored.

3. Ontario is well adapted to dairying. We produce now 90,000,000 lb. of factory cheese, 3,000,000 lb. of creamery butter, and about 50,000,000 lb. of dairy butter. While Canadian dairy exports have been increasing those of the United States have been decreasing.

4. Our principal butter competitors in the British market are Denmark, France and Sweden. Victoria and New Zealand are rapidly increasing their exports to Britain, exceeding those from Canada.

5. Whereas our best creamery brings as high price as Danish creamery in Britain, our exports to Britain averaged over five cents per pound less than the Danish exports. Our exports to Britain therefore consist largely of butter of inferior quality.

6. The production of our butter in creameries instead of in home dairies would give a large amount of high class butter of uniform quality both for home consumption and for export and would add over $1,000,000 to its value.

7. Patrons of creameries get as much for their cream as home butter makers do for their butter; they are saved the work of making and marketing; they are paid in cash and returns come quickly.

8. A separator creamery with capacity for 500 cows can be built and equipped for from $2,500 to $3,500. Skilled butter makers and cheese makers are now becoming more available through the work of the Special Dairy School of Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph.

9. To show that we have made only a fair beginning in dairying, it may be stated that the average value of cheese made per head of the rural population in Ontario is $8; whereas Leeds, Grenville and Oxford average $32 per head.

10. In grain growing we are competing in foreign markets with the products of the cheapest labour in other countries; in beef and mutton also we compete with the products of cheap land; in dairying we are competing with the work of more skilled labour, and with the products of high-priced land. The outlook for dairying in Ontario, therefore, is promising, provided we aim to produce a constant supply of uniformly good articles, namely, fine factory cheese and fine creamery butter.

"If all the gold in mine or bank,
All earthly things that men call wealth
Were mine, with every titled rank,
I'd give them all for precious health."

Thus in anguish wrote a lady teacher to a near friend, telling of pitiless headache, of smarting pain, of pain in back and loins, of dejection, weakness and nervous, feverish unrest. The friend knew both causes and cure and flashed back the answer, "Take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription." The distressed teacher obeyed, was restored to perfect health, and her daily duties once more became a daily pleasure. For lady teachers, salesladies and others kept long standing, or broken down by exhausting work, the "Prescription" is a most potent restorative tonic, and a certain cure for all female weakness. Guaranteed to cure in every case or money returned. See printed guarantee around each bottle.

Fibroid, ovarian and other Tumors cured without resort to surgery. Book, with numerous references, sent on receipt of 10 cents in stamps. World's Dispensary Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Do not neglect coughs, colds, asthma, and bronchitis, but cure them by using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

Have you tried Derby Plug Smoking Tobacco, 5, 10 and 20 cent plugs.

I had a severe cold, for which I too Norway Pinee Syrup. I find it an excellent remedy, giving prompt relief and pleasant to take.

NOTES FROM OTTAWA.

MacWherrell's Case—Further Decline in Imports and Exports.

OTTAWA, May 21.—Mr. T. C. Robinette, who defended W. W. MacWherrell, sentenced to be hanged on June 1 for the murder of the old Williams family at Port Credit, had an interview with Sir John Thompson as to the obtaining of a new trial. Among the petitions and affidavits produced was one from William Hamm, a pharmacy student. It sets forth that on the evening of Friday, December 15, the deponent "saw a horse and cutter standing in front of Scholes' hotel on the King street side facing towards Toronto, with two men sitting in the cutter and one at the head of the horse. That since it was published in the newspapers that MacWherrell had purchased the horse from the three men at Scholes' hotel on the Friday night, I called to mind the horse and cutter with the three men whom I had seen on the Friday night, and said to my father and mother that I had no doubt that this was the horse and cutter, and the two men from whom MacWherrell had bought the horse and cutter that evening." Sir John Thompson promised to give the subject his consideration.

There was a decline in both the exports and imports for the month of April, the revenue for the month showing a decrease of about $200,000.

A meeting of the executive of the Conservative Association was held, but it is reported that nothing was done towards bringing out candidates for the provincial elections.

The Liberals will hold a caucus on Wednesday morning, when a further plan of campaign for the session will be adopted. A number of the members of the Opposition advocate facilitating work after the tariff is gone through. Others desire to make a strong fight. It is not probable that the majority will consent to an early prorogation. Ontario members desire to participate in the provincial campaign.

TO HARNESS NIAGARA.

An Invention Which a Niagara Falls Man is Asking a Patent For.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., May 12.—Police Magistrate A. G. Hill of this town is asking for a patent in Canada and the United States for what he calls Hill's automatic folding water-wheel paddle which he has invented, and claims he will harness Niagara's great power with. The water-wheel consists of an axle which can be made in any length; on four or six sides of this axle posts are placed at a uniform distance, and on these posts, gates which work on hinges, which work similar to a common under-shoot wheel, the wheel to be placed at the bottom of the river near Buffalo, and as the force of the current drives the fan or paddle around, and as it ascends the current above closes the paddle like a leaf and thus escapes the force of the current above the axle, and as it drops down the current opens the paddle and receives the force of the current as it passes below the axle, each paddle doing its portion of supplying power to revolve the axle. Mr. Hill has no fear but he will be able to supply all the power to drive Buffalo's machinery at a far less cost than even the great Niagara tunnel can supply it for, and being at the bottom of the river be clear of all navigation and ice and be continuous power. The paddles can be made any size and the shaft any length.

THE ELORA ROBBERY.

Rose Confesses to Having Invented the Story of Highway Robbery.

GUELPH, May 21.—Chief Randall and Ald. Peterson, son of the Crown Attorney, have returned from investigating the robbery of $1,600 from William Rose. They brought Rose's horse and buggy back with them. It was found near Phillipsburg. Rose has confessed to the authorities that he made up the story of the robbery himself as a blind to cover the loss of the money which he lost in business transactions.

Did He Attempt Suicide?

HAMILTON, May 21.—David Dow, contractor, was found in the cellar of a house on Bold street with his throat cut from ear to ear. The workmen say Dow fell twice from the second story of the building into the cellar. The first time he received only a few bruises, and the second time had his throat gashed by a saw. It is alleged however, that Dow tried to end his life with a hand saw. He is now at his home, and the physician in attendance says he will recover.

Mysterious Disappearance Explained.

NIAGARA, Ont., May 21.—The body of Joseph Shaw, a laborer, who has been working in the stone quarries at Queenston, has been found near that place. Shaw disappeared about May 1, and no trace of him could be found till he was picked up in the river. It is supposed he committed suicide. The body will be taken to Niagara Falls for interment.

Fell Under a Train.

HAMILTON, May 21.—William Ferguson, a man 38 years of age, tried to board a G. T. R freight train bound east, and fell under the wheels of the car. His left leg was cut off below the knee and he will not recover. Ferguson lives in Hamilton, and was partly under the influence of liquor when he tried to get on the train.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, May 21.—The condition of "General" Frye's army is pitiable. The men are suffering from cold and scanty meals. The army will probably go to Pittsburg on barges.

A Temperance Candidate.

PICTON, Ont., May 21.—A mass meeting of temperance workers was held in the Royal Temperance Hall on Saturday to select a candidate to contest the constituency of Prince Edward at the approaching provincial election in the temperance interests. Mr. John Laird, Mayor of Picton was selected. Mr. Laird is a Liberal in politics, but will seek election as an independent supporter of the Mowat Government, pledged to promote and support all legislation looking to the suppression of the liquor traffic.

FRATERNAL ASSESSMENT LIABILITY.

"Can't I get out when I please, and have no liability?"

Most people expect "yes" for an answer to this question, when they say they are members of an assessment insurance society, and begin to think of their responsibilities as such. It is important for them to know that they cannot escape liability; because every member, no matter when he drops out, is liable for any deficiencies that may arise in future, if they were developed during his membership. Here is an instance:

The United Masonic Benefit Association of Missouri was some years ago an active and apparently prosperous assessment concern. It provided no reserve, but offered low rates, cheap insurance, and seemingly hoped that new blood would make up for increasing mortality resulting from increasing age. By and bye its forces began to fall off, not enough "new blood" came in, and the cost of membership ran up in a very uncomfortable way. Presently the healthier lives began to feel their burden pressing heavily and steadily left the ranks, until so few were left in the association that the assessments amounted to $140—one hundred and forty dollars—on each certificate. The remaining members refused to pay such a sum, and the concern failed. But there were unpaid death claims for a large amount due, and the State Superintendent of Insurance thought they ought to be paid. So he began suits at law against individual members to enforce payment of the assessments against them; the court has decided that they must pay. The feelings of those who are thus compelled to pay what they never expected have undergone a change with respect to assessment insurance.

Replying to some enquiries which had been made upon this point of liability, and citing this case illustration of what may be expected in any similiar case which might be pressed to suit, the Insurance Monitor says: "The decision referred to answers our question which has been debated, whether the member's liability is limited to sums which he may choose to pay; in other words, whether he can get out when he pleases without further harm. This he cannot do. Every member, no matter when he may drop out, is liable for any deficiencies which may crop up in future, resulting during his membership. The only safe course for parties that apprehend breakers ahead is to drop their membership before the breakers are reached; and the misfortune of this course is that the faster they drop, the faster the association drives towards the breakers."

There seems to be only one course open for the prudent man who may be determined to avoid possible liability; that is to keep out of such associations entirely and buy his insurance of the regular companies.—Monetary Times.

Telfordian Temperature Topics.

Monday, May 21.—The long-looked-for rain has come at last. I have often repeated before this that storms in the far west, in taking around by the gulf and east around the Atlantic, will be received here in from four and not more than eight days; if around by the west, bright, clear, fine weather. This time we have it by the Atlantic, getting the heaviest rain storm of the season, falling, from 11 a.m. on Saturday to 8 a.m. on Monday, 4 inches and 33 100 of water; if including what fell on Friday we will have 4½ inches of water. This morning's observation indicated 48 degrees above zero, and we will still have a little more rain. THOMAS TELFORD.

REMEMBER TO-NIGHT.

The sale of Art Ware, Crockery, China, Silverware, Lamps, etc., will take place to-night at eight o'clock, in the store opposite the Grand Central Hotel. Some lovely goods will be offered. Be sure and attend.

Lottery Tickets.

During the past few weeks several parties in this town have received by express bundles of lottery tickets with requests that the party receiving the tickets will try and sell them. As a bait for the unwary a $5 ticket guaranteed to secure a prize is presented to the party who sells the bundle of tickets. It is well to remember that the penalty for selling lottery tickets is a very heavy one, and so is the penalty for purchasing such tickets. Inquiries made through reliable sources go to show that the greater number of tickets sent here lately were fraudulent concerns, and if any one has been foolish enough to pay for them they will never see their money or prizes.

The Campbellford Demonstration.

The Queen's Birthday celebration at Campbellford promises to be a grand success. The race track is situated on high ground and dries out easily, therefore the recent rains are not expected to affect it much. Among those who will take part in the bicycle races are Messrs. Cummings, Greenleaf and Sills of Belleville, and three members of the Athenæum club, Toronto. The concert in the evening promises to be a great success. Miss Florence Mabel Glover, of Toronto, will take part. Mr. G. J. Hopkins has a couple of dozen tickets for sale at his office on Hunter street for the convenience of the citizens who will attend from here. A late train will leave Campbellford for Peterborough at about eleven o'clock.

Whatever you buy from Grafton & Co. bears the unmistakeable stamp of good style and good quality.

CHURCH CHIMES.

Slim congregations was the rule in every church yesterday.

The Woman's Auxiliary of St. John's church is meeting this afternoon.

A meeting of the Guild Council of St. Luke's church will be held at 8 p.m. this evening.

Rev. Mr. Davidson delivered a sermon to the Lakefield lodge of the Sons of England last night.

The George street church Epworth League meets this evening to discuss missionary matters.

Rev. Mr. Symonds will conduct no service at the Auburn Mission this week, Thursday being the Queen's Birthday.

Misses Mary Paterson and Jennie Ross rendered a very pleasing duet during the morning service at St. Paul's yesterday.

Rev. Mr. Young conducted both services at George street Methodist church yesterday and in the evening, in spite of the heavy rain, the attendance was quite large.

The quarterly meeting of the congregation of George street Methodist church takes place this evening. A large attendance is desired, as this is the first meeting of the year.

Miss E. Gordon, who has been an earnest worker in Baptist Church circles, left to-day to take up her residence in Lakefield. She will be greatly missed from the Murray Street Sunday School.

Mr. Harry Stephens sang the solo entitled "The Ninety and Nine" very acceptably at the morning service in the Charlotte street Methodist church yesterday. The duet, "Jesus, Lover of my Soul," in the evening by Messrs. Squires and Stephens was much appreciated.

In the future the Roman Catholic children of the town, instead of attending the different schools on Sunday for catechism, will, with their teachers, assemble at St. Peter's Cathedral every Sunday afternoon at 2.30, where they will receive instructions from the cathedral clergy.

Park street Mission was well filled at both services yesterday. In the morning Mr. Pady preached eloquently from Ecc. 12th, 1 ver. "Cast Thy Bread upon the Waters." The choir sang the anthem "Cast Thy Bread upon the Waters" most sweetly at the conclusion of the sermon.

Rev. Mr. Trotter conducted both services in the Murray street Baptist church yesterday. His text for the evening sermon was taken from the 20th chapter of Joshua, the theme being on the "Cities of Refuge." The ordinance of the Lord's Supper was administered and the fellowship given to a number of the newly baptised.

The Rev. Mr. Adams, of Oronb, occupied the pulpit of the Charlotte Street Methodist Church yesterday and preached two practical and earnest sermons. In the evening he spoke on the sufferings of Christ, from the words "Father, save Me from this hour, etc." The congregations at both services were small, owing to the inclemency of the weather. Rev. Mr. Edwards exchanged pulpits with Mr. Adams yesterday.

Statements appeared in several of the Toronto papers lately to the effect that Bishop Tuttle, of St. Louis, had joined the Auxiliary League of the Salvation Army. Considerable misapprehension as to the bishop's action has been occasioned by the reports published and the bishop has written stating the facts to be as follows: "A lady resident here came into my study and asked me to be an 'Auxiliary.' I told her I wished well to the Army and would give $5, but declined to sign anything or send in my name. This, I suppose, is the foundation of the report that I 'had joined the Army.'"

The Rev. Wm. McMurray, D.D., D.C.L., archdeacon of Niagara, and one of the most prominent clergymen of the Canadian Episcopal church, died yesterday morning at the rectory, Niagara-on-the-Lake, aged 84. He had been rector of the old historic church at Niagara-on-the-Lake for thirty-three years. The church has had but three since its establishment in 1792. The late archdeacon was born in Ireland and came to Toronto in 1820. He had to travel 1,300 miles to reach a bishop in order to be ordained. He was married first to the granddaughter of the celebrated Ojibaway Chief, Waub-Ojedeg (the white fisher). His second wife survives with one son and a daughter. Archdeacon McMurray was a great friend of Bishop Coxe, of Western New York and was widely known and greatly esteemed.

Another Run on the Kid Gloves.

A further sale of those splendid Kid Gloves for 49 cents, will start at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening—the night before the 24th. All sizes and shades fully assorted.

JOS. ARMSTRONG & Co.

The Steamer "Mary Ellen."

Will run an excursion on May 24th from Lakefield to Stony Lake and return, connecting with the G. T. R. morning and evening trains. A special train in connection with this excursion will leave Lakefield at 7.30 p. m. for Peterborough.

"And the Rain it Raineth Every Day."

The heavy rain which has fallen ever since Saturday afternoon has caused quite a little damage to the crops lying on the lowlands; the lumbermen, however, are jubilant. In town the sewers were taxed to their utmost to carry of the large volume of water which poured into them The mouth of the George street sewer became blocked, and for a few minutes it seemed as though Macdonald's drug store was about to be flooded. A surface drain across Hunter street soon remedied the difficulties and carried of the accumulated water in the hollow on the corner. To-day the firemen are out flushing the sewers in order to cleanse them of the large amount of mud which has been worked in.

There ought to be a large turn-out of Oddfellows, both to see the work and their beautiful suite of rooms and listen to Bro. Hoyle, who is a fluent speaker.

—Wet weather is not conducive to the keeping of the peace in hotels. Not a few rows have been reported to the police since Friday last. It seems that the rain drives all the uneasy spirits of the town into the hotels for shelter and some one is sure to be rubbed the wrong way before they have been in long. One row, which culminated in a police court case this morning, resulted in the defendant being fined $10 and costs.

—There is war among the bakers in Oshawa and bread is selling at three cents a loaf.—Watchman. In Omemee there is no war among the bakers, but a war with the people and the bakers, as they have to pay 10 cents a loaf, while all the other people in neighbouring towns are getting their bread for 8 cents and less, since flour has had a low price.—Omemee Mirror. It would be quite a scheme to incite the bakers to start a war among themselves here.

—Give a boy address and accomplishments, and you give him the mastery of palaces and fortunes wherever he goes; he has not the trouble of earning or owning them; they solicit him to enter and possess. Among strangers a good manner is the best letter of recommendation, for a great deal depends upon his first impressions, and these are favourable or unfavourable according to a man's bearing, as he is polite or awkward, shy or self-possessed. Manners, in fact, are minor morals, and a rude man is generally assumed to be a bad man.—Emerson.

A Beautiful Display.

All should avail themselves of the opportunity of viewing the exhibit of paintings at A. Clegg's. These pictures are treated in a very able manner, the marine subjects are very good. Mr. Wilkinson's evening effects are charming, full of tender warmth. No. 9, "Murmuring Waters," is very realistic. This is a rare chance to procure some choice original paintings at very moderate prices and we think few of the pieces should leave town. On view at A. CLEGG'S, George street.

PETERBOROUGH'S GREAT CARPET HOUSE

Is to-day full to overflowing of all the desirable things in Floor Coverings, Curtains, Draperies, Shades, Cornice Poles, Rugs, Mats, Quilts, Counterpanes and all classes of House Furnishings; all of acknowledged excellence in quality; all at the lowest prices. We bring this special department of our business before the notice of buyers with confidence, on account of the facts:

1st. That we carry an assortment three times as large as any house in the town.

2nd. That we keep nothing but the very best makes of all goods in this department.

3rd. That we buy for Cash and get the lowest prices, and selling for cash we can sell first class goods lower than others can sell an inferior article.

4th. Unequalled advantages in reaching any manufacturers of known repute either in Europe or America, hence choicest styles, best values and largest assortment.

5th. Pursuing the same policy that has governed the other departments of our business—of keeping only articles of real merit and standard excellence—we go on this assumption THAT NOTHING IS CHEAP THAT HAS NO VALUE. But goods to be really cheap must have intrinsic merit, and this applies to this department as well as any other. Trade conditions vary: Having a large consuming capacity many articles of real worth often come our way at under the market prices. We have some of them now. Notably in Window Shades, Lace Curtains, Wool and Union Carpets.

Modern!

Featherbone Corsets must not be confounded with those which were made five or six years ago. The Featherbone Corset of to-day is as far removed from the old style, as black is from white.
